The Water Controversy.—The Concord & Portsmouth Railroad have obtained an injunction vs. the proprietors of the Portsmouth Aqueduct, to prevent their laying pipes on the line of the Road. Sheriff Adams served the notice on Monday, and the work has been stopped.

The Directors of the Railroad, in their Annual Report to the stockholders presented at the annual meeting of the corporation on Thursday last, make the following statement of their present position in the controversy with the Aqueduct Company:

The decision by the Supreme Judicial Court, in August, denying us rights to protect our own property, from the encroachments of a powerful neighbor, and allowing them to become co-tenants in our land, and right of way, to our serious detriment, caused us great surprise. But we were more astonished at the decision of the Committee appointed by the Court to assess the damage, when they declared that they had no power to locate where the Aqueduct Co. should lay their logs on our property, but merely to assess nominal damages for any land that they might see fit to take or our road or embankment.

Believing the Committee had mistaken their duty in this particular, we applied through our President to the Court for an injunction to prevent the Aqueduct Co. from doing further mischief until the report of the Committee should be returned to the Court and we could be heard upon the subject, and we are pleased to say that the injunction was at once granted and the work stopped. We shall endeavor to bring the whole subject matter of the decision in August before the Court, and as we feel sure that the Court have mistakened the case by reason of strong affidavits made by the servants of the Aqueduct Co., that we shall yet have justice awarded us. The right to use our Spring for railroad purposes is allowed us, and the right to sell is not denied.

We recommend, therefore, that the water be brought into our Depot grounds at Portsmouth in pipes, and the surplus water sold to the citizens of Portsmouth. The quantity of water besides furnishing all that is required at the Depot, will supply the wants of six hundred families. The revenue from sales would give a handsome profit on the cost of the work, and be of essential service to the public.

From the Gazette.

Naval.—Capt. M. R. Kintzing and Lieut. Chas. Haywood, U. S. Marine Corps, have been ordered to the Cumberland, now fitting for sea at this naval station.

Gunner Eugene Mack, at present on duty at the Navy Yard, has been ordered to the Cumberland, and William Burdett has been detached from the receiving ship Ohio, at Charlestown, to take his place at this yard.

It was expected that Mr. B. P. Allen, of this city, who has been waiting orders for several months, would be again detailed for duty at the yard in place of Mr. Mack. It will be recollected that Mr. Allen was ordered to the sloop-of-war Jamestown, at very short notice, after a period of only twenty-three months of shoredutty.

The Cosmopolitan Art Journal, for September, is received, and contains among its interesting table of contents the following papers, viz: Dean Swift and his Amours—a critical estimate of his character; the Maiden of the Shield—a poem by A. J. H. Duganne; Winifred Nowell—a story of the early Puritans—by Alice Carey; three Sketches of Virginia—by John Esten Cook; Moral Principles of Mosaic Work; Personal Notes of the late Chas. Leslie, R. A.; Washington Irving on Jack Falstaff: &c &c.

North American Review.—No. CLXXXIX, for October, is received from the publishers, Messrs. Crosby, Nichols, Lee & Co., Boston. Table of Contents,—Homer and his Heroines; Climatology; Life and Labors of Thomas Prince; Edmund Waller; Lord Shaftesbury; Palfrey's History of New England; Quarantine and Hygiene; Rush's Occasional Productions; The English Language in America; The Origin of Species; An "Inglorious Milton"; Critical Notices; New Publications.

S. S. Convention.—The annual meeting of the Dover District East Sunday School Association of the Methodist Episcopal Church, will be held at the State street Church, Wednesday, Oct. 10. The morning session will commence at 10 o'clock, and will devoted to discussion. Afternoon session, 2 1-2 o'clock, reports and addresses. Evening session, 7 o'clock, addresses. The friends of Sabbath schools are invited to attend.

☞ By the advertisement in another columns, it will be seen that G. K. Goodwin & Co's., Menagerie is soon to be exhibited in this city. The collection of animals is extensive, and all of them are in good condition. It is said to be the most complete collection of wild animals ever exhibited in this country.

Humphreys' HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFIC REMEDIES for the People

The Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, a reliable remedy for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhœa, a pain in the side, or a headache, are instances, if not promptly cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being so hand, simple, as you know at once what to take—pleasant, as are to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once are well, is how, and the cause abayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE BEST IN USE, THE MOST SURE AND CONVENIENT, THE CHEAPEST AND SAFEST.

Thousands are and have been using them for more five years of high, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

ATWOOD'S

QUININE TONIC BITTERS,

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of QUININE, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonic and stomachic, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, exhilling digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating disease, and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "He has for years of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

MOTHERS

It must be obvious not only to you, but to every attentive and intelligent person, that the first diseases of infants arise almost wholly from a disordered condition of their bowels, and in this connection we present to your notice, for the alleviation and cure of these diseases, a remedy known as

Dr. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL,

Prepared from a formula used by Dr. Eaton with remarkable success during several years' practice. We know it to be a most reliable and meritorious remedy for infantile complaints, and one trial alone will convince you of its superiority over every other preparation of this kind. It is particularly recommended

FOR CHILDREN TEETHING,

And at this period of infantile life, when your anxious hearts are pained by witnessing the suffering of your little ones, it will be found invaluable in Softening the Gums, Reducing Inflammation and Relieving all Pain. FOR DISEASES ATTENDING TEETHING, such as Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Griping in the Bowels, Acidity of the Stomach, Wind, Colic, and Cold in the Head, we confidently offer this as certain relief and cure in every case when given in time. It will invariably regulate the stomach and bowels, and its importance in this respect can hardly be estimated.

IN CONVULSIONS,

From which more infants are said to die than from any other disease, the little sufferer is relieved instantaneously, as if by magic; and in the dread complaint Spasms, it has proved in each that it has been recommended from one family to another, until the name of DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL has become a "household word." We now ask your attention to a subject of vital interest to yourself, as well as to your child. DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL contains

NO MORPHINE OR OPIATE,

Of any kind, or of whatever nature, a fact which we have fully warranted in a thing cannot be said of any other preparation in the kingdom, at this time known.

We find that throughout the country, Mothers are becoming convinced of this truth, and of the sad and blighting consequences which are certain to result from the use of Opiates disguised in the form of quieting remedies; their continued administration being invariably followed by constipation and complication of the bowels, ending oftentimes in convulsions. Here in DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL differs from every other remedy.

DOES NOT CONSTIPATE

The Bowels, neither does it act by deadening the sensibilities of your children, but naturally, thro' its rare medicinal qualities, by removing all pain and every cause of disease. We earnestly recommend you, therefore, to lose no time in procuring a bottle, that you may have at hand a remedy which will never fail to relieve your child in time of need. It is perfectly harmless, and cannot injure the most delicate infant.

Take none but DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL. This you can rely upon. Price 25 cts. per bottle.

Prepared only by CHURCH & DUPONT,

No. 403 Broadway, New York.

And sold by them, and all respectable Druggists.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S

AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It is Superior to Bitters, Exhilerants, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, when other remedies fail.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the most nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.

One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.

One dose will cure Heartburn.

Three doses will cure Indigestion.

One dose will give you a good appetite.

One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, it will commence to heal all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pain of the bowels, and constipation of the bowels, ending oftentimes in convulsions. Here in DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL differs from every other remedy.

Persons who are personally afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach weakness, giddiness, &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts. $1.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

DR. MOTT'S

CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE

PILLS OF IRON

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combination in Hydrogen. Prescribed by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

No preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which, no description nor written attestation could render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have forgotten their faces from their neighborhood, have suddenly reappeared in the bloom of health, returned from protracted travel in a distant land, and in every signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, cerebral changes, and that complication of nervous and hysterical aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron is peculiarly beneficial, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and, gently and regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for FIRE, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills may be sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed wasting and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally active and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting their sex.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory, as in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both in alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole Materia Medica, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effect.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of flesh and strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
Under the act of 1837.
70 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Advises on validity of assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting one Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered in this or any other place. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS; EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

New Photographic Establishment.

Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.

The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.

All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.

Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 7 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicate or little-size Portrait. Photographs of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the county of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.

For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—

Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.

Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.

These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; for never, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.

You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.

Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement. I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original color. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1860.

Daniel Browning, who murdered his mother in North Kingston last Sunday, attempted a few years ago, while he was a servant in the family of Mrs. F. R. Arnold of Providence, to kill the cook. He was then possessed with the idea that the cook was a witch, and used to repeat over and over again the old Jewish command, "Thou shalt not suffer a witch to live." He was committed to the Butler Hospital after that attempt, and remained there for some time. —Providence Journal.

Browning was a poor negro fanatic and monomaniac of the murderous type. But the text quoted by the Providence Journal as "an old Jewish command," is found in Exodous, chap. 22, verse 18,—"Thou shalt not suffer a witch to live;" and it stands there as a Divine command—as any reader may see by looking at Exodous, chap. 20, v. 22, and then reading onwards to the 22d chap.

The poor black fanatic was a literalist, and not having good sense, thought he was doing God service, and obeying his commands, in committing murder.

☞ The reception of Gov. Seward at Chicago appears to have been a great affair. The number of persons present was variously estimated at from 75,000 to 100,000. The torchlight procession in the evening was thought to comprise 10,000. There were forty-three bands of music, and any quantity of banners, transparencies and portraits of Lincoln. Gov. Seward's speech occupied an hour and a half in its delivery, and was enthusiastically received. In the course of his remarks he said:

The battle is ended and the victory is won. Why, then, we are asked, not withdraw from the field? For the simple reason that if the victors retire the vanquished will come back, and the battle will not be won. (Cheers and laughter.) The Republican party will complete the great revolution.

THE GRIZZLY BEAR FIGHTER.—Mr. Adams, whose narrow escape from death in a contest with a grizzly bear in California has gone the rounds of the press, was on his way to Neponset in the horse cars of the Dorchester road, when the jolting of the car or some other cause produced a reopening of the severe wounds in the head which he received in that contest, and which, though fifteen months have elapsed, have not entirely healed. The blood burst forth from these wounds with great violence, spotting the top of the car, and for a time it was feared that he would prove to be in a dangerous condition. Several physicians succeeded at last in stanching the blood, and he was taken to his residence. Mr. Addams is connected with a menagerie exhibiting in the vicinity of Boston.

☞ At the term of the Supreme Court in Belknap County, there were seven indictments found, four of which were for violations of the liquor law, viz.,—John Blaisdell, Peaslee H. Folsom, Sarah J. Folsom, and Samuel G. Shackford, one each, for special sales.

George W. Weeks and Benj. F. Osgood were arraigned on old indictments of last term for liquor selling—the former two, the latter one. Both were arraigned and pleaded not guilty. Trial postponed. Shackford was arraigned and plead nolo contendere. Fined $50 and costs, which were paid. S. A. Sargent, better known as Capt. Sargent, also came into Court and submitted to a fine of $50 and costs on a former indictment.

John M. Ames plead nolo contendere to an old charge for liquor selling. Fined fifty dollars and costs.

Blaisdell and Peaslee H. Folsom dequitted; Samuel J. Folsom's trial postponed.

SALE OF ROYAL HORSES.—The horses which were placed at the disposal of the Prince of Wales during his tour in the Canadas were sold at auction in New York on Monday. Lady Franklin, a brown mare, which was ridden by the Prince almost exclusively, was sold for $625. Fanny Whitton a charger, also ridden by the Prince, was sold for $550. The remaining horses were sold at very moderate prices, probably on account of not having been ridden by the Prince.

A WALKER OUTBREAST AT NEW ORLEANS.—Much feeling exists at New Orleans among the admirers of Walker, against the commander of the British war steamer Gladiator, now in that port, for his instrumentality in the capture and execution of the chief, and for bringing home the remnant of his band. The commander was knocked down Saturday week, in the bar-room of the St. Charles, by one of the indignant filibuster backers.

☞ Advices from Mexico confirm the confiscation of Spanish bank Maria Conception. The Spanish Commodore threatened to bombard Vera Cruz, but Capt. Jarvis condemned this course, and the Spanish squadron returned to Havana. Degallado seized a conducta of $1,200,000, destined for Tampico, which he will use in support of the expedition against the capital.

THE SLAVE SHIP ERIE.

This ship, with 897 negroes, was captured on the coast of Africa, by the U. S. steam sloop Molican, which was built here—and some of the slaver's officers and crew have just come to this port in the Marion. The negroes were freed and landed in Monrovia, and the Erie has arrived at the New York Navy Yard. She brings home Lt. J. W. Dunnington, Passed Midshipman H. D. Todd, and a prize crew of ten men, belonging to the Mohican.

The following account of her capture, with other particulars, cannot fail to interest our readers:

The Erie's officers supposed the Mohican to be an English man-of-war, and hoped, by hoisting the American flag, to evade examination. She made the passage from Monrovia to New York in thirty-four days, and was in company with the Marion, sloop-of-war, off Cape de Verd Islands. The Mohican sailed from Fernando Po on the 4th of August, and stood to the southward for Loando, having the squadron mail on board. When four days out, about fifty miles off the mouth of the Congo River, at 7 A. M., sighted a ship standing to the northwest; was about fifteen miles from the vessel, which was under all sail, and port studding-sail; immediately got up additional steam and came near the stranger, which refused to show any colors. Fired a blank cartridge, and then the American ensign was hoisted from the peak of the suspicious craft. She hove to, and Lt. Dunnington went on board.

On getting inside the gangway, he was confronted by a Spanish gentleman, of rather respectable appearance, who spoke English well. The officer asked if the Spaniard was captain; the latter answered not, but sent the visitor aft in quest of the skipper. An American, somewhat of a Yankee, then was accosted, but with no satisfactory result, as he persisted in declaring that the commander died in Congo. The mate was then asked for, but was not forthcoming, as he ran away, it was alleged.—"Who has charge of the ship?" said the naval man, becoming a little excited. No one enlightening him, he at once ordered the flag to be hauled down.

"Now, boys, give three cheers," cried Lt. Dunnington, leaning over the ship's side and addressing his boat's crew; for we have a genuine prize and no mistake." The enthusiasm of the man-of-war's men found vent in several loud huzzas, which had no sooner been heard than all the hatches of the Erie flew open, as if by magic, and her crew, who had been keeping the darkies quiet below, rushed on deck, and exclaimed in a regular chorus, "It's all up with us, boys." Mr. Dunnington peeped into the lower apartments, and beheld a whole mass of woolly heads. Every black eye in the ship was bent on the unexpected intruders, who took a hasty survey of the ship and proceeded to regulate matters generally.

Extra men from the Mohican were sent for and put on board, and the returning boats took back to the steamer the crew of the Erie. Those amongst them who were foreigners were allowed to take French leave on the coast, and three important looking persons, supposed to be the captain and two mates, were brought home in the slaver and turned over to the U. S. Marshal. The Mohican proceeded to Loando, and the Erie to Monrovia,—the ship's companies giving three cheers for the prize.—After a run of 14 days the slaver anchored at her destination.

Twenty-nine of the poor slaves died, principally of fever and dysentery, caused, it is supposed, by Congo water on the passage, and one fell overboard. Rev. John Seys received the negroes on the 23d of August, and distributed them amongst the inhabitants of Monrovia, who promised to treat them kindly. They were perfectly naked when taken, and were delighted with the disposition made of them. They clapped hands, sung, shouted, and raised a jolly time generally. The officers and men of the Mohican, who escorted the negroes to Monrovia, describe their sufferings during the middle passage as positively revolting. They would not undertake similar duties for any consideration.

The Erie is a fine sailer, and looks like anything but a slaver. She was built at Warren, R. I., in September, 1840, and was owned for a time by Mr. Ralph Post, of New York. She is a regular "cotton ship" in appearance. Her fitting up was most artistic; she had slave coffers, a sufficient quantity of water, vinegar in casks, placed fore and aft, to last 900 people sixty days; and an exceedingly large quantity of rice, pork, beef, farina, bread and peanuts, of which a good portion was given to Mr. Seys at Monrovia.

The hold of the vessel is unusually neat, and was kept in excellent order. There was less filth found in the ship than is usual with slavers, which was, perhaps, owing to the fact that a large crew were exclusively employed in preserving the healthy condition of the vessel. The sails were new and valuable, and could not have been long in use. The Erie was boarded in the Congo river by the British steamer Spitfire, previous to receiving slaves. She was only seventeen hours from the slave wharf when the Mohican seized her. No other craft was ever captured on the African coast with so many negroes.

The Commandant of she Brooklyn Barracks had a guard of U. S. Marines put on board the prize, and they will remain on board until she is in charge of the Marshal.

☞ Mr. Douglas, having been asked in Ohio, what the remedy would be if the Supreme Court should decide that a Territory cannot exclude slavery, answered that he would not do the Supreme Court of the United States the injustice to believe that they are going to stultify themselves, much less violate the Constitution. He would assume that no such decision would ever be made by any court. And so he evaded saying anything about the "remedy."

No man deserves to be praised for his goodness, if he has too little strength of character to be wicked.

☞ Senator Brown of Miss. thus describes Hannibal Hamlin in a recent Breckinridge speech:

Mr. Hamlin is a man of fair mental endowment. If he is remarkable for anything, it is for knowing how the wind is going to blow, and always setting his sails so as to catch the first breeze. He took to politics as a young duck takes to water, because it is his element. If I owed the devil a genuine, simon-pure Yankee, and meant to settle fair, I would send him Hannibal Hamlin.

REAL ESTATE.—One real estate broker in Hartford has a million dollars' worth of real estate in his hands for sale. The Courant says it is some years since tenements were so plenty, and stood waiting so long, as at this time. A great many houses have recently been built by men who have got tired of attempting to hire a respectable habitation at a respectable price.

DISPOSAL OF PROPERTY.—The last legislature of New York passed a law that no person having a husband, wife, child, or parent shall, by will, give more than half his property to any "benevolent, charitable, literary, scientific, religious or missionary society, association or corporation, in trust otherwise." Any gift of more than one-half is void as to the excess above one-half.

☞ The Peoria Transcript says there were six or eight cars of ladies, representing the different States, in the Douglas procession there last week. Some of the ladies were very pretty, and others rather old and decidedly plain, which induces the suggestion that the latter represented the original States.

☞ The New York Evening Post estimates that Lincoln will have 179 votes in the electoral college, or 27 majority. It also estimates that his popular majorities in the free States will reach an aggregate of 291,000.

☞ Mrs. Morgan, the wife of the Governor of New York, has been assigned the honor of opening the ball at the Academy of Music, New York, as partner to the Prince of Wales. The same favor may possibly be awarded to Mrs. Banks, in Boston, at the forthcoming ball.

☞ General Cass, who as Secretary of State received the Prince of Wales, at Washington, in the name of the President, was born during the American revolution, and was present at the coronation of Queen Victoria.

CRANBERRIES.— The Middleboro' Gazette says Mr. Eben Sherman, of Carver, has raised this season 200 bushels of cranberries. Mr. A. Waldo Bassett, of Bridgewater, has raised, as his neighbors say, 1000 bushels of the same fruit.

☞ The American Wine Company, of Chicago, are about to transfer their operations to St. Louis, being convinced of the superiority of the Missouri grape, and expect to produce from 60,000 to 70,000 gallons of wine the first season.

☞ At the late fire in New Orleans, six firemen lost their lives in consequence of the explosion of burning liquors, which threw down a large warehouse, forming one mass of ruin from street to street, burying up 30 or 40 men, all of whom were rescued but six.

☞ The Philadelphia Inquirer (Independent), after a careful review of political prospects in Pennsylvania, says: "So the chances, though ever changing in degree are still with Col. Curtin, and ergo with Mr. Lincoln, at our present summary."

☞ The editor of the Lansing (Mich.) Journal promised to send his paper to Republicans and take his pay when Douglas was elected President. Sixteen subscribers were obtained on these terms, from Mason, Ingham county, but the editor refused to send the paper.

☞ Palmer, the sculptor of the White Captive, is at work upon the design of a colossal statue of Washington, which he hopes will be ordered for the Central Park, New York. The statue is to be of bronze, and over one hundred feet high.

☞ The New York World, in an article on different kinds of preachings, enumerates the dry, the metaphysical, the pictorial, the expository, and the topical. The latter, it says, is the most popular of all.

☞ The colored population of Philadelphia is from 20,000 to 25,000. They own property to the amount of nearly $3,000,000, and have churches and schools valued at from $800,000 to $500,000.

☞ Philip T. Herbert, the California Congressman, who killed the waiter Keating at Washington a few years ago, is practicing law at El Paso, and considers the shooting his political ruin.

☞ A little French boy, 12 years of age, and son of Joseph Reneanx of North Boscawen, N. H., recently cut and piled a cord of wood in one day.

☞ The Salem Register says, "we are afraid that poor old 'John Brown,' who is dead and gone, will be the death of the Boston Courier."

EXHILARATING WEATHER — Friday and Saturday of last week;—at least, so the almanac says.

STATE FAIR.—Manchester, Oct. 4.—[Correspondent Boston Post.]—Mr. Cassey of Dover, won the foot race. After this the seventh and last heat was made in the great race—Lady Shaw, Romeo and Fanny Fern having each won two heats; it was dark when the horses scored all three came in close, Romeo a neck aheah, but on a run. The crowd was very boisterous.—The Fair is a perfect success. Over $5000 has been received at the office.

DEATH OF AN ESTIMABLE CITIZEN.—We learn that John T. Coffin, Esq., of Laconia, N. H., died at his residence on Wednesday night, of typhoid fever, the disease aggravated, no dout, by an internal complaint of some previous standing. He was formerly Superintendent of the Montreal Railroad, and at the time of his death was Treasurer of the Savings Bank at Laconia. Few men in that part of the State will be missed more than he.—Atlas.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Mr. Isaac Brewster, a most worthy citizen of Francestown, while engaged in picking grapes on Thursday last fell from a tree and broke his back. He died on the Friday evening following. His ago was 71.—Manchester American.

Cook Stoves.

Autocrat of the Kitchen.—35,000 in use!

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,

FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING, LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL

Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 30 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

THE INFANTILE CORDIAL.—We notice our druggists have received a supply of DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, which every mother should have. It is said to contain no paregoric or opiate of any kind whatever, and of course must be invaluable for all infantile complaints. It is also said that it will allay all pain, and soften the gums in process of teething, and at the same time regulate the bowels. Let all mothers and nurses, who have endured anxious days and sleepless nights, procure a supply and be at once relieved.

JOB AND CARD PRINTING of all sorts is promptly done at the Chronicle Office.

Marriage, Visiting or Business Cards Printed or ENGRAVED in the best manner.

Atwood's Quinine Tonic Bitters,—the best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the public—All the Druggists have it. See advertisement.

Bronchitis.—This sore forerunner of Consumption can be instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron & Sulphur Powders. The Olive Tar allays pain and heals soreness an inflammation, and the Iron & Sulphur Powders convert the waste or worn out particles of the blood into gases, which are ejected from the body by the pores instead of being deposited as Phlegm. The testimonials of many prominent and well-known persons are contained in a pamphlet, which will be sent free by mail to any address. See advertisement in this paper.

FOR SORE, WEAK, INFLAMED EYES AND EYELIDS!

A true specific, and invaluable remedy has been at last discovered. Dr. Humphreys argues that these affections invariably result from a constitutional disease, of which the local affection is the only outward manifestation. Hence, HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC OPHTHALMIA PILLS are only taken internally, and yet cure the worst forms of obstinate sore eyes and eyelids, which have resisted all other treatment. All cases of sore and inflamed eyelids, or failing, weak or defective sight, will be promptly benefitted, and the cure of the worst cases is only a question of time.

Price, 50 cents, with directions.

Sent by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price.

Address, DR. F. HUMPHREYS & CO., 562 Broadway, New York.

Sold in Portsmouth by TRACHER.

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

This remedy has long been cherished by the community for its remarkable efficacy in relieving, healing and curing the most obstinate, painful and long standing cases of Cough, Cold, Influenza, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Inflammation of the Lungs; while even Consumption itself has yielded to its magic influence when all other means have failed. Its whole history proves that the past has produced no remedy of equal value, as a cure for the numerous and dangerous pulmonary affections which prevail all over the land.

From the Editor of the Portsmouth (N. H.) Journal, Aug. 11, 1860.

WISTAR'S BALSAM.—There are but few medicines of which we can express an opinion from personal knowledge. Among such we place prominently WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which should always be kept on hand. It is an excellent medicine not only for Coughs and Colds, but also for neuralgic affections. We have known suffering from the nerves of the stomach effectually relieved by its soothing influence when other medicine has been ineffectually used.

From a highly respectable Merchant.

FALMOUTH, ME., Aug. 10, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & CO.,—

Gents:—For a long time I have suffered more or less with that distressing affliction—Phthisis—in its worst forms, and have resorted to various so called remedies, but to no purpose as affording the desired relief. Deprived of my sleep by reason of the severity of the disease, it was only too evident that I was fast breaking down under it. I resorted to DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY with but little confidence as to its curative properties, but the use of one bottle has entirely rid me of this monster; and to the public I can safely commend it as every worthy their confidence. Most resp'ly, S. I. MERRILL.

Is the Sun Growing Cold and Dark?—There are now more spots on the sun than have been seen before for many years; some of these are vizible through a smoked glass to the naked eye. Several stars—some of them of great brilliancy, which from their ascertained distance, must have been as large as our sun—have actually disappeared from the sky; and the question has been raised among astronomers whether the light and heat of the sun are gradually fading away. As this would be accompanied by the destruction of all the plants and animals on the earth, it is rather an interesting question. The sun's light and heat are diminished by the dark spots at the present time about 1 per cent.

Boys of the Reform School.—An interesting feature in the second day's proceeding at the State Fair in Manchester, was the appearance of the boys,—about fifty in number—from the New Hampshire State Reform School. Upon the ground during the delivery of the addresses they came all dressed in their neat uniform, and in charge of Brooks Shattuck, Esq.—State Fair Bulletin.

☞ Victor Emmanuel, according to a recent rumor from Italy,is again to be excommunicated, his name being this time specially mentioned in the Bull.

Miss Lane will not go to New York to attend the great ball; some say because the President considers it would be undignified in her, who is officially the first lady in the country, to follow the Prince; which is a very good reason for her remaining at home. Others say she is unwilling to offend the New York women by opening the ball on the 12th of October: which is another equally excellent reason for her not going.

☞ The New Orleans Picayune of the 2d reports the explosion of steamer Bayou City, near Lynchburg, Texas, with fearful loss of life.

A female pickpocket was arrested in a church in Seville for robbing a lady who was praying beside her. The lady at first could not believe her guilty, for her hands were crossed in devotion all the time; but the police discovered that the pickpocket had a pair of false arms crossed on her breast, while the real members were used for "explorations" in neighboring pockets.

A friend of ours is near sighted. At one of the ferries, the other day, he read a sign which struck him as very good and very appropriate. In fact, he approved of it so much that he read it aloud: "Beware of Politics!" It was such a mistake as one near sighted might make. The true reading was "Beware of Pickpockets!"

"Morn breaketh in the East," exclaimed democratic editors just before the Maine election, and the morn, or something else is breaking all over the country, we should judge from the broken fragments of the party, "lying loose" everywhere.—Keene Sentinel.

Prince of Wales.—Washington, Oct. 5.—Baron Renfrew and suite, the President, Cabinet, and invited guests, visited Mount Vernon to-day. The dinner given by Lord Lyons in the evening was attended by the President, Baron Renfrew, and other distinguished personages.

The Execution of Gen. Walker, the "Gray eyed man of Destiny" is confirmed, as is also our opinion that the British officer who delivered him up to death is a miserable puppy who deserves the halter.—Newburyport Herald.

The Indian Princess Nah-nee bah-weequa, who has recently returned from her mission to England, was announced to give an account with of her interview with Queen Victoria, at one of the Quaker meeting houses in New York.

Fort Smith, Oct. 4.—Martin H. Gilman, another white man and a Choctaw half breed were hung by lynch law this afternoon. All three were horse stealers. There is great excitement.

Erie Railroad Coupons.—New York, Oct, 5.—The receiver of the Erie Railroad has obtained an order from the Court, directing the payment of the coupons on the third mortgage bonds.

The more our ladies practice walking, the more graceful they become in their movements. Those ladies acquire the best carriage who don't ride in one.

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 4.—A dispatch from Mariana says: "Florida sends greeting; the Democracy have carried the State." The returns are very limited and uncertain.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 6.—True bills for murder and robbery have been found against Jackalow, the Chinaman, who is to tried at a special term in January.

Death of an Eminent Painter.—Philadelphia, Oct. 4.—Rembrandt Peale,the eminent painter, died this morning, aged 83 years.

Dr. Franklin says that "every little fragment of the day should be saved." Oh, yes, the moment the day breaks, set yourself at once to saving the pieces.

Baton Rouge, Oct. 4.—The storm on Tuesday sunk twenty-one coal and four steomboats.

New Orleans, Oct. 5.—The storm on Tuesday was the most severe that we have had for years. The walls of a building on Camp street fell, killing two persons.—Part of the city is submerged. Eleven miles of the Jackson Railroad were washed away. A large number of houses were carried off and several lives lost. A large number of coal boats and a steamboat were sunk. The damage to the city is about $150,000, and it will be heavy on the river. Thirty-five sugar houses were blown down, and the crops badly injured.

During the Merrimack County (N. H.) Fair, Mr. John Foss of Pittsfield was relieved of his wallet, containing $300 in money, by a pickpocket.

THE FRIENDS WE MOURN.

'Tis sad to bury those whose eyes
Have made our world seem Paradise;—
To find the dearest hand grow cold,
And give it up to dust and mould.
And years will pass, ere they efface
From heart and brow grief's burning trace.
But oh! to bury those whose fall
Was not beyond their own recall,—
Who yet had blest our anxious prayer,
Had health and life known proper care:
This is the saddest and the worst
Of all the wrongs our love have cursed!
How can they live their destined time,
Who 'gainst their own lives do a crime!—
Who use all foul unhealthy things,
Daring the doom the peril brings?
Who would supply the Indian Weed
In any form but pure indeed?
And yet, besides our Goodwin, who
Can call it pure in language true?
His Patent Pressed Tobacco gives
A zest that in the memory lives,—
Defrauds no pocket of its wealth,
And breaks no law of human health.
Who use the others, soon lie low;
Who use the Patent, healthy grow;
And death its influence on the brain
The friends we mourn will live again.

Wild Cherry Balsam.—The memory of Dr. Wistar is embalmed in the hearts of thousands, whom his Balsam of Wild Cherry has cured of coughs, colds, consumption, or some other form of Pulmonary disease.

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the

CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS
Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis,
Influenza, Hoarseness,
Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have existed, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS,

these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in one day remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

The Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhea, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, as first easily cured and subdued, in their neglect become a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Hence these remedies claim the great public want. Being on hand, simple, as you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the test of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE BEST OF ALL, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, AND NEVER FAILING AGENTS.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success, and speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

ATWOOD'S

QUININE TONIC

BITTERS,

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, combining all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonic and stomachic s, and cannot fail to please the tastes of the fastidious.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhea, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "but it is the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

MOTHERS

It must be obvious not only to you, but to every attentive and intelligent person, that the first diseases of infants arise chiefly from a disordered condition of their bowels, and in this connection, we present for your notice, for the alleviation and cure of these diseases, a remedy known as

Dr. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL,

Prepared from a formula used by Dr. Eaton with remarkable success during several years' practice. We know it to be a most reliable and efficacious remedy for Infantile complaints, and one trial alone will convince you of its superiority over every other preparation of the kind. It is particularly commended to

FOR CHILDREN TEETHING,

And at this period of infantile life, when your anxious hearts are pained by witnessing the sufferings of your little ones, it will be found invaluable in Softening the Gums, Reducing Inflammation and Relieving all Pain. FOR DISEASES ATTENDING TEETHING, such as Diarrhea, Dysentery, Griping in the Bowels, Convulsions, Spasms, Wind, Colic, and Cold in the Head, we confidently offer this as a certain relief and cure in every case where it is given in time. It will invariably regulate the stomach and bowels, and its importance in this respect can hardly be estimated.

IN CONVULSIONS,

From which more infants are said to die than from any other disease, this medicine has been believed unconditionally, as if by magic; and in this dread complaint alone, its intrinsic value is such that it has been recommended from one family to another, until the name of DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL has become "familiar as a household word." We now ask your attention to a subject of vital interest to yourself, as well as to your suffering child. DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL contains

NO MORPHINE OR OPIATE,

Of any kind, or of whatever nature, a fact which we are fully warranted in stating unreservedly, as the other preparation for infantile diseases, at this time before the public. We find that throughout the country, Mothers are becoming convinced of this truth, and of the sad and blighting consequences which are certain to result from the use of narcotics disguised in the form of quieting syrups; their continued administration being invariably followed by stupefaction and constipation of the bowels, ending at times in convulsions. Here, in DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL differs from every other remedy. It

DOES NOT CONSTIPATE

The Bowels, neither does it act by deadening the sensibilities of the nervous system, but, by its rare medicinal qualities, by removing all pain and cause of disease. We earnestly recommend you, therefore, to lose no time in procuring a bottle, that you may have at hand a remedy which will never fail to relieve your child in time of need. It is perfectly harmless, and cannot injure the most delicate infant.

Take none but DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL. This you can rely upon. Price 25 cts. per bottle.

Prepared only by CHURCH & DUPONT, No. 409 Broadway, New York.

And sold by them, and all respectable Druggists.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S

AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Female Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subjected to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.

One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.

One dose will cure Heartburn.

Three doses will cure Indigestion.

One dose will give you a good appetite.

One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder, Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquor, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, removes all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller then is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

CHALYBEATE

RESTORATIVE

PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combination in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of vital energy, in nervous or chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description of mere written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of sympathy, nervous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of Iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old exciting, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms the cause.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most malignant cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and persistent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated Iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, it is decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, and an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 10 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to FREAKS OF A MANIAC.—He escapes from a Lunatic Asylum, Marries a Rich Widow, and Buys a Block of Buildings.—About a year since a gentleman in the interior of Wisconsin became insane, and was sent to the Lunatic Asylum at Madison in that State. He was a physician by profession, and was a gentleman of superior cultivation, and of remarkably prepossessing appearance. He was about thirty years old. Some six weeks ago he escaped from the asylum, and went to Chicago. There he encountered an old friend, who loaned him quite a sum of money, having no suspicion of his insanity. With this money he supplied himself with new and elegant clothing, and started for Laporte, Indiana, a thrifty village on the line of the Michigan Southern Railroad. He remained there long enough to win the affections of a young and wealthy widow, and was married to her. During the brief courtship he exhibited no indications of lunacy, but shortly after his marriage he commenced conducting himself in a manner which startled and shocked his wife and her friends.

Among other mad fancies he believed he was a sheep, and insisted upon crawling around upon his hands and feet, bleating in the most absurd manner. He would then fancy himself a rattlesnake and make frantic attempts to bite members of his household. The unhappy lady, at length worn out with watching him and endeavors to restore his wits, made preparations to send him to the Asylum at Indianapolis. But as is frequently the case insanity had sharpened his wits, and he adroitly escaped. We next hear of him in Syracuse, N. Y., where he actually purchased a block of buildings. The necessary papers were made out and he was to call the next day with the money. He was to pay an outrageous sum for the property, and it is said the parties with whom he made the bargain, chuckled vastly over the propitious winds that had blown them so profitable and fresh a subject. But they saw no more of him. The lunatic started westward. At Buffalo he bargained for an immense amount of corn, to be delivered in New York city, and then proceeded to Cleveland. He arrived here last week and endeavored to negociate for some real estate on Kinsman street, but he talked so absurdly that the parties with whom he had interviews refused to treat with him.

Meanwhile his friends, and particularly his wife in Wisconsin, (for he has a wife and two children in that State,) were making every effort to ascertain his whereabouts.—They traced him to Syracuse, and from there to this city. His brother arrived here on Saturday morning last, but found that the lunatic had left on the previous evening's train for the West. He followed on Saturday morning. At Toledo he learned that he had gone West on the Michigan Southern train, and he perseveringly continued the chase. At Adrain he found and captured him and took him home.

When not in his rabid fits, few would discover the unfortunate man's true condition. He would make very absurd propositions and offer exorbitant sums of money for property that hit his fancy, but he would do so in so candid and captivating a manner as in most cases, to disarm suspicion.—Cleveland Plaindealer.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicate finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and say that if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.
The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish well Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.
The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.
All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.
Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for the cures of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore. Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my saiky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a series of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore. Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my saiky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the body. From the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result; two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall ever recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald over-half, for early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement: I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three size viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1860.

☞ A correspondent of the New Hampshire Statesman has the following in regard to presentiments in connection with the death of Mr. Dana A. Huntoon, who died recently from an explosion of burning fluid in Hopkinton:

In connection with this there were some presentiments of a very singular nature.—Mr. W. A. Huntoon of Salisbury, a brother of the deceased, and mail carrier to North Boscawen, took the cars in company with his wife on Monday for Canada. He was in good health and spirits, and was anticipating a very pleasant journey. When he reached Montpelier there came over him one of these "presentiments," as they are called, to the effect that something very serious was going to occur among his friends at home. He was surrounded by happy companions, and had no reason whatever to place any belief in the warning. Still it could not be driven from his mind, and sadly he turned his steps towards home. He reached Salisbury on Wednesday night.—All were well, and the next morning he went to his brother's in Hopkinton, where his parents also reside. Just after tea, while he was in the store with his brother, the shocking event occurred.

A sister, who was at the Isles of Shoals, dreamed that some fearful occurrence was impending in the family, and came home, though she had no reason to believe that any painful event was to take place there. She arrived home before the afflictive occurrence transpired. Thus a brother and sister, many miles apart, were brought back by some mysterious agency to the parental roof in season to witness the sad death of a beloved brother. I do not pretend to explain, but will say that I received the facts from the surviving brother, Mr. W. A. Huntoon, whose veracity is questioned by none.

☞ Josiah Quincy, senior, is [nominally] one of the managers of the Prince of Wales Ball. In his letter, allowing the use of his name, he says:

I am honored by your proposal to place my name on the general Committee of Management, for which you ask my permission.

It is now nearly, if not quite, seventy years since I had the honor of joining, at Concert Hall, in Boston, a country dance, with the Duke of Kent, the Prince's grandfather. I should esteem it a like honor to unite on a like occasion with his grandson. But Nature forbids, and I submit.

It will be impossible for me to be present at the proposed ball, or participate in any of the services its management may require. But highly approving the tribute of respect proposed to be paid to the son of a sovereign, not more elevated by her rank than by her virtues and exemplary influence, I readily place my name at the disposal of the Committee, in the connection they propose, regarding it as an honor and privilege.

PRINCE OF RAILS.—A son of Abraham Lincoln, who is now a Freshman at Harvard, recently spent a few days at the White Mountains. While there a very enthusiastic demonstration was made, giving him a reception as the "Prince of Rails."—A procession was formed to escort the "Prince," and speeches were made, to which he made a happy reply. The proceedings were very humorous, and the "Prince" enjoyed them much. They say that for story telling and wit, he is a chip of the original rail.

ANOTHER CRAZY MAN.—A Mr. Wm. Beach Lawrence, said to be a Rhode Islander, has written a letter in which he says:

"Far be it from me to aggravate the complaints on the part of the South. But if a President is elected with the avowed object of creating a servile war," &c., &c.

No such object having been avowed by any candidate or any party, the letter is only the raving of a maniac.

FIRE IN SOUTH BOSTON.—South Boston was visited, Saturday night, by one of the largest conflagrations for a long time, and the most destructive to property that ever occurred in the ward. The flames were discovered before 8 o'clock, in the extensive machine shop of Souther & Co., on First and A streets, known as the Globe Locomotive Works, and spreading rapidly, before the alarm was given, had enclosed nearly the whole building in one sheet of flame. From this the fire extended to the three smaller buildings of the locomotive works, and finally into the Stella Mill, in operation in the manufacture of gunny bags. Everything in both buildings was of the most combustible material, and was consumed rapidly. A high wind was prevailing at the time, and the wonder is that the adjoining buildings were saved.

Sampson & Tappan, in the gunny bag business, lose $50,000, with $16,000 insured. The whole loss is $160,000 or more. 250 persons are turned out of employ by the fire.

☞ The New Orleans Courier claims that the indignation of the South at Douglas's Norfolk speech is very great. It says:

"As we expected, the Norfolk speech is bearing its fruit. From every section of the South we hear indignant protests against the imprudent admissions made by Mr. Douglas, in response to questions touching the course to be pursued in the event of Lincoln's election. We shall not attempt to conceal the satisfaction we feel for having been the first to denounce his replies as insulting to the South.

FROM CENTRAL AMERICA.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Steamship Northern Light, from Aspinwall Sept. 30, has arrived. She brings no California mails or passengers, as the John L. Stephens had not arrived on the 29th.

The John L. Stephens was due at Panama on the 24th. It is thought that she must have broken some of her machinery in a severe gale, as a heavy swell in Panama Bay indicates that there had been one.

On the morning of the 27th ult., a mob invested Panama, creating the greatest excitement. The authorities had applied to American and British commanders of the vessels of war in port to protect the city, and forces were being landed for that purpose. At the latest advices the negroes had retired. The marines from the U. S. ship St. Marys held possession of the Panama Railroad depot. Trains crossed the Isthmus regularly, and the city was quiet. Part of the British forces had been withdrawn.

C. J. Fox, U. S. Consul at Aspinwall, is a passenger by the Northern Light, and brings dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy from the St. Marys.

An encounter took place on the 27th outside of Panama, between the rebels and the Government troops, which resulted in five or six rebels being killed, fifteen taken prisoners, and five soldiers killed. The ringleaders escaped.

Guayaquil advices of the 24th state that Gen. Flores was near that city with his forces. Gen. Franco was to be reinforced with 2000 men from Peru.

The Northern Light left a large portion of her stores on the steamer North Star, to accommodate the passengers of the John L. Stephens, should she arrive.

FROM EUROPE.—New York, Oct. 7.—Steamship Vanderbilt arrived last night, with 300 passengers. She sailed from Southampton on the evening of Sept. 26.

The steamship Great Eastern was not expected to be ready to sail by the 17th of October, as has been announced.

Garibaldi had made an attack on Capua, during which 200 of his men were wounded. The Garibaldians had succeeded in passing Cattaacne.

The Neapolitans had made an unsuccessful attempt to recover Cajazzo.

Garibaldi was awaiting the arrival of Gen. Turr for an immediate attack on the Neapolitan forces.

The inhabitants of Viterbo had revolted and driven away the Papal garrison.

☞ The President, Miss Lane, the Prince of Wales, and other great characters, have been to Mount Vernon, and heard a dirge played by a Band, near the tomb of Washington. Mr. Selden, the gentleman who so hospitably entertained Lord Napier, has invited the Prince and friends to visit his plantation, some little distance from the city, and witness the workings and effects of the "domestic institution."

☞ We are indebted to Robert Bonner, Esq., of the New York Ledger, for an advance copy of that paper for Oct. 20, in which it is announced that President Buchanan and Hon. Geo. Bancroft are to be contributors to the Ledger. The President is to write a Life of Wm. Lowndes, of South Carolina; and Mr. Bancroft is to describe the battle on Lake Erie. See the advertisement of the Ledger and its contents, in another column.

☞ Out of a caravan of eighty-two persons who crossed the Great Desert from Algiers to Timbuctoo the present summer, all but fifteen used wine and other liquors as a preventive against African diseases.—Soon after reaching Timbuctoo, these all died save one; while of the fifteen who abstained, all survived.

A CANNIBAL, DOWN EAST.—The Bath Times praises a market-man very highly, and then says:

We are resting upon a liberal portion of his rich, juicy sirloin, as we pen this article, and we find such bracing much better than the soft arms of—an easy chair.

☞ When Florence Nightingale arrived at Boulogne, a few weeks since, her baggage was transported without fee or reward to the hotel by the female porters who throng the wharves of that place.—They were glad to honor the "ornament of her sex."

☞ The city of Boston uses 12,000 brush brooms annually, in sweeping streets. It is a singular fact that all the brush for these brooms since the city has been swept, has been purchased of one individual, and is cut in the vicinity of Billerica.

☞ Bonner announces President Buchanan and George Bancroft as "regular contributors" to the New York Ledger.—What next?

LARGE ORDER.—A boot manufacturer manufacturer in Milford has recently received a single order for fifty thousand cases of boots.

☞ News was telegraphed all the way from Chicago to the New York Times, that the Prince of Wales tore his trousers while shooting quails!

☞ Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana elections occur to-day. The results will be looked for with interest.

☞ Half of Provincetown is shingled over with codfish. It is harvest time among the finnies down that way.

EXTRAORDINARY FEAT IN NATURAL HISTORY.—In Canada they are making a Lion out of Wales!

☞ Lady Franklin was in Detroit last Thursday on her way westward.

☞ Queen Victoria, while in Edinburg, attended by an equerry and a lady in waiting, drove to a cemetery in the neighborhood of the Scottish capital, to visit the grave of a young Italian dressing maid, who seems to have won to a remarkable degree, the affection of her royal mistress. Whereupon an English paper says:

"England's Queen paying the heart's homage at the tomb of an humble domestic! The spectacle was one of affecting interest, and will strike into the deepest recesses of the loyal hearts of Victoria's subjects."

POLICE IN DOVER.—A writer in the Dover Sentinel, signing himself "Law and Order," seems to call for a more vigorous enforcement of all the police laws. He says:—

There are two things which may serve to gauge the amount of rowdyism in any city. The selling of rum and the extent of prostitution. For rum selling and prostitution not only produce rowdyism, but are demanded by it. Wherever a rowdy lives rum must be sold and prostitution exist. If you can abolish these two evils, you will abolish the rowdy. On the other hand, where rum is sold and licentiousness prevails, you will find rowdyism growing like grain in well manured fields. Now what is the fact concerning rum selling in Dover? Was ever more rum sold by the glass in this city than at the present time? There may have been periods when more rum was sold, as in the days when the laborer bought his pint per diem, and his quart for the Sabbath, and brought up his family on it.—And when all classes of society kept liquor in their houses and drank it as a common beverage, though that is a matter of doubt. But there never was a time when more rum was sold by the small glass, than at the present. And it is this kind of grog selling which has the most direct effect on rowdyism. But few of the citizens of Dover are aware of the amount of rum sold here.—We have a population of about 9000. We have over sixty distinct places where rum is sold. The infants, idiots, invalids, aged and females, deducted from the sum total will leave a residue of 3000. One rum shop for fifty persons. * * * And is not the community ready to sustain active and energetic measures to prevent and suppress rowdyism in all its forms? Or must it be here as it has been elsewhere, the public not to be aroused to action until some terrible melee, perhaps some fiendish murder or some wanton debauchery of a respectable female shall compel proper measures.

☞ The Concord Statesman says the beautiful residence site purchased in the westerly part of that city by ex-President Pierce, has been much improved during the warm season, by tastefully grading, and building a handsome face wall of stone along the entire front, with other improvements. Mr. Pierce intends to commence building his house this autumn or early in the spring time.

☞ Gen. Lamoriciere went, on the 15th ult., to the famous Chapel of Our Lady of Loretto, and having, like other pilgrims, offered his devotions, solemnly engaged to present there, ex voto, the sword which he now brandishes on the Pope's behalf, as soon as he shall have delivered the pontifical throne from all its enemies. He is likely to keep the sword for some time to come.

☞ Senator Clark has furnished us with the Congressional Globe, four parts, i. e., four quarto vols. And Mr. Marston, Representative from this district, has forwarded the Covode Investigation and other documents.

☞ The Wide Awakes of New England will have their great demonstration in Boston, on the 16th. Col. R. I. Burbank has been chosen Chief Marshal, and it is expected that there will be fifteen or twenty thousand torches in the procession.

In order to reach perfection, it is necessary to have either very faithful friends or implacable enemies; since we must be made sensible of our failings either by the admonitions of the former, or the invectives of the later.

Mr. Breckinridge in his recent Lexington speech sneered at the Bell and Everett men as "gentlemen engaged in ringing bells, with tongues as long and heads as empty as the bells they ring."

☞ Ralph Farnham is on his way to Boston, in good health. His son, 64 years old, would have accompanied him, but the old gentleman says he don't want to be bothered with boys.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Gen. Elijah Ward, the candidate for Congress in the Seventh district, was assaulted on Saturday by Emanuel B. Hart, Surveyor of the Port, with a bludgeon, but was not seriously hurt.

☞ The York County Agricultural Show and Fair will be held at Saco to-day (Tuesday), Wednesday and Thursday. The Society have made arrangements for a fine show.

Mrs. Barrow was to play "Satan in Paris" on the Portland boards Tuesday evening. "Satan in Bangor" was performed at Norembega same day, Caleb Cushing being the only star actor in the cast.—Bath Times.

An American traveller ran a large invoice of valuable cigars into England by putting them in a box, under a false bottom, with rattlesnakes on top. The custom officials did not wish to investigate.

HUMAN ASPIRATION.—May more blood be spilt in the establishment of Italian liberty, but may it be only the blood of St. Januarius!—Punch.

DENTISTRY.

The subscriber would give notice that he has procured a PLASTIC CEMENT (or artificial) for filling teeth. It is a new article, and has the prospect of being a good one, especially for filling tender or front teeth, but as it is new it will take time for it to obtain confidence. He would also state that he has a standing order with the principal dealers in Dentists' Materials, to give him information of anything useful or important.

EXCELSIOR.

"Soldiers," said Napoleon, after one of the most brilliant of his victories, "Nothing yet is done—much remains to do." Acting upon this hint, the Proprietor of the NEW YORK LEDGER—whatever the achievements of the past may have been—regards nothing as done so long as so much remains to do. He has the pleasure to inform his innumerable readers that to the long list of scholars and statesmen already numbered among the contributors to the LEDGER the name of JAMES BUCHANAN, the illustrious President of the United States, is now added.

Read the following table of contents, and remember that the LEDGER will be ready on Monday, Oct. 8, at 12 o'clock precisely:

Cook Stoves.

Autocrat of the Kitchen.—$5,000 in use!

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,

FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING, LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL

Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

KINGSTON, March 10, 1841.—"This may certify that my son has had a humor which made its appearance when he was but a few days old; and it grew worse, causing large swellings and running sores. He has been cured by the use of Dr. Swett's Panacea and Humor Wash."

T. CURRIER.

Hundreds of testimonials on hand might be added, evincing the many cures by Dr. Swett's medicine. All orders directed to DR. SIMON W. SWETT, PORTSMOUTH, N. H., No. 1 School St., for his Panacea, Cough Drops, Conserve, Rheumatic Compound and Family Pills, and others of his popular remedies, will be promptly attended to.

Atwood's Quinine Tonic Bitters,—the best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the public.—All the Druggists have it. See advertisement.

Bronchitis.—This sure forerunner of Consumption can be instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron & Sulphur Powders. The Olive Tar allays pain and heals soreness in inflammation, and the Iron & Sulphur Powders convert the waste or worn out particles of the blood into gases, which are cleared from the body by the pores instead of being deposited as Phlegm. The testimonials of many prominent and well-known persons are contained in a pamphlet, which will be sent free by mail to any address. See advertisement in this paper.

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

This remedy has long been cherished by the community for its remarkable efficacy in relieving, healing and curing the most obstinate, painful and long standing cases of Cough, Cold, Influenza, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Inflammation of the Lungs; while even Consumption itself has yielded to its magic influence when all other means have failed. Its whole history proves that the past has produced no remedy of equal value, as a cure for the numerous and dangerous pulmonary affections which prevail all over the land.

From the Editor of the Portsmouth (N. H.) Journal, Aug. 11, 1860.

WISTAR'S BALSAM.—There are but few medicines of which we can express an opinion from personal knowledge. Among such we place prominently WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which should always be kept on hand. It is an excellent medicine not only for Coughs and Colds, but also for neuralgic affections. We have known suffering from the nerves of the stomach effectually relieved by its soothing influence where other medicine has been ineffectually used.

From a highly respectable Merchant.

FALMOUTH, ME., Aug. 10, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & CO.,—

Gents:—For a long time I have suffered more or less with that distressing affliction—Phthisic—in its worst forms, and have resorted to various so called remedies, but to no purpose as affording the desired relief. Deprived of my sleep by reason of the severity of the disease, it was only too evident that I was fast breaking down under it. I resorted to DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY with but little confidence as to its curative properties, but the use of one bottle has entirely rid me of this monster; and to the public I can safely commend it as every worthy their confidence. Most respfly, S. I. MERRILL.

☞ An article of some interest, on Manufactures in Portsmouth, will be found on the 4th page of this morning's Chronicle.—Among the other things that might be made here, but are not, the writer mentions about $12,500 worth of Cabinet Furniture,—and about the same amount of Clothing, instead of $5000.

☞ Gas fixtures are being put up in the new Post Office; and it is reported on good authority that the office will be occupied in a very few days. We hope so.

☞ The number of deaths in this city during the month of September was fourteen, of the following ages:

Males nine—aged 3 mos., 6 mos., 7 mos., 1 year, 1 yr. 3 mos., 27 yrs., 40, 42, 76.

Females five—aged 8 mos., 8 mos., 1 year and 2 mos., 1 year and 6 mos., 40 yrs.

☞ The new Town Hall at Hampton is to be dedicated this (Tuesday) evening, at 7 o'clock. Addresses by Hon. Amos Tuck of Exeter, Rev. S. P. Fay of Boston, Rev. J. C. Webster of Hopkinton, Mass., and the minister of the place. Music by the Old Folks' Choir of Hampton.

☞ Next Tuesday is the day for the Breckinridge Mass Convention to meet in Concord, at the State House. The call for the meeting is signed by 333 names.

☞ The Mechanic Phalanx of Lowell have voted to attend the New Hampshire State Muster, at Nashua, this week, Thursday and Friday.

THE LARGEST OF THE SEASON.—In Colebrook, N. H., a potato of the Jenny Lind variety has been raised, which weighed three pounds and eleven ounces.

At a show of fruits and flowers at the Crystal Palace, England, last month, a single bunch of grapes was on exhibition which weighed eight pounds and fourteen ounces.

EXTRAORDINARY BREACH OF CONTRACT AND ITS RESULTS.—Howe & Cushing's American circus visited Dumfries, Scotland, on Monday Sept. 10, and gave two exhibitions in a large marquee on the Dock Park. At the evening exhibition something like riot arose out of the refusal by the manager to pay a sovereign to any one who should ride a mule three times round the ring without being thrown off.—A lad named William Quin, undertook the feat, and insisted that he had ridden the mule three times round the ring and kept his seat, notwithstanding that the reins had been cut by one of the circus people, and everything had been done to prevent his succeeding in the trial; the manager, on the other hand, averred that Quin had not ridden in jockey fashion, had nearly choked the animal by clutching him round the neck, and had only ridden round the ring twice, a portion of the spectators having interfered. Quin's claims were loudly backed by a large number of the audience, and a mighty uproar was the result, in which some of the benches were smashed.

Quin stuck to the mule, and proceeded to take it away home with him, followed by an immense crowd, cheering and yelling in a state of great excitement, and evidently anxious to ascertain the whereabouts of the manager, who had left the circus for his lodging. Baffled and unsuccessful in their search, a portion of the crowd went back to the circus, seized one of the carriages and threw it into the Nith at the foot of the dock, from which, however, it was soon after recovered, only slightly damaged.—The Superintendent of Police, Mr. Mitchell, was obliged to take steps for quelling the disturbance; the money was ultimately paid to Quin, the mule restored, and the streets soon resumed their wonted quiet.

The papers say that extra caution is practiced on the railroads travelled by the Prince of Wales; "that in going over the Micigan Central road from Detroit to Chicago, his train had the exclusive right to the track over every thing, was accompanied by a pilot engine, special care was taken of switches, the road was carefully examined to see that no rails were displaced, breaks in the fences were repaired to keep animals from the track, and the telegraph wire put in good working condition." This is all well, and as it should be; but we should like to know why the lives of American sovereigns are not as dear, or why they are not entitled to be guarded with as much care, when they travel, as the mere heir to sovereignty in Great Britain, and we don't know why the interests of humanity and of the world any more depend upon the safety of the latter than the former. We would not ask less protection and care for the prince, but more for our own sovereign people.—Bath Times.

WHY THROW AWAY YOUR VOTES?—There being no earthly chance for the election of either Breckinridge or Douglas, why should any patriotic and intelligent Democrat in Virginia perpetrate the enormous folly of throwing away his vote on either one of them? There are actually but two candidates in the field—Bell and Lincoln. You cannot and would not, of course, vote for Lincoln. To vote for Bell, then, is your only alternative, if you desire the defeat of Lincoln, as we are sure you do.—Richmond Whig.

ORANGEMEN IN CANADA.—Toronto, Oct. 6.—A mass meeting of an Orange character was held last night. Resolutions were passed censuring the Duke of Newcastle and the Provincial Government in reference to the Orange difficulties during the riot of the Prince of Wales. A committee was appointed to prepare an address to the Queen and British Parliament, embodying resolutions and a narrative of the difficulties.

When Louis Phillippe and his queen were in exile, in Claremont, they visited the convent of the Sacre Cœur. The nun who conducted them through the house was so amiable and agreeable that the queen on leaving, expressed her extreme satisfaction. "Perhaps," added her majesty, "you will be interested to know who your visitors are. This gentleman is Louis Phillippe, I am the Queen Amelie." The nun, bowing profoundly, replied with a gentle smile, "And I am Mademoiselle Bonaparte.

THE DICTIONARIES AT FAULT.—Neither Worcester's Quarto nor Webster's Unabridged give the word Doldrum. It is a most excellent word, and since it is ignored by these great lexicographers we are tempted to say, "A plague on both your dictionaries!" The word comes very naturally from the word dole, to which a second syllable is added, for the sake of euphony. It is in frequent use, and tantamount to the "blue devils."—Nashua Telegraph.

GRAPE CROP DESTROYED.—The cold snap which occurred on Saturday and Monday nights was so intense at Concord, Ms., as to destroy the entire crop of Concord grapes in the vineyard of Mr. E. W. Bull. The thermometer fell to 20° above zero, and the fruit, estimated to be fifty bushels, was frozen hard and rendered worthless save for the manufacture of inferior wine.

Surely the richest man is he who makes the best use of his money; not he who has the most. One of the finest homilies ever written may be found in the epitaph on himself and his wife, by Edward Courtney, Earl of Devon:—

"What we spent, we had;
What we gave, we have;
What we left, we lost."

Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is cleansed of all impurities and contains the largest amount of all necessary and wholesome properties, which can be concentrated in the same weight; it is guaranteed to give the most perfect satisfaction, or the money refunded it will cure dyspeptic persons, and save the health of all who use it. Grocers and Druggists sell it.

There is another article in the market put up in similar colored papers. Do not be deceived by it. See that the name of HERRICK ALLEN is on the wrapper, and no mistake can occur. Manufactured by Allen & Taylor, corner of Canal and Centre streets, New York, and sold at wholesale by Israel Nash & Co., Boston. M&F is

WHO ARE THE MISERABLE?—Let the dyspeptic, who suffers physically and mentally, answer. But though he has drunk the very dregs of suffering, relief exists in the Oxygenated Bitters; they are "a cure for all woes."

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the

CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS

Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have existed, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in ONE DAY remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

MEANS OF PROMOTING OUR CITY'S PROSPERITY.

Messrs. Editors:—Since a former communication I have taken some pains to ascertain the amount of the principal goods annually bought and brought into the city, for the use of the city and vicinity, that are not, but might profitably be manufactured in this place. The estimates are drawn from those engaged in each business, who are supposed well qualified to judge.

Our city annually expends for carriages $5,000; for umbrellas $1,000; hats and caps $10,000; leather $12,000; soap 50,000 lbs; agricultural tools $6,000; paper $5,000; cigars $10,000; bread $2,000; lamps, kerosene and fluid $5 to 6,000; shirts, bosoms and collars $6,500; toys and fancy goods $7,000; hoop skirts $5,000; household furnishing goods, such as stoves, brooms, and kitchen ware generally, $45,000; white lead $6,000; sheep skins carried out of the place to be manufactured $5,000; shirting and sheeting $50,000; bed ticking and blankets $10,000; calicoes or cotton prints $50,000; broadcloths and other woollen fabrics $50,000; manufactured clothing $5,000; shoes, boots, &c. $75,000; jewelry $12,000; amount paid for insurance effected out of the city $50,000. Whole amount, to say nothing of grain and breadstuffs, is 419,000.—Probably in all half a million of dollars is yearly carried out of the place. Improvishing it to enrich other places. Nearly all this might be kept here for the benefit of the place, and of the citizens in it.

Verily, the thing looks too strange to be believed, but it is none the less true. Well may other places double their population and wealth, while Portsmouth stands still; and that too while an average of $200.000 a year is expended from the Navy Yard, most of which goes to Portsmouth and vicinity. In the name of common sense, why should this be so? what is the cause? Is it that, and one of the above enumerated articles being manufactured here, and the number of the inhabitants and wealth more than doubled—keeping our people AT HOME instead of going out of the place for business or a market, keeping fathers with their families, and young men at home. Only think of $6 or $7000 worth of shirts, bosoms and collars, $75,000 worth of boots and shoes, made out of the place. What a suicidal policy!

HOW LONG IS SUCH A STATE OF THINGS TO CONTINUE? With an amount of half a million dollars every five years expended by government, Portsmouth stands still, while other places east, west, north and south, without any such government expenditure, double their wealth and population. What is the cause? and why is it so? and what is the meaning of it? It does arise from nothing but the want of a sufficient energetic WILL! There is desire enough, sense enough, and if necessary, capital enough,—that has too often been used to build up other places. But a great portion of the articles mentioned do not require much capital. In the article of shoes, hundreds of thousands of dollars worth might be made in the place without a cent of capital, the same as is done in other places, particularly in Massachusetts.

In ascertaining the different amount of articles of one of our respectable tailors, he observed that one would be surprised to know how many men came into his store to be measured for shirts. He said that he took the measure sent it to Boston, the Boston trader sent it to Waterville, Me. there the shirts were made and sent to Boston, then from that city to Portsmouth. Truly a roundabout way to get a shirt, and all attended with expense. If not made in families, why not have a shirt factory in this city, giving employment to a hundred, more or less, girls, keeping the money in the place, and have the shirts at much less expense.

One of our ingenious and enterprising citizens observed that what was wanted very much in this place, was a large building with steam power in it, with lotts or rooms to let—a remark as true as the sun. Let the owners of the land at North Portsmouth erect such a building with sufficient power in the centre of their property, and the rise of the price of their land would more than pay for it, while as it is, it may remain comparatively idle.

As the city is one of the most healthy places in the world, what is there to hinder it from having popular and extensive seminaries of education, for its own youth to attend, and for others to come to. We would say nothing against our existing good schools, but our views extend to a more extensive business in this direction. From one academy, our neighboring town of Exeter derives one of its principal sources of income, $3,000 a year for board, and probably a large amount for clothing, hats, shoes, &c. New-Haven, Ct. by determined exertion, planted and fostered its schools and now probably the income from them for board alone, is from twenty-five to thirty thousand dollars per year. Portsmouth in time might do the same, but there must be a beginning.

Fisheries.—Why should Gloucester have a hundred sail of Fishermen, and Portsmouth only about half a dozen? A very important business in places where shoes are manufactured, to renew the health of the men who work in-doors in the winter season.

But, to encourage manufactures, facilities are necessary. The writer once asked one of our jewellers who had sons in another State learning the business, why he did not bring them at home and earn them the business himself? His reply was, he did not have the facilities. Very bad, but why not have the facilities? His next answer was, he did not have the business. This kind of logic, too common, may be compared to that used by a lazy squatter, who would not dig a cellar, for it would be full of water; and would not dig a well, for there would be no water in it. Would a miller expect to have a grist brought where he had no mill? or would you expect people to come to buy, if you had not the articles to sell? What is to hinder Portsmouth from having manufacturing jewelry establishments like Providence, and send our agents all over the country, and bring the profits home. The reply is there is nothing to hinder and much to encourage this if it might be done.

In conversing with the indefatigable and energetic agent of the Steam Mills, the writer was informed that some years since a man came here to start a hosiery mill on a modern and IMPROVED plan. He needed countenance and a little encouragement. The agent seeing what it was, used his exertions to obtain them for him, but he could not. The consequence was, the man went to Manchester, they encouraged him readily, and in a short time he made ten thousand dollars and about as much for his assistants, and then set up a mill himself, and now gives business to the place.

In Buffalo and other enterprising cities of the West they have associations for ascertaining what business is wanted and might be profitably done in the place, and send out agents over the country making it known that people with capital, or without it, may come and ascertain if it as represented, and if they find it is so, there is the place to locate.

A few weeks ago a resident of Newark, N. J. was in this place. He said that in 1850 they had 38,000 inhabitants, now they have 72,250. Being asked the cause of so much increase, his reply was, the manufactures. At the risk of appearing officious, say citizens of Portsmouth, shall some energetic means be taken to improve our might be noble and populous city, make it profitable and inviting for persons to come to, locate in, and do business, and instead of almost everybody coming here to sell, and our own merchants (which comparatively disembowels the place of its wealth and a portion of its citizens) going to buy, have the articles made or manufactured here, then have a chance to have the money returned that we have so long and so unwisely let go out of the place, to its detriment—forcing our citizens to the dangers of the ocean or the mines, and scattering them to all parts of the world. If there is sufficient energetic will, there is a way. S. B.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,

FOR MAKING

Bread, Tea Cakes,

All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,

MANUFACTURED BY

EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,

Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works,

NO. 33 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a skill and care to produce a far better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturers submit it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating house-keepers, bakers, &c., &c.

Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has a more delicious, natural taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.

It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferment, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.

It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, this waste is avoided, and the flour, perfectly, retains its nutritious delicious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily makes about 250 lbs. gives by this process 290 lbs., thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. Also by the simplicity of the process, literally to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,

Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with regard to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing in a noticeable salt, which is essentially a desirable food in the bread. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; while its economy and purity is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much time of the pastry cook.

The experiments made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturers, and prove it to be a compound worthy of public approval and extended use. Respectfully,

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."

HOW TO USE IT.

We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in fruit puddings and other pastry.

BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonfuls of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour,) to one quart of flour, sift thoroughly by passing two or three times through a sieve; rub in a piece of butter of half the size of an egg, and make the paste moist with cold milk or water (milk is preferable,) barely stiff enough to permit rolling out. Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.

LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.

GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven to one quart of wheat meal, sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.

BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonful of Leaven in one pint of flour, and one pint of corn meal; all well sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—Flour and milk sufficient to make one quart of batter; add one egg, then three teaspoonfuls of Leaven; beat to a froth, and cook quick.

DUMPLINGS.—Sift together one quart of flour and two teaspoonfuls of Leaven; rub in a piece of butter half large as an egg; mix with cold milk or water, and boil ten minutes.

CHAMBER STREET CAKE.—Sift together two large cups of flour and two teaspoonfuls of Leaven; put in half a cup of butter and a cup and a half of sugar; mix with cold water or milk to a stiff batter, and spice to suit the taste, and bake immediately.

CINCINNATI SPONGE CAKE.—Two cups of white sugar, beaten with the yolks of six eggs—the whites of six eggs beaten to a froth; then beat all together; add three cups of sifted flour, one cup of water, and three teaspoonfuls of leaven; flavor with two teaspoonful of essence of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.

JUMBLES.—Sift together one quart of flour and three tea spoonuls of Leaven; rub in one teacupful of butter; add a cup and a half of white sugar, and spice to suit the taste; mix stiff enough to roll out, and bake quick.

ELECTION CAKE.—One quart of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; add a cup of butter; add three cups of sifted flour, one cup of water, and three teaspoonfuls of leaven; flavor with two teaspoonful of essence of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.

JUMBLES.—Sift together one quart of flour and three tea spoonuls of Leaven; rub in one teacupful of butter; add a cup and a half of white sugar, and spice to suit the taste; mix stiff enough to roll out, and bake quick.

ELECTION CAKE.—One quart of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; add a cup of butter; add three cups of sifted flour, one cup of water, and three teaspoonfuls of leaven; flavor with two teaspoonful of essence of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.

CORN CAKE.—One pint each of flour and Indian meal, and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, well sifted together: add one gill of molasses and two eggs; mix this with milk, and bake in a deep tin.

CUP CAKE.—Five cups of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, sifted together; add one cup of butter, two of sugar, and two eggs, all well beat together; mix with milk; then add a cup of currents, and spice to suit the taste. Bake about half an hour.

LADIES' CAKE.—Three quarters of a pound of flour and four teaspoonfuls of Leaven, sifted together; one pound of sugar and six ounces of butter beaten to a cream; the white of eight eggs well beaten, and the juice of one lemon; mix with milk.

WEBSTER CAKE.—Five cups of flour, three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, three cups of sugar, one of butter, one of milk, and two eggs; fruit and spice to the taste. Bake about half an hour.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S

AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirum Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels. In a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, find the invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—I wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE

PILLS of IRON

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Immunions in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, FEMALE WEAKNESS, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of vital energy, as and in most cases of chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if raised from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old, existed, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most doubtful cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously-balanced preparations of Iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, most decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its properties, in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

GOV. JOHNSON'S PLANTATION IN GEORGIA.—The plantation of Governor Johnson, the Douglas candidate for Vice President, lies in Jefferson county, Georgia, and consists of 3652 acres of land. It is said to be peculiarly adapted to the growth of the products of that climate, particularly cotton. In the aggregate the land is valued at $25,000. There are upon the plantation 117 slaves, as likely a set of boys and girls as you will see south of Mason and Dixon's line, and valued at $93,600. The increase of slaves in twenty-five years has been 200 per cent. The number of mules and horses is thirty-eight, worth $3800; value of cattle and implements about $1000. This will make the aggregate value of the farm and stock $123,000. From this investment there will be raised this year 250 bales cotton, valued at $12,500; bushels of corn, 7500, valued at $6500, giving a clear income of $19,000, besides supporting in a sumptuous style about 150 persons, and raising any amount of sweet potatoes and garden truck generally. It is chiefly managed by his two sons, two very promising young men.

DOMESTIC DOGS.—The dogs in a family are a study. We cannot help comparing their conduct with human beings—thinking of them as such, in fact, unconsciously, if not loving them as well. With open doors and gates to go away if they please, they stay with us, and take what treatment we choose to give them—invited indoors, or left in the cold—fed with what is left at our table, or perhaps carelessly forgotten—worked or played with—noticed in return for an expression of joy, or perhaps beaten back and neglected. They watch for us by night, give us a bountiful welcome when we return after absence, are happy in being let stay with us, asking no questions, and following whither we please—faithful to death, we are perfectly sure, as if that were a matter of course! Ah me! It is a world of more or less love to us, as Fate pleases—but a man throws away a friend who has no dogs.—Willis.

FLOWERS.—Many a bright-eyed little girl to-day, who works worsted and dances divinely, does not know that a moss-rose is a first cousin to a French turnip, and the mangel-wurzel a poor relation in the poppy family. Flowers are not trifles, as one might know, if he would only think how much pains God had taken with them everywhere; not one unfinished; not one bearing the marks of brush or pencil.—Fringing the eternal borders of mountain winters; gracing the pulseless breast of the granite; everywhere they are humanizing. Murderers do not ordinarily wear roses in their button-holes. Villains seldom train vines over cottage doors.—B. F. Taylor.

A tailor on Broadway won $15,000 by betting on "Planet" at the late race. He will now probably "cut" the shop instead of pantaloons.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from wet feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.
The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

New Photographic Establishment.
Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.
The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.
All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.
Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Picasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was dualy defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your wonderful "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your Restorative on all occasions; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you, the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles its hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement. I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for one dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1860.

COPPER, LEAD AND WHISKEY.—Dr. A. A. Hayes, a noted chemist of Massachusetts, has examined a great many samples of American spirits distilled from grain, and cannot find any strychnine therein. But he does find other poisons in the new R. G. viz.: salts of copper, lead and tin.

The Boston Courier says:

Prof. Hayes has examined this subject very closely, and he states with the candor of conviction, that the spirits produced in this country to serve as beverages are remarkable, as a general thing, for their purity and freedom from any substances which careful rectification can remove. He goes further, and says: "When through age and suitable exposure, the oils contained in them have passed into ethereal bodies, and thus ripened the spirits, they become equal in soundness and purity to any products imported from abroad, and far less deleterious than most of the so-called brandies of the present time."

There is, however, a source of danger, which, so far as he can learn, has been overlooked, or possibly attributed to criminal intentions. This remark applies to the newly distilled and, in most cases, to the older spirits; and he regards a knowledge of the fact as of especial interest to the medical profession. It is this: Newly distilled spirits, of the most common kind, often contain salts of copper, of lead or tin, derived from the condensers in which the vapors are reduced to a fluid form. The quantity of copper salt contained in the bulk usually taken as a draught, is sufficient to produce the minor effects of metallic poisoning; the cumulative character of these poisons may even lead to fatal consequences. With a knowledge of this fact, instead of resting on a supposition of the existence of an organic poison in the spirits which have caused the sickness, the physician may notice the symptoms of metallic poisoning, in persons addicted to the habit of using newly distilled spirits, and interpose his aid in preventing the fatal termination of vicious indulgences. Old, or more matured spirits, have generally lost every particle of the salts once held in solution. Changes in the organic solvent have caused the deposition of the metallic compound. In order, therefore, to avoid the poisoning effects of these salts, perfectly well-ripened and clear spirits only should be used in the preparation of medicines: for, while the clear, transparent fluid contains no metallic impregnation, a turbid, though ripened spirit, may prove deleterious through its suspended metallic compounds.

WHO IS MY BROTHER?—A writer in the Boston Journal states that Rev. A. A. Miner, of the School street Universalist Church in Boston, Sunday afternoon, during an able discourse on universal brotherhood, supposed the case of a voter receiving from four vote distributers four different votes for him to select from; as an honest man and a patriot he must select one. Over one ticket, in language too plain to be misunderstood, were the words, "Enslave thy brother." Over another, "Let somebody else enslave thy brother if they choose."—Over the third, "Don't say anything about thy brother;" and over the fourth, "Enslave not thy brother." What must be his decision? The figure in connection with his subject did not directly have a political bearing, yet for its application to the present political canvass, it was a remarkably noteworthy saying.

LORD RENFREW AT RICHMOND.—On Saturday Lord Renfrew proceeded to Richmond, taking the cars at Acquia Creek, over the only strap railroad in the country. The train stopped a few moments at Fredericksburg, where a great crowd of people were assembled at the depot, cheering and shouting, the negroes bowing and courtesying to the ground, praying "God bless massa!" The Prince came out from the cars and bowed.

There was a crowd at the Richmond depot, which cheered and chased the carriages through the streets, and blocked up the street leading to the hotel. There was no formality and no procession, but continual cheers all through the streets. The ball at Richmond, which was to have been Monday night, has been given up on account of financial difficulties!!

☞ Two well known divines, of Dedham, Mass., Rev. Ebenezer Burgess, D. D., Orthodox, and Rev. Alvan Lamson, D. D., Unitarian, are both about to retire from active ministerial duties, the former having served forty years and the latter thirty-six years.

☞ A Mr. Richardson, of Ireland, lately attempted to get off the cars of the Dublin and Kingstown railway, when they were in motion. The railway company prosecuted him, and had him fined £2, as a warning to others.

☞ The North American Review for October, 1860, No. 189, is just published, and our copy is before us. It is one of the most interesting numbers, to the general reader.

☞ The Times has a ponderous leader advocating the introduction into London of Train's street railways—or "train-ways" as the cockneys call them.

☞ One night last week, Mr. U. S. Treat of Eastport, caught in his weirs one hundred and thirteen hogsheads of herring, and secured the entire lot.

RALPH FARNHAM, the old revolutionary soldier, is in Boston, at the Revere House, where he arrived Monday afternoon. The Boston Courier says he is accompanied by his son, John Farnham, 63 years old, and by his daughter, Joanna, who is 65 years of age. He travelled from Acton, Me. The stations on the road were crowded with persons anxious to see him. On his arrival at the depot in Boston, he was immediately surrounded, and many persons insisted on shaking hands with him, which agitated him somewhat. He was placed in a hack as soon as possible, and conveyed to the Revere House, where a private parlor was assigned to him. Monday afternoon and evening, a few friends were admitted, and Mr. Farnham said he did not feel at all fatigued, in fact was "quite hearty." He is very proud of the attention shown him, but was disappointed because the artillery company was not out to receive him.

He does not appear to pay any attention to what is going on around, but is quite ready to converse about the Battle of Bunker Hill and the surrender of Burgoyne, of which his recollections are quite vivid. He states that he was not engaged at the battle of Bunker Hill, but witnessed it from Prospect Hill, where he stood as sentry. After the battle he assisted in removing the wounded.

He remembers Gen. Washington, Gen. Knox, Gen. Lincoln, Gen. Sullivan, and others of Washington's aids. He never saw Gen. Warren. A sketch of Mr. Farnham's life has been published heretofore. He will receive visitors from 10 to 12 A. M., and from *2 to 5 P. M. He will probably remain a week, and in the meantime visit Bunker Hill by invitation of the Charlestown City Council, and other places of interest in and around Boston.

THE PIRATES.—The captain and two mates of the slave barque Orion were sentenced in Boston on Saturday. The captain, Thomas Morgan, is to pay a fine of $2000 and suffer two years' imprisonment in the Newburyport jail. The first mate, who is an active member of the church* in New York, has two years in the Salem jail. The second mate, William Dearborn, has one year nine months in the Boston jail. The Judge remarked that they ought to congratulate themselves on their light sentences, as there was proof enough to convict them on a capital indictment and send them to the scaffold.—Newburyport Herald.

*The church! What church? The Roman Catholic or the Mormon? The Methodist, or Universalist? or what? The term member of the church is quite indefinite.

We think the Judge very judicious in affixing these light but disgraceful sentences to this crime.

TROTTING VS. PEDESTRIANISM.—At Watertown Mr. Champlin recently matched his chesnut mare to trot ten miles while an Indian should run seven. It was generally thought the man would win; but the chesnut proved a better horse than she was supposed to be. The mare made her ten miles in 35:29; Indian performed the seven miles in 41:36.

KIDNAPPERS IN IOWA.—An attempt was made on Sunday the 16th of September, by three persons who represented themselves to be retumned Pike's Peakers, to kidnap three colored persons in Fremont County, Iowa. They obtained possession of the negroes, but one escaped, and alarmed the inhabitants, who put the telegraph in requisition, causing their arrest and lodgment in jail for trial.

☞ Hall's Journal of Health for October contains a variety of the short spicy articles for which this periodical is noted. There is an admirable protest against that stupid bit of family despotism by which parents compel their children to "eat their plates clean" at meals, whether the unlucky juveniles are hungry or not.

☞ The late fair of the St. Louis Agricultural and Mechanic Association was unusually profitable. The gross receipts of the week at the gates amounted to the sum of $38,500, leaving a profit, after paying all expenses, of $17,900. In one day, when the Prince and suite were present, $10,140 were received for admission tickets.

RAILROAD ENTERPRISE IN NEW YORK.—A new company has been formed in New York, with a capital of five million dollars, to complete the railroad already commenced, running through the Northern wilderness, embracing portions of Hamilton, Warren, Essex, Franklin, St. Lawrence and Herkimer counties.

☞ The New Orleans Delta, after expressing fears that two steamers, now building to run from that city at Liverpool, will be bought away by New Yorkers, adds: "About one quarter of the money spent this summer by Louisianians in Northern States and Europe, would have built a line of steamers for the Liverpool trade, another line for Havana, and completed the Opelousas and Great Western Railroad to the Sabine."

☞ After a year's drought, in Kansas, they had at Atchison, Sept. 29, a heavy fall of rain.

CALIFORNIA AND OREGON.—St. Joseph, Oct. 7.—The Pony Express with San Francisco dates of the 24th has arrived.

While the British frigate Termagant was being placed on the government dry-dock at Mare Island, the dock gave way and became a complete wreck. The frigate was extricated without much damage. It will cost $200,000 to repair the dock.

Four hundred miles of the Pony Express route, east of Salt Lake, have been restocked.

Oregon dates, are to the 24th from Portland, and the 20th from Salem.

A quorum had not been obtained in the Senate.

A report was circulated of a contemplated compromise between the Douglas and Breckinridge Democrats, giving each one Senator, on condition that the seceding Senators return and give the Senate a legal organization.

The House by resolution invited the Senate to meet in joint convention, and immediately proceed to an election of United States Senators.

The Breckinridge men have nominated the following electoral ticket: Delazon Smith, James G'Meara, and Wm. Dongherit. The Douglas men have nominated Wm. H. Farrar, Benj. Harding, and Wm. Hoffman.

The mining accounts from Oregon and British Columbia are very glowing.

The census returns give Washington Territory a population of 9000.

The brig Orbit which arrived at Victoria on the 13th, in 31 days from Japan, failed to get a cargo.

The Japanese were unwilling to observe the treaty stipulations.

Mexican dollars were selling at 50 per cent. discount. American and other gold ditto.

The French Minister at Jeddo had resigned, as his representations in respect to the treaty were quite unattended to.

The Japanese had concluded a new treaty with the Portuguese.

Advices from China say that the Chinese expected to make a great resisitance to the Allies, and desperate fighting was anticipated.

Russian war steamers were actively moving about with large bodies of troops.

FATAL ACCIDENT IN CAMBRIDGE.—A Sailor who was about half drunk Saturday afternoon, aspired to perform some wonderful feats on a tight rope. He was travelling in East Cambridge and walked aboard a schooner laying at the wharf, near to the planing mill. He went aloft and got out on the stay which runs between the two masts some forty feet from the deck.—Some person on the schooner asked him what he was going aloft for. He answered that he wanted to show them what he could do. He then hung on the rope by his hands and by his heels, and throw his cap down into a crowd which had collected on the wharf. The bystanders saw that he was drunk and tried to prevail upon him to come down. He didn't heed their entreaties, but continued his performances until he was nearly exhausted. He hung by his two hands, and was evidently unable to get his feet to the rope again. The excitement on the wharf was intense. Then one of his hands lost its hold, and in a moment after he dropped into the hold of the vessel, over which he had been showing off. His bones were badly broken, and he was all smashed up. He was taken to the Massachusetts Hospital and died there soon after. His name was Joseph Kane.

☞ The Galway steamer Connaught, from St. John's, N. B., for Boston, sprung aleak, caught fire, at 8 o'clock on Saturday night, and the crew and passengers were taken off from her at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, by the brig Minnie Schiffer, and carried to Boston. The C. was burning at 3 o'clock Monday morning.

She was 4400 tons, a first class iron steamer, having a crew of 124 men. Crew and passengers all told, were 606 persons; and all are safe.

NEW BEDFORD ITEMS.—The Mercury states that on Sunday three Portugese, named Francis Silva, Manuel Francis, and Florence, a lad, natives of Pico, Western Islands, left that place in a small boat on a fishing excursion, and were last seen in the vicinity of Round Hills. The afternoon was squally, and it is feared that the boat was capsized and all on board lost. Silva formerly resided at Nantucket, and has a wife and three children. He was totally blind.

Last week, Charles Jackson, late second officer of a whale-ship was subpaened as a witness, and detained in jail. Not understanding why he should be confined for having committed no crime, he literally chewed up his tongue in his exasperation, and was taken to the hospital for medical treatment, where his hands were confined to prevent his doing injury. Raving with madness he broke from his keepers and threw himself from the window to the pavement, from whence he arose, returned to his room, and drove the attendants from the premises, and died on the following morning, probably from internal injuries received from his fall.

LAND SALES.—Washington, Oct. 8.—Numerous urgent but ineffectual applications have been made for a further postponement of the Minnesota land sales, on the ground that pre-emptors can't pay within the prescribed time. Pre-emptors will inevitably lose their lands if sold, and paid for by other parties.

DEAD LETTERS.—Washington, Oct. 8.—The Postmaster General has issued an order that after the first of November, all unpaid letters must be sent to the dead letter office, the practice of notifying the writers of said letters not having had the desired effect of reducing their number.

THE PRINCE'S PROGRESS.—Richmond, Va., Oct. 7.—The Prince attended St. Paul's Church this morning. The church was densely crowded, and there was a great throng outside. After service he visited the Governor, and drove around the city and suburbs, the cemeteries and other places of interest, all of which he seemed to enjoy.

Baltimore, Oct. 8.—Lord Renfrew arrived at 8 o'clock this evening. He was received by the military and escorted to the Gilmore House. The streets were thronged.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The New Orleans Picayune of Friday, says it is reported that Capt. Jarvis had passed a note to the Spanish commander, condemning a bombardment of Vera Cruz, and saying he would consider the first shot fired upon Vera Cruz as fired upon the American squadron, and in consequence of this note the Spanish squadron had been withdrawn.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 8.—Advices from Mexico to the 17th ult., have been received.

Miramon occupied the capital with 11,000 men. The Liberals had their headquarters at Queretaro.

Bronchitis.—This sore forerunner of Consumption can be instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron & Sulphur Powders. The Olive Tar allays pain and heals soreness an inflammation, and the Iron & Sulphur Powders convert the waste or worn out particles of the blood into gases, which are ejected from the body by the pores instead of being deposited as Phlegm. The testimonials of many prominent and well-known persons are contained in a pamphlet, which will be sent free by mail to any address. See advertisement in this paper.

FOR SORE, WEAK, INFLAMED EYES AND EYELIDS!

A true specific, and invaluable remedy has been at last discovered. Dr. Humphreys argues that these affections invariably result from a constitutional disease, of which the local affection is the only outward manifestation. Hence, HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC OPHTHALMIA PILLS are only taken internally, and yet cure the worst forms of obstinate sore eyes and eyelids, which have resisted all other treatment. All cases of sore and inflamed eyelids, or failing, weak or defective sight, will be promptly benefitted, and the cure of the worst cases is only a question of time.

Price, 50 cents, with directions.

Sent by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price.

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

This remedy has long been cherished by the community for its remarkable efficacy in relieving, healing and curing the most obstinate, painful and long standing cases of Cough, Cold, Influenza, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Inflammation of the Lungs; while even Consumption itself has yielded to its magic influence when all other means have failed. Its whole history proves that the past has produced no remedy of equal value, as a cure for the numerous and dangerous pulmonary affections which prevail all over the land.

From the Editor of the Portsmouth (N. H.) Journal, Aug. 11, 1860.

WISTAR'S BALSAM.—There are but few medicines of which we can express an opinion from personal knowledge. Among such we place prominently WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which should always be kept on hand. It is an excellent medicine not only for Coughs and Colds, but also for neuralgic affections. We have known suffering from the nerves of the stomach effectually relieved by its soothing influence where other medicine has been ineffectually used.

From a highly respectable Merchant.

FALMOUTH, ME., Aug. 10, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & CO.,—

Gents:—For a long time I have suffered more or less with that distressing affliction—Phthisic—in its worst forms, and have resorted to various so called remedies, but to no purpose as affording the desired relief. Deprived of my sleep by reason of the severity of the disease, it was only too evident that I was fast breaking down under it. I resorted to DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY with but little confidence as to its curative properties, but the use of one bottle has entirely rid me of this monster; and to the public I can safely commend it as every worthy their confidence. Most resp'ly, S. I. MERRILL.

PORTSMOUTH "WIDE AWAKES."—This company, consisting of about one hundred men, was organized on Monday evening. The following officers were elected:—

Captain, Frank Fuller; 1st Lieutenant, Francis W. Ham; 2d do., John H. Broughton; 3d do., Chas. C. Akerman; 4th do., Thomas Fairservice; Orderly Serg't, John Murray; Standard bearer, William Conn; Clerk and Treasurer, Charles L. Tidd.

Dr. Fuller was elected without a dissenting vote, which must be equally gratifying to himself and his many personal and political friends. Great enthusiasm was manifested among the members of the company, which embraces the leading men of the Republican party in this city. At the close of the meeting the company was efficiently drilled by Sergeant Murray.

Wednesday evening was appointed for a second drill, at which time it is expected every member will be in attendance.

WIDE AWAKE.

☞ The famous Menagerie, which is advertised on our outside, to exhibit and perform in Portsmouth on Saturday, is to appear and show here to-day (Wednesday) instead. The cold weather—these exhibitors say it is the coldest season for thirty years—is considered too risky for the exposure of the valuable and tender tropical animals; and the proprietors of the show will cut short their trip, and at once proceed to sheltered quarters in Boston.

Exhibition at 2 and 7 o'clock this afternoon and evening, at the field corner of Cabot and Islington streets, near Sagamore Mill. See advertisement for some details of the attractions, beauties, wonders and monstrosities.

☞ The State Encampment takes place at Nashua, to-morrow and next day, Thursday and Friday; and if the weather should be favorable, will be one of the most brilliant gatherings ever seen in the State, and attract a vast crowd of spectators. The Company of Horse Guards from Portsmouth and vicinity will leave this city this afternoon, in the Concord train, with Gov. Goodwin and suite, the officers connected with the Portsmouth naval station, and other invited guests, and spend the night in Concord.

The City Phalanx and the Portsmouth Cornet Band, will proceed to New Market Junction Thursday morning, and go by the B. & M. Road to Nashua. This last is the most direct route for visitors generally. An extra train leaves Portsmouth at a quarter before 6, Thursday and Friday mornings; and returning, leaves Nashua at half past 4.

AN EDITOR PLAYING "SOGER."—Our friend Beard, of the Nashua Telegraph, accompanied Col. Stark and the Horse Guards in their recent visit to Portsmouth, of which visit and parade he gave his readers an interesting account. How he came to go (which the Gazette says certainly demanded explanation) and how he performed, he has informed his readers and we have published his story. The editor says he was "complimented by a brevet appointment to the staff" on the occasion, and "thereby hangs a tale." The fact in the case, as regards that "compliment," is thus stated in the Exeter Ballot.

There was a vacancy in the staff, occasioned by the unavoidable absence of one of the officers. Col. Stark called upon Private Beard, and requested him to act in that capacity during the day. The man who was "born a trooper" declined; he was determined to do the whole duty of a soldier in the ranks. Persuasion being ineffectual, Col. S. remarked—"You must do it, Beard. The fact is you ride so abominably that you spoil the entire section; but if you ride with the staff your awkwardness will not be so apparent." The private succumbed, and this is the way Beard was brevetted.

It will hardly be safe, after this exposure, the Gazette thinks, for Gen. Whittem to attend the muster at Nashua. The son of the "captain of the Dublin and Nelson Troop" will "draw sabre" on him so effectually as to prevent any editorial account, in the Ballot, of the "feats of arms" which will be performed by the aforesaid "born trooper" on the 11th and 12th inst.

☞ The Granite State Bards, with Miss Holland, of this city, gave two very successful entertainments at the Temple, last week—which we omitted to mention at the time; and refer to now in order particularly to say that we understand that several other similar Concerts are to be given during the season. The entertainments consisted of vocal music; and a series of original and beautiful Tableaux, designed by Mr. J. H. Head, and in presenting which, a very large company of Misses, Firemen and others took part. The large audiences were delighted with the exhibition throughout;—and these were among the most successful as well as satisfactory public entertainments we have had for a long time.

☞ Subscriptions are being collected in Boston and Concord, N. H., for the purchase of Hoyt's portrait of Daniel Webster for the State house at Concord. The city of Concord has subscribed $500. The picture is valued at $1000.

REPORTS FROM ELECTIONS.

The States of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana held elections on Tuesday. We give below such returns, reports or rumors as we were able to obtain from Boston up to midnight.

By Telegraph to the Portsmouth Chronicle and the Wide-Awake Club.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9—9 P. M.

The polls in this city closed at 8 o'clock, with probably the largest vote ever thrown. The opponents of the Republicans were sadly divided, scratching tickets in every directions. The result in this city is yet in doubt; the scattering returns from the country are favorable to the Republicans.

A second dispatch from Pittsburg says the Republican majority will be 5000, sure. The whole city is in a state of excitement.

Scattering reports from Northampton are favorable to the Republicans.

LATER.

Lancaster city gives 276 majority for Foster; they expected 400. Mountjoy 415 maj. for Curtin, a Rep. gain of 85; the vote is 100 ahead of Rep. estimate.

In Chester county, six districts, Rep. gain of 175 over last year.

In Greensburg, Foster's own town, Curtin gains 50 votes.

In 1856 Lancaster gave 1700 maj. for Buchanan—now only 276 for Foster.

In several precincts of Philadelphia, Curtin makes large gains.

Nazareth, Northampton county, shows a Democratic gain of 11; and one or two other towns in the same county show Dem. gains of a few votes, indicating great increase in this old Dem. county.

In Harrisburg Foster's majority 150 less than Rep. estimate gave him.

Eleven P. M.—Nearly every town heard from gives Rep. gains over committee's estimate. Curtin is undoubtedly elected by at least 18,000 majority.

Nothing definite from Philadelphia; several precincts give Rep. gains.

Dauphin and Lebanon counties each 1200 maj. for Curtin.

Erie city gives Curtin 251 mrj., a gain of 174 over Fremont's vote. Erie county will give Curtin 2300 maj.

Half-past Eleven.—Schuylkill county gives 600 to 800 maj. for Curtin. Blair county 705 maj. for Curtin. Huntington county 750 maj. for Curtin.

In Cambria county there are small Rep. losses, but not so much as was expected.

Union county 800 maj. for Curtin, Rep. gain of 200.

Chester county, 20 districts give Curtin 1500 maj.

Allegheny county gives Curtin 6500 maj.

Midnight.—Bristolborough, Bucks county, makes a gain of 150 for Curtin.

The returns have reached a point which shows that the only question now is, how much maj. Curtin shall have. It is estimated all the way from 10,000 to 20,000.

The Philadelphia returns come in slowly, but look favorable to the Republicans. Foster will have but a small majority in Philadelphia, if any at all.

A New York private dispatch says 29 precincts in Philadelphia give Foster between 4000 and 5000 maj.

Autocrat of the Kitchen.—35,000 in use!

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,

FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING, LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL

Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

Morning Chronicle.

Upon a promontory at a southern point of Spain, running out into the Straits of Gibraltar, stands a fortress called now, as in the times of the Moorish dominion, Tarifa. It was the custom of the Moors to watch merchant ships going into or coming out of the midland sea, and issuing from their stronghold to levy duty, according to a fixed scale, on all merchandize. This duty was called from the place where it was levied tarifa; hence our word "tariff."

When was philosophy ever a match for beauty? Auguste Compte a great French savan, when he wrote his famous "Positive Philosophy," left out all allusion to sentiment and religion—because he said, they were purely imaginary. By-and-by, he fell in love, and acknowledged there was such a thing as "sentiment;" afterwards his lady-love died, and he then took to religion for consolation. So much for positive philosophy!—Boston Post.

GREAT MORAL EXHIBITION.

For attraction, a Menagerie surpasses anything that can possibly be gotten up. The innocent recreation and instruction that it affords are universally acknowledged on all sides. It derives its support from the best patronage, the moral, and the religious. Menageries are regarded as orthodox, and the Elephant and the Monkey find an audience in places where equestrian exercises are prohibited by legal statute.

Humphreys' Homeopathic Specific Remedies for the People

The Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which to suffer and die, are, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhœa, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time become a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, as you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence cause no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE BEST IN FOR, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PERFECT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

ZOLLICKOFFER'S

ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL,

A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF

INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA, AND LUMBAGO.

Hundreds of testimonials to the good resul from the use of this Cordial could be offered—the following will suffice:

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 6, 1860.

I hereby certify that I have used a variety of preparations for the cure of Rheumatism, but have found none of them whose effect was so immediate and lasting as Zollickoffer's Anti-Rheumatic Cordial, and would advise all afflicted with that painful disease to give it a fair trial.

DR. DARIUS HAM'S

AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

Dyspepsia Remedy

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and attended with that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

Dose.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the blooms of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who other them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

DR. MOTT'S

CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE

PILLS of IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description or mere attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed ridden as to become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous anæmic, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old salts, it acts vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confined, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent fever, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicinal iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and curing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects—good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 48 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free by any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

Morning Chronicle.

THE MENTAL GIANT WONDERED AT. A Kansas correspondent of the New York Evening Post thus amusingly sketches the impression made upon his Western auditors by Gov. Seward's personal presence:

"The crowd was too much awed by the reputation of the man to be very enthusiastic in its demonstration of applause, and the general sentiment seemed to be one of surprise, that such a little, mild mannered, respectable gentleman should have made such a frightful reputation, and become such a terror to the slaveholding portion of the country. The old Missouri farmers from the creek bottoms, the red-shirted rovers of the plains, the roughs and rowdies and subdued border ruffians of the early wars, all crowded round with opened mouths and distended eyes, almost gasping with interest to see and hear the man who had proclaimed the irrepressible conflict, and attempted to dissolve the Union. They evidently expected to see a great brawny, double-fisted, ferocious monster of muscle; and one backwoodsman, with a coon skin cap, openly announced his dissatisfaction by declaring confidentially to his comrade that he could whip the little cuss with one hand.

APPLES—There is scarcely an article of vegetable food more widely useful and more universally loved than the apple.—Why every farmer in the nation has not an an apple-orchard where the trees will grow at all, is one of the mysteries. Let every family lay in from two to ten or more barrels, and it will be to them the most economical investment in the whole range of culinaries. A raw mellow apple is digested in an hour and a half, while boiled cabbage requires five hours. The most healthful desert which can be placed on the table is a baked apple. If taken freely at breakfast with coarse bread and butter, without meat or flesh of any kind, it has an admirable effect on the general system, often removing constipation, correcting acidities, and cooling off febrile conditions, more effectually than the most approved medicines.

If families could be induced to substitute the apple—sound, ripe and luscious—for the pies, cakes, candies and other sweetmeats with which their children are too often indiscretely stuffed, there would be a diminution in the sum total of doctors' bills in a single year, sufficient to lay in a stock of this delicious fruit for a whole season's use.—Hall's Journal of Health.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metal lic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles; and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.
The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

New Photographic Establishment.
Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs furnished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.
The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.
All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.
Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, nap from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my silky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which soon involved in the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its destruction, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other considerations induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months affir the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself is not little, to spread it.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman, Mr. Bradford, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles he had great cause for uncourtesy, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement: I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious and well worthable. S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes: viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1860.

THE BLUE LAWS—A LIE AND NOTHING ELSE.—In the North American Review for October, is a favorable notice of Palfrey's History of New England, vol. 2, just published by Little, Brown & Co., in which the so-called Blue Laws of Connecticut are shown to be stupid forgeries.

Among the figments, (says the Reviewer,) which have found extensive currency, not only among the Transatlantic revilers of the Puritans, but among their unfilial posterity, have been the Blue Laws of the New Haven Colony,—a congeries of pious absurdity of which it was utterly impossible to conceive as having been enacted by men who had discretion enough to keep out of fire and water, much less, to found and govern an infant commonwealth. We are glad to find this libellous compilation traced to the mendacity of a man whose only title to fame was that of the most egregious liar of his times, and of whose entire career moral insanity and the total absence of moral principle are the alternative solutions. We quote the foot-note in which Dr. Palfrey puts this subject at rest.

Most American readers have heard of the "Blue Laws" of New Haven, which have been precisely described as making "one thin volume in folio," embracing the following among other provisions:—"No one shall travel, cook victuals, make beds, sweep house, cut hair, or shave, on the Sabbath day. No woman shall kiss her child on the Sabbath or Fasting day. No one shall read Common Prayer, keep Christmas or Saint days, make minced pies, dance, play cards, or play on any instrument of music, except the drum, trumpet, or jews-harp. Every male shall have his hair cut round, according to a cap. (General History of Connecticut, 65, 66, 68, 69, 82.) It is not perhaps so well known that these statements are without historical foundation. In the primitive age of the Colony, the discretionary powers of the Magistrate sometimes resembled the discipline of the head of a family, rather than a formal legal administration; but the existence, at any time, of a code containing provisions such as are quoted above, is a mere fabrication, nor is there any record of so much as single judgments pronounced agreeably to the tenor of those provisions.

The anonymous work which first vented the fiction was published in London in 1781, and a second edition appeared in the following year. The author was Samuel Peters, a loyalist and refugee. He was a college contemporary of Trumbull, the conscientiously exact historian of Connecticut, and is said to have been a native of the same town. Trumbull said of him, that "of all men with whom he had ever been acquainted, Dr. Peters, he had thought, from his first knowledge of him, the least to be depended on as to any matter of fact."—(Kingsley's Historical Discourse, p. 84.) The reader at all acquainted with Connecticut history may satisfy himself concerning Peters's credibility by five minutes' inspection of his work. The reader without such acquaintance will form some judgment of the author's capacity for telling the truth when he comes upon the following representation of a scene on the river Connecticut: "Here water is consolidated without frost, by pressure, by swiftness, between the pinching, sturdy rocks, to such a degree of induration, that no iron crow can be forced into into it; here iron, lead, and cork have one common weight." (General History, &c., p. 127.) Malte-Brun (Geographie Universelle, Liv. XIII.) expresses the judicious opinion that this must be "grossly exaggerated."—p. 31.

FUSION IN NEW YORK. — New York, Oct. 9.—A meeting of the Breckinridge State Committee and candidates for Presidential Electors was held this afternoon.—At a separate meeting of the latter, on a motion of Hon. Gideon Tucker, a resolution was adopted resigning their positions as candidates for Electors in order to unite the whole Democratic vote of the State against the Republicans. Subsequently the State Committee accepted the resignation of the Electoral candidates, and adopted an address recommending the friends of Breckinridge to support the Douglas and Bell fusion Electoral ticket, and also a resolution urging a thorough State organization of the Breckinridge Democrats.

Well, well; says Bill Blunder,—the confusion will be summated now in New York, exactly as it was in Pennsylvania,—and with the same blessed results. Three cheers for confusion!!

LINCOLN POLES CUT DOWN.—On the 24 inst., some Republicans in the neighborhood of Fall's Church, in Fairfax county, Va., erected a pole, and raised upon it the Lincoln and Hamlin flag. On Tuesday the people of the neighborhood assembled and cut the pole down, and destroyed the flag.

A Lincoln pole lately erected on the premises of Thomas Brown, at Pompey Smash, Alleghany county, Md., was cut down a second time, last week. Mr. B. fired on the intruding party, when they stoned his house. Six of them have been arrested.

☞ Twenty years ago the City Government of Albany sold some property for non-payment of taxes. It was bought by seveparties, built upon, and with the improvements is now worth $40,000. It was recently discovered that there were some informalities in the action of the City Government, and referees have decided that the property belongs to the original owners.

THE BURNT STEAMER.—The Connaught cost £120,000, and was insured at Lloyds' in London.

She had on board 467 passengers, and 124 of the crew, 591 in all.

Her hull was iron up to the rail, and she had five watertight compartments, any one of which was supposed to be buoyant enough to keep her afloat, even if there were leaks in all the others. She was 378 feet long over all, had 40 feet breadth of beam, 32 feet depth of hold, with three decks; was 800 horse power, with side wheels, two smoke pipes and double engines.

In addition to her motive power, she had two iron masts, fore and after rigged; but the foremast was also arranged to carry yards. These, however, were sent down when she approached port. She had eight superior boats, all arranged in such style that, under ordinary circumstances, they could be swung outboard and lowered in a few minutes. Three of these boats were made of iron.

These boats were of great benefit in saving many lives, which must have been lost, with few or poor boats.

The Minnie Schiffer was from Malaga, for Boston, and had on board a valuable cargo of oranges and other fruits and wines. It was said they threw away the cargo to make room for the people; but it was not so; they ate and drank the cargo.

As the brigantine came to the wharf in Boston, the deck was crowded with the hundreds on board, who must have suffered from their inability to find sufficient room to rest.

The moment the vessel got near the wharf the passengers began to spring from her, as if their lives depended upon the speed of their exit.

There was danger that some of them would be drowned, but strong arms and willing hands were stretched out to receive them, and bring them safe to terra firma.

Most of the passengers appeared to be warmly clad, but among them were some women and children who were not so fortunate. Some were barefooted and looked sad as they came upon the wharf.

THE ELECTIONS.—The news by Wednesday morning's mails from Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, indicated Republican gains in all these States, from last year, and of course securing the two former States to that party, while the Indiana returns are not full enough to be decisive.

In the city of Philadelphia, it is said the Bell men generally voted for Foster—the Democrats very generally voting for Henry M. Fuller, the Bell and Everett candidate for Congress, in payment for votes of Bell men for Foster, the Democratic candidate for Governor.

AN AGED NEGRESS.—The following memorandum is supplied to the census office by Mr. Moreno, who took the census of a portion of Florida:—

Among the slave inhabitants enumerated I have found but one in my district whose age exceeds 100 years. This person is a negress named Cornelia Leslie. She informs me that she is 125 years of age.—She was born in the State of Georgia, at a place called Silver Bluff; has a distinct recollection of the war of the revolution; and remembers the seige of Savannah in 1778, when that city was taken by the British. The woman, although advanced in years, is remarkably healthy and strong, and walks half a mile every Sunday to attend church. She is the slave of her own son, who is a free negro.

☞ A leading Democrat in Pennsylvania has expressed himself in the following philosophical terms:—

"The election of Lincoln, which the Southern secessionists secure, will so mortify their chivalry that in 1864 they would rather resign their suffrages than bolt the regular nominations: then Stephen A. Douglas will be our President, and then, to atone for four years of waiting, we will give him eight years of triumph."

☞ A French meteorologist named Renou predicts a series of severe winters, of which the approaching winter is to be the first and that of 1871 the most severe. Mr. Renou thinks he has discovered that these groups of severe winters return in forty-one years, and that the increase of spots on the sun indicates them. He also finds that unusual displays of aurora borealis and frequent earthquakes are simultaneous with the increase of spots on the sun and severe winters.

☞ Blackberry wine is now exported from Connecticut to farther India, and its good effect in cases of chronic dysentery has caused a demand which cannot be supplied for some time.

☞ It is rumored that the European manufacturers have collected all the shop-worn and old style of silk goods, and redyed them, especially for the American trade.

☞ Napoleon III has purchased all the great trees about the old chateau of Bercy, recently sold, intended to have them transplanted and placed along the street known as "L'avenue de l'Imperatrice."

☞ The fall House of Representatives of Maine will stand, Republicans 127, Democrats 24.

SLAVE TROUBLE IN VIRGINIA.—Norfolk (Va.) papers contain accounts of a prospective negro insurrection. Several negroes have been arrested in Princess Anne and Norfolk counties, and two arrests have been made in Norfolk city. Several negroes have confessed, implicating whites and free negroes; the rising was contemplated for Sunday night last. Patrols have been organized, and suspected parties are under strict surveillance. A patrol party shot a man, named Flynn, dead, at a suspected camp, a negro at the same time escaping. A free negro named Smith was also shot. A free negro, who is under arrest, stated that the plan of operation had been maturing since last spring, and a negro named Dick Ryan had written to the North and engaged a a vessel with arms and men, which was to arrive to the assistance of the slaves on Sunday night. Steps have been taken to arrest any such vessel. There is considerable excitement.

The Norfolk Herald says that sufficient testimony has been elicited to fully justify a strict police surveillance. A number of arrests of negroes have been made. Nearly all the negroes, on a few plantations, have fled to the woods from fright. A patrol force has gone in search of them.

It would seem hardly worth while to extend and pepetrate a system like this.

SHE WORE NO JEWELS.—The editor of the Cleveland Herald, writing home about the ball at the Opera House, Cincinnati, relates the following incident:—

Miss Groesbeck, who was the belle of the evening, wore a white tulle dress, puffed to the waist, low neck. She wore no jewelry. A little incident connected with this fact may not be out of place. Previous to the arrival of the Prince your correspondent was sitting immediately behind Miss Groesbeck and her mother. The latter lady wore elegant diamond ear-drops, rings and pins, while Miss Groesbeck, as already mentioned, had not a particle of jewelry on her person, being noticeable from the almost entire absence of extraneous ornament of any kind. When one of the officers of the evening announced that she was to be honored with the Prince's hand for the second dance, of course there was a flutter among her party. Mrs. Groesbeck quietly took off her own jewels and passed them to her favored daughter, but she declined them. Her mother insisted, but Miss Groesbeck with equal determination and great good sense, positively refused to wear any kind of an ornament other than her simple dress and the wealth of beauty which Nature had bestowed on her."

CHINESE WATCHMAKERS SENT TO REPAIR ENGLISH STEAM ENGINES.—A special correspondent of the London Times, gives an amusing account of the attempt of the Chinese to work the engines of the Cormorant, the British vessel sunk last year in the Pei-ho. The Chinese, it seems, succeeded in raising the sunken vessel. Then they built a boat, into which they transferred the Comorant's engines. But, alas! they would not work, and no one could set them going. So Sangholinsin sent down four watchmakers from Pekin. "You are accustomed to machines," said he, "set that barbarian machine to work, or I will cut off your heads." The unhappy watchmakers succeeded in lighting the fires and inducing the smoke to ascend through the funnel. This seems to have contented their taskmasters, for though the engines were not working, we have no account of the watchmakers' decapitation.

FATAL PUGILISTIC ENCOUNTER.—At Montreal, last week, David Colin White, 15 years of age, was killed by Philip Tately, a lad of about the same age, during a pugilistic encounter. Death was caused by the rupture of a blood vessel, causing compression of the brain; which rupture was caused by a blow on the left temple. Several rounds were fought when the deceased complained of being dizzy, and gave in—Medical attendence was at once procured, but he died before they reached the spot. There are twelve young men, whose ages vary from fifteen to twenty years, under arrest, as being witnesses to the deed.

A SCURRILOUS NEWSPAPER STOPPED. On Friday night last, one of the New York detective officers, assisted by the U. S. Marshal, made a descent upon the office of the "City Life and Criminal Gazette," a vile and obscene weekly paper, and seized the "forms" and about 3,000 copies of the issue for the current week. The proprietor of the sheet, was afterwards taken into custody. The "forms," which were badly "pied," in passing through unaccustomed hands, and the copies of the paper, were carried to the Police Office.

☞ The Portland Argus learns from Brunswick that on the 3d inst., a man was arrested and fined $10 and cost, and thirty days' imprisonment, for wilfully damaging the pavillion belonging to Goodwin's Royal Menagerie.

Slaves are scarce in Northwestern Virginia. Marion county has only sixty-three slaves, Brooks county eighteen, and Hancock county, in the extreme Northwest, has one free negro and only two slaves.

Since the generality of persons act from impulse much more than from principle, man are neither so good nor so bad as we are apt to think them.

Fun is worth more than physic, and whoever invents or discovers a new source of supply deserves the name of a public benefactor.

ITALIAN ITEMS.—Gen. Guyon issued an order declaring his resolution to defend the Pope to the last.

It is said that an Envoy from Rome had arrived at Paris with the Pope's ultimatum, to the effect that "if France don't interfere to prevent further progress of the Piedmontese, he will leave Rome forthwith."

The King of Naples had executed Gen. Salorga at Gaeta, for high treason.

MARRIAGE OF SENATOR FOSTER.—Hon. LaFayette S. Foster, of this State, was married on Thursday of last week, by Rev. Dr. Mason of Boston, to Miss Martha P. Lyman of Boston. Ten of the bride's brothers and sisters, all married, were present at the ceremony, with their families.—Hartford Times.

SAVANNAH, Oct. 9.—Charles S. Jones, the Citizens' candidate, has been elected Mayor over the Democratic nominee.

The Democratic candidates for Governor and Congressmen in Florida are elected by 1500 majority.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 9—Sherman Booth was rearrested by Marshall Taylor last night, for a violation of the fugitive slave law, and brought to this city.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9.—Baron Renfrew arrived this afternoon. He was received by the Mayor. There were no formalities.

Jones inquired why the whistle of a steam engine was a work of art. After a lapse of some seconds, which was passed in silence, he said, "Because it is a modern car-tune."

Bronchitis.—This sure forerunner of Consumption can be instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron & Sulphur Powders. The Olive Tar allays pain and heals soreness an inflammation, and the Iron & Sulphur Powders convert the waste or worn out particles of the blood into gases, which are ejected from the body by the pores instead of being deposited as Phlegm. The testimonials of many prominent and well-known persons are contained in a pamphlet, which will be sent free by mail to any address. See advertisement in this paper.

FOR SORE, WEAK, INFLAMED EYES AND EYELIDS!

A true specific, and invaluable remedy has been at last discovered. Dr. Humphreys argues that these affections invariably result from a constitutional disease, of which the local affection is the only outward manifestation. Hence, HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC OPHTHALMIA PILLS are only taken internally, and yet cure the worst forms of obstinate sore eyes and eyelids, which have resisted all other treatment. All cases of sore and inflamed eyelids, or falling, weak or defective sight, will be promptly benefitted, and the cure of the worst cases is only a question of time.

Price, 50 cents, with directions.

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

This remedy has long been cherished by the community for its remarkable efficacy in relieving, healing and curing the most obstinate, painful and long standing cases of Cough, Cold, Influenza, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Inflammation of the Lungs; while even Consumption itself has yielded to its magic influence when all other means have failed. Its whole history proves that the past has produced no remedy of equal value, as a cure for the numerous and dangerous pulmonary affections which prevail all over the land.

From the Editor of the Portsmouth (N. H.) Journal, Aug. 11, 1860.

WISTAR'S BALSAM.—There are but few medicines of which we can express an opinion from personal knowledge. Among such we place prominently WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which should always be kept on hand. It is an excellent medicine not only for Coughs and Colds, but also for more malignant affections. We have known suffering from the nerves of the stomach effectually relieved by its soothing influence where other medicine has been ineffectually used.

From a highly respectable Merchant.

FALMOUTH, ME., Aug. 10, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & CO.:—

Gentlemen—For a long time I have suffered more or less with that distressing affliction—Phthisis—in its worst forms, and have resorted to various so called remedies, but to no purpose as affording the desired relief. Deprived of my sleep by reason of the severity of the disease, it was only too evident that I was fast breaking down under it. I resorted to DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY with but little confidence as to its curative properties, but the use of one bottle has entirely rid me of this monster; and to the public I can safely commend it as every worthy their confidence. Most resp'ly, S. I. MERRILL.

CAMP GOODWIN.

The following is the general order for regulation of the Encampment at Nashua.

Head Quarters 1st Reg't N. H. V. M.
NASHUA, October 11, 1860.

In compliment to His Excellency, the Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the militia of the State of New Hampshire, to whose active sympathy we are in a great measure indebted for the present revival of the military spirit in the State, it has been deemed fit and proper, that this first encampment of the militia under the new law and the new organization, and the first State encampment ever held within its limits, should be honored with the name of Camp Goodwin. And is hoped that all connected with it will put forth every effort to make the encampment successful as a military exercise, and an honor to the state.

In order to accomplish this desirable result, every soldier present must feel a personal determination to perform his whole duty, not only as a soldier but as a gentleman and a sober citizen; and must practice for the occasion the Spartan virtues of temperance and sobriety. It is therefore urgently requested that upon this occasion the use of ardent spirits in camp may be entirely dispensed with.

Owing to the late formation of some of the companies which will be at the Encampment, it will be impossible to make a suitable General Order for guard duty. This will therefore be done by special orders, as early as practicable, and commanders whose duty it will be to order the detachments, will take especial care that the best instructed officers and men are detailed for this duty.

The Adjutant of each regiment will attend to the Company Roll Calls morning, noon, and night, as he shall be directed, and specify in a written report to his commander, the officers and men on duty, those on the sick list, and those absent.

No person not in uniform will be permitted to cross the chain of sentinels without a pass, and then only at Guard Quarters, except persons having special permits to pass at any point on the line.

No soldier will leave camp without a written order from his commandr, or accompanied by an officer.

The line will be formed at 10-12 o'clock. Guard mounting at 11.

Prayer by the Chaplain.

Battalion drill.

At 12 1-2 o'clock, signal for dinner.

At half past two, to the color.

At half past three, Adjutant General Abbott will inspect the troops.

At five, to the color.

At half past five, the retreat, immediately succeeded by the evening dress parade, at which the general orders for the next day will be read.

Signal for supper.

Evening gun at sunset.

At half past nine, tattoo.

At eleven, taps, at which time all lights are to be extinguished, except at Head Quarters and Police Guard tents, and the camp kept quiet till five o'clock next day.

By command of JOHN H. GAGE,
Colonel First Regiment, Commanding.
CHARLES E. PAIGE, Adjutant.

MONSTER TREE.—In Windham, on the farm owned by Stephen Fessenden, Esq., there is an elm tree, the butt of which is 19 feet in circumference, the limbs covering an area of ground about 35 feet in diameter. There are records in the town showing that the tree is 124 years old, and has grown from a withe which one of the early settlers named Center used, while riding horseback to the place, from Portsmouth.

POOR HUMAN NATURE.—Capt. Leitch of the burnt steamer Connaught, says, in his account of the disaster:—"While on board the vessel many of the steerage passengers came to me and offered all they had to be saved, but when they got safely on board the brigantine they appeared somewhat dissatisfied, and called for soft bread, as dry biscuits were being passed around."

☞ A carpenter in Philadelphia is now engaged in constructing five first class frame dwellings, which are to be erected in Havana. The work will be all done in Philadelphia, and sent out to be put up under the supervision of the builder. The houses will be but two stories high, having eight rooms on each floor, and will rent for about $1000.

☞ A jury in Detroit has rendered a verdict of $5000 damages against Mr. Robert Edwards, a farmer of Greenfield, Mich. for accomplishing the ruin of Elizabeth Reed, a girl 15 years of age. The best of it is that Mr. Edwards has money enough to satisfy the verdict.

☞ An Irishman named Patrick McGarrety, thirty-four years of age, employed in the Kerosene Oil Manufactory, at the Glendon Works, East Boston, was badly burned about a week since, while cleaning out a retort, and died of his injures at the Hospital a day or two since.

☞ Before the introduction of carpets, to cover the floor with straw or rushes was deemed so necessary a point of courtesy, that when not performed it was said that the host did not care a rush or a straw for his guest; hence the origin of the expression common now.

MALAGA FRUIT.—The first cargo of Malaga raisins into New York, per schooner Masonic, arrived on Saturday, and sold for: boxes layers, $2.97; half do. do., $1.57; quarter do. do., 90 cts.; boxes bunch, $2.87; half do. do., $1.47; quarter do. do., 70 cts.

To get up the "Conflict of Ages," ask two rival beauties how old they are.

THE ELECTIONS.—The Boston Journal of Wednesday evening says:

Pennsylvania has spoken the word that makes Abraham Lincoln President of the United States. * * It is safe to say that Curtin is chosen Governor by 20,000 majority. Of the 25 Congressmen, the Republicans claim to have elected 20—but several days must elapse before anything decisive can be ascertained.

The conflict is irrepressible, now, and it looks as if the victory would be, too.

A Philadelphia dispatch to the Boston Traveller says:

In returns received so far, Curtin has 18,882 majority. Last year the Republican majority in the State was 17,000.

It is thought the Republican majority will exceed 25,000. The vote is the largest ever cast. In Philadelphia it exceeds 81,000.

A private dispatch from Indiana says that State has gone Republican, sure.

☞ Ex-President Fillmore was on a visit, last week, to his old friend, Hon. Wm. Scott of Scottsburgh, Livingston county, N. Y. They visited the Danville Seminary, and Mr. Fillmore, after being introduced to Prof. Seager, made an interesting address to the students. Forty-six years ago, Mr. Fillmore was a brother apprentice with Mr. Scott at the wool carding business, and he had not stopped in town from that time till his recent visit.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT MALDEN.—Monday evening as the Lincoln Light Guard of Malden were entering the horse cars to visit Charlestown, Mr. Reuben Waitt, one of the members, fell under the wheels and was run over. Both his legs were broken, and he was otherwise injured so that he died during the evening.

KEROSENE OIL ACCIDENT.—Patrick McGarrety, employed in the Kerosene Oil Manufactory, at the Glendon Works, East Boston, was burned about a week since, while cleaning out a retort, and died of his injuries, at the Hospital, a day or two since. He was an Irishman, 34 years of age.

Oliver Wendell Holmes vividly describes death thus:—"By the stillness of the sharpened features, by the blackness of the tearless eye, by the fixedness of the smileless mouth, by the deadening tints, by the contracted brow, by the dilating nostril, we know that the soul is soon to leave its mortal tenement, and is already closing its windows and putting out its fires."

☞ The wife of Capt. James Swott, of Brewer, was severely burned on her face, arms and hands, by the bursting of a fluid lamp, on the 3d inst. She was carrying the lamp about while one of the tubes had no wick in it.

WHO ARE THE MISERABLE?—Let the dyspeptic, who suffers physically and mentally, answer. But though he has drunk the very dregs of suffering, relief exists in the Oxygenated Bitters; they are "a cure for all woes."

ATWOOD'S
QUININE TONIC BITTERS,
The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.
RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY
For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonic and stomachic s, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhoea, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "but it is the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

Autocrat of the Kitchen.—35,000 in use!
THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,
FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING, LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER
AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,
FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL
Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove: No other is genuine.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ It is reported from Washington that the company which recently obtained a contract for constructing a magnetic telegraph line to the Pacific, has taken measures to obtain the co-operation of the Russian government in a plan for the extention of the line via Russia's American possessions, to connect with the present lines from St. Petersburg, extending through Russia very near these possessions.

REMARKABLE SPEED.—Upon a trial trip of two new propellers, the Resolute and Defiance, built in New York, eighteen miles an hour were made. Five miles were run in sixteen minutes. This is said to be the fastest time ever made by a screw steamship. They are built on a new and striking model, which tends to lessen the dead or back water, which usually impeded the progress of this class of vessels.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,

FOR MAKING

Bread, Tea Cakes,

All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,

MANUFACTURED BY

EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,

Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works,

NO. 82 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest degree of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process, and it is manufactured and sold it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating house-keepers, bakers, &c., &c.

Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, natural taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.

It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferment, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.

It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 12 per cent. In the common process, much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, and the waste it occasions, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily baked 240 loaves, gives by this process 260 lbs., thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,

Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with regard to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing but a vegetable salt, which is constantly a desirable food in the bread. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more wholesome, palatable bread than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and disease of the yeast or cook.

The experiments made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturers, and prove this compound worthy of public approval and extended use. Respectfully,

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."

HOW TO USE IT.

We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in fruit puddings and other pastry.

BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonfuls of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour,) to one quart of flour; mix thoroughly by passing two or three times through a sieve; put in a piece of butter the size of an egg, and make the paste the paste with cold milk or water, (milk is preferable,) barely stiff enough to permit rolling out. Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.

LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.

GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven to one quart of wheat meal, sifted together, add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.

BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonsful of Leaven in one pint of Scotch meal, two pints of rye meal all well sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—Flour and milk sufficient to make one quart of batter; add one egg, then three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; beat to a froth, and cook quick.

DUMPLINGS.—Sift together one quart of flour and two teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; rub in a piece of butter half as large as an egg; mix with cold milk or water, and boil in a cloth.

CHAMBER STREET CAKE.—Sift together two large cups of flour and two teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; put in half a cup of butter and a cup and a half of sugar; mix with cold water, or milk, to a stiff batter, and spice to suit the taste, and bake immediately.

CINCINNATI SPONGE CAKE.—Two cups of white sugar, beaten with the yolks of eggs—the whites of six eggs beaten to a froth; then beat all together; add three cups of sifted flour, one cup of water, and three teaspoonsfuls of leaven; flavor with two teaspoonsful of essence of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.

JUMBLES.—Sift together one quart of flour and three tea spoonsfuls of Leaven; rub in one teacupful of butter; add a cup and a half of white sugar, and spice to suit the taste; mix stiff enough to roll out, and bake quick.

ELECTION CAKE.—Sift one quart of flour and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven sifted together; add a cup of butter, one pound of currants, two cups of white sugar, and one teaspoonful of cinnamon; mix with cold milk to a stiff batter, and bake in a slow oven.

CORN CAKE.—One pint each of flour and Indian meal, and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven, well sifted together; add one gill of molasses and two eggs; mix thin with milk and bake in a slow oven.

CUP CAKE.—Five cups of flour and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven, sifted together; add one cup of butter, two of sugar, and two eggs, all well beat together; mix with milk; then add a cup of currants, and spice to suit the taste. Bake about half an hour.

LADIES' CAKE.—Three quarters of a pound of flour and four teaspoonsfuls of Leaven sifted together; one pound of sugar and six ounces of butter, beaten to a cream; the whites of eight eggs well beaten, and the juice of one lemon; mix with milk.

WEBSTER CAKE.—Five cups of flour, three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven, three cups of sugar, one of butter, one of milk, and two eggs; fruit and spice to the taste. Bake about half an hour.

Humphreys' Specific Homeopathic Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that dangerous but real want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a wholesome ache, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—prompt, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the pain, the sickness and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being the best in use, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

ZOLLICKOFFER'S

ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL,

A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF

INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA, AND LUMBAGO.

Hundreds of testimonials to the good result from the use of this Cordial could be offered—the following will suffice:

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 6, 1860.

I hereby certify that I have used a variety of preparations for the cure of Rheumatism, but have found none of them so effectual as to immediate and lasting as Zollickoffer's Anti-Rheumatic Cordial, and would advise all afflicted with that painful disease to give it a fair trial.

DR. DARIUS HAM'S

AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

Dyspepsia Remedy

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will cure and revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.

One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.

One dose will cure Heartburn.

Three doses will cure Indigestion.

One dose will give you a good appetite.

One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions, all irregularities, from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of the celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, at any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

CHALYBEATE

RESTORATIVE

PILLS of IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, LAME BACK, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no descriptions nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long and hopelessly sick have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complicated list of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

IN NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of Iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting, and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is also a better property, among others, which makes it so remarkably efficacious and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

IN DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, exhausting, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, perspiration and febrile, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated Iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly afflicting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decided—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

☞ A letter from Lima says a tailor who said in Court that he thought he could recognize the assassin of Gen. Castro, was waylaid in the street at night by four men who told him, "We will not kill you, but make you harmless;" they then rubbed his eyes with vitriol, which completely blinded him. The unhappy man has received a pension from the President.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, Under the act of 1837.
76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IN THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that as he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made TWENTY-TWO rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metal lic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the difficult effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The Subscribers manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

New Photographic Establishment.

Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.

The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.

All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.

Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.

For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and testify to the efficacy of sores of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—

Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.

Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.

These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your wonderful "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.

You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.

Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (Mr. Jones,) has been for many years the gray youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman is a prominent citizen of Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color: about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1860.

THE ELECTIONS.

INDIANA.—A dispatch from Indianapolis, Oct. 10, says:—

The Republican State ticket is probably elected by from five to ten thousand majority. Eight Republican Congressmen are elected. The Legislature is Republican.

OHIO.—A Columbus dispatch of Oct. 10, states that—

The Republican majority on the State ticket is over 20,000. The Congressmen stand 13 Republicans and 8 Democrats: a Democratic gain of 3 Congressmen.

A dispatch from Cleveland, of the same date gives this statement:

The Republican majority in the State is 20,000. The 1st, 3d, 12th and probably the 9th and 17th, have elected Democratic Congressmen, viz: Pendleton, Vallandigham, (by 131 majority,) and Cox, certainly, —and Noble and Morris probably. Gurley is the Republican representative from the 2d district.

PENNSYLVANIA.—Covode, the investigator, is re-elected to Congress by over 1000 majority. The Philadelphia Bulletin of the 10th claims Curtin's election by a majority of from twenty to twenty-five thousand. It also claims 18 out of the 25 Congressional Districts, and both branches of the Legislature.

The Boston Herald says:

The latest returns indicate the election by the Democrats in Pennsylvania of five members of Congress, which is a gain of two. Ohio loses three Republican members of Congress, while the returns from Indiana show but one gain by the Republicans of Congressmen.

Official returns, no doubt, will change some figures,—but the three States above named are as sure to vote for Lincoln, as Maine, New Hhampshire and Vermont.

The Boston Herald of Thursday winds up a brief editorial with the following droll paragraph:

The Breckinridge men have become frightened and have withdrawn their electoral ticket in New York; but we are afraid it is too late. The mischief is already done. We would advise all parties to keep cool and not get excited. Let them "wait for the wagon." Nobody is hurt yet, and there may not be much of a shower after all.

No; we should think it rather a dry time in the camp where the Herald is sutler.

THE BRECKINRIDGE DEMOCRATS of New Hampshire mean to make a sensation at Concord next Tuesday, in their Mass Meeting. The call as it now stands in the Post Office, contains 365 names, one for each day in the year, many of them the old leaders of the Democratic party.

The speakers promised are, Messrs. Dickinson, Yancey, Cushing, Butler, Hallet, and others as famous. Two hundred persons are said to be coming from one town, with a band of music; and the call urges each town delegation to bring at least one drum and fife. If this is obeyed, they will have a stunning military band.

SCHOOLMASTER.—A schoolmaster of Montreal, who had been somewhat of an enthusiast in the science of geology, has recently made a good hit, by which he pocketed the sum of $200,000. He took a lease of a tract of land near Acton, on the Grand Trunk Railroad, upon which a little copper ore had been picked by a farmer who owned it. Setting to work, he soon developed a magnificent copper mine, which has just been sold for $500,000. of which he receives $200,000.

STATE EQUALITY.

We see some idle talk about State Equality: but here are some facts:—

Maine at the election last month, cast 124,000 votes, more than twice as many as South Carolina could throw, and probably three times as many as she has polled at any election she has ever held. Yet the power in Congress and in the Electoral Colleges which is possessed by South Carolina is as great as that which Maine possesses. The population of Maine, in 1850, was 583,169, and the free population of South Carolina at the same date, was 283,523. But South Carolina has as much power as Maine in making national laws and making Presidents of the nation.—Maine has one Representative for every 97,000 of her people; and South Carolina has one for every 47,000 of her people.—Maine has one Elector for every 75,000 of her people; South Carolina has one for every 35,000 of her people. South Carolina's people, in 1850, were not so numerous as Maine's people by three hundred thousand, but one State has as much direct political power as the other. Why is the difference? It is because South Carolina is allowed to have her property in slaves represented in the Electoral Colleges and in Congress, while Maine's representation in those bodies is confined to men. South Carolina had 384,984 slaves in 1850, and for these she has three Representatives, and as many Presidential Electors. Her free population entitles her to just three Representatives, and she has six; to five Electors, and she has eight.

The free population of New Hampshire is greater by 35,000 than the free population of South Carolina, and yet New Hampshire has but half as many Representatives as South Carolina. Massachusetts, at the last apportionment, was allowed a Representative for every 90,409 of her people; and South Carolina was allowed one for every 47,400.

On these facts the Boston Traveller remarks:—

Such is the system of "equality" we are called upon by the South, and the Democratic party, either to favor or to tolerate. The Breckinridge party asks us to favor it; the Douglas party asks us tolerate it. It will be time for us to do either when the South shall express its willingness to allow the property of the free States to be represented in Congress and in the Electoral Colleges, just as its own property is represented in those bodies. We cannot interfere to redress this inequality in the States, because it exists by virtue of a constitutional compact, but we can prevent its extension into new lands; and we mean to try our best within the limits of law, to prevent any such extension of an unequal system.

THE BURNT STEAMER SUNK.—On Wednesday morning, schooner Lamartine, Capt. Doane, from Barrington, N. S., arrived at Boston. Capt. D. reports that about 10 1-2 Sunday night, he saw a large vessel on fire, bearing north, 20 miles distant. He got alongside at 3 1-4 A. M., Monday. He found her to be a large steamer, but could not ascertain her name. During the night the fire raged with terrific fury, wrapping the steamship in one large cloak of flame, and lighting up the heavens with a crimson color so bright as to dazzle the sight.

At 5 1-2 A. M., Monday, when it was daylight,—the Lamartine being then half a mile to windward,—Capt. Doane noticed that the Connaught began to settle, and in a few minutes the noble vessel sank beneath the waves. It occurred in lat. 42 deg. 15 min., and long. 67 deg. 30 min. She sank gradually, the fire steaming up fitfully and terribly as the water rushed into her. She was, in the first place, lying quite deep in the water, and she went down in fifteen minutes from the time at which she first commenced to settle.

DEMOCRATIC RIOT IN NEW YORK.—A serious riot was gotten up by a small army of the Democracy, under the lead of Capt. Rynders, on Monday night in New York, which but for the timely interference of the police would have ended in a general fight. They ordered the crowd to move on, but were resisted by Capt. Rynders and his party, whereupon they seized a number of the most noisy ones and marched them off towards the Mercer street station, followed by Rynders, who attempted a rescue. The police drew their clubs, made a desperate fight and succeeded in lodging their prisoners in the station house. Rynders attempted to interfere with the sergeants, but was summarily ejected from the station, and quiet at length was restored.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Wednesday afternoon a lady called at the office of Dr. J. R. Newton, Edinboro' street, Boston, and was soon discovered to be in a fit. She was then removed to a neighboring house and died in a few hours. She had not seen Dr. Newton, and no one knows her name or address. She is about 40 years of age and has a set of false teeth on silver plate. Information concerning her may be obtained at the 4th police station, Boston.

☞ The venerable Rev. EXETER ITEMS.

EXETER, N. H., Oct. 11.

The U. S. Circuit Court has been in session here this week, Judge Harvey presiding. Monday forenoon was spent in empannelling juries and disposing of motions. The afternoon was occupied in the discussion of the report of the Commissioner upon the claim of Isaac and Isaac P. Clark for services in procuring the allowance of F. N. Clark's claim against the Government of Mexico. Decision reserved. Tuttle of Boston for claim; Hackett of Portsmouth against it.

Tuesday morning the Grand Jury bro't in indictments against Frederick Feely for attempt at mutiny on the bark Cochituate, and against Hubert Peters and Frederick Law for attempt to mutiny on board the bark Sea Breeze. They were all tried and found guilty. Feeley was sentenced to pay a fine of $1, and thirty days' imprisonment in jail at Portsmouth. Law and Peters were each sentenced to pay $1 fine and 5 months' imprisonment in jail. Marshall for Government, Hackett for defence. The Court adjourned on Wednesday.

The new brick blocks on Water street are rapidly approaching completion on the exterior. The first from the corner is built by George Janvrin, Esq., and rises but two stories from the basement, which is to be occupied for a market. It contains three stores with iron front; and over the windows of the second story is a marble block bearing in gilt letters this inscription: "Janvrin's Block, 1860."

The other block is built by Messrs. Kelly & Gardner and R. C. Thomson, and rises three stories from the basement. The upper story is to be occupied for a Masonic Hall.

The whole is a great improvement upon the old wooden buildings that have so long disgraced the place they occupied. One of the old saw-mills has been raised up, enlarged, and is being fitted up for a grist-mill, and from an unsightly old affair, by the aid of paint, clapboards, &c., it is becoming quite a fine looking building.

Messrs. Fogg and Fellows have purchased the new building on the corner (where was formerly the meanest old shanty ever seen out of the backwoods, occupied as a fishmarket,) and are fitting it up in fine style for their newspaper and periodical store. Mr. Churchill has rebuilt his store and just moved into it.

The remaining lot has been purchased by Alva Wood, Esq., and a fine block is to be built early in the spring. We hear that it is the intention of owners farther down the street, to demolish some more of the old wooden buildings, and rebuild with brick the next season. Altogether Exeter is looking up in the matter of buildings.

The Sullivan Guards, Capt. Charles H. Bell, left this morning, 60 men, accompanied by the Exeter Band, for Nashua.—They were a fine looking company as they paraded our streets yesterday asternoon.

One hundred guns were fired last evening, in honor of the Pennsylvania election, by the Wide Awake club, who also turned out in torchlight procession, and there was great rejoicing among our Republican friends generally; while the Democrats seemed to regard it as a good joke, and one that is inevitable, that once or twice in a life-time they should be turned out of office for the benefit of their opponents. They begin to see that the people will not stand everything, even from an administration or party called Democratic; but it is not strange they began to presume they would.

ALEXIS.

NOT "WIDE AWAKE" TO NEW YORK "DODGES."—The New York Express says that one of the Portland Wide Awakes, accompanied by his wife and a child, passed through the Park on Thursday morning of last week, wearing his cape, but without a torch. Some persons on the City Hall stoop hallooed to him, and he went up to them, leaving his wife waiting. The wags got round him good naturedly and ran him into the Mayor's office, telling him the Mayor wanted to see him. He believed the story till he got there, when his eyes were opened to the "fun," and thus made wide awake, he hastily left the City Hall, amid the shouts of laughter from at least fifty men.

We suppose this piece of wonderful good nature passes for wit or humor in New York—but to a New England eye, the "wags" look rather more like boorish fools bothering a green-horn.

WHAT PRACTICE WILL DO FOR MUSCLES.—For a standing leap over a width, seven feet is a good distance for most persons; but fourteen feet has been jumped by well-trained leapers. For persons not in practice, the usual distance attained over a width with a run is twelve or fourteen feet; but as much as twenty can be reached by practice, and in some cases twenty-two. A few instances are recorded where the remarkable leap of twenty-four feet has been made.

ANTICIPATING THE RESULT IN PENNSYLVANIA.—On Tuesday, before any intelligence had been received from Pennsylvania, the President of the Breckinridge Club was seen in the market place, having on a Republican Wide Awake uniform. Now that the State has declared for Curtin, thousands will follow that example.—Newburyport Herald.

The following notice may be seen on a blacksmith's shop in Essex:—"No horses shod on Sunday except sickness and death."

A SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION was held at the State street M. E. Church in this city on Wednesday last. Delegates were in attendance from a number of schools in Dover district, and the meeting passed off very pleasantly. Encouraging reports were presented from nearly all the schools. The afternoon was devoted to the reception of these reports, an address to the children by Rev. S. G. Kellogg of Great Falls, and the discussion of the utility of Sunday School concerts. On this question there seemed a division of opinion, and about an equal amount of argument for and against concerts.

In the evening the teachers were addressed by Rev. Mr. Hayes of Hampton, and the children by Rev. Mr. Heath of Salmon Falls, followed by eloquent addresses on the general subject of Sabbath Schools by Rev. Mr. Humphriss of Great Falls and Rev. Mr. Buckley of Dover, in which both the sunny and the shady sides of this institution were set forth. The singing was by the children, and was excellent.

CONCORD & PORTSMOUTH RAILROAD We learn that the Board of Directors of the road, chosen at the late annual meeting, have elected Charles L. Frost, Esq., of New York, President. Col. Frost, it is stated, has accepted the Presidency of the Logansport, Peoria & Burlinton Railroad, and for that reason has since resigned the office of President of the C. & P. R. R. The resignation has been accepted, and the Directors have since elected Stephen Kenrick, Esq., of Franklin, President. Mr. Kenrick is well known in New England as an experienced manager. He has the ability and talent which well fit him to discharge the duties of the position to which he has been called, and the shareholders of the C. & P. R. R. have reason to congratulate themselves that they have been able to secure Mr. Kenrick as a successor to Col. Frost.

Thomas D. Bailey, Esq., of this city, has been re-elected Treasurer.

POLICE COURT.—Before Justice Odell.—Andrew J. Sides was accused of assault on George Pearse, in the public highway in Rye, on the 1st inst.—and was bound over in the sum of $200 for his appearance at the October term of Court in this city.

Pearse, the sufferer in this case, it well known to be a harmless, inoffensive person, who would give no cause for violence: he was severely and permanently injured, by a wanton and unprovoked assault.

FOR NASHUA.—The City Phalanx, Capt. Sides, left for Camp Goodwin, at Nashua, in the extra train of Thursday morning, taking with them the Portsmotuh Cornet Band. They will probably give a good account of themselves at the encampment.—Gov. Goodwin, with the members of the Horse Guards residing in this city and vicinity, departed for Nashua in the afternoon train of Wednesday.

THE WIDE AWAKES recently organized in this city held their first street drill on Wednesday evening, and turned out with full ranks, accompanied by the Cornet Band. We learn that it is in contemplation to have a torchlight parade on Monday evening next, when they will undoubtedly make a fine appearance. A meeting for drill will be held this (Friday) evening.

Messrs. Editors:—Noticing a double team passing in the street with smoked halibut, I had the curiosity to look at the load and ask a few questions.

The man in charge said he was from Gloucester, and instead of one hundred sail of fishermen he said they had over 300, mostly, I presume, engaged in the business in the warmer parts of the season. I asked him if they did the shoe business in his place: his reply was, "O yes; the men work on shoes in the winter, and go fishing in the summer." Is their health good? "Yes; stout, healthy fellows."

He said he "supplied the stores; his price was "from seven to eight cents per lb." His full load probably consisted of 2500 or 3000 lbs., which would come to about two hundred dollars.

Now does not the fact speak in thunder tones, of the difference of home business in the two places. Probably after the man has sold his fish and we have eaten it, he will come for two hundred dollars more, and so on; well may we expect money to become scarce in the place, and all business to suffer in consequence, if we produce little and buy much.

It may be replied that fishing has its dull spells. So does carrying cotton; but one is done at home, and the other abroad; while the fishermen are at home they give business to the place, and so do those engaged in the cotton trade; but the fishermen are at home the most. The Gloucester man also said their home fishing had been good, but in the bay it was reported poor. Once Portsmouth was a great and good fish market; is there any thing wanting except a sufficiently energetic and determined will to make it so now? B.

PASSENGERS.—In ship Autocrat, Burnwell, from Boston for New Orleans—John H. Miller and Geo. W. Carr, of Portsmouth.

☞ Rev. Mr. Patterson will preach at South Newmarket next Sunday, and Rev. Cyrus Cobb will preach at the Universalist Church in this city.

☞ Rev. T. H. Miller is to preach at Fremont, on Sunday Oct. 21, and at Nottingham Square on Sunday Oct. 28.

☞ The election in Florida has doubtless resulted in a Breckinridge success.—The majority of Milton, the Breckinridge candidate for Governor is estimated at 2,000. Probably all the Gulf States will go the same way in November, unless Louisiana be an exception.

☞ The people of Boston are complaining that their market arrangements are too expensive, and they are endeavoring to devise a plan which shall bring the consumer in closer contact with the producer.

☞ Rev. R. W. Fuller, in consequence of feeble health, has relinquished the charge of the church in Lempster, and removed to to Stowe, Mass.

☞ The Sabbath School State Convention will be holden at the house of the first Congregational Society in Concord on the 23d and 24th of the present month, commencing on Tuesday at 11 o'clock, A. M.

☞ An incendiary at Ware, Mass., set fire to a livery stable on Tuesday night; it was burnt, with a chaise-maker's shop, and the Baptist Church. The church was insured for $3000; cost $5000.

☞ The Piscataqua Association will meet in Brentwood, with Rev. Mr. McLeod, on Tuesday, the 16th inst., at 11 o'clock, A.M.

☞ Rev. Luther Townsend of Troy, has accepted a call from the Congregational Church at London Centre, to become their pastor.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.—Philadelphia, Oct. 11.—The Prince left in a special train at 9:30 this A. M.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The cutter Harriet Lane, with Gen. Scott and the Committee of Reception left this forenoon for Amboy, to bring the Prince here. There is a great excitement in the city. The military display will be very large.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 10.—The election passed off quietly. Brown, the Reform candidate, is elected over Himes, American. Seventeen wards give Brown over 7000 majority. The whole Reform ticket is elected.

THE ELECTION.—Baltimore, Oct. 11.—The total vote of the city for Mayor is $27,346. Brown's majority is 8196.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 10.—The Republicans elected their whole ticket at the Charter election yesterday except for the City Council, in which the Democrats will have a majority.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10.—The opera performance tendered to Baron Renfrew passed off in splendid style to-night.

They who disbelieve in virtue, because, man has never been found perfect, might as reasonably deny the sun, because it is not always noon.

Bronchitis.—This sure forerunner of Consumption can be instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron & Sulphur Powders. The Olive Tar allays pain and heals soreness an inflammation, and the Iron & Sulphur Powders convert the waste or worn out particles of the blood into gases, which are ejected from the body by the pores instead of being deposited as Phlegm. The testimonials of many prominent and well-known persons are contained in a pamphlet, which will be sent free by mail to any address. See advertisement in this paper.

FOR SORE, WEAK, INFLAMED EYES AND EYELIDS!

A true specific, and invaluable remedy has been at last discovered. Dr. Humphreys argues that these affections invariably result from a constitutional disease, of which the local affection is the only outward manifestation. Hence, HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC OPHTHALMIA PILLS are only taken internally, and yet cure the worst forms of obstinate sore eyes and eyelids, which have resisted all other treatment. All cases of sore and inflamed eyelids, or failing, weak or defective sight, will be promptly benefited, and the cure of the worst cases is only a question of time.

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

This remedy has long been cherished by the community for its remarkable efficacy in relieving, healing and curing the most obstinate, painful and long standing cases of Cough, Cold, Influenza, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Inflammation of the Lungs; while even Consumption itself has yielded to its magic influence when all other means have failed. Its whole history proves that the past has produced no remedy of equal value, as a cure for the numerous and dangerous pulmonary affections which prevail all over the land.

From the Editor of the Portsmouth (N. H.) Journal, Aug. 11, 1860.

WISTAR'S BALSAM.—There are but few medicines of which we can express an opinion from personal knowledge. Among such we place prominently WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which should always be kept on hand. It is an excellent medicine not only for Coughs and Colds, but also for neuralgic affections. We have known suffering from the nerves of the stomach effectually relieved by its soothing influence where other medicine has been ineffectually used.

Gents:—For a long time I have suffered more or less with that distressing affliction—Phthisic—in its worst forms, and have resorted to various so called remedies, but to no purpose as affording the desired relief. Deprived of my sleep by reason of the severity of the disease, it was only too evident that I was fast breaking down under it. I resorted to DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY with but little confidence as to its curative properties, but the use of one bottle has entirely rid me of this monster; and to the public I can safely commend it as every worthy their confidence. Most respectfully, R. I. MERRILL.

ATWOOD'S QUININE TONIC BITTERS,

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonics and stomachics, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "but it is the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

Cook Stoves.

Autocrat of the Kitchen.—35,000 in use!

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,

FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING, LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL

Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front-doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stew art is on each stove. No other is genuine.

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the

CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS
Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis,
Influenza, Hoarseness,
Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have existed, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS

these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will ONE DAY remove the most severe occasions hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,
FOR MAKING
Bread, Tea Cakes,
All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,
MANUFACTURED BY
EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,
Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works,
NO. 33 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturers submit it with entire confidence to the judgement of discriminating house-keepers, bakers, &c., &c.

Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, natural taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.

It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available at all times and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferments. The ready quality of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.

It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the sweet portion of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the bread. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal. In a common flour barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily makes about 250 lbs. gives by this process 291 lbs., a difference, a very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,
Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with regard to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing but a vegetable salt, which is essentially a desirable food in the bread. It rises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; while for cake and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much time of the pastry cook.

The experiments made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturers, and prove this compound worthy of public approval and extended use. Respectfully,

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."

HOW TO USE IT.

We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in fruit puddings and other pastry.

BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven (to one quart of flour; mix thoroughly by passing two or three times through a sieve; rub in a piece of butter at least the size of an egg, and make the paste the paste with cold milk or water, (milk is preferable,) barely stiff enough to permit rolling out. Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired forms, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.

LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.

GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonsful of Leaven to one quart of wheat meal, sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.

BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonsful of Leaven in one pint of flour, and one pint of corn meal, all well sifted together; add two eggs, one tablespoonful of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—Flour and milk sufficient to make one quart of batter; add one egg, then three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; beat to a froth, and cook quick.

DUMPLINGS.—Sift together one quart of flour and two teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; rub in a piece of butter half as large as an egg; mix with cold milk or water, and boil ten minutes.

CHAMBER STREET CAKE.—Sift together two large cups of flour and two teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; put in half a cup of butter and a cup and a half of sugar; mix with cold water or milk to a stiff batter, and spice to suit the taste, and bake immediately.

CINCINNATI SPONGE CAKE.—Two cups of white sugar, beaten with the yolks of six eggs—the whites of six eggs beaten to a froth, then beat all together; add three cups of sifted flour, one cup of water, and three teaspoonsfuls of leaven; flavor with two teaspoonsful of essence of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.

JUMBLES.—Sift together one quart of flour and three tea spoonsfuls of Leaven; rub in one teaspoonful of butter; add a cup and a half of white sugar, and spice to suit the taste; mix stiff enough to roll out, and bake quick.

ELECTION CAKE.—One quart of flour and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven sifted together; add a cup of butter, one pound of currants, two cups of white sugar, and one teaspoonful of cinnamon; mix with cold milk to a stiff batter, and bake in a slow oven.

CORN CAKE.—One pint each of flour and Indian meal, and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven, well sifted together; add one gill of molasses and two eggs; mix thin with milk and bake in a slow oven.

CUP CAKE.—Five cups of flour and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven, sifted together; add one cup of butter, two of sugar, and two eggs, all well beat together; mix with milk; then add a cup of currants, and spice to suit the taste. Bake about half an hour.

LADIES' CAKE.—Three quarters of a pound of flour and four teaspoonsfuls of Leaven sifted together; one pound of sugar and six ounces of butter beaten to a cream; the white of eight eggs well beaten, and the juice of one lemon; mix with milk.

WEBSTER CAKE.—Five cups of flour, three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven, three cups of sugar, one of butter, one of milk, and two eggs; fruit and spice to the taste. Bake about half an hour.

Humphreys' Specific Homeopathic Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long felt want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A cold, a slight diarrhœa, a pain in the side, or a headache, or heartburn, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, a Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—prompt, so as to cause no repugnance, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger averted.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being the safest, the most simple and convenient, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our samples of agents they all uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S
AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will relieve Low Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.
One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.
One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.
A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.
Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely required to draw a plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also insure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over any other, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

DR. MOTT'S
CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE
PILLS OF IRON

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combination in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and hysterical aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for persons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron is most necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, excruciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has shed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of Iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in those cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid assimilation of strength, with an unusual disposition for actions and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to ☞ Among the bills which have been rendered for labor and services in preparing plans for the New York Central Park extension, is one for the enormous sum of $49,000!

Several young gentlemen went to the residence of a young damsel to give her a serenade. After some time the servant stepped out, and walking up to the harpist, exclaimed: "My friend, the folks are all abed; you can't get a cent here to night!"

At a recent foot-race in Kentucky, the winner stumbled and fell when near the end of the course, and not having time to pick himself up, actually rolled into the goal ahead.

Homes are more often darkened by the continual recurrences of small faults, than by the actual recurrence of any vice. These evils are apparently of very dissimilar magnitude; yet it is easier to grapple with one than the other.

☞ Judge Pierrpont of New York, has written a letter to Gov. Morgan, resigning his office. He resigns because the Superior Court rooms are "ruinous to health and dangerous to life," and because, in his opinion, "no Judge can perform the duties which belong to the office with the present accommodations."

The ship's cook's wife held a washing day on board, whilst the fleet lay off Brest. The draperies fluttered in the wind. "What flag is that?" asked the Admiral. "The flag of all nations," replied the captain of the flag-ship; "a petticoat, and no mistake."

PROPOSE continually to yourself new objects. It is only by enriching your mind that you can prevent its growing poor. Sloth benumbs and enervates it; regular work excites and strengthens it—and work is always in our power.

☞ At Richmond, Va., one of the wealthy citizens offered to pay half the expense of a ball to the Prince if the Prince would open the ball with his daughter.

Those who reprove us are more valuable friends than those who flatter us. True progress requires either faithful friends or severe enemies.

"HENRY, you ought to be ashamed to throw away bread like that. You may want it some day."—"Well, mother, would I stand any better chance of getting it then, if I should eat it up now?"

Light will blind a man sooner than darkness. Are we, then, to pray that we may be left in darkness! O no! but beware, ye who walk in light, lest ye turn your light into a curse.

Bybestowing blessings upon others, we entail them on ourselves.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.
The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

New Photographic Establishment.
Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with fine Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.
The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.
All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.
Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, stop from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test.—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy Hair Restorative, which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, is lavish in his praise of your Hair Restorative; youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which has done it very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement. I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOM'SON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1860.

ELECTION ITEMS.—A dispatch from the People's State Committee at Philadelphia Oct. 10, says:—

Curtin's majority is about 30,000. Twenty members of Congress are certain, and there may be one or two more. The Legislature is overwhelmingly with us. The Bell vote here is less than 5000. Morris, Kelley and Verree are safe. Davis and Butler are probably safe. Pennsylvania will give Lincoln from 50,000 to 100,000 majority. Can the Empire State eclipse us?

On Thursday, the Philadelphia Bulletin claimed thirty thousand majority for Curtin. The Legislature will stand as follows: Senate, 25 Republicans, 8 Democrats; 67 Republicans, 33 Democrats. Bailey, Democrat, was elected in the 16th district, instead of Junkin, and Stewart, Republican, was elected in the 20th District instead of Lazear.

The N. Y. Journal of Commerce of Tuesday gave its readers this cheerful assurance:

We have no fear that the general results of the elections to be held to-day will be otherwise than encouraging to the anti-Lincoln element in our national politics. The sentiment of the country is fast settling down in opposition to the Republican candidates."

The New York Herald now says:

The overwhelming defeat of Foster, the Democratic Union candidate for Governor in Pennsylvania, throws the whole weight of the Presidential battle upon New York. Pennsylvania is irretrievably lost—the great West presents no satisfactory signs of a rescue—the New England States have been abandoned to the enemy—our northern conservative forces arrayed against Lincoln's election are, in fact, routed everywhere, except in New York, and New York is their forlorn hope.

The Boston Herald of Friday, after speaking of the gain in members of Congress, has the following bitter paragraph against several eminent members of the National Democracy.

Another gratifying feature of the recent election is the defeat of Bigler in Pennsylvania, and Bright and Fitch of Indiana for the U. S. Senate. After the fourth of March next, they can no longer mis-represent the people; with Joe Lane of Oregon and Green of Missouri, they will have permission to stay at home. Truly, the way of the transgressor is hard.

Speaking of the same Congressional losses or gains, the Boston Atlas of Friday says:

We have in place of these losses, gained two staunch Republican Governors in Indiana and Pennsylvania, two United States Senators from those States, and a judge of the Supreme Court in Ohio, which is certainly glory enough for the present. We shall in the November elections more than replace the losses in Congress, and shall elect Abraham Lincoln President by an overwhelming majority. But we must not give over the good work yet. Fight on for the right.

PITIFUL RASCALS.—In his late address at the Massachusetts Reform School in Westboro', Dr. Felton said he had a strong conviction that the average intellect of the inmates of our prisons is far below the average intellects of honest men. There may be exceptions, but generally speaking the wits of even the most celebrated rogues are low and mean, compared with the wits of very common-place men who are not rogues.

He condemned the course of novelists in making heroes of the worst criminals in the Newgate calendar, as they had done an immense amount of injury. Speaking of criminals, he said, what a life is led by the ablest of these fools, during the short period of their seeming success. Skulking about like obscene birds at night; trembling at every footfall; startled at every rustling leaf; toiling many weary hours in harder work than the meanest drudge, for the bare chance of stealing enough to supply an hour's debauch; the mean and miserable devil congratulates himself if he can clutch a prize which he might have honestly earned by a tenth of the labor in the broad light of the day.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE An address of the Republican National Executive Committee to the Republicans of the Union, claims that the result in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana assures their triumph in November, and exhorts them to secure a Congress kindly disposed toward Mr. Lincoln, who is sure to be the next President.

A NEW PASS DISCOVERED IN THE ROCKY MOUNTAINS.—A dispatch from Omaha, Nebraska, states that Capt. Reynolds, of the Tenth Infantry, U. S. Army, arrived in that city on Thursday from an exploring tour of the Wind River country. He reports having discovered a pass 2500 feet lower than any heretofore discovered on the line of the Rocky Mountains. It is about the forty-sixth parallel of latitude.

Taste is, perhaps, the best corrective of avarice; and that probably is one reason why, in commercial States, it is so little esteemed. The Muse and Mammon cannot be worshipped on the same altar. A love for the arts excludes all grosser passions from the soul. Taste is the angel that drives money-changers out of the temple of mind, and leaves it to the possession of every human virtue.—M. A. Shee.

NEW YORK ITEMS.—Gen. A. H. Prescott, President of the American State Council of New York, has written a letter to say that he cannot stand a fusion with the Breckinridge men, and shall vote for Lincoln and Hamlin. Gen. Prescott, it will be remembered, superseded Gen. Scroggs because the latter was too much of a Republican. The extinguisher took fire.

The spirit in which the Breckinridge State Committee of New York give in their adhesion to the new fusion arrangement may be judged of by the following extract from their address, referring to the Douglas and Bell men.

"We consider it good policy to adopt their complete Electoral ticket for our own purposes. We turn their batteries against themselves. We occupy their own ground. We make them our allies in spite of themselves. We compel them to be our voluntary coadjutors in the election of our Presidential candidates, unless they resort to the treacherous alternative of defeating their own Electors."

SCARCITY OF BOOKSELLERS IN IRELAND.—There exists in Ireland at present about 70 towns—containing from 10,000 to 35,000 inhabitants—without a bookseller's shop: and six whole counties are found without either a publisher, bookseller or circulating library. In Scotland the number of booksellers, as compared to Ireland, in the proportion of the population, is nine to one.

The reason is obvious: in Ireland the Roman Catholic priests look after the education of the people; in Scotland the Presbyterian ministers.

THE MIDDRE PASSAGE.—The Ship South Shore, of Boston, arrived at Monrovia, Africa, Aug. 30, in 46 days from Key West, with returned negroes, from a slaver. The captain had no trouble on the passage with the negroes, but there were 108 deaths among them from scurvy, diarrhea, dysentery, &c., no contagious disease having appeared, which is an indication of the pure air and cleanliness of the ship. They were very much emaciated when they went on board, and two-thirds of them were diseased; and on examination a few days after leaving port, they were all suffering more or less with the scurvy, the gums being spongy, the teeth bleeding and loose, and legs swollen—an indication that they had been living on salt food without vegetables and fresh meat. There being no vegetables on board for them during the passage, a great many of them died in consequence.

EXPRESSIVE.—It is curious to note small things occasionally, and see what bearings they have on more important matters.—"Coming events cast their shadows before," is an old trite saying. We thought so, at least, as we rambled through Quincy Hall this week, viewing the Mechanics' Fair Exhibition, and spied a medalion potrait of Stephen A. Douglas inserted in a grave stone! It seemed to argue a political burial, and we confess our belief in "fortune tellers" strengthened by this prophecy.—Wasn't it expressive?—South Reading Gaz.

THE VIRGINIA PANIC.—As we suspected, the reported negro plot in Princess Anne county, Va., turns out to be only a "scare." Though a number of arrests have been made, the Norfolk Herald of Monday, admits that the evidence is weak. It says that "the revelations of the negroes arrested are highly improbable. Whatever alarm was at first experienced has subsided, and the country is all quiet."

MINORITY PRESIDENTS.—One of the fusion papers this morning urges it as a strong ground of objection to the Republicans that "they propose to elect the two highest officers of the government by a minority of the people." To which it may be replied that, if they did, it would be no new thing under the sun. John Q. Adams was elected after it was clearly shown that he had neither a majority of the people nor a majority of the electoral college. Mr. Polk was President, though he fell some twenty or thirty votes short, and Mr. Buchanan himself now rules though he fell nearly four hundred thousand votes this side of a majority. No violent commotions overwhelmed our institutions in consequence, as none will should Mr. Lincoln be chosen according to the same precedents.—N. Y., Post.

☞ John Fitzgerald, a convict in Charlestown States Prison, attacked other convicts there on Thursday afternoon, and wounded three of them badly, with a knife. He has never given any evidence of insanity, and the only reason he gives for his strange conduct, is that there was a conspiracy among half a dozen of the convicts in the whip shop to accuse him of a murder committed many years ago in Salem. It seems probable that the man is insane.

POPULATION OF LONDON.—The census develops the curious fact that there are more Scotch descendants in London than in Edinburgh, more Irish than in Dublin, 100,000 more Romanists than in Rome, and more Jews than in Palestine. There are also in the same metropolis no less than 60,000 Germans, 30,000 French, and 6,000 Italians; and a very large number of Asiatics, from all parts of the East, and many who still worship their idols.

The most fascinating women are those that can most enrich the every-day moments of existence. In a particular and attaching sense, they are all those that can partake our pleasures and pains in the liveliest and most devoted manner. Beauty is little without this. With it she is, indeed, triumphant.

Local.

POLICE REPORT.—Marshal Norton has made the following Report of the arrests, for about six weeks to Sept. 30:

The whole number of arrests from Aug. 16th to Sept. 30, 1860, inclusive, is 82, for the following causes:—Assaults, 9; lodgings, 12; larceny, 8; drunkenness, 29; obtaining money under false pretences, 1; bathing in public places, 3; adultery, 1; glass breaking, 1; encumbering side walks, 9; disturbing school, 1; brawl and tumult, 6; resisting officer, 1; abuse to parents, 1.

REMOVAL OF THE POST OFFICE.—We are requested by the Postmaster to say that the Post Office will be removed to-day, (Saturday) after the close of business, and opened in the new quarters in the new Custom House building on Monday morning.

☞ the dedication of the new Town Hall in Hampton, was attended, as we learn, by a crowded audience; and the whole affair passed off with great success. The ladies are to hold a Levee there next Thursday evening, which will doubtless be attractive and pleasant.

☞ The officers of the Portsmouth Division of the Sons of Temperance, were duly installed on Thursday evening:—and it was resolved to hold their meetings on Monday evening, beginning with next Monday.

☞ Rev. Mr. Patterson will preach at South Newmarket next Sunday, and Rev. Cyrus Cobb will preach at the Universalist Church in this city.

☞ Rev. T. H. Miller is to preach at Fremont, on Sunday Oct. 21, and at Nottingham Square on Sunday Oct. 28.

☞ The U. S. steamer Vixen, Lt. Com. Thos. Phelps, arrived at the Navy Yard, Friday. She belongs to the Coast Survey.

A DOG STORY.—The dogs of Constantinople are famous for their ferocity, and it has been supposed that they were incapable of attachment to man; but a Frenchman has lately brought one to Paris with him under circumstances which prove the contrary. One day, at Pera, he noticed a splendid specimen of these wolf-dogs lying with half-closed eyes in the sun, and he went to him and caressed him. The dog did not seem to understand it, and lay as motionless as a stone. Next day he repeated it, and the next, and after several days the dog seemed to learn the meaning of it, and followed him to his hotel, and became his constant companion. About two months afterwards, the Frenchman having finished his business in Turkey, took passage in a steamer for France, and recommended his protege to the care of the hotel keeper, who promised he should never suffer. He forbade the dog to follow him, and went on board the steamer, where his compassion was excited at seeing the dog, who had followed him at a distance, sitting on the shore. But when the steamer started, all were astonished to see the dog plunge into the water and follow after. On and on he swam until, the speed of the steamer increasing, he began to howl in distress. At last the passengers begged the captain to take him on board, and a boat was lowered to pick him up. So the ex-vagabond of Constantinople has become the tax-paying Parisian.

CAPT. JARVIS AND THE AFFAIR AT VERA CRUZ.—Washington, Oct. 11.—There is not the slightest foundation for the statement that Capt. Jarvis interfered in the affair at Vera Cruz between the captain of the Spanish brig Berenguela and the Juarez Government. Neither did Captain Jarvis send a note to the Spanish Commodore condemning his course, or act in any other disapproving manner. The relations between these officers were most cordial.

The action of the Spanish Commodore was suspended and the squadron withdrawn in consequence of the pressing resolutions of the Spanish subjects in Vera Cruz to the Captain General at Cuba. The bombardment, they said, would destroy much of their property and peril their lives. No further hostile demonstrations will be made in absence of advices from Madrid.

The commander of the Gulf Squadron is not left to his own discretion, but will act under advices from Minister McLane in the event of the Spanish bombarding Vera Cruz, and will extend all possible protection to American persons and property, including landing marines.

MR. YANCEY'S DISUNION GUN SPIKED. New York, Oct. 11.—Mr. Yancey spoke last evening to an immense gathering at Cooper Institute. During his speech questions were put to him, whether Lincoln's election would be the cause of a secession of the South, and he answered that he believed in the right of secession, and if Lincoln should bring in the federal bayonets to force his irrepressible conflict, he would join his State and resist them. As to secession, it was a question to be considered by the people of his State, and his opinion should be given to them alone.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Baron Renfrew arrived at Castle Garden at half past two this P. M., and was welcomed by Mayor Wood. He (Prince) reviewed the First Division. The military then escorted him up Broadway to Fifth avenue. The pageant was witnessed by over a million people. The shipping, harbor and hotels, stores and houses on the route were decorated with flags, &c.

Counterfeit twos on the Pocasset Bank, Fall River, are in circulation here.

White and light colored clothing is that which is best adapted for all seasons and climates of the world. Dark colors absorb heat in the summer, when it is not wanted, and radiate heat in the winter when it needs to be husbanded.

PHYSICAL BENEFITS OF SUNDAY.—The Sabbath is God's special present to the working man, and one of the chief objects is to prolong his life, and preserve efficient his working tone. In the vital system it acts like a compensation bond; it replenishes the spirit, the elasticity and vigor, which the last six days have drained away, and supplies the force which is to fill the next six days succeeding; and in the economy of existence, it answers the same purpose as, in the economy of income, is answered by the Savings Bank. The frugal man who puts aside a pound to-day, and another pound next month, and who, in a quiet way, is always putting away his stated pound from time to time, when he grows old and frail, gets not only the same pounds back again, but a good many more besides. And the conscientious man who husbands one day of every week, who, instead of allowing the Sabbath to be trampled on, and torn in the hurry and scramble of life, treasures it devoutly up—the Lord of the Sabbath keeps it from him, and length of days and hale old age give it back with usury. The Savings Bank of human existance is the weekly Sabbath.

WHO ARE THE MISERABLE?—Let the dyspeptic, who suffers physically and mentally, answer. But though he has drunk the very dregs of suffering, relief exists in the Oxygenated Bitters; they are "a cure for all woes."

Atwood's Quinine Tonic Bitters,—the best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the public.—All the Druggists have it. See advertisement.

Bronchitis.—This sure forerunner of Consumption can be instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron & Sulphur Powders. The Olive Tar allays pain and heals soreness an inflammation, and the Iron & Sulphur Powders convert the waste or worn out particles of the blood into gases, which are ejected from the body by the pores instead of being deposited as Phlegm. The testimonials of many prominent and well-known persons are contained in a pamphlet, which will be sent, free by mail to any address. See advertisement in this paper.

FOR SORE, WEAK, INFLAMED EYES AND EYELIDS!

A true specific, and invaluable remedy has been at last discovered. Dr. Humphreys argues that these affections invariably result from a constitutional disease, of which the local affection is the only outward manifestation. Hence, HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC OPHTHALMIA PILLS are not only taken internally, and yet cure the worst forms of obstinate sore eyes and eyelids, which have resisted all other treatment. All cases of sore and inflamed eyelids, or failing, weak or defective sight, will be promptly benefitted, and the cure of the worst cases is only a question of time.

Price, 50 cents, with directions.

Sent by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price.

Address, DR. F. HUMPHREYS & CO., 563 Broadway, New York.

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry,

This remedy has long been cherished by the community for its remarkable efficacy in relieving, healing and curing the most obstinate, painful and long standing cases of Cough, Cold, Influenza, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Inflammation of the Lungs; while even Consumption itself has yielded to its magic influence when all other means have failed. Its whole history proves that the past has produced no remedy of equal value, as a cure for the numerous and dangerous pulmonary affections which prevail all over the land.

From the Editor of the Portsmouth (N. H.) Journal, Aug. 11, 1860.

WISTAR'S BALSAM.—There are but few medicines of which we can express an opinion from personal knowledge. Among such we place prominently WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which should always be kept on hand. It is an excellent medicine not only for Coughs and Colds, but also for neuralgic affections. We have known suffering from the nerves of the stomach effectually relieved by its soothing influence where other medicine has been ineffectually used.

From a highly respectable Merchant.

FALMOUTH, ME., Aug. 10, 1860.

MESSRS. S. W. FOWLE & CO.,—

Gents:—For a long time I have suffered more or less with that distressing affliction—Phthisis—in its worst forms, and have resorted to various so called remedies, but to no purpose as affording the desired relief. Deprived of my sleep by reason of the severity of the disease, it was only too evident that I was fast breaking down under it. I resorted to DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY with but little confidence as to its curative properties, but the use of one bottle has entirely rid me of this monster; and to the public I can safely commend it as every worthy their confidence. Most resp'ly, S. I. MERRILL.

MUSTER OF THE N. H. MILITIA.

CAMP GOODWIN AT NASHUA.

NASHUA, Friday Morning.

Dear Chronicle:—No doubt "the pen is mighier than the sword"—and at any rate it is a mighty sight easier to wield a pen (or a pencil, which I am scribbling with now, in the office of Mayor Board, of the Telegraph newspaper, while the sound of martial music resounds in the streets,)—I say it is a deal less laborious to wield the pen than to "carry sabre," in the saddle, for from six to eight hours a day. However, it is not so easy to "handle" both implements at once—and as on Thursday we neglected the press for the camp, we compile the following report of proceedings from other papers. To-day we propose to devote ourselves to editorial or reportorial duties somewhat—and shall give our own impression of things hereafter.

This grand gathering of the New Hampshire Volunteer Militia has realized all the expectations that have been formed of its success.

On Thursday, at about 11 o'clock, the troops reached the ground, and were dismissed to make themselves comfortable until the time for forming a brigade.

About noon the brigade line was formed under command of Col. John H. Gage of Nashua, who acts as General Commanding, and the appearance of the troops as they thus stood was very creditable.

The troops muster as a brigade. The divisionary organization of the troops is complete, but there is only one completely organized regiment, the First, commanded by Col. John H. Gage of Nashua. Col. Gage is acting Brigadier General.

The Governor's staff consists of Colonels A. L. Jones, Portsmouth; Isaac W. Farmer, Manchester; Otis Wright, Nashua;—Gilbert Hills, Amherst; J. W. Robinson, Concord.

Col. Gage's staff—Lt. Col. A. F. Stevens, Nashua; Major J. Wadleigh, Milford; Adjutant—Charles E. Paige, Nashua; Quartermaster—W. P. Ainsworth, Nashua;—Chaplain—M. W. Willis, Nashua; Surgeon—T. P. Greeley, Nashua.

The following is a list of the companies present, with the names of the captains, numbers, bands, &c.:

Amoskeag Veterans, Col. T. T. Abbott, 100 guns; Manchester Cornet Band, Walter Dynam leader.

McCutchin Guards, New London, Capt. A. J. Sargent, 38 guns.

Minute Guards, Manchester, Capt. J. N. Bruce, 40 guns; Barwick's Drum Corps.

Granite State Cadets, Nashua, Capt. Geo. Bowers, 42 guns; Baldwin's Cornet Band of Manchester.

Peterborough Light Infantry, Capt. C. A. Wheeler, 40 guns.

City Phalanx, Portsmouth, Capt. Wm. O. Sides, 40 guns; Portsmouth Cornet Band, John Harridan leader.

Lafayette Artillery Company, Lyndeborough, Capt. J. H. Tarbell, 41 artillerists.

Sullivan Guards, Exeter, Capt. Chas. H. Bell, 40 guns; Exeter Cornet Band, E. P. Brigham leader.

Abbott Guards, Manchester, Capt. Wm. C. Knowlton, 34 guns.

Hollis Phalanx, Hollis, Capt. George P. Greeley, 42 guns; Brookline Brass Band.

Canaan Grenadiers, Canaan, Capt. Jacob Peters, 32 guns.

Union Volunteers, Danville, Capt. David B. Currier, 32 guns.

Governor's Horse Guards, Col. George Stark, 100 sabres; Hall's Brass Band of Boston.

Total—13 companies, 640 rank and file. Five bands—90 musicians.

After the formation of the line the colors were received, and then the brigade was formed in double column at half distance, and here the camp was opened by the invocation of the divine blessing by Rev. Martin W. Willis of Nashua. This service being concluded, the troops were dismissed for dinner, and the afternoon was taken up by guard mounting and inspecion by Adjutant General Abbott. At 6 o'clock the line was dismissed for supper.

THE TRUE BLUE.—Everybody has heard the designation "true blue" applied to Presbyterians. Dr. Murray in his speech before the Assembly of the Free Church of Scotland, at the Tri-centenary celebration, thus playfully refers to its origin:—

I have often been asked why we are called "true blue." I did not know how to answer. But I asked a Scotchman. "Well." said he, "when we were persecuted, the ministers used to go to the mountains, and when they were going to have a communion, they held out a blue flag, which was an invitation to the people of the country around to attend; and their descendants are called true blue from that." That is one explanation, but I have found out another for myself. A few years ago I was in Naples and Rome, and went to Pompeii, where I spent some time among its splendid frescoes of variegated hues. All the other colors had faded away, but the blue was as bright as at the day it was put on, although it had been buried for nearly two thousand years. The true blue never gives out—that is the meaning of it.

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL

Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

From the Journal.

CONDITION OF KANSAS.

A letter received last week in this city from a friend in Kansas, says:

You speak of the sufferings of Kansas! I assure you this Territory has gone through everything but decline. Opposed by a corrupt administration during the last year of Pierce's reign, she hoped for better things after reading the inaugural address of Buchanan, but he only deceived and lied to her, and soon sent upon her the United States Troops to assist the border ruffians in their work of blood and extermination. She was next sought to be bribed, and then threatened into slavery: but her people are too true, too brave to submit to all or any of these things.—Next came the wrath of the Administration in advertising the lands of poor settlers; our people would have gone through this well enough, had the season been propitious, but such a drought none but a rainless, cloudless country ever experienced, as we have had. I can find counties in Kansas, the soil of which a single drop of rain has not touched for eleven months!!

What think you of this? Do such counties produce anything, ask you!—Well, yes,—in the counties some corn will be raised, and a good crop of sorghum. No piece of country on the continent of America can sustain itself like Kansas under such a drought. If New England had passed through such a rainless, dewless, dampless, stifling, burning hot season, I firmly believe she would not have a tree living.

All our old western farmers agree that if Illinois or Indiana had encountered such a terribly dry and hot season, not one herb or single green thing would have been seen after the middle of August; and yet Kansas in many counties will raise half a crop of corn. I think there will be three times the corn raised that people estimated four weeks ago. Kansas will come out of this as she has all her troubles, the brighter for having passed through it.—It is a test, a terrible test, that will do her good, and this very thing will bring hundreds of thousands into her Territory! Her future is safe. I am anxious only about the present—for some of our poor honest, manly, patriotic hearts must bleed because of the terrible poverty to which the land sales and this unproductive autumn, will bring their families!

The future, however, is bright. With an administration in her own hands, a goverment of her own construction, she will make such strides in the onward march as to astonish many. Let me make two predictions now, both resting somewhat, but not necessarily, upon Lincoln's election. One is, that in less than six months there will be no Territory of Kansas; and based upon that, that in six months after that all real property in Kansas that can by any possibility be sold now for $5 per acre, will bring $10 per acre, and in that proportion. There can be no mistake about it.—It is the best country for agricultural purposes of any land on which the sun shines. As dry as it is, in the street to day, I saw a load of watermellons, and for curiosity had one taken into a store and weighed—its weight was 57 lbs good. Think you such a country will finally amount to a failure.

Well,—the U. S. Marshals have just completed our census, and I will venture to say, since the days of the early invasions, no such injustice has been practiced upon the people. Not more than two-thirds of the houses and familes within my knowledge were visited at all, and in other counties I hear it is still more negligently done.—Yet they are through and have made their report—and according to that we have 108,563 inhabitants!!

I presume this exceedingly dry weather reduced our capita several thousand, and yet they have been obliged to render (as imperfectly as the thing was done) about 10,000 more than the law required of us for admission. I will guarantee that I can find 10,000 people in Kansas, whose names will not appear in their census returns!—What excuse will the Government frame now for our further rejection? God only knows.

INSTALLATION.—Rev. WILLIAM L. GAGE will be installed as Pastor of the North Church and Society in this city, on Wednesday afternoon next, Oct. 17th. Rev. Mr. Wallace, of Manchester, will preach the sermon. The charge to the pastor will be given by Rev. Mr. Lanphear of Exeter; the right hand of fellowship, by Rev. Mr. Richardson, of Dover; and the address to the people, by Rev. Lyman Whiting, the late pastor.

From the Gazette.

CONNECTICUT.—The Breckinridge State Committe addessed a letter to the gentlemen nominated for Electors on the Douglas ticket, suggesting the importance of devising some plan for a union of all the anti-Lincoln elements in the State. The gentlemen to whom the communication was addressed declined to entertain the proposition. So Connecticut will be allowed to go for Lincoln.

GEN. LANE ANSWERS—HE WON'T REBEL.—In the course of Gen. Lane's speech at Indianapolis, Indiana, on the 17th of September, he was asked the question, "What if old Abe is elected?" Gen. Lane promptly replied:

"Well, I say that if he should be elected, we will keep right on battling for the principles of the National Democratic party.

"Should he be elected by his sectional party, and on his sectional platform, we must content ourselves with the thought that 4 years will quickly pass, and at the expiration of that time the people will rise in their might and place a man in the Presidential chair who will stand by and to the principles of the constitution, as now expounded by the Superior Court and held by the Breckinridge party. [Loud cheers.

☞ T. K. Lane Esq., has been appointed Collector of Saco, in place of Alpheus A. Hanscom, whose commission has expired. Mr. Lane entered upon the duties of his office on Saturday last.

☞ We stated last week that an injunction had been obtained in the name of Concord & Ports. Railroad against the Aqueduct Co. On Saturday the Aqueduct Co. were heard before Judge Doe, and the injunction is by his order dissolved. The work is now going on, and we may hope in a few weeks that the town will be once more fully supplied with fresh water.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,

FOR MAKING

Broad, Tea Cakes,

All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,

MANUFACTURED BY

EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,

Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works,
NO. 33 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturers submit it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating house-keepers, bakers, &c., &c.

Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, natural taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not occupy ten minutes.

It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, or is dear, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferments; and avoiding the frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.

It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into alcohol and carbonic acid gas, or spirit. And the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, yields by the common method ordinarily makes about 250 lbs. gives by this process 250 lbs., thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary affairs may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,

Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with regard to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing but a vegetable salt, which is essentially a desirable food in the bread. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it raves all risk, and much time of the pastry cook.

The experiments made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturers, and prove this compound worthy of public approval and extended use. Respectfully,

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."

HOW TO USE IT.

We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all kinds of pastry of cake, also in fruit puddings and other pastry.

BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour,) to one quart of flour; mix thoroughly by passing two or three times through a sieve; rub in a piece of butter of half the size of an egg, and make the paste with water with milk or water, (milk is preferable,) barely stiff enough to permit rolling out. Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.

LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.

GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven to one quart of wheat meal, sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.

BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonsful of Leaven in one pint of flour, and one pint of corn meal, all well sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—Flour and milk sufficient to make one quart of batter; add one egg, then three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; beat to a froth, and cook quick.

DUMPLINGS.—Sift together one quart of flour and two teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; rub in a piece of butter half as large as an egg; mix with cold milk or water, and boil ten minutes.

CHAMBER STREET CAKE.—Sift together two large cups of flour and two teaspoonsfuls of Leaven; put in half a cup of butter and a cup and a half of sugar; mix with cold water or milk to a stiff batter, and spice to suit the taste, and bake immediately.

CINCINNATI SPONGE CAKE.—Two cups of white sugar, beaten with the yolks of six eggs—the whites of six eggs beaten to a froth; then beat all together; add three cups of sifted flour, one cup of water, and three teaspoonsfuls of leaven; flavor with two teaspoonsful of essence of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.

JUMBLES.—Sift together one quart of flour and three tea spoonsfuls of Leaven; rub in one teacupful of butter; add a cup and a half of white sugar, and spice to suit the taste; mix stiff enough to roll out, and bake quick.

ELECTION CAKE.—One quart of flour and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven sifted together; add a cup of butter, one pound of currants, two cups of white sugar, and one teaspoonful of cinnamon; mix with cold milk to a stiff batter, and bake in a slow oven.

CORN CAKE.—One pint each of flour and Indian meal, and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven, well sifted together; add one gill of molasses and two eggs; mix thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.

CUP CAKE.—Five cups of flour and three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven, sifted together; add one cup of butter, two of sugar, and two eggs, all well beat together; mix with milk; then add a cup of currants, and spice to suit the taste. Bake about half an hour.

LADIES' CAKE.—Three quarters of a pound of flour and four teaspoonsfuls of Leaven sifted together; one pound of sugar and half a pound of butter beaten to a cream; the white of eight eggs well beaten, and the juice of one lemon; mix with milk.

WEBSTER CAKE.—Five cups of flour, three teaspoonsfuls of Leaven, three cups of sugar, one of butter, one of milk, and two eggs; fruit and spice to the taste. Bake about half an hour.

Humphreys' Specific Homeopathic Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhœa, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the help in the world cannot fall to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—promptly, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE BEST, THE SAFEST, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

DR. DARIUS HAM'S

AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

Dyspepsia Remedy

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and exhausted spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

Dose.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.
One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.
One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.
A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.
Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and nervous constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other three on this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to drawn Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE

PILLS of IRON

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innocuous in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHEA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of the normal muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids who long had given us to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from the grave or from a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary; for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being excitant, and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent fever, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, the several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new elements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects—good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box: for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

☞ At No. 75 Lewis street, New York city, there resides an old soldier of the Revolution, named Isaac Daniels, who has reached the extraordinary age of 106 years. He lives with his daughter, who is 70 years old, and maintains her father and herself by her daily labor. On the breaking out of the Revolution, he was among the first to offer his services to his country, and throughout the war served under General Washington, enduring all the privations and vicissitudes of that eventful struggle.—In the immediate vicinity of New York, from his acquaintance of the neighborhood, he was employed as a scout, and on his face and person are yet visible the marks of the Indian tomahawk and rifle, received in some of the desperate adventures incident to the strife. In the war of 1812-15, though then comparatively an old man, he served throughout, and was engaged in several actions. Both he and his daughter are in abject poverty, and are worthy objects of public charity.

THE FIRST BALE OF COTTON.—One of the aged men of New Hampshire is Mr. Preston Cleflin of Lyme, who is now in his 88th year. He was the first man to carry a bale of cotton to a manufactory in America, and took the same from Providence to Pawtucket, R. I. He says at that time the employees had to give bonds before commencing work that they would never go into the manufacturing business themselves.—He still enjoys good health; being quite robust for one of his age, he can accomplish considerable work, and has an excellent memory of early events.—Manchester Mirr.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and shoes, which has been tried and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.
The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

New Photographic Establishment.
Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.
The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.
All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.
Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and skin; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray; nap from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result; for long before the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can tell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small hold half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1860.

THE STATE ENCAMPMENT.

The encampment of New Hampshire Militia, at Nashua,—designed, according to General Order No. 4, "with a view to promote improvement in the military of the State"—was in every respect, a most complete success;—and Camp Goodwin will long be remembered with pleasure by all who visited it, whether in the service, or as spectators.

First, as to the military display, we have the distinguished and not-to-be disputed authority of the redoubtable Major Beard of Nashua, who says in his Telegraph that:

It may seem strange, but it is true, that the companies present exhibited a far better average of drill than was ever seen on the New Hampshire line, in its palmiest military days. Then, when every body trained, the drill was a sort of traditionary concern. Some smart fellow with a showy, dashing style, at the head of a company, was copied by all other companies in his neighborhood, and so we had a drill that hadn't the first principle of military science about it. This all died out with the militia itself, and when it was revived, the officers had to go to the books, and none of the ridiculous nonsense of the old times has come up with it. We must congratulate the officers in command, and all connected with "Camp Goodwin," upon the success of this first attempt to revive the martial spirit in this State.

We have already given a report of the movements of the first day,—which closed with His Excellency Governor Goodwin receiving the Horse Guards, officers of infantry companies, and other invited guests, at the house of Gen. Stark; which was one of the most brilliant and pleasantly-successful soirees ever given anywhere. The splendid residence of Gen. Stark, where the Governor and suite quartered during the encampment, was finely illuminated on the occasion, and was thronged for hours with beautiful women and brave men eager to pay their respects to the popular Commander-in-Chief, and to show their respect for the occasion which drew them together from all parts of the State and elsewhere. The Governor and staff, Gen. Stark, Col. Gage and other distinguished guests, with their ladies, did the honors of the occasion in the most social manner possible.

Hall's Band also gave an excellent concert at Franklin Hall, Thursday evening, which was well attended.

SECOND DAY.

On Friday morning the military from Massachusetts arrived. They consisted of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston, Col. John S. Tyler, 150 men, with the Germania Band; the Mechanic Phalanx of Lowell, Capt. R. S. Follansbee, 42 guns and 50 honorary members, accompanied by the Brigade Band of Lowell, the Mayor and members of the Lowell city government, and Brigadier General Butler and his staff.

They did not desire to go into line, but were received as distinguished visitors, and witnessed the review.

The reception of these distinguished visitors at the camp was very imposing. Thousands of people were crowded about the camp, occupying all the available positions, and thousands of others were on the camp itself.

At about 2 o'clock, the Governor's Horse Guards were detailed to escort His Excellency Gov. Goodwin to the camp. They arrived in about half an hour. The Governor was mounted, and wore a chapeau, buff sash and sword. He was accompanied by his Aids, Adjutant General Abbott, Gen. Schouler and Gen. Butler. He was received by the troops in line, and with a salute of fifteen guns, fired by the Lafayette Artillery.

THE REVIEW.—The exercises of the muster were then closed by a grand review by the Commander-in-Chief. It was very much like all other reviews, except that every soldier appeared to feel a personal pride in the display, and accordingly all did their best, which cannot be said of troops at all reviews.

The troops then all took up the line of march for the city, the visiting companies appearing in front of the column. The music of the bands, the prancing of the horses, and the glistening of the arms in the sun were very inspiring. The companies were dismissed in the square. Before being dismissed, the troops drew up in front of the Pearl Street House, where spirited speeches were made by Gen. Gage, Gov. Goodwin, Gen. Butler. Gen. Tyler and others.

The Ancient and Honorables had a fine supper at the City Hall on Friday. His Excellency Gov. Goodwin made a capital speech, and was responded to by Gen. Tyler and others. The Company also gave a grand ball in the evening. The Hall was splendidly decorated. There was much beauty present, and the festival very successful and brilliant.

☞ F. B. Tracy, delegate from California in the Chicago Convention, and a native of New England, died at Lowville, N.Y., 10 inst.

TOOTH-PICKS.—The New York Commercial, by way of variety, gives its readers an article on tooth-picks. The aged and the decrepit and the youth of both sexes in Chili are engaged in preparing these little orange sticks that one finds at every restaurant in the country. These they whittle out with astonishing rapidity, at the rate of five or six hundred an hour. The sticks are then packed in bundles of a thousand each, and sent to New York—being imported expressly by a lady in Division street, whose son superintends their manufacture in Chili.

Here the tooth-picks are sold for twenty-five cents a thousand, and scattered all over the country, placed in all the restaurants and hotels, and in the hands of every tooth-picking Yankee in the Union. To such an extent is this traffic carried on, that the proprietors of the Astor House alone purchase eight or ten barrels of every importation, and retail them among the country hotels. A restaurant with a good run of custom will consume about twenty thousand tooth-picks in three weeks.

☞ The Governor of Vermont, in his inaugural, calls the attention of the Legislature to the comparative soundness of Vermont legislation; recommends an economical, but not a parsimonious expenditure; endorses the management of the State Lunatic Asylum, and considers the banks of the State sound. Upon education he dwells at length, strongly upholding the present school system. He believes the prohibitory policy of the past few years to be the permanent policy of State on the liquor question.

He advocates plurality elections for town representatives, and deems a Reform School necessary; and takes occasion to recommend, at considerable length, the establishment of a State Board of Agriculture. He considers the mineral resources of Vermont to be great, and next in importance to her agricultural interests.

On the subject of national politics he is brief but firm and decided. He concedes the right of the States to manage their own affairs in their own way, but protests against the introduction of slavery into the Territories.

☞ Ralph Farnham, the old Bunker Hill soldier, was escorted to the Hill by the Charlestown City Guard, on Friday. He rode in a carriage with the Mayors of Boston and Charlestown, and Mr. G. W. Warren. At Bunker Hill a crowd of not less than five thousand persons was assembled. Mr. Farnham was conducted to a seat on a platform erected at the base of the monument. Mayor Dana then made a brief speech of welcome.

Mr. Richard Frothingham, jr., said, in the course of his few remarks, that Mr. Farnham was attached to Capt. Phillip Hubbard's Regiment in the Continental army. On the day of the battle of Bunker Hill, that regiment was ordered to Lechmere Point, then to Cobble Hill, and finally to Bunker Hill, which place they reached just as the American troops were retreating. Mr. Farnham was not with the regiment on that day. He was placed on guard in Cambridge in the morning, and towards evening he obtained leave to go to Prospect Hill, and afterwards to Bunker Hill. Those eyes, said Mr. Frothingham, saw the awful conflagration, those ears heard the dreadful cannonading, those hands did duty on that memorable day. It was hard to realize, standing here to-day, that such was the fact.

At the conclusion of Mr. Frothingham's remarks, Mr. J. K. Fuller stepped forward and proposed three cheers for Mr. Farnham, which were given very heartily by the immense crowd. The band played "Hail to the Chief;" and Mr. Farnham again took his seat in the carriage, and, after passing through the Navy Yard, returned to the Revere House.

☞ Some papers, edited by ignorant men, have for some weeks past been publishing some denunciations of Thomas Jefferson, which are alleged to have been spoken by Mr. Lincoln in Illinois twenty years ago. It is sufficient to say that the offensive and disgraceful paragraphs are manufactured from whole cloth, and are characterized as infamous lies by those who speak with knowledge of the matter.—Mr. L. never said anything of the kind: but the same stupid forgery is at least thirty years old, and the sayings have been attributed to half a dozen other people before Lincoln. It is doubtful who the real author was;—and rather difficult to say what paper set the ball in motion this time. It rolled to little purpose,—and the liar, whoever he is, must have his portion in the fiery lake at the head of Salt River.

☞ The Washington Constitution publishes letters from various members of the Lecompton Convention, in which it is alleged that Mr. Douglas gave Mr. Calhoun, and others in Kansas, assurances that he would do his best to put the Lecompton swindle through the Senate. The Constitution further says that the widow Calhoun has a letter from Douglas, agreeing to go for the Lecompton measure as it went before Congress, and that she refused $2000 for it.

ARRIVAL OF THE "BIG FISH."

NEW YORK, Thursday, Oct. 11th.

The Prince of Wales, familiarly known as the "Big Fish," arrived here at 2 o'clock, P. M., in the U. S. cutter Harriet Lane, from Amboy. He was received on board the cutter by Gen. Scott, and at the Battery by Mayor Fernando 1st.

After donning his military suit—red coat with blue facings, and dark blue pants—he reviewed the troops, and was then escorted to the City Hall Park, where he stood upon a slightly elevated platform, in company with his suite and the prominent members of the Reception Committee, while the troops passed in review before him, forming in double lines on the right of, and extending over two miles up, Broadway.

The Prince and suite with numerous city officials, then rode the whole length of the line in carriages, amidst the wildest excitement seen in New York for many years.

Late this evening he was serenaded at the Fifth Avenue Hotel by the "Caledonian Club."

Friday he visits the Central Park and dances at the Academy of Music with a select company,—and on Saturday dines with Mr. Grinnell, and receives the compliments of the firemen, in a grand torch-light procession. Sunday he attends Trinity Church, and on Monday leaves for Boston via West Point and Albany. NEWINGTON.

PRINCE OF WALES.—New York, Oct. 12.—The Prince received an address from Chancellor Ferris on his visit to the New York University, and another from Prof. Morse. He also visited the Astor Library, the Cooper Institute, and the Free Academy, where all the scholars stood during his visit. He then went to the Central Park, where he planted an English oak and an American elm. He dined with Mayor Wood, and then visited High Bridge, returning in season for the ball. Soon after leaving the hotel this morning, a crazy Englishman named Moncane used threatening and insulting language, saying that he could whip the Prince, and that he would never be King of England if he lived a hundred years. Some of the bystanders say that he threatened to shoot the Prince, but this is denied by others. He was arrested, but no weapons were found upon him. The Prince and suite paid no attention to the insult.

A POLITICAL LECTURE BY A PIOUS WIFE.—The following we find in the Buffalo Republic, and as there are Wide Awakes in this town old enough to have wives, perhaps they may read the lecture with profit:

[Scene—In bed, face to the wall—Strong smell of coal oil—Time, 3 in the morning.]

A pretty time, indeed, for you to come home, sir! Where have you been all night? You smell as if you had been in search of Symmes' Hole through a tar barrel. Talk of sulphuretted hydrogen, or superannuated eggs! They ain't anywhere. Say, where have you been? Here I've been lying awake for the last five hours, waiting for you to come. Now I want to know where you have been all this time. Wish I would not bother you—tell me in the morning? I want to know now; it's near enough morning to know where one's husband has been all night, and particularly if he comes home perfumed clean through as you are. You mustn't good wife me. That won't answer. Suppose you were a woman, and your husband should go off every night in the week, and come home as you do, and—I wish you'd get up and let some fresh air into the room, or I shall certainly suffocate—what would you say? Don't you imagine there would be a row in the family? Been with the Wide Awakes? I should think as much. You're a wide awake fool, that's what you are. I've always thought you had about sense enough to parade the streets with those nigger lovers. Why did I marry you? That's a pretty question. Didn't you swear that you'd shoot yourself if I didn't take pity on you? I'm sorry I didn't allow you to shoot, hang or drown yourself. It would have been the best thing I ever did in my life. What is it smells so? Nothing?—Don't you tell me nothing; it never smelled so in the world. Had to carry a torch?—That's sweet business for a man who pretends to be the father of a large family.—Next thing I shall expect to hear of you is that you have been splitting rails for general circulation. I know nothing about politics? Don't, eh? I don't want to know nothing about politics, if I have to neglect my family and carry stinking torches for the benefit of a lazy man in Illinois who is trying to be President.

Want to sleep? I thought you were a Wide Awake. I suppose you've kept awake to-night on whisky, haven't you?—Where have you been all this time? The town clock has just struck three. Been to Tonawanda to raise a liberty pole? That's a sweet note. Why didn't the Wide Awakes of Tonawanda raise their own pole? I'xpect republicans are scarce in that section, and you've been trying to make a great splurge. Well, you can't fool anybody. I believe I know something about politics myself, and I know that you are drunk.—That's what you are. Must go to sleep, must you? Why didn't you think of that before. I've had no sleep to-night, and you never once thought of me. You're an old brute, and just such a man as ought to vote for an old railsplitter. Vote for Douglas if I let you alone? Mr. Douglas don't want such votes. He will be elected without your vote. But now that you show signs of returning reason, I'll let you go to sleep.

☞ It is about forty years since Mr. Whiting, of Boston, introduced anthracite coal into the city of New York (for fuel) from Pennsylvania. He then published in newspapers that he would exhibit grates in which coal could be burnt, and succeeded in the effort of making heat from the coal, but the first attempt was ridiculed.

☞ Two of the speakers at the Republican gathering at Germantown, Pa., on Thursday of last week, were Marylanders, —French S. Evans and Montgomery Blair; the former declared that within a few years every Southern State would be swarming with open Republicans. The following comprises a few of the points of Mr. Blair's speech:

He said he was himself of Southern blood, and was not the man to disparage the South; but he knew there were plenty of Southerners who would speak just as he spoke. There was but one man in ten directly interested in slavery. Was it to be supposed that the nine men would give way to the tenth? The fact that the political parties were divided should not discourage them. If they would put their shoulders to the wheel and save our land for freedom for four years, he would guaranty that Maryland would be with them, as she is now, in consecrating the free territory of the United States to freedom. (Applause.)—What interest had they in the battle? Pennsylvania had an interest in the way those territories were to be filled. If slavery triumphed, where were their markets on the Pacific? Suppose Pennsylvania had been a slave State, like Kentucky, could not any man calculate that she would now occupy the same position in the commercial scale that Kentucky does?

☞ A boy named Crocker, son of a poor widow, who was struck by a rocket while the Bell and Everett demonstration was in progress at East Boston on Wednesday night, died Friday morning. No blame can be attached to the officers of the Everett Light Guard for the sad accident, as their fireworks were in careful hands and had not been discharged at the time. The mischief was done by a lad who entered their room without invitation and carelessly placing a light rocket, which he brought with him, on the window sill, fired it into the crowd. It struck Crocker in the abdomen, not with sufficient force to break the skin or leave any mark of contact, and it is supposed that his death was caused by internal injuries.

☞ The Lewiston (Me.) Journal says is should be generally known that if tomato vines are pulled up before they are killed by the frosts, and hung up under cover in the light, that the fruit will continue to ripen until December.

☞ The Breckinridge papers charge Hon. Pierre Soule, the eloquent New Orleans lawyer, with uttering sentiments similar to those of Mr. Helper, in several recent speeches.

☞ Moses Wingate, Esq., of Augusta, Me., had a crop of several thousand pounds of grapes on his vines, when the late heavy frost laid its hands upon them and destroyed about one half of them.

☞ Mr. J. T. Silsby of Fremont, Me., found on his farm a birch root which measured one hundred and eighteen feet in length. It was but three inches in diameter when it left the trunk.

☞ A dispatch to the Tribune says it is the general disposition to elect Morton McMichael Senator from Pennsylvania in place of Bigler.

ATWOOD'S

QUININE TONIC

BITTERS,

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonics and stomachics, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "that it is the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

CHOICE PARLOR PLANTS.

JOSEPH H. FOSTER has just received a small assortment of Winter Plants, from the Conservatory of J. T. Smith, comprising Geraniums, Bouvardias, Justicia, Heath, Holtzia, Fuchsia, Chrysanthemums, Cupheas, &c. &c., which will be sold at low prices.—Plants obtained to order.

DENTISTRY.

The subscriber would give notice that he has procured a PLASTIC CEMENT (or artificial) for filling teeth. It is a new article, and has the prospect of being a good one, especially for filling tender or front teeth, but as it is new it will take time for it to obtain confidence. He would also state that he has a single agency with the principal dealers in Dentists' Materials, to give him information of anything useful or important.

o9 2w* SAMUEL BAKER.

Atwood's Quinine Tonic Bitters,—the best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the public.—All the Druggists have it. See advertisement.

Bronchitis.—This sure forerunner of Consumption can be instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron & Sulphur Powders. The Olive Tar allays pain and heals soreness on inflammation, and the Iron & Sulphur Powders convert the waste or worn out particles of the blood into gases, which are ejected from the body by the pores instead of being deposited as Phlegm. The testimonials of many prominent and well-known persons are contained in a pamphlet, which will be sent free by mail to any address. See advertisement in this paper.

FOR SORE, WEAK, INFLAMED EYES AND EYELIDS!

A true specific, and invaluable remedy has been at last discovered. Dr. Humphreys argues that these affections invariably result from a constitutional disease, of which the local affection is the only outward manifestation. Hence, DR. HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC OPHTHALMIA PILLS are only taken internally, and by healing and curing the most obstinate, painful and long standing cases of Cough, Cold, Influenza, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Inflammation of the Lungs; while even Consumption itself has yielded to its magic influence when all other means have failed. Its whole history proves that the past has produced no remedy of equal value, as a cure for the numerous and dangerous pulmonary affections which prevail all over the land.

From the Editor of the Portsmouth Chronicle.

WISTAR'S BALSAM.—There are but few medicines of which we can express an opinion from personal knowledge. Among such we place prominently WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which should always be kept on hand. It is an excellent medicine not only for Coughs and Colds, but also for neuralgic affections. We have known suffering from the nerves of the stomach effectually relieved by its soothing influence when other medicine has been ineffectually used.

From a highly respectable Merchant.

FALMOUTH, ME., Aug. 10, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & CO.,—

Gents:—For a long time I have suffered more or less with that distressing affliction—Pleurisy in its worst forms, and have resorted to various so called remedies, but to no purpose as affording the desired relief. Deprived of my sleep by reason of the severity of the disease, it was only natural evident that I was fast breaking down under it, I resorted to DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY with but little confidence as to its curative properties, but the use of one bottle has entirely rid me of this monster; and to the public I can safely commend it as every worthy their confidence. Most respectfully, S. I. MERRILL.

FLAGS for the PROCESSION to-night, for sale at WM. R. PRESTON'S.

☞ Our spacious and elegant new Post Office is open for the business of the Department this morning. Good, so.

☞ Lt. Philip R. Fendall, of the Marine Corps, has been detached from the Portsmouth N. H. Navy Yard, and ordered to Charlestown.

☞ On Friday last as Mrs. Gilman Dearborn of this city, was returning in a wagon from her sister's at the Plains, by some means the harness became unfastened, which so frightened Mrs. D. that she seized hold of the reins and pulled the horse round, which capsized the wagon, throwing her out and severely injuring her.

☞ In the suite of Gov. Goodwin, on his visit to Nashua at the State Encampment, among those who accompanied him from this city—were, Col. Albert L. Jones, of his staff; Maj. Reynolds and Lt. Turner, of the Marine Corps; and Capts. Winder, Tracy, and Thornton, and Lt. Sherburne, of the U. S. Army. Most of these being accompanied by their ladies, made up, together with the Governor's family, a brilliant and most agreeable party.

☞ As a reporter, on the grounds throughout the late State Muster, we take great pleasure in saying that old Portsmouth has good reason to congratulate herself on her representation there. The promptness, courtesy, and warm-hearted cordiality of our most worthy and excellent Chief Magistrate—who is fast becoming personally as popular all over the State, as he has long been here at home—as usual, won the respect and regard of all. The rank and quality of the military officers who accompanied him from our Navy Yard and elsewhere, added not a little to the eclat of the encampment.

The members of the Horse Guards from this city and vicinity, (a considerable portion of Company C,) under command of Capt. Fuller, of the Staff, and Orderly J. H. Butler, performed their duty most creditably.

Then the City Phalanx, Capt. W. O. Sides, won the commendation of all, by their soldierly conduct, fine appearance, and accurate drill—surprisingly thorough, considering the short time they had for preparation. The Phalanx was attended by the Portsmouth Cornet Band—which never played better; and a comparison of which even with such Bands as Hall's, the Germania, the Manchester, and Lowell, was by no means invidious, all things taken into account. Their uniform is among the handsomest, and their instruments as good as the best, of all Bands with which we are acquainted.

The Portsmouth Horse Guards went to Concord Wednesday evening, and returned home Saturday morning. They were drawn up in line on foot, in undress, and received the Phalanx (which came on the B. & M. Road) at Newmarket. On arriving in Portsmouth, the Phatanx escorted the Guards to the Rockingham House, and proceeded to their armory at Jefferson Hall and were dismissed.

AN OLD MAN IN THE FIELD.—Mr. Aaron Eaton of South Hampton, aged 92 years, the oldest person in that town, was in the field mowing this year, and did what would be a fair day's work for half the hired men. He owns a peice of meadow on which he has worked at mowing or raking every season since he was nine years old. He never belonged to a gymnasium; has eaten and drank whatever he desired, and lived as nature prompted, and now is in good health. We know nothing to which to attribute his strength and longevity, his good health and good morals, more than the fact than he has taken and paid for the Herald for more than sixty years.—Newburyport Herald.

An old lady of Goshen, Mass., in relating how she got along in raising her family of thirteen children half a century ago, says, "I used to milk the cows while holding a child a few months old in my lap, while the next older stood upon my dress to keep its feet off the dewy grass." She also added, "I never had but one silk dress, which was procured by my father giving me flax to spin and weave into cloth to sell, the proceeds of which should be appropriated to the purchase of the silk dress. I purchased the dress at Northampton, at $1.50 per yard, and paid for it in my flax cloth at 33 cents per yard."

A soldier being asked if he met with much hospitality while he was in Ireland, replied: "That he was in the hospital nearly all the time he was there."

Give to a grief a little time, and it softens to a regret, and grows beautiful at last; and we cherish it as we do some old, dim picture of the dead.

In Bohemia the peasantry hold it unlucky to walk under a rainbow; for they say that the rain which descends through the bow, blights all it falls upon.

Love may exist without jealousy, though this is rare; but jealousy may exist without love, and this is common.

FROM EUROPE.—Steamship Africa, from Liverpool 29th ult., arrived at New York, brings the latest news via Queenstown.

The Paris correspondent of the London Daily News says that the Privy Council held a meeting on Thursday, at which it is understood a proposal from Gen. Guyan to argument the French army at Rome to 20,000 men, and rome say to put down Garibaldi, was discussed. It is feared that the result was a decision which will lead to a bloody war, and put an end to all hopes of the regeneration of Italy.

Marshal Vaillant leaves Paris to take command of the army of Italy, and is speedily to be followed by two divisions.

It is stated positively that the Pope has resolved to leave Rome.

The capitulation of Ancona is confirmed.

The vanguard of the Sardinian army had reached Tivoli, six kilometres from Rome.

The Patrie reports that the Neapolitan Royalists were masters of Volturno.

FROM DENVER CITY.—Omaha, Oct. 12. Denver city dates of the 4th have been received.

The Settlers' Court has condemned Gordon, the murderer, and he was to be hung on the 6th.

The mining news is favorable.

The election returns come in slowly. The Democrats claim that Morton is elected, with a Democratic Legislature, while the Republicans claim that Daily is elected, with a Republican Legislature.

INDIANA ELECTION.—Indianapolis, Oct. 12.—Seventy-four counties give Lane, for Governor, a majority of 14,224, being a gain over Willard's vote in 1856 of 17,352.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12.—The vote of the First Congressional District has been brought into Court for investagation, Lehman charging fraud somewhere.

GODEY FOR NOVEMBER is an extraordinary number, containing sixty-five engravings in all: Among which are two steel engravings of subjects,—one steel engraving of Colored Fashions, five figures; one Plate, printed in colors, showing how Head-dresses will look when made up; ten full page engravings of fashionable cloaks, hoods, and wraps for boys and girls, and sixty-two contributions. The first plate, "Hail Columbia," is truly a national one; a mother teaching her children to sing the national ode.—The second plate, "Come Along," is now first engraved for a magazine. It is the premium plate given to the subscribers of the London Art Union.

☞ We take great pleasure in giving, for the first time in this country, a very splendid passage from Joel Barlow's celebrated "Vision of Columbus," a poem which the author, after its publication, elaborated, and issued under the title of "The Columbiad."

He kindled, saw all this, and more, far more,
Majestic beaming on Hesperia's shore!
Lo! from the pipe what fragrant smoke arise
In graceful columns to the Indian skies!
The Indian Chief—sweet nature's noblest child,
Wandering at will the forest undefiled!—
Thinks his tobacco on the Earth's green sod,
The sweetest gift from Manitou—his God!
Smile not in scorn 'till thou its pleasures know,
For oft it lightens many an ill below!
Nor to Hesperia's shore the gift confined;
Lo! Raleigh comes, and wafts to all mankind!
Yet shall the Leaf its brightest wreath command,
At last, upon its great, its Natal Land;
Yes, see Tobacco sweetest in the West!
Lo! millions smile on 'Goodwin's Patent Pressed!'
Great Goodwin takes from all the glorious prize,
Blest by the Earth, and laureled by the skies!

WHO ARE THE MISERABLE?—Let the dyspeptic, who suffers physically and mentally, answer. But though he has drunk the very dregs of suffering, relief exists in the Oxygenated Bitters; they are "a cure for all woes."

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,
FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING, LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER
AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,
FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL
Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.
Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:
DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.
CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.
ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.
VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flue. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.
ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.
THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.
BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.
HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.
WAVER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.
Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,
FOR MAKING
Bread, Tea Cakes,
All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,
MANUFACTURED BY
EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,
Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works,
NO. 33 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturers submit it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating house-keepers, bakers, &c., &c.

Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, natural taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.

It is valuable because it is healthful, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferment, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.

It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained is confined wholly and delicious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily makes about 250 lbs. gives by this process 290 lbs., thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES.

Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with regard to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing but a vegetable salt, which is essentially a desirable food in the bread. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much time of the pastry cook.

The experiments made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturers, and prove this compound worthy of public approval and extended use. Respectfully,

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."

HOW TO USE IT.

We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in the puff paste and other pastry.

BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonfuls of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour,) to one quart of flour; mix thoroughly by passing the flour three times through a sieve; rub in a piece of butter of half the size of an egg, and make the paste the paste with cold milk or water, (milk is preferable,) stiffer than enough to permit rolling out. Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.

LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loal, and bake immediately in a slow oven.

GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven to one quart of wheat meal; sift it finely together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.

BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonful of Leaven in one pint of flour, and one pint of corn meal, all well sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—Flour and milk sufficient to make one quart of batter; add one egg, then three teaspoonfuls of Leaven; beat to a froth, and cook quick.

DUMPLINGS.—Sift together one quart of flour and two teaspoonfuls of Leaven; rub in a piece of butter half as large as an egg; mix with cold milk or water, and boil ten minutes.

CHAMBER STREET CAKE.—Sift together two large cups of flour and two teaspoonfuls of Leaven; put in half a cup of butter and a cup and a half of sugar; mix with cold water or milk to a stiff batter, and spice to suit the taste, and bake immediately.

CINCINNATI SPONGE CAKE.—Two cups of white sugar, beaten with the yolks of six eggs—the whites of six eggs beaten to a froth; then beat all together; add three cups of sifted flour, one cup of water, and three teaspoonfuls of leaven; flavor with two teaspoonful of essence of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.

JUMBLES.—Sift together one quart of flour and three tea spoonfuls of Leaven; rub in one teacupful of butter; add a cup and a half of white sugar, and spice to suit the taste; mix stiff enough to roll out, and bake quick.

ELECTION CAKE.—One quart of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; add a cup of butter, one pound of currants, two cups of white sugar, and one teaspoonful of cinnamon; mix with cold milk to a stiff batter, and bake in a slow oven.

CORN CAKE.—One pint each of flour and Indian meal, and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, well sifted together; add one gill of molasses and two eggs; mix thin with milk and bake in a slow oven.

CUP CAKE.—Five cups of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, sifted together; add one cup of butter, two of sugar, and two eggs, all well beat together; mix with milk; then add a cup of currants, and spice to suit the taste. Bake about half an hour.

LADIES' CAKE.—Three quarters of a pound of flour and four teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; one pound of sugar and three ounces of butter beaten to a cream; the white of eight eggs well beaten, and the juice of one lemon; mix with milk.

WEBSTER CAKE.—Five cups of flour, three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, three cups of sugar, one of butter, one of milk, and two eggs; fruit and spice to the taste. Bake about half an hour.

Humphreys' Specific Homeopathic Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhœa, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time become a confirmed cough, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and unfailing in their action, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE BEST IN USE, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST SURE AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with universal success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

DR. DARIUS HAM'S
AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

Dyspepsia Remedy

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and despondent of mortals, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible affliction, insanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.
One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.
One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.
A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should use the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations in the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to introduce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes, is a perfect celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "it cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

DR. MOTT'S
CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE
PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of Iron Pills purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions are speedily and necessarily in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MILIARY TUBERCULATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description can be written attention would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of blind sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of the preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old Iron Pills, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-tonicing; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of the Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent heetic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

HOW THE WORLD SMOKES.—"All the Year Round" talks thus of tobacco:

What has been the influence of the use of tobacco upon individual and social man? Has it been, on the whole, a bane or a blessing? Has it diminished suffering, has it increased enjoyment? Has the want which its introduction created, been a benefit to the world at large? How many acres of land are devoted to the cultivation of the plant? How much capital is employed, how many manufacturers? For the chewers of the quid, the smokers of the cigar and pipe, the takers of snuff, how many ships and sailors are busied in the sea transport? How many merchants, traders and shopkeepers does the traffic interest? How much revenue does it give to national treasuries?

Thousands, tens of thousands, millions, are the only figures by which an approximate idea can be conveyed. Popes, czars, emperors and kings have thundered anathemas against this unfortunate weed, but all the denunciations have ended in smoke—have helped not to suppress, but to extend and augment the fumes of the weed, and all princely power and policy has ended in capitulation, and by turning tobacco into one of the most prolific and profitable sources of revenue.

A VERY USEFUL RECIPE.—At this season of the year, when arrangements are to be made in every house for winter fires, the following receipt is well worth an annual publication:

To stop cracks in chimnies and stoves, the insertions of stove pipes, open joints in pipes, and all places of the kind:—Dissolve common salt in water—as much as the water will take up—and thicken it with clean ashes till it becomes a mortar of proper temper for working. This will harden in a short time to firm cement, and is better than mortar for the purposes mentioned, and can always be obtained.

☞ N. P. Willis, whose devotion to the interests of the ladies is well known, has recently made a discovery, which we transcribe for the benefit of our fair readers:

We observed that some of the bonnets were more heavily decorated on the left side than on the other, which led to our asking the reason. We were answered that the right side, being symbolic of utility, power or honor, should never be so much adorned as the left, which is emblematic of subservience. The less worthy the object, the more necessary to render it pleasing to the eye, is, in theory, our standard of gaing adornments. Thus, rings are generally worn on the left hand; a single bracelet on the left arm; the watch at the left of the bodice; and, in general, flowers, ribbons, or lace, are placed more on the left than on the right side.

HINTS TO FARMERS.—Dig your potatoes when the ground is dry—you can then gather them free from dirt; then stow them away under cover, where the frost will not touch them.

Toads are the best protection of cabbages against lice.

Plants when drooping are revived by a few grains of camphor.

Lard never spoils in warm weather, if it is cooked enough in trying out.

In feeding corn, sixty pounds ground go as far as one hundred pounds in the kernel.

Corn meal should never be ground very fine, as it injures the richness of it.

Turnips of small size have double the nutritious matter large ones have.

Rats and vermin are kept away from grain by a sprinkling of garlic when packing the sheaves.—Ohio Valley Farmer.

A MURDERER LEGALLY ACQUITED.—The Court of Errors has finally rendered its decision in the case of Michael Daley of Poquonock, who killed James O'Neil on Sunday, May 6, by cutting his head open with an axe. The jury convicted Daley of manslaughter, whereupon the counsel for the defense filed a motion in arrest of judgment, on the ground that the law punishing manslaughter, which was in force when this offense was committed, was repealed by the last Legislature, and that the statute enacted in its stead was passed since that act was done, so that no judgment could be rendered against the prisoner under the authority of either statute. This point was fully sustained by the Court of Errors after a full hearing. So a murderer escapes scot free for want of a law to punish him.—Hartford Press.

RUFFLES BY THE MILE.—A firm has been organized in New York with the designation of Magic Ruffle Company, the object of which is to produce quantities of the freshest and most innocent white ruffles without the slightest tax upon what Hood calls

"Fingers weary and worn,
And eyelids heavy and red."

These ruffles are of course designed for the exclusive adornment of ladies and children, and by no means liable to the profanation of making any part masculine attire. They are made by a patented process, which avoids the necessity of gathering. These machines are worked by steam, and the firm manufactures daily ten thousand yards of this delicate fabric, each machine with its fair attendant furnishing one and a half yards per minute.

Value the friendship of him who stands by you in the storm; swarms of insects will surround you in the sunshine.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and be made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.
The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham, is for sale by the subscriber.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

New Photography Establishment.
Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to accommodate all who wish with Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.
The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.
All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.
Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being grey, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head. From the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I will recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (my father,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement. I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming grey, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. G. TRALLERO.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1860.

MR. YANCEY IN BOSTON.

Mr. Yancey, the great pro-slavery orator, has spoken in Faneuil Hall, being molested by no one, and interrupted only by Douglas democrats. The fact that in the slave States, no such freedom of anti-slavery speech exists, is itself a condemnation of the institution.

As Mr. Yancey speaks in New Hampshire this week, some items about his Faneuil Hall speech may interest the reader.

Faneuil Hall was thronged; and among the throng there were quite a large number of leading Republicans; the majority, however, were Douglas men, as the result of the meeting fully indicated.

Gen. Whitney, as President, made a brief address. In speaking of the great question before the people, the speaker was interrupted by hisses, and drowning cheers. He soon closed, when Hon. Wm. L. Yancey was introduced and received with loud cheers accompanied by hisses from Douglas democrats.

The tumult for a moment was tempestuous. Mr. Yancey was twice stopped by the noise,—but went on.

He thought that because our forefathers signed a compact between the States recognizing slavery, that it should still be recognized. This was dwelt upon at great length. He attempted to show that the South had aided in giving us free States. He was in favor of the Union as long as the Constitution was not violated, but if the hand of the North was not taken from the southern institutions then there will be resistance, and he thought the South would take care of itself. Let there be an equal chance, said he, and we will fight it out, letting the best win. It was maintained that the South gives a great support to the North, and a vague theory was advanced to prove that the slaves must be kept in bondage in order to give the price of their support to the free States.

This theory was undertaken to be substantiated by saying that if the slaves were free they would go comparatively naked, and then the North would be deprived of the price of their clothing.

Mr. Yancey, in the course of his remarks, said his slaves were treated in the best manner. This was part of his argument in favor of the "institution."

A feeble attempt was twice made to show the evil that would attend the election of Mr. Lincoln.

He characterized Mr. Douglas's popular sovereignty as one of the wildest humbugs. Upon this three cheers were called for Mr. Douglas, and the hall resounded with deafening cheers and enthusiasm.

The Atlas, makes the following remarks on Mr. Yancey's speech.

Faneuil Hall has echoed to his voice, and what is it? In Georgia, in Alabama, in South Carolina, Lincoln's election was to be the signal for a grand "bust up." In New York, however, he was going to wait for an attempt at coercion by Mr. Lincoln. Georgia was to wait till the first act of oppression was commenced. Then Georgia was to raise the standard of sovereignty, and Mr. Y. was to fly to that standard. Here he tapered off still more. * * Now, it is a great pity that we couldn't hear in Boston the same sentiments expressed by Yancey in Georgia. But Yancey tapered off.

He was for the Union unless some overt act was committed. Now nobody supposes that Lincoln is going to march a standing army to the South to free the slaves. Yancey don't, and if he says so, if he is reported to have said so, he knows it is nonsense. * * He talks rank treason at the South, but everybody knows that, God be praised, to talk treason is no offence under the written law of the United States, or in fact in the Republic, except where Judge Lynch presides. He talks Union saving at the North, provided that no invasion of sovereignty is made.

SUNDAY WORK OF WILKIE.—The London Art Journal tells this amusing anecdote of the great painter:

Wilkie, when a professional artist, never painted upon a Sunday, and the writer of this article never saw the palette on his thumb on that day but once, and on his inquiring the reason for thus breaking thro' the rule. "Well, you see," replied Wilkie, "this is a public character, and can only be spared from bissdutes on a Sunday." He was the monkey belonging to the Exeter 'Change menagerie, and whose portrait Wilkie has handed down to posterity, sitting on the boy's shoulder in the picture of "The Parish Beadle," now in the National Gallery, bequeathed by Lord Colborne.

☞ A correspondent of the N. Y. Times is very severe upon Mr. Gough the temperance reformer, speaking of his "empty and loud-mouthed egotism," and of some of his sayings and doings as cruel mockeries and transparent shame. The writer appears to be terribly in earnest. Another correspondent warmly defends Mr. Gough.

☞ Mr. John Batchelder, of Raymond, whose age is 89, and the oldest person in town, mowed, as a regular worker in the late hay season. Mr. Daniel Tilton, of the same town, whose age is 87, was also seen swinging the scythe in his field. Where are the young men who have thought labor on the farm rather degrading?

☞ The files of newspapers of the late Gov. William Plumer, of this State, have recently been added to the Boston Athenæum. They consist of seventy volumes, and commence in 1772, and extend to 1841.

FROM CALIFORNIA AND THE ISTHMUS. New York, Oct. 14.—Steamship North Star, from Aspinwall, arrived last night, with $1,970,000 in specie from California, the shipment per John L. Stephens and Uncle Sam.

The John L. Stephens broke her machinery near Acapulca, and was towed into that port by the sloop-of-war Cyane. Her passengers and specie were transfered to the Uncle Sam.

The California dates are to Sept. 21.

All is orderly on the Isthmus. The American and British forces are in joint possession, but will probably soon be withdrawn.

The forces of ex-President Mora had been beaten by the Costa Rican Government troops. Mora, General Canas and others were shot, and the revolution terminated.

The steamer Granada had arrived at Valparaiso and sailed for San Francisco.

Lieut. Wilkins died on board the Cyane.

The John L. Stephens has gone back to San Francisco in tow of the Golden Gate.

☞ The Great Falls Advertiser says there is no town in this vicinity, if in the State, that has made such rapid progress as has our neighboring town of Rochester, within the space of five years. Previous to that time the town was noted for its wealth, intelligence and penuriousness. What little was done was at large profits and long credits. The people had got into an old fogy way of doing business, and it seemed as though they would always remain so; but as there is an end to almost everything that is not perfectly round, there was end to that way of doing business.

☞ A boy of 12 years, son of Samuel Peavy of Exeter, had his leg broken by the kick of an ox last Thursday. Dr. Vinal, also of Exeter, fell 15 feet from an apple tree, and broke two of his ribs.

☞ The Annual Report of the Great Falls and Conway Railroad is just published, and shows that the income of the Road pays all expenses, and also meets the interest on the first and second mortgage bonds, amounting to $200,000.

☞ At the recent State Fair at Manchester, Daniel D. Perkins, of Newmarket, received $73 for premiums on the products of his excellent farm. His premiums are the largest awarded to any exhibitor.

☞ It is reported that Hon. N. B. Bryant, of Concord, has formed a business connection with a lawyer of Boston, and will soon commence the practice of his profession in that city.

☞ Sixty long car loads of cattle and sheep, for Cambridge and Brighton, came over the Montreal R. R., on Monday night last, via Concord.

COINCIDENCE.—The Prince of Wales was received in New York on the anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus.

☞ Messrs. Head, Jewell & C., of Exeter, have many orders from Australia, for their excellent covered carriages.

THE SLAVER "CITY OF NORFOLK."—New York, Oct. 13.—The steamer De Soto arrived last night from Havana 8th.

The slave steamer "City of Norfolk" landed eight hundred Africans. She was then headed seaward and abandoned with full steam on, the valves were cut and feed pipes left open, with the expectation that she would founder, but the current sent her ashore near Sirra Norena, where a Spanish war vessel discovered her and five hundred negroes and the crew. The remainder had been disposed of. The American officer and crew were sent to Key West by the American Consul on the Crusader.

FUSION IN PENNSYLVANIA.—Reading, Oct. 12.—The regular Democratic State Committee met to-day and resolved to rescind the action made at Philadelphia on the 2d of July, and at Cresson on the 9th of August, and recommended the Democracy of Pennsylvania to stand by the electoral ticket made at Reading on the 1st of March. Amendments recommending a conference with the Bell and Everett, and Douglas parties were rejected.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 13.—At the Breckinridge barbecue, near Winchester, Ky., yesterday, a young man named West, being prevented by Mr. Scott from rushing to the table reserved for the ladies, fired a pistol at Scott, which took effect in the face of Miss Emma Hickman. A mob attempted three times to hang West, but the Sheriff prevailed upon them to deliver him into his custody. West was taken to Winchester jail.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The Prince's Ball did not open last night till 12 o'clock, owing to the breaking down of a portion of the flooring which necessitated the playing of the "Anvil Chorus" by a gang of carpenters. The Prince opened the ball with Mrs. Gov. Morgan. He next danced with Mrs. Hoyt, daughter of Gen. Scott. The ball was a magnificent success.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Henry Lowe, an alleged forger of over one hundred thousand dollars in notes of the Continental Bank of Barbadoes, two years since, was arrested last evening.

ROBBERY OF THE LYNN POST OFFICE.—Lynn, Oct. 15.—The Post Office at this place was broken into last night, and all the letters, money and postage stamps were stolen.

SNOW STORM.—New York, Oct. 15.—Three inches of snow fell at Binghampton last night. There was also a fall of snow at Pottsville, N. Y.

NAVAL.—A board of commissioners have examined the U. S. ships at several Naval Stations, to see which of them are fit to be altered into steamers.

At Boston, the Vermont, ship-of-the-line that never went to sea; Virginia, 74, never launched; and the Ohio, if sound, are fit. The Vincennes is not.

One of the Commissioners speaks thus of the vessels at this station.

At Portsmouth.—The old (or new) liner Alabama was brought under our notice a short time after our arrival at Kittery, Me., (adjoining Portsmouth, N. H.,) and we left not a crevice of the craft unexamined. She has been 42 years on the stocks, notwithstanding which we concluded to recommend her being worth converting. She will make a splendid steamer of the first class. The Franklin also received due attention from us; and we decided in a very short time to "pass" her. The vessel was, once before recommended for conversion; and operations were commenced on her, but were never completed. She is the most "likely" to turn out well of any yet overhauled. The Cumberland, Dale and Macedonian were considered as fit to be made steamers of. The Santee, a frigate never sent to sea yet, caused some discussion; but will never, I presume, be propelled by steam.

In regard to the Franklin, on the stocks at the Navy Yard on this station,—she is substantially a new and excellent ship, which could be launched with dispatch and at small cost,—needing very little re-modelling or converting.

At New York, the North Carolina will "pass" muster, but the Potomac, Vandalia, and Brandywine, will not.

An additional number of men were taken on at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, on the 2d inst., for the purpose of refitting the U. S. sloop-of-war Vandalia, orders having been received some time since to make such necessary repairs on vessels in ordinary as to prevent decay and enable them, at a moment's warning, to be ready for active service.

At Philadelphia, the St. Lawrence, Jamestown, and Saratoga, are good vessels, but not fit for conversion.

At Norfolk the Delaware and New York are to be altered, the Pennsylvania and Columbus if sound. The Columbia, Raritan, and Germantown, frigates, are rejected.

The New Orleans, 74, at Sackett's Harbor, has not yet been passed, but doubtless will be.

THE WEATHER at the Nashua Muster was glorious enough—though at times "the face of the sky" seemed to indicate rain. The Statesman reporter says:

When we left Concord Thursday morning, dark clouds were drifting up from the South, and, as there had already been a slight fall of rain, it seemed as if the Encampment was likely to experience but a repetition of the weather which frowned on the recent visit of the Horse Guards to Portsmouth, and which, it is said, caused our "army to swear terribly in Flanders." The narrow disc of the old moon was floating along over these clouds like an egg-shell at sea, and when now and then a little star peeped out through a friendly loop-hole, its ray was as fluttering, though as welcome as the brief light of a candle in a lonely lane in the country; but, in spite of these threats from unfriendly weather-sprites, at this moment of writing it seems not too presumptuous to expect two days of favoring sky.

VETERANS.—Among the entries of working horses, at the late New Hampshire State Fair, was Gen. Riddle's old "Whitey" of Manchester, thirty-eight years old. The General has driven him twenty-eight years, and says it is hard to make him stand now. He attracted a great deal of attention, and to satisfy the curious, was driven around the track once, (half mile) in just three minutes.

Mr. P. J. Goodrich of this city, drives a horse which he says is thirty-nine years old; and which works in a job wagon all the time, and can't easily be beat at work now by animals of his size.

THE COSMOPOLITAN ART ASSOCIATION have issued their engraving for the present year. It is from Schrodter, an eminent Dusseldorf artist—"Falstaff Mustering his Recruits"; and the engraver has been engaged upon it for three years, and has executed it almost entirely in line. It is, without doubt, one of the best line-engravings ever produced in this country. The picture itself is an admirable conception of the scene between Falstaff and his Recruits.—The witty and weighty knight is receiving his ragged and wretched followers in Master Swallow's office, and the representation of all parties is as excellent in spirit as it is perfect in drawing and faithful in details. A $3 subscription to the engraving carries with it one copy of The Art Journal for a year. Frank W. Miller is Secretary, at the Chronicle Office.

THE JOURNAL OF AGRICULTURE, published a Daily report during the State Fair, and appeared promptly at the close of the Fair, with an admirable and very complete report of all the doings of the occasion.—The Journal deserves a generous support.

THE MANCHESTER MIRROR—one of the three Dailies of New Hampshire, and rather the smartest sheet for news in the State—has donned a new suit of elegant type. Success to all the little Dailies.

THE QUAKERS ARE OUT.

[Selected for the Chronicle, and published by request of a Republican lady correspondent.]

Not vainly we waited and counted the hours,
The buds of our hope have burst out into flowers.
No room for misgiving—no loop-hole for doubt—
We've heard from the Keystone! The Quakers are out!

The plot has exploded—we've found out the trick;
The bribe goes a begging; the fusion won't stick.
When the Wide-Awake lanterns are shining about,
The rogues stay at home and the true men come out!

The good State has broken the cords for her spun;
Her oil springs and water won't fuse into one;
The Dutchman has seasoned with Freedom his krout,
And slow, late, but certain, the Quakers are out.

Give the flags to the winds!—set the hills all aflame
Make way for the man with the patriarch's name!
Away with misgiving—away with all doubt!
For Lincoln goes in when the Quakers come out

A GOOD INVESTMENT.—Not very long ago three distinguished gentlemen happened in a Southern city, on a visit of pleasure, and as is sometimes the case, expended more money than they expected, and were compelled to write for funds to get away. While waiting they "clubbed together," and went out and purchased a lottery ticket for $20. They left, and forgot all about their venture, until a knowing person called upon one of the trio, (a member of Congress,) and offered $10,000 for his third interest. The M. C. "smelt a rat," and declined. Another one was waited upon with the same result. Upon inquiry, it was found that they had drawn the Capital Prize, and received $60,000. Upon his $20,000, one of the party (Private Secretary of an Ex President) established a banking business in the South West, and is now wealthy. If the reader will remit $2.50, $5, $10, or $20, to Messrs. WOOD, EDDY & Co., of Wilmington, Delaware, or St. Louis, Missouri, for a part of their legalized Lotteries, he will have a similar chance.

KINGSTON, March 10, 1841.—"This may certify that my son has had a tumor which made its appearance when he was but a few days old; and it grew wore, causing large swellings and running sores. He has been cured by the use of Dr. Swett's Panacea and Humor Wash."

T. CURRIER.

Hundreds of testimonials on hand might be added, evincing the many cures by Dr. Swett's medicine. All orders directed to DR. SIMEON SWETT, PORTSMOUTH, N. H., No. 1 School St., for his Panacea, Cough Drops, Conserve, Rheumatic Compound and Family Pills, and others of his popular remedies, will be promptly attended to.

A CARD.

The Officers and Staff of the City Phalanx desire to return thanks to the gentlemen who provided them the excellent complimentary Dinner at the Rockingham House, on their return from the State Encampment at Nashua.

ATWOOD'S QUININE TONIC BITTERS,

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and indorsement of most of the leading physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonic and stomachic s, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhœa, cholera morbus, and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "that it is the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

Bronchitis.—This sure forerunner of Consumption can be instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron & Sulphur Powders. The Olive Tar allays pain and heals soreness and inflammation, and the Iron & Sulphur Powders convert the waste or worn out particles of the blood into gases, which are ejected from the body by the pores instead of being deposited as Phlegm. The testimonials of many prominent and well-known persons are contained in a pamphlet, which will be sent free by mail to any address. See advertisement in this paper.

FOR SORE, WEAK, INFLAMED EYES AND EYELIDS!

A true specific, and invaluable remedy has been at last discovered. Dr. Humphreys argues that these affections invariably result from a constitutional disease, of which the local affection is the only outward manifestation. Hence, DR. HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMŒOPATHIC OPHTHALMIA PILLS are only taken internally, and yet cure the worst forms of obstinate sore eyes and eyelids, which have resisted all other treatment. All cases of sore and inflamed eyelids, or failing, weak or defective sight, will be promptly benefitted, and the cure of the worst cases is only a question of time.

Price, 50 cents, with directions.

Sent by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price.

Address, DR F. HUMPHREYS & CO.,

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

This remedy has long been cherished by the community for its remarkable efficacy in relieving, healing and curing the most obstinate, painful and long standing cases of Cough, Influenza, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Inflammation of the Lungs; while even Consumption itself has yielded to its magic influence when all other means have failed. Its whole history proves that the past has produced no remedy of equal value, as a cure for the numerous and dangerous pulmonary affections which prevail all over the land.

From the Editor of the Portsmouth (N. H.) Journal, Aug. 11, 1860.

WISTAR'S BALSAM.—There are but few medicines of which we express an opinion from personal knowledge. Among such we place prominently WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which should always be kept on hand. It is an excellent medicine not only for Coughs and Colds, but also for neuralgic affections. We have known suffering from the nerves of the stomach effectually relieved by its soothing influence when other medicine has been ineffectually used.

From a highly respectable Merchant.

FALMOUTH, ME., Aug. 10, 1858.

MESSRS. S. W. FOWLE & CO.,—

Gents:—For a long time I have suffered more or less with that distressing affliction—Pulmonary Consumption, and have resorted to various remedies, but to no purpose as affording the desired relief. Deprived of my sleep by cough, and evident that I was fast sinking down under it, I resorted to DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY with but little confidence as to its curative properties, but the use of one bottle has entirely rid me of this monster; and to the public I can safely commend it as every worthy the confidence. Most respectfully, S. I. MERRILL.

INSPIRATION OF OPPORTUNITY.

Messrs. Editors:—I am astonished that the attentive correspondent "S. B." does not notice the variety of skins that leave Portsmouth every week to be tanned in Exeter, Danvers, &c.; but it would require a long column to recite all that is not done here, that might be done. For my part I am old-fogy enough to believe that we don't even hold our own, but are going astern. Yesterday I learned that a prominent manufacturer who gives employment to many families was contemplating the removal of his business from Portsmouth. Now, is it not the duty of every one to ascertain the cause of our present lack of enterprise and to devise a remedy? There are many among us who have come from abroad and began with nothing, and since grown to be persons of wealth; but this has resulted from mercantile business and from manufactures, and about all the manufacturing that is carried on to-day in Portsmouth is done by those who have come here from abroad and succeeded here. Now why cannot others succeed as well. Let our young men in that capital leave off talking about "the Banks and rich men being a curse to the city and never helping any one." Let them make "success a duty." Take for example the firm of Allen & Paine. They now have a trade extending through the entire South and West, and begin to fill the orders they have for the articles they make. The origin of this business was from the simple cutting of a ladies' cloak, from a pattern by one of the firm, after the sale of the materials and, it grew to a large trade. No banks opened their coffers to them. No rich man cared for them unless they had a check or note that was as good as their money. They made "success a duty," and left Portsmouth after coming here from abroad and showing that money could be made in manufacturing articles here with the aid of industry, talent and economy.

Any one can succeed in Portsmouth if he manages rightly. Only start aright, and then, as the Daily Chronicle did, live down the croakers; and soon those who predicted a failure, will be the loudest in commendation of the enterprise that always is rewarded by success. B. AWL.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

The trial term of this Court commences in this city to-day before Judge Doe. There are three hundred and ninety civil actions upon the continued docket, and twenty-seven State actions.

In the trial of indictment against Richard S. Richardson and Sarah Ann Healey for murder of Stephen Healey at Auburn, Hon. Saml D. Bell, Chief Justice of the Court will be present. It is understood that Mrs. Healey is to be defended by D. M. Christie and B. P. Cilley, Esqs., and Richardson has for counsel W. H. Y. Hackett, Esq., of this city and Wm. C. Clark, Esq., of Manchester.

☞ Uncle Sam has at last moved his Post Office up opposite the Chronicle Office, where it ought to be—and all the people are delighted with the change, including the Chroniclers themselves.

The fine spacious room in the rear of the Chronicle Counting Room, (Exchange Hall, for twenty years or more a music room,) same entrance with our office, is also to let, affording an opportunity for somebody else to get into a good neighborhood.

☞ Capt. Winder, U. S. A., who has been waiting orders in this city, on Monday received orders to proceed at once to Fort Columbus, to take charge of recruits for San Francisco.

☞ At Camp Goodwin, Nashua, the Reporters for the Press were attentively looked after by Capt. H. M. Goodrich, Aid to Col. Gage, the Commander, who had them in charge and bountifully provided them with refreshments, lodgings, and facilities for reporting. The Boston press was represented in the Reporters' tent by Bradley of the Journal, Tilleston of the Herald, Mason of the Traveller, Bosson of the Courier, and others.

From New Hampshire we found Henry McFarland of the Concord Statesman, B. F. Stanton of the Manchester American, and a Manchester Mirror reporter; Gen. Towle of the Lebanon Whig, Geo, G. Fogg, of the Concord Independent Democrat; J. H. Thompson for N. H. Gazette; and last, but by no means least, Maj. Beard, of the Nashua Telegraph,—to whose fraternal attentions, and the hospitality and courtesies of his most interesting family, the junior of the Chronicle is indebted, for very greatly enhancing the comfort and pleasure of his late delightful visit to Nashua.

The writer of this was also glad to find another disciple of the quill, temporarily wielding the sword, and filling the saddle and uniform of an officer of the Horse Guards, of which he was one of the original members—Maj. Henry O. Kent, late Clerk of the N. H. House of Representatives.

☞ The Sullivan Guards from Exeter, with the Exeter Cornet Band, were expected to return Friday night—and a large company of students and others marched to the Academy to receive them. But they, like the Portsmouth company, were obliged to remain till Saturday morning; and in the afternoon a Company of citizens and another of students of Exeter, came out and gave a reception to the Guards; and with the Exeter Band, marched about the town, —winding up the excursion in good style.

In Portsmouth, it was also supposed that the City Phalanx would come home late Friday night; and had it been known that this fine company, with the Band, and the Horse Guards, would arrive on Saturday—the Phalanx without having time for breakfast before leaving Nashua—our patriotic citizens would have had a complimentary dinner ready for them when they arrived. As it was, there was only time to provide for the officers—which, as a card in another place shows, was handsomely done.

☞ Speaking of the controverted "spring" on the C. & P. Railroad, the Concord Statesman says, "This well of water has made about as much rumpus as the old well in Gerah, for which the herdmen of Abraham and Abimelech disputed." Yes, and finally good authorities have stated that there is no spring there at all, but only a vein of water, which passes first through the Aqueduct Co.'s land.

☞ We learn that a schooner loaded with lumber, went ashore on Whale's Back, about a gun-shot east of the Light, on Sunday night, and is now lying on the rocks. Vessels from Newcastle were taking off the cargo on Monday.

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART.
FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING, LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER
AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,
FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL
Improved in 1859 with Now and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.
Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:
DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.
CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.
ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.
VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.
ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.
THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.
BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.
HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.
WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.
Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stew art is on each stove. No other is genuine.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1860.

MR. YANCEY IN BOSTON.

Mr. Yancey, the great pro-slavery orator, has spoken in Faneuil Hall, being molested by no one, and interrupted only by Douglas democrats. The fact that in the slave States, no such freedom of anti-slavery speech exists, is itself a condemnation of the institution.

As Mr. Yancey speaks in New Hampshire this week, some items about his Faneuil Hall speech may interest the reader.

Faneuil Hall was thronged; and among the throng there were quite a large number of leading Republicans; the majority, however, were Douglas men, as the result of the meeting fully indicated.

Gen. Whitney, as President, made a brief address. In speaking of the great question before the people, the speaker was interrupted by hisses, and drowning cheers. He soon closed, when Hon. Wm. L. Yancey was introduced and received with loud cheers accompanied by hisses from Douglas democrats.

The tumult for a moment was tempestuous. Mr. Yancey was twice stopped by the noise,—but went on.

He thought that because our forefathers signed a compact between the States recognizing slavery, that it should still be recognized. This was dwelt upon at great length. He attempted to show that the South had aided in giving us free States. He was in favor of the Union as long as the Constitution was not violated, but if the hand of the North was not taken from the southern institutions then there will be resistance, and he thought the South would take care of itself. Let there be an equal chance, said he, and we will fight it out, letting the best win. It was maintained that the South gives a great support to the North, and a vague theory was advanced to prove that the slaves must be kept in bondage in order to give the price of their support to the free States.

This theory was undertaken to be substantiated by saying that if the slaves were free they would go comparatively naked, and then the North would be deprived of the price of their clothing.

Mr. Yancey, in the course of his remarks, said his slaves were treated in the best manner. This was part of his argument in favor of the "institution."

A feeble attempt was twice made to show the evil that would attend the election of Mr. Lincoln.

He characterized Mr. Douglas's popular sovereignty as one of the wildest humbugs. Upon this three cheers were called for Mr. Douglas, and the hall resounded with deafening cheers and enthusiasm.

The Atlas, makes the following remarks on Mr. Yancey's speech.

Faneuil Hall has echoed to his voice, and what is it? In Georgia, in Alabama, in South Carolina, Lincoln's election was to be the signal for a grand "bust up." In New York, however, he was going to wait for an attempt at coercion by Mr. Lincoln. Georgia was to wait till the first act of oppression was commenced. Then Georgia was to raise the standard of sovereignty, and Mr. Y. was to fly to that standard. Here he tapered off still more. * * Now, it is a great pity that we couldn't hear in Boston the same sentiments expressed by Yancey in Georgia. But Yancey tapered off.

He was for the Union unless some overt act was committed. Now nobody supposes that Lincoln is going to march a standing army to the South to free the slaves. Yancey don't, and if he says so, if he is reported to have said so, he knows it is nonsense. * * He talks rank treason at the South, but everybody knows that, God be praised, to talk treason is no offence under the written law of the United States, or in fact in the Republic, except where Judge Lynch presides. He talks Union saving at the North, provided that no invasion of sovereignty is made.

SUNDAY WORK OF WILKIE.—The London Art Journal tells this amusing anecdote of the great painter:

Wilkie, when a professional artist, never painted upon a Sunday, and the writer of this article never saw the palette on his thumb on that day but once, and on his inquiring the reason for thus breaking thro' the rule. "Well, you see," replied Wilkie, "this is a public character, and can only be spared from his duties on a Sunday." He was the monkey belonging to the Exeter 'Change menagerie, and whose portrait Wilkie has handed down to posterity, sitting on the boy's shoulder in the picture of "The Parish Beadle," now in the National Gallery, bequeathed by Lord Colborne.

☞ A correspondent of the N. Y. Times is very severe upon Mr. Gough the temperance reformer, speaking of his "empty and loud-mouthed egotism," and of some of his sayings and doings as cruel mockeries and transparent shame. The writer appears to be terribly in earnest. Another correspondent warmly defends Mr. Gough.

☞ Mr. John Batchelder, of Raymond, whose age is 89, and the oldest person in town, mowed, as a regular worker in the late hay season. Mr. Daniel Tilton, of the same town, whose age is 87, was also seen swinging the scythe in his field. Where are the young men who have thought labor on the farm rather degrading?

☞ The files of newspapers of the late Gov. William Plumer, of this State, have recently been added to the Boston Athenæum. They consist of seventy volumes, and commence in 1772, and extend to 1841.

FROM CALIFORNIA AND THE ISTHMUS. New York, Oct. 14.—Steamship North Star, from Aspinwall, arrived last night, with $1,970,000 in specie from California, the shipment per John L. Stephens and Uncle Sam.

The John L. Stephens broke her machinery near Acapulca, and was towed into that port by the sloop-of-war Cyane. Her passengers and specie were transfered to the Uncle Sam.

The California dates are to Sept. 21.

All is orderly on the Isthmus. The American and British forces are in joint possession, but will probably soon be withdrawn.

The forces of ex-President Mora had been beaten by the Costa Rican Government troops. Mora, General Canas and others were shot, and the revolution terminated.

The steamer Granada had arrived at Valparaiso and sailed for San Francisco.

Lieut. Wilkins died on board the Cyane.

The John L. Stephens has gone back to San Francisco in tow of the Golden Gate.

☞ The Great Falls Advertiser says there is no town in this vicinity, if in the State, that has made such rapid progress as has our neighboring town of Rochester, within the space of five years. Previous to that time the town was noted for its wealth, intelligence and penuriousness. What little was done was at large profits and long credits. The people had got into an old fogy way of doing business, and it seemed as though they would always remain so; but as there is an end to almost everything that is not perfectly round, there was end to that way of doing business.

☞ A boy of 12 years, son of Samuel Peavy of Exeter, had his leg broken by the kick of an ox last Thursday. Dr. Vinal, also of Exeter, fell 15 feet from an apple tree, and broke two of his ribs.

☞ The Annual Report of the Great Falls and Conway Railroad is just published, and shows that the income of the Road pays all expenses, and also meets the interest on the first and second mortgage bonds, amounting to $200,000.

☞ At the recent State Fair at Manchester, Daniel D. Perkins, of Newmarket, received $73 for premiums on the products of his excellent farm. His premiums are the largest awarded to any exhibitor.

☞ It is reported that Hon. N. B. Bryant, of Concord, has formed a business connection with a lawyer of Boston, and will soon commence the practice of his profession in that city.

☞ Sixty long car loads of cattle and sheep, for Cambridge and Brighton, came over the Montreal R. R., on Monday night last, via Concord.

COINCIDENCE.—The Prince of Wales was received in New York on the anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus.

☞ Messrs. Head, Jewell & C., of Exeter, have many orders from Australia, for their excellent covered carriages.

THE SLAVER "CITY OF NORFOLK."—New York, Oct. 13.—The steamer De Soto arrived last night from Havana 8th.

The slave steamer "City of Norfolk" landed eight hundred Africans. She was then headed seaward and abandoned with full steam on, the valves were cut and feed pipes left open, with the expectation that she would founder, but the current sent her ashore near Sirra Norena, where a Spanish war vessel discovered her and five hundred negroes and the crew. The remainder had been disposed of. The American officer and crew were sent to Key West by the American Consul on the Crusader.

FUSION IN PENNSYLVANIA.—Reading, Oct. 12.—The regular Democratic State Committee met to-day and resolved to rescind the action made at Philadelphia on the 2d of July, and at Cresson on the 9th of August, and recommended the Democracy of Pennsylvania to stand by the electoral ticket made at Reading on the 1st of March. Amendments recommending a conference with the Bell and Everett, and Douglas parties were rejected.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 13.—At the Breckinridge barbecue, near Winchester, Ky., yesterday, a young man named West, being prevented by Mr. Scott from rushing to the table reserved for the ladies, fired a pistol at Scott, which took effect in the face of Miss Emma Hickman. A mob attempted three times to hang West, but the Sheriff prevailed upon them to deliver him into his custody. West was taken to Winchester jail.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The Prince's Ball did not open last night till 12 o'clock, owing to the breaking down of a portion of the flooring which necessitated the playing of the "Anvil Chorus" by a gang of carpenters. The Prince opened the ball with Mrs. Gov. Morgan. He next danced with Mrs. Hoyt, daughter of Gen. Scott. The ball was a magnificent success.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Henry Lowe, an alleged forger of over one hundred thousand dollars in notes of the Continental Bank of Barbadoes, two years since, was arrested last evening.

ROBBERY OF THE LYNN POST OFFICE.—Lynn, Oct. 15.—The Post Office at this place was broken into last night, and all the letters, money and postage stamps were stolen.

SNOW STORM.—New York, Oct. 15.—Three inches of snow fell at Binghampton last night. There was also a fall of snow at Pottsville, N. Y.

NAVAL.—A board of commissioners have examined the U. S. ships at several Naval Stations, to see which of them are fit to be altered into steamers.

At Boston, the Vermont, ship-of-the-line that never went to sea; Virginia, 74, never launched; and the Ohio, if sound, are fit. The Vincennes is not.

One of the Commissioners speaks thus of the vessels at this station.

At Portsmouth.—The old (or new) liner Alabama was brought under our notice a short time after our arrival at Kittery, Me., (adjoining Portsmouth, N. H.,) and we left not a crevice of the craft unexamined. She has been 42 years on the stocks, notwithstanding which we concluded to recommend her being worth converting. She will make a splendid steamer of the first class. The Franklin also received due attention from us; and we decided in a very short time to "pass" her. The vessel was, once before recommended for conversion; and operations were commenced on her, but were never completed. She is the most "likely" to turn out well of any yet overhauled. The Cumberland, Dale and Macedonian were considered as fit to be made steamers of. The Santee, a frigate never sent to sea yet, caused some discussion; but will never, I presume, be propelled by steam.

In regard to the Franklin, on the stocks at the Navy Yard on this station,—she is substantially a new and excellent ship, which could be launched with dispatch and at small cost,—needing very little re-modelling or converting.

At New York, the North Carolina will "pass" muster, but the Potomac, Vandalia, and Brandywine, will not.

An additional number of men were taken on at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, on the 2d inst., for the purpose of refitting the U. S. sloop-of-war Vandalia, orders having been received some time since to make such necessary repairs on vessels in ordinary as to prevent decay and enable them, at a moment's warning, to be ready for active service.

At Philadelphia, the St. Lawrence, Jamestown, and Saratoga, are good vessels, but not fit for conversion.

At Norfolk the Delaware and New York are to be altered, the Pennsylvania and Columbus if sound. The Columbia, Raritan, and Germantown, frigates, are rejected.

The New Orleans, 74, at Sackett's Harbor, has not yet been passed, but doubtless will be.

THE WEATHER at the Nashua Muster was glorious enough—though at times "the face of the sky" seemed to indicate rain. The Statesman reporter says:

When we left Concord Thursday morning, dark clouds were drifting up from the South, and, as there had already been a slight fall of rain, it seemed as if the Encampment was likely to experience but a repetition of the weather which frowned on the recent visit of the Horse Guards to Portsmouth, and which, it is said, caused our "army to swear terribly in Flanders." The narrow disc of the old moon was floating along over these clouds like an egg-shell at sea, and when now and then a little star peeped out through a friendly loop-hole, its ray was as fluttering, though as welcome as the brief light of a candle in a lonely lane in the country; but, in spite of these threats from unfriendly weather sprites, at this moment of writing it seems not too presumptuous to expect two days of favoring sky.

VETERANS.—Among the entries of working horses, at the late New Hampshire State Fair, was Gen. Riddle's old "Whitey" of Manchester, thirty-eight years old. The General has driven him twenty-eight years, and says it is hard to make him stand now. He attracted a great deal of attention, and to satisfy the curious, was driven around the track once, (half mile) in just three minutes.

Mr. P. J. Goodrich of this city, drives a horse which he says is thirty-nine years old; and which works in a job wagon all the time, and can't easily be beat at work now by animals of his size.

THE COSMOPOLITAN ART ASSOCIATION have issued their engraving for the present year. It is from Schrodter, an eminent Dusseldorf artist—"Falstaff Mustering his Recruits"; and the engraver has been engaged upon it for three years, and has executed it almost entirely in line. It is, without doubt, one of the best line-engravings ever produced in this country. The picture itself is an admirable conception of the scene between Falstaff and his Recruits.—The witty and weighty knight is receiving his ragged and wretched followers in Master Swallow's office, and the representation of all parties is as excellent in spirit as it is perfect in drawing and faithful in details. A $3 subscription to the engraving carries with it one copy of The Art Journal for a year. Frank W. Miller is Secretary, at the Chronicle Office.

THE JOURNAL OF AGRICULTURE, published a Daily report during the State Fair, and appeared promptly at the close of the Fair, with an admirable and very complete report of all the doings of the occasion.—The Journal deserves a generous support.

THE MANCHESTER MIRROR—one of the three Dailies of New Hampshire, and rather the smartest sheet for news in the State—has donned a new suit of elegant type. Success to all the little Dailies.

THE QUAKERS ARE OUT.

[Selected for the Chronicle, and published by request of a Republican lady correspondent.]

Not vainly we waited and counted the hours,
The buds of our hope have burst out into flowers.
No room for misgiving—no loop-hole for doubt—
We've heard from the Keystone! The Quakers are out!

The plot has exploded—we've found out the trick;
The bribe goes a begging; the fusion won't stick.
When the Wide-Awake lanterns are shining about,
The rogues stay at home and the true men come out!

The good State has broken the cords for her spun;
Her oil-springs and water won't fuse into one;
The Dutchman has seasoned with Freedom his krout,
And slow, late, but certain, the Quakers are out.

Give the flags to the winds!—set the hills all aflame
Make way for the man with the patriarch's name!
Away with misgiving—away with all doubt!
For Lincoln goes in when the Quakers come out

A GOOD INVESTMENT.—Not very long ago three distinguished gentlemen happened in a Southern city, on a visit of pleasure, and as is sometimes the case, expended more money than they expected, and were compelled to write for funds to get away. While waiting they "clubbed together," and went out and purchased a lottery ticket for $20. They left, and forgot all about their venture, until a knowing person called upon one of the trio, (a member of Congress,) and offered $10,000 for his third interest. The M. C. "smelt a rat," and declined. Another one was waited upon with the same result. Upon inquiry, it was found that they had drawn the Capital Prize, and received $60,000. Upon his $20,000, one of the parties (Private Secretary of an Ex-President) established a banking business in the South West, and is now wealthy. If the reader will remit $2.50, $5, $10, or $20, to Messrs. WOOD, EDDY & Co., of Wilmington, Delaware, or St. Louis, Missouri, for a part of their legalized Lotteries, he will have a similar chance.

KINGSTON, March 10, 1841.—"This may certify that my son has had a humor which made its appearance when he was but a few days old; and it grew worse, causing large swellings and running sores. He has been cured by the use of Dr. Swett's Panacea and Humor Wash."

T. CURRIER.

Hundreds of testimonials on hand might be added, evincing the many cures by Dr. Swett's medicine. All orders directed to DR. SIMEON SWETT, PORTSMOUTH, N. H., No. 1 School St., for his Panacea, Cough Drops, Consumptive, Rheumatic Compound and Family Pills, and others of his popular remedies, will be promptly attended to.

A CARD.

The Officers and Staff of the City Phalanx desire to return thanks to the gentlemen who provided them the excellent complimentary Dinner at the Rockingham House, on their return from the State Encampment at Nashua.

ATWOOD'S QUININE TONIC BITTERS,

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonic and stomachic s, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "that it is the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

Bronchitis.—This sure forerunner of Consumption can be instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron & Sulphur Powders. The Olive Tar allays pain and heals soreness an inflammation, and the Iron & Sulphur Powders convert the waste or worn out particles of the blood into gases, which are ejected from the body by the pores instead of being deposited as Phlegm. The testimonials of many prominent and well-known persons are contained in a pamphlet, which will be sent free by mail to any address. See advertisement in this paper.

FOR SORE, WEAK, INFLAMED EYES AND EYELIDS!

A true specific, and invaluable remedy has been at last discovered. Dr. Humphreys argues that these affections invariably result from a constitutional disease, of which the local affection is the only outward manifestation. Hence, DR. HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC OPHTHALMIA PILLS are only taken internally, and yet cure the worst forms of obstinate sore eyes and eyelids, which have resisted all other treatment. All cases of sore and inflamed eyelids, of failing, weak or defective sight, will be promptly benefitted, and the cure of the worst cases is only a question of time.

Price, 50 cents, with directions.

Sent by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price.

Address, DR F. HUMPHREYS & CO.,
562 Broadway, New York.

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

This remedy has long been cherished by the community for its remarkable efficacy in relieving, healing and curing the most obstinate, painful and long standing cases of Cough, Cold, Influenza, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Inflammation of the Lungs; while even Consumption itself has yielded to its magic influence when all other means have failed. Its whole history proves that the past has produced no remedy of equal value, as a cure for the numerous and dangerous pulmonary affections which prevail all over the land.

From the Editor of the Portsmouth (N. H.) Journal, Aug. 11, 1860.

WISTAR'S BALSAM.—There are but few medicines of which we can express an opinion from personal knowledge. Among such we place prominently WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which should always be kept on hand. It is an excellent medicine not only for Coughs and Colds, but also for neuralgic affections. We have known suffering from the nerves of the stomach effectually relieved by its soothing influence when other medicine has been ineffectually used.

From a highly respectable Merchant.

FALMOUTH, ME., Aug. 10, 1858.

Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & CO.,—

Gents:—For a long time I have suffered more or less with that distressing affliction—Pulmonary in its worst forms, and have resorted to various so called remedies, but to no purpose as affording the desired relief. Deprived of my sleep by reason of the severity of the disease, it was only evident that I was fast sinking down under it. I resorted to DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY with but little confidence as to its curative properties, but the use of one bottle has entirely rid me of this monster; and to the public I can safely commend it as every worthy their confidence. Most respfully, S. L. MERRILL.

ONE OF NAPOLEON'S OLD SOLDIERS MURDERED FOR HIS MONEY.—The bodies of an old man named George Hauk, and his wife, residing near Marian, Ind., were a few mornings ago, found amid the ruins of their dwelling, which had been consumed during the night. The Shelbyville Banner says:—

An inquest over the remains of the bodies revealed the fact that the old people were the victims of a cold-blooded murder. The old man was totally consumed, but the upper portion of the body of his wife was covered with a large quantity of brick from the chimney, which protected that portion of her body from the fire. He throat was found to be cut, her chest cloven with a sharp instrument, and her skull broken in.

An axe and hatchet, with the handles burnt off, were found near the bodies, and there were evidences of a severe struggle. They were known to be in possession of a considerable sum of money, all of which the assassins secured, except about $355 which was concealed among the wheat in the loft, in a tin coffee-pot, and which remained covered up and was preserved.—The perpetrators were doubtless aware that these people had money, and after securing it set the house on fire to destroy the evidence of the foul and atrocious deed.—Mr. Hauk was a German by birth, served seven years in Bonaparte's army, was in Spain under Marshal Ney, fought battles in Italy, and traversed the whole continent of Europe to Moscow as an infantay soldier. He was about seventy-nine years of age, and his wife but a few years younger.

☞ How long before people will learn a fabric need not be of foreign make to be good in quality. The Commercial Bulletin says that at the St. Nicholas Hotel, New York, two distingue ladies appeared at the breakfast table with what they supposed to be beautiful French calico wrappers. A mutural acquaintance in conversation remarked that he was astonished at the improvement made in American prints of late years, enforcing his remarks by calling the attention of the two ladies to the quality of their dresses. "Oh! these are French!"—they exclaimed. "I assure you madames," said the imperturbable gentleman, "that your dresses are Manchester (New Hampshire) prints!" The ladies did not faint, but their French prints passed into the hands of the chambermaid.

ORIGIN OF ALMANACS.—Vestegan, alluding to our ancient Saxon ancestors, says: "They used to engrave upon certain squared sticks, about a foot in length, the courses of the moon of the whole year, whereby they could certainly tell when the new moons, the full moons, and the change should happen, as also their festival days; and such a carved stick they called an almond aght; that is to say 'al-mon-bed;' to wit, the regard or observation of all the moons; and hence is derived the name of almanac." After the invention of printing, almanacs became generally in use. The first recorded account in England of an almanac is in the year book of Henry the Seventh.

Whittling, says Quilp, is by no means a Yankee invention. According to a Roman historian, named Ælian, it was the principal amusement of the Persian Kings more than a thousand years ago; though there is, of course, no doubt the Yankees have made great improvements in the art. Ælian says of one of the Persian monarchs, "that he might agreeably while away his leisure hours, he carried in his hand branches of birch, and therewithal a knife wherewith he did cut off sprigs from the stalk, and hewed the rest into little thin slices." Regular whittling, you see. But the modern whittler knows that pine is better than birch, and so enjoys his luxury far more than the royal Oriental.

M. Abbodie, a learned French traveller, declares the complexion of the human race to be so entirely dependent on the mode of nourishment, that he has beheld in Nubia, whole races of negroes who, from the entire use of animal food, present as fine a carnation as the inhabitants of Southern Europe. In Algeria it has long been the subject of remark, that the butchers, generally negroes of Kalu, are as fair in complexion as the European settlers, although still preserving their woolly hair.

You see not only single specimens, but whole ranks of the dwarfed, insect class of men, patting each other on the shoulder, registering each other and speaking of each other as "our first men," "our largest men," "our influential men," "our strong men;" and yet if you were to take away from them that of which the grave will divest them, you could not find them even with a microscope!—Kennebec Journal.

A Frenchman, intending to compliment a young lady by calling her a gentle lamb, said, "She is one mutton as is small."

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metal in sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.
The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

New Photographic Establishment.
Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.
The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him: and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.
All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.
Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my milky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your Restorative. The effective, which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had a beautiful head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all cases; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper: A gentleman of this place, (a boy,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; you have to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three size viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ RON'T M. DEWITT, of New York, has published the Revelations of a Slave Smuggler; being the Autobiography of Capt. Richard Drake, an American trader for fifty years, from 1807 to '57.—With a preface by his executor, Rev. Henry Byrd West, of the Protestant Home Mission. It is a pamphlet of 100 close pages, with illustrations horrible enough to chill the blood, and stories wild and wonderful, interwoven with the threads of a wretched life.

☞ One thousand men are employed in the United States in the manufacture of sewing machine needles, and the profits on them amount to nearly $300,000 a year. Since the introduction of the sewing machine, the sale of spool cotton has increased to the extent of more than a million and a half dollars annually.

☞ Victor Emanuel, according to a recent rumor from Italy, is again to be excommunicated, his name being this time specially mentioned in the Bull. The previous excommunication included all who favored the schemes against the Papal power, and if effectual, has, it is estimated, consigned no less than twelve million souls to perdition.

☞ James Williams, captain of schooner Hudson Hewitt, owned by Peter Loraine, of Rockland, having sold his cargo of mackerel at Portland, and received the proceeds of it, complained to the police that he had been robbed of his money, $273—but it was found in his own boots. The police arrested him on his own complaint.

VALUE OF KNOWLEDGE.—One of the agreeable consequences of knowledge is the respect and importance which it communicates to old age. Men rise in character often as they increase in years; they are venerable from what they have acquired, and pleasing from what they can impart.

A man passes for a sage if he seeks wisdom; if he thinks he has found it, he is a fool.

Humphreys' Homeopathic Specific Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision of Dr. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.
A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhœa, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dysentery, Cholera or many other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.
Herein those remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they have taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.
Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private practice, as being THE BEST IN USE, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.
Thousands are and have been using them for years five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among the hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

ZOLLICKOFFER'S
ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL,
A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF
INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA, AND LUMBAGO.

Hundreds of testimonials to the good result from the use of this Cordial could be offered—the following will suffice:

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 6, 1860.
I hereby certify that I have used a variety of preparations for the cure of Rheumatism, but have found none of them whose effect was so immediate and lasting as Zollickoffer's Anti-Rheumatic Cordial, and would advise all afflicted with that painful disease to give it a fair trial.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S
AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.
This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with unfailing success. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.
As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.
It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.
Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their constitutions shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!
Dose.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.
One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.
One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.
A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.
Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaint, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.
Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.
Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.
During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.
All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

CLIPPER PLOWS
Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been
THOROUGHLY TESTED
by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them
The Best in the Market!
These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.
We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."
Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE
PILLS OF IRON.

As aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.
The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all instances in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:
IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION & LOSS OF FLESH, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.
In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful in cases which defy description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world, if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Numerous very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated to a apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to all and exercise for which the physician has no name.
In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and in cases familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation is so prompt, so medicinally be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-stimulating, and can be regularly administered, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting alimentary scouring sensation.
It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.
In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most inveterate cases, including the attendant Costiveness.
In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, combined, lacerating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.
In the debilitating loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has attained the esteem of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.
In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.
The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.
In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, as alleviating pain and reducing the swelling and stiffness of the joints and muscles.
In SYPHILITIC DISEASES it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.
No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, decisive, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for action and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.
Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box. For sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

ONE OF NAPOLEON'S OLD SOLDIERS MURDERED FOR HIS MONEY.—The bodies of an old man named George Hauk, and his wife, residing near Marian, Ind., were a few mornings ago, found amid the ruins of their dwelling, which had been consumed during the night. The Shelbyville Banner says:—

An inquest over the remains of the bodies revealed the fact that the old people were the victims of a cold-blooded murder. The old man was totally consumed, but the upper portion of the body of his wife was covered with a large quantity of brick from the chimney, which protected that portion of her body from the fire. He throat was found to be cut, her chest cloven with a sharp instrument, and her skull broken in.

An axe and hatchet, with the handles burnt off, were found near the bodies, and there were evidences of a severe struggle. They were known to be in possession of a considerable sum of money, all of which the assassins secured, except about $355 which was concealed among the wheat in the loft, in a tin coffee-pot, and which remained covered up and was preserved.—The perpetrators were doubtless aware that these people had money, and after securing it set the house on fire to destroy the evidence of the foul and atrocious deed.—Mr. Hauk was a German by birth, served seven years in Bonaparte's army, was in Spain under Marshal Ney, fought battles in Italy, and traversed the whole continent of Europe to Moscow as an infantay soldier. He was about seventy-nine years of age, and his wife but a few years younger.

☞ How long before people will learn a fabric need not be of foreign make to be good in quality. The Commercial Bulletin says that at the St. Nicholas Hotel, New York, two distingue ladies appeared at the breakfast table with what they supposed to be beautiful French calico wrappers. A mutural acquaintance in conversation remarked that he was astonished at the improvement made in American prints of late years, enforcing his remarks by calling the attention of the two ladies to the quality of their dresses. "Oh! these are French!"—they exclaimed. "I assure you madames," said the imperturbable gentleman, "that your dresses are Manchester (New Hampshire) prints!" The ladies did not faint, but their French prints passed into the hands of the chambermaid.

ORIGIN OF ALMANACS.—Vestegan, alluding to our ancient Saxon ancestors, says: "They used to engrave upon certain squared sticks, about a foot in length, the courses of the moon of the whole year, whereby they could certainly tell when the new moons, the full moons, and the change should happen, as also their festival days; and such a carved stick they called an almond aght; that is to say 'al-mon-hed;' to wit, the regard or observation of all the moons; and hence is derived the name of almanac." After the invention of printing, almanacs became generally in use. The first recorded account in England of an almanac is in the year book of Henry the Seventh.

Whittling, says Quilp, is by no means a Yankee invention. According to a Roman historian, named Ælian, it was the principal amusement of the Persian Kings more than a thousand years ago; though there is, of course, no doubt the Yankees have made great improvements in the art. Ælian says of one of the Persian monarchs, "that he might agreeably while away his leisure hours, he carried in his hand branches of birch, and therewithal a knife wherewith he did cut off sprigs from the stalk, and hewed the rest into little thin slices." Regular whittling, you see. But the modern whittler knows that pine is better than birch, and so enjoys his luxury far more than the royal Oriental.

M. Abbodie, a learned French traveller, declares the complexion of the human race to be so entirely dependent on the mode of nourishment, that he has beheld in Nubia, whole races of negroes who, from the entire use of animal food, present as fine a carnation as the inhabitants of Southern Europe. In Algeria it has long been the subject of remark, that the butchers, generally negroes of Kalu, are as fair in complexion as the European settlers, although still preserving their woolly hair.

You see not only single specimens, but whole ranks of the dwarfed, insect class of men, patting each other on the shoulder, registering each other and speaking of each other as "our first men," "our largest men," "our influential men," "our strong men;" and yet if you were to take away from them that of which the grave will divest them, you could not find them even with a microscope!—Kennebec Journal.

A Frenchman, intending to compliment a young lady by calling her a gentle lamb, said, "She is one mutton as is small."

A little management may often evade resistance, which a vast force might vainly strive to overcome.

If laughter is the daylight of the soul, a smile is its twilight.

In order to deserve a true friend, we must learn first to be one.

Gratitude is the music of the heart when its chords are swept by kindness.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metal in the form of Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the object the desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.
The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to my prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and so other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor: Dear Sir—Feeling a pride, I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He commenced using the bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least three per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $6 a bottle.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1860.

HON. F. P. TRACY, who died at Louisville, N. Y., on the 10th inst., was a delegate to the Chicago Convention—chairman of the delegation from California. The Herald says he was well known in Newburyport, having formerly been a Methodist clergyman and stationed over the Purchase street society. Before that he preached in Boston; and afterwards in Lynn, Salem, and other places in Massachusetts. The Herald says:—

Mr. Tracy was a man of remarkable abilities—a man of genius, whose intellectual equal, when he was young, we do not remember to have met. As a public speaker he was fluent, eloquent, brilliant. Many persons will remember a sermon of his preached in Newburyport on the occasion of Lovejoy's martydom at Alton, which was afterwads published. He likewise wrote in poetry and prose with the greatest facility, elegance and power. Rev. Hosea Ballou—the father of Universalism in this quarter—had the proof of this in a discussion carried on in Zion's Herald, when Mr. Tracy had scarcely reached manhood; and Prof. Weeden of Middletown University will remember him as a disputant on "Biblical Slavery."

We were associated with him two years in editing a paper in New Hampshire—the first Liberty party paper in that State—which party he there founded with much labor and expense—to his pecuniary ruin—which sent Col. Joseph Cilley and John P. Hale to the United States Senate, and gave the foundation for the Republican party of to-day. He unmade himself, while he was making great men of a great many others who otherwise would have been of little consequence in the world. Perhaps this is the fate of most naturally—great men, who find brains for inferiors to speculate on.

Mr. Tracy's career in life was somewhat erratic, but always gave evidence of superior powers. He was a preacher at the age of seventeen, and when he was no more than twenty-one he ranked among the first pulpit orators in New England.—His genius, however, was not clerical, and he found it difficult to confine his studies to theology, and his action to ecclesiastical affairs.

About 1847 he bade farewell to the pulpit, and went to Europe. On returning to the United States he entered actively in politics, which proved no more beneficial to him than does politics generally to clergymen. In 1859 he followed the tide of adventurers to California, there he entered the practice of the law and speedily attained eminence at the bar. For a time he was Judge of one of the minor courts, and was also successful in accumulating wealth.

PLEURO-PNEUMONIA.—Seven head of young cattle were killed at Belmont, Mass., last week, belonging to Mr. Chenery's herd, under the direction of the Medical Commissioners. Of these animals two were found diseased. Four cattle were killed out of this same herd about a fortnight since, all of which were found to be diseased; and the Medical Commissioners recommend the extermination of the whole as indispensible to the safety of the community. Of the six animals found with degenerated lungs, four had never given any external evidence of the disease. The work of slaughter will be continued.

☞The Court of Appeals of New York, in session at Albany, has decided that there is no law in that State for punishing murder in the first degree at all! The law of last winter having abolished the only statute which defined the mode of punishment, no Court or other tribunal has any right to prescribe that mode.

☞ Mr. Wm. J. Brewster, formerly of Boston, who had just commenced teaching at the Academy in Marysville, Ala., was recently driven out of town with threats of violence, being suspected of Abolitionism, though he says he was careful to say nothing about slavery, pro or con.

☞ Peterson's Magazine for November has for a frontispiece "The First Pair of Pants," a maternal and juvenile scene. It has an illustrated article, Byron and Newstead Abbey and a good table of contents.

☞ The Cambridge Chronicle reports that the Rev. Thomas Whittemore, D. D., editor of the Trumpet, is lying dangerously ill at his residence in that city.

☞ They had a great squirrel hunt in North Stratford, N. H., last week, which brought in game numbering 21,125. The winning party brought in 11,180.

☞ It is stated that the Prince of Wales announced his intention to revisit this country at no distant day, during the winter, for a trip through the South.

☞ Three Cuban families are said to own one-sixteenth of the entire real and personal property of the island, and twenty-five thousand slaves.

☞ Henry Esman, a liquor merchant of Cincinnati, has absconded, having committed forgeries to the amount of $6000.

☞ Snow fell Monday in Western Massachusetts and New Hampshire; but rapidly disappeared in the succeeding rain.

☞ Out of 500 sailors now on the U. S. frigate Niagara, only 34 take their grog ration.

ROYAL MOVEMENTS.—The British Royal Squadron arrived in Portland Harbor Monday, to receive the Prince of Wales and take him home.

The Prince spent Sunday in New York City and attended morning service at Trinity Church, which was crowded with a ticketted audience, to whom Dr. Vinton preached. The service was read by a number of distinguished clergymen.

The prince went to West Point on Monday, and reviewed the Cadets. On Tuesday he went to Albany.

He is to be in Boston Wednesday evening, and remain over Thursday, attending a Musical Festival at six in the evening, when 1200 children of the public schools will sing; attending a ball also on Thursday evening.

On Friday he is to visit Cambridge, the Colleges, Mount Auburn, &c., and he will leave in a special train, on the Eastern Railroad, for Portland, Saturday morning, and sail in the afternoon for home.

A WEEK LATER FROM EUROPE.—The Arabia is from Liverpool Oct. 6, and Queenstown 7th.

The London Daily News says the Great Eastern Steamship Company have dispensed with the services of Capt. Hall and Chief Engineer McLellan. The detention of the ship at Milford may have something to do with this.

The Empress of Russia was safely delivered of a Prince on the 3d inst.

The news from Italy continues to be interesting, and will be seen under its proper head.

ROME AND NAPLES.—A letter from Rome says the Piedmontese lancers galloped close to the gates of Rome in pursuit of the Pontifical gendarmes.

Bertain, late Secretary of the Dictator, contradicts the statement that orders had been given so oppose by force the entry of Piedmontese troops into Neapolitan territory. He also says neither himself nor Garibaldi ever thought of counselling the immediate occupation of Rome at the risk of a conflict with France.

SYRIA.—The Paris Moniteur says affairs in Syria are assuming a new phase, and military action will be exercised by the French troops. Some other chiefs have been arrested and tried at Beyrout. The Caimakan of the Druses is among the prisoners. These measures had produced a panic among the Druses of the mountains, and their attitude is more undecided.

SCRAPS FROM THE BATH TIMES.—Since the receipt of the recent election news we have taken to reading the prophecies, and subsisting upon concentrated leaven. We propose to rise!

Every Republican sinner is rejoicing over the recent elections, as though he was now sure of a warm place in Abraham's bosom.

The keys to the Republican success in the late elections is the dar-key. With that and whis-key they have played the very deuce with the Democratic calculations.

Joe Lane says "he was nursed" at the breast of Democracy. The Louisville Democrat says that "this is a mistake. He was born after his mother was done having children, and brought up on a bottle."

If the object of the New York fusion is simply to prevent a choice by the people, to throw the election into a corrupt House of Representatives, and to give a corrupt administration an opportunity to raffle for the Presidency, perhaps at the expense of the national treasury, the national honor, and the national integrity, then we shall not weep over its failure.

It is said that in case Lincoln should be elected, Mr. Secretary Cobb proposes to test his willingness to enforce the fugitive slave law, by claiming the return of his (Cobb's) slaves now in the North. He has enough to stock several plantations, but they have so long been getting their living by stealing instead of work, that it is doubtful if they are worth the trouble it will cost to transport them South. We hope "Old Abe" will interpose no barrier to their rendition.

ARMS FROM ENGLAND.—The commissioners appointed under a law of the Virginia Legislature, to procure arms for the better defence of the State, have been in correspondence with the manufactures of the Enfield rifle, in England, and been offered 5000 of that arm at a price near sixty-five shillings, British, or about $16 for each piece. They have written to say that they will take 2500 at that price.

VAN BUREN, Ark., Oct. 13—Rufus and Jackson Covington, brothers, and Richard, son of the latter, were killed to-day by Silas and Ben. Edwards, also brothers. Several others were injured on both sides. The affray originated in an old feud, but the Edwardses, who have long been the terror of this part of the State, were the aggressors. They were arrested, and the people were with difficulty prevented from lynching them.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Thaddeus Hyatt has applied to the President and Secretary of the Interior, for a postponement of the Kansas land sales, in consequence of the failure of the crops in that Territitory. He proceeds to Boston to-morrow to raise means for the relief of the settlers in Kansas.

Napoleon III. has a life of Julius Cæsar, written by himself, in press.—Exchange.

Written by himself! Which himself? Julius? or Napoleon?

MILITARY SPIRIT.—At the Banquet of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery, at Nashua, among the sentiments of the evening, was one in relation to the Army, which was responded to by Capt. Winder, son-in-law of Gov. Goodwin, nearly as given below by the Manchester Mirror reporter.

Col. Tyler and Gentlemen:—

Although but an humble member of the profession which has been so honorably noticed, in the absence of those who would be more able to do it justice, I respond; and in doing so, I feel afraid that my sentiments, although not clothed in the language of an Everett, will nevertheless be received and appreciated as one whose duty it is to act, and not to talk.

From the plains of Mexico and other hard-fought fields, our army has spoken for itself in language unmistakable, and proclaimed to the world its determination and its ability to defend our flag and our liberties, whenever called upon.

In our country the soldier meets his reward in an approving conscience, and in the appreciation and approbation of his fellow-citizens; nor does he ask any other, since to live in the memory of his countrymen is the object of his highest ambition.

It has been said that Republics are ungrateful, but this is not true of our own glorious country, and, in proof, I will adduce the case of that noble old soldier now at the head of our army. Although an attempt was made, at the close of a brilliant and successful campaign, to crush him, the people did him justice, and the only effect was to fix him more firmly in their hearts, where his memory shall be cherished so long as time shall continue.

A military organization, on a proper basis, is not, as it has too often been asserted, demoralizing, but on the contrary, it has a tendency to elevate the character and improve the physique; its attractiveness to men of all nations, and particularly to Americans, brings into its ranks men of all classes, and the very nature of the profession instills a soldierly pride into the individual, an esprit du corps among the members of each body, and a generous rivalry between companies and regiments; and should any member be guilty of ungentlemanly conduct, he would at once incur the contempt of his associates, and be expelled from its ranks.

It is a military maxim that in order to command well, one must first learn to obey, and the effect of discipline upon the minds of men is of the utmost importance in teaching them unity of action, thorough system, and a firm adherence and obedience to the rules of law and order established for their government by themselves.

In addition to the moral influence, the mere habit of drill developes the physical powers, imparting a soldierly bearing and increasing the ability to endure hardship; but more than all this, it enables freemen to defend their homes and their firesides against the enemy that should dare pollute the soil with its presence. Much more might be said.

I will no longer occupy your time with facts that are patent to every thinking man, but will give you a sentiment:

The re-awakening military enthusiasm of New Hampshire.—May it, like the lame of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Spirit of '76, spread itself over the length and breadth of the land.

The Ball at Franklin Hall was one of the most brilliant affairs that ever occurred in the Granite State. The ball was decorated with flags and streamers, and everything was arranged to give a brilliant appearance to the gay scenes of the night. The Germania Band discoursed its unsurpassed music, the hall was completely jammed with the dancers, the ladies of Nashua, and ladies from out of town, all with fascinating smiles, and dressed in white and pink tarlton, cut low in the neck, presented an array of beauty and loveliness that, the Mirror says, fairly bewildered the bachelor portion of the spectators.

"THE EAGLE."—Not the coins of that name, the "yellow boys"—we are not much acquainted with them. Nor yet the proud bird which sours aloft over all the feathered tribe, in conscious superiority,—the great American Eagle. We refer now to the Hotel which rejoices in this title, at Concord, of which mine host Sawyer is the presiding genius. Here Company C. of the Horse Guards, from Portsmouth and vicinity, found most agreeable quarters, in their late tramp to and from training. The fine parlors of the Eagle were not exactly the place laid down in General Orders, for the evolutions of the military; but here, nevertheless, a portion of them, with some of Portsmouth's fairest daughters, did "train' a little—having the countenance and encouragement of men high in authority, and learned in law, gospel and physic.

But it was of this Hotel we wished to say a word—not of the jolly good times we all had there. Concord has always been famous for her public houses, from Gass's down, or up: and none was ever more deservedly popular than this same Eagle. It is finely located, directly in front of the State House; and it is sufficient to say, that Sawyer can keep a hotel." The house is large, and well arranged and furnished; the sleeping rooms airy and inviting; the table—ask the hungry soldiers, particularly as to those poached eggs; and the waiters courteous and attentive. The stables too—which interest a Horse Guard not a little—are very roomy and excellent. If you are in Concord, you may be sure of finding a good home at the "Eagle." Among the guests here during our brief visit, were the Governor and suite, Secretary of State, and Ex-President Pierce.

ITALIAN AFFAIRS.

The advices by the Arabia are to a late date, and every item has interest.

It is stated via Genoa that Garibaldi had sent a dispatch to Naples, dated the 1st inst., announcing victory along the whole of his lines, and that the Royal troops were being pursued.

The Diette of Turin publishes dispatches dated Naples 2d, stating that the Royal troops had been repulsed from Caserto, and were surrounded. The Garibaldians had made 2000 prisoners.

The above victories lack confirmation.

It is reported that Garibaldi had invited Victor Emanuel to go to Naples and assume authority, and he would retire to his home.

A summary of the Pope's allocution at the consistory of the 28th ult., is published. He reproves and condemns in the strongest terms the detestable and sacriligious attack of the King and Government of Piedmont upon the States of the Church. He protested and would not cease to protest against their acts, which he declares to be null and of no effect. He eulogizes and blesses his defenders, and calls on the European powers for assistance. He deplores the disastrous and pernicious policy of non-intervention, and calls on the Powers to examine seriously its dangerous effects. He concludes by expressing his conviction that Catholic Princes and people would come to the assistance of the Father of the Faithful, who is attacked by the fratricidal arms of a degenerate son.

It is reported that Emperor Napoleon in a reply to the Pope, maintained non-intervention principles, and while promising to maintain order in the Holy See, his desire was to consign Rome to the protection of a genuine Italian power.

Victor Emanuel has issued an address to his soldiers at Ancona, extolling their bravery and the righteousness of their cause, and concludes by saying that he assumes the command, as he desires to be foremost when there is danger.

In the Sardinian Chamber of Deputies, Cadello demanded the production of all the documents relating to the entry of the Sardinians into Umbria and the Marches. Count Cavour refused to comply.

Cavour also declared that there existed no puplic document or private treaty, that no conversation or negotiation had taken place, and that no Power had made any proposition involving the cession of a single inch of Italian territory, and pronounced the statements to the contrary to be utterly false.

The Papal Government was making fresh enrollments and promising large rewards to the remaining Papal troops concentrated at Trivoli.

The Spanish Government had demanded a Congress of the Catholic Powers with a view of guaranteeing the integrity of the States of the Holy See. The French Cabinet admitted the expediency of such a Congress, but says recent territorial changes demand a general European Congress.

FRANCE.—The funeral service for the Papal troops lately slain was celebrated by the Archbishop of Paris, in Notre Dame, on the 6th inst.

Several French Bishops had issued pastoral letters protesting against the acts that were taking place in Italy.

The wives and families of Austrian officers in Venitia had been ordered to quit that territory immediately.

PROF. WOOD'S

RESTORATIVE CORDIAL

—AND—

BLOOD RENOVATOR,

Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is invigorating, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revitlies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe this weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is at all perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, but by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the numerous germs to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weaknesses and Irregularities. Also Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Spinal Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we must space out; to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the disease if once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretionary functions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and all should take a tea-spoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not accustomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreaded period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it—this Cordial is all we claim it.—Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never-failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.

☞ We call the attention of our readers to an article advertised in another column, called BLOOD FOOD. It is an entirely new discovery, and must not be confounded with any of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and what one gains he retains. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity, or deficiency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, take of this BLOOD FOOD and be restored to health.

DENTISTRY.

The subscriber would give notice that he has procured a PLASTIC CEMENT (or artificial) for filling teeth. It is a new article, and has the prospect of being a good one, especially for filling teeth or front teeth, but as it is new it will take time for it to obtain confidence. He would also state that he has a standing order with the principal dealers in Dentists' Materials, to give him information of anything useful or important.

Bronchitis.—This sore forerunner of Consumption can be instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron & Sulphur Powders. The Olive Tar allays pain and heals soreness in inflammation, and the Iron & Sulphur Powders convert the waste or worn out particles of the blood into gases, which are ejected from the body by the pores instead of being deposited as Phlegm. The testimonials of many prominent and well-known persons are contained in a pamphlet, which will be sent free by mail to any address. See advertisement in this paper.

FOR SORE, WEAK, INFLAMED EYES AND EYELIDS!

A true specific, and invaluable remedy has been at last discovered. Dr. Humphreys argues that these affections invariably result from a constitutional disease, of which the local affection is the only outward manifestation. Hence HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC OPHTHALMIA PILLS are only taken internally, and yet cure the worst forms of obstinate sore eyes and eyelids, which have resisted all other treatment. All cases of sore and inflamed eyelids, or failing weak or defective sight, will be promptly benefitted, and the cure of the worst cases is only a question of time.

Price, 50 cents, with directions.

Sent by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price.

Address, DR. F. HUMPHREYS & CO., 562 Broadway, New York.

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

This remedy has long been cherished by the community for its remarkable efficacy in relieving, healing and curing the most obstinate, painful and long standing cases of Cough, Cold, Influenza, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Inflammation of the Lungs; while even Consumption itself has yielded to its magic influence when all other means have failed. Its whole history proves that the past has produced no remedy of equal value, as a cure for the numerous and dangerous pulmonary affections which prevail all over the land.

From the Editor of the Portsmouth (N. H.) Journal, Aug. 11, 1860.

WISTAR'S BALSAM.—There are but few medicines of which we can express an opinion from personal knowledge. Among such we place prominently WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which should always be kept on hand. It is an excellent medicine not only for Coughs and Colds, but also for neuralgic affections. We have known suffering from the nerves of the stomach effectually relieved by its soothing influence where other medicine has been ineffectually used.

Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & CO.,—

Gents:—For a long time I have suffered more or less with that distressing affliction—Phthisis—in its worst forms, and have resorted to various so called remedies, but to no purpose as affording the desired relief. Deprived of my sleep by reason of the severity of the disease, it was only too evident that I was fast breaking down under it. I resorted to DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY with but little confidence as to its curative properties, but the use of one bottle has entirely rid me of this monster; and to the public I can safely commend it as every worthy their confidence. SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

A trial term commenced in Portsmouth Tuesday, Oct. 10, Judge Doe presiding. The opening prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Patterson. The forenoon was spent as usual, in arranging the juries and calling over the docket.

Case No. 49, Emily Palmer, administratrix of Henry Palmer, deceased, vs. city of Portsmouth, was commenced in the afternoon.

This is an action to recover of the city, damages for alleged injuries incurred by the plaintiff, who in running to a fire by the Middle St. Church, struck against a joiner's bench left in the street, by which he was severely injured, and which as it is claimed now, was the cause of his death.

Many witnesses are in attendance on the part of the defence, and the case, like all cases of this kind, will be likely to occupy some time.

POLICE COURT.—Before Justice Odell.—In the suit Daniel R. Rogers vs. Andrew Lowd, for occupying plaintiff's building without legal right to do so, judgment was given for defendant.

Mr. Lowd had long occupied the building, and on declining to vacate it on very short notice, the suit was brought to eject him—but the Court decided he was lawfully in possession of the premises.

Patrick Brennan, for assault on Joshua Eldredge, was fined $5: costs $5.74.

For the Chronicle.

THE RETURN.—We were agreeably surprised to witness once more, a military company spring up in Portsmouth; and the return of the City Phalanx or Goodwin Guards, with such true military bearing, confirmed us that the high encomiums which the press had given, were not without a cause. Their escort to the Governor's Horse Guards, was finely performed; and their evolutions and precision in drill were such as would give credit to old commissioned companies. It assures us that there is energy in our young men, and in whatever enterprise they undertake, the word fail is not in their vocabulary. Let them be sustained in this cause, and let military spirit which has so long laid dormant, "Phenix, like arise from its ashes," and once more assume ye shape of olden time.

We understand that the Officers were regaled with a fine dinner at the Rockingham, by some military friends, with the usual speeches, toasts, &c.,—which honor we know was duly appreciated by them.

A FRIEND OF MILITARY.

☞ We understand that H. R. H. the Prince of Wales will pass through our city on Saturday next in a special train. Mr. Prescott, the Superintendent of the Eastern Railroad, has put in readiness a magnificent car for the use of the royal party.

☞ If our grate cotemporary of the Ballot "can make anything" by growling at the Rockingham Fair, from first to last, and belying his "irritable little friend, the junior of the Chronicle"—he is welcome to do so The Ballot made a statement which we pronounced false; and that paper keeps threatening to prove it, but don't do so.—The Ballot man said that the $500 would never be raised, that the Horse Guards would never visit Portsmouth, &c.; and now that the $500 is raised, he takes it as evidence to prove that we "managed" to have the Fair here, despite the general wish in Portsmouth and outside! Oh! consistency, thy name should be Bawl-at!

☞ It has always been our custom not to send the Chronicle till all arrearages are paid; but to stop it unless these are paid within a reasonable time. Acting upon this rule, we this morning cross from our carrier's books a few subscribers of this sort—and shall be happy to replace them when their accounts are made right upon the record. We have too good a list of paying patrons, to care to increase it by any whose "paper" is of less value than that we print on.

NAVAL.—William Cheeney has been appointed acting gunner in the navy.

Joseph Cox, carpenter, has been ordered to the Navy Yard at Portsmouth, N. H.

Lieut. Bushrod B. Taylor has been ordered to the school-ship Constitution at Annapolis.

Carpenter Wm. W. Laighton, and Sailmaker David Bruce have been ordered to the Cumberland, now lying at this station.

☞ Rev. Wm. L. Gage is to be Installed as Pastor of the North Church and Society, this (Wednesday) afternoon—at the usual hour of church service.

☞ The Portsmouth "Wide Awakes" will have a street drill with torches, this evening. The company will leave the head-quarters at about 8 o'clock, and march through Market, Congress, Islington, Anthony, Middle, Court, Pleasant, Water, State, Anthony, Islington, Congress, Vaughan Deer and Market Streets, to Rechabite Hall.

Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is cleansed of every impurity, and so arranged and combined that all unhealthy and injurious properties are stricken out, while carbonic acid, the only acitve property remaining, is held in check until set free, thus evolving a gas by means of which Bread is raised, and each acid thus destroyed, which makes it suitable for the most delicate or dyspeptic stomach. Try one paper, and you never will have any other. Grocers and druggists keep it.

There is another article in the market put up in similar colored papers. Do not be deceived by it. See that the name of HERRICK ALLEN is on the wrapper, and no mistake can occur. For weakness and general debility there is nothing like it; it will strengthen, exhilarate, create an appetite at once, regulate the bilious system, aid digestion, and in short, restore the weakened organs to all their original vigor and strength. THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,

FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING, LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL

Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

Morning Chronicle.

A letter from Hanover in the Boston Journal states that "the students arrested for being concerned in the outrage on Judge Fowler's son, have secured as their council ex-President Pierce." This is entirely incorrect. Gen. Pierce has not resumed the practice of the profession of law, and of course accepts no retainers.—Concord Patriot.

A Patriarch—Elder Kimball, the Mormon Saint, had fourteen children born to him in one night, recently. The old question, "who was the father of Zebedee's children?" might be asked and discussed in that lively household. The mothers were as well as could be expected.—True

The Duke of Wellington's saying, connected with early rising, was not a bad one —"Let the first turn in the morning be a turn out."

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
Under the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and by, if not demonstrably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. He, therefore, has the extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond competition, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them a speedy and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 3, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great skill and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

BLOOD FOOD

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, scientific men, and the public generally, is respectfully solicited to the merits of this chemical preparation, containing Iron, Sulphur and Phosphorus, substances which is identical in its composition with the Hematic Globule, or red blood.—In all diseases accompanied with pale countenance and nervous derangement, analyses of the blood show a deficiency of the red globules. Ruddy complexion and a rosy tint of the skin, is always indicative of health; while a pale, wax-like skin and countenance,—which evinces a considerable deficiency of the red globules,—accompanies a diseased organism. Preparations of Iron have been given for the purpose of supplying the red globules, but we contend that Iron alone, Sulpur alone, or Phosphorus alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, but that a judicious combination of all these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its normal standard. This point, never before attained, has been reached in the Blood Food, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age, as it effects in

DEBILITY,

are to soften the cough, brace the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood by restoring the lacking red globules, increase the appetite, restore the color, and clothe the skeleton frame with flesh. The Blood Food will be found a specific in all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT or LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the voice. In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Scrofula, Gravel, St. Vitus' Dance, Fever and Ague, &c., its efficacy is marked and instantaneous. In no class of diseases, however, are the beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous as in those harrassing

FEMALE COMPLAINTS

to which the gentler sex are liable, and which tend towards Consumption, such as suppressed or difficult Menstruation, Green Sickness, Whites, &c., especially when these complaints are accompanied with paleness, a dingy hue or pallor of the skin, depression of spirits, debility, palpitation want of appetite, and nervous prostration. We have the utmost confidence in recommending the Blood Food to all who may be conscious of a loss of vitality or energy, and to those whose mental or bodily powers are prostrated through excess, either of the mind or body, and we deem it our duty to say that in all cases of Weakness and Emaciation, and in all diseases of the Kidneys or Bladder, this preparation has a claim upon the attention of sufferers which cannot be over-estimated. A faithful trial will be found the most convincing proof in regard to its efficacy that could be asked for. With the above remarks, and with the numerous testimonials we have in its favor, we offer the "Blood Food" to the consideration of the afflicted, knowing that it will be acknowledged as pre-eminent over all other preparations, patent or official, in point of usefulness. Circulars giving the Theory upon which this remedy is founded, also certificates of remarkable cures, will be sent free, when desired. We forward the Blood Food to any part of the United States or Canadas upon receipt of price—$1 per bottle, $5 for six bottles. Be careful in all cases to take none but that having our fac-simile signature upon the wrapper. None other is genuine.

Humphreys' Homeopathic Specific Remedies for the People

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases with which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhea, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Hence these remedies supply a want felt by every public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence available at all times, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply demonstrated the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE BEST IN USE, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST EFFICACIOUS AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S
AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupify.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

Dose.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
One dose will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.
One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.
One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.
A few doses will remove all nervous pains in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.
Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations in the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been
THOROUGHLY TESTED
by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we shall still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

Dr. Mott's
CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE
PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innumerous in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSUMPTION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOUS, SALT RHEUM, MENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world, and returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical chlorosis, and their complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for those who are familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron is so decisively beneficial, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, yet decidedly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, and which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, unmarkable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the loss of muscle, fullness, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has always been the hope of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been found invaluable, as well regards its alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects. Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills; price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metal Sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

New Photographic Establishment.

Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.

The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.

All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.

Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
Under the act of 1837.
76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can so prove that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during thirty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. I can unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twenty-eight rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1860.

BRECKINRIDGE CONVENTION.

The New Hampshire Breckinridge Convention met at the Representatives' Hall in Concord, Tuesday Oct. 16.

President—Hon. Edmund Burke, of Newport.

Vice Presidents—Abner Greenleaf, of Portsmouth; Benning W. Jenness of Strafford; Israel Hunt, of Nashua; Henry Hubbard, of Charlestown; James Weeks, of Richmond; Samuel Smith of Andover; Horace C. Stanley, of Hopkinton; Hugh B. Simpson, of Rumney; George McDaniel, of Barrington.

Secretaries — William B. Goodwin, of Concord, and Nehemiah Moses of Portsmouth.

Hon. G. W. Kittredge, of Newmarket, conducted Mr. Burke to the chair, amid three times three cheers for the over true exponent of the National Democracy.

Dr. Kittredge doubted the expediency of nominating an electoral ticket at this time.

Mr. B. W. Jenness favored a nomination, and said:

He was confident that if the Convention did not form an electoral ticket, more than two thousand true Democrats in the Granite State would not vote at all; and that New Hampshire would give a most alarming vote for the "rail splitter."

Dr. Eastman of Hampstead, was undecided.

He thought that New Hampshire would go Republican, but that we should look more to the future than the present. But he said whatever views were thought best, he was with them, and as a physician, in travelling through the country, would give this antidote to all sick Democrats.

Messrs. Jenkins and Greenleaf of Portsmouth, Burke, Goodwin and others gave encouraging speeches.

A series of Resolutions were passed unanimously; endorsing the Maryland Institute platform; affirming the Cincinnati platform with three explanatory resolutions, all pro-slavery up to the hub; craving Cuba; approving the catching of fugitive slaves, state equality, and the supremacy of slavery in the Territories; repudiating the "dogma of squatter or popular sovereignty, as expounded by Stephen A. Douglas, as a humbug, and condemn it as a heresy, attempted to be interpolated into the Democratic creed for purposes of mischief, or to subserve the ambitious designs of its author":—looking for defeat now, and victory in 1864; approving the nomination of Breckinridge and Lane, Frank Pierce's letter, and James Buchanan's administration.

A FUSION.—The democrats of Newburyport, on Tuesday evening, at their headquarters, Hon. Albert Currier presiding, and Isaac Hale, Jr., Secretary, took the first steps for a union of the two wings of their own party, and for fusion with all other opponents of the Republicans, and singularly enough (says the Herald,) Gen. Cushing was the leader in this new movement, which is but an indication of what will at once be done all over the State. On his motion they voted unanimously, "that the chairman of the meeting if in his discretion, or in conference with others, he shall deem it advisable, be authorized to call at any proper time, a mass meeting of the citizens of Newburyport, opposed to the election of Mr. Andrew for Governor of this Commonwealth."

As a commencement of this fusion movement, the caucus chose delegates, composed of the leading men of both sections of democrats, to attend both the Congressional and Senatorial Convention.

This, like a similar movement in Pennsylvania, seems to be about six months too late. Their only reasonable hope is to distract some Congressional Districts.

TRUE STATEMENT OF THE CASE.—To deprive the Douglas men of all chance of an apparent triumph over Breckinridge in New York, Mr. Butterworth was authorized to say that the Administration desired fusion, and Mr. Dix was sent up from the Post-office to preside at the fusion meeting on Monday night. This trick of the Administration disgusted the Douglas men intensely, for it was designed to put it out of their power to claim the anti-Lincoln vote, as a measure of the Douglas strength. So they have no way left to make the relative strength of the two factions apparent except by scratching and by printing tickets with the Breckinridge electors omitted, a species of tactics at which, of course, their adversaries may play as well. In this way we shall, after all, be likely to get a tolerably fair notion of the numerical force of the Douglas and Breckinridge parties, the Bell men disappearing, as they inevitably must at this election, into one or the other of the pro-slavery factions. So says the New York Post.

☞ The Herald says that the rumors of the prevalence of small pox in Newburyport, are false—there having been but two cases within as many months.

RUTLAND, VT., Oct. 15.—John Whitcomb was to-day sentenced to ten years in the State Prison for robbing the mails.

VICE PRESIDENT HAMLIN. — The Charleston Mercury says —

In their fanatical and insane desire of humiliating and insulting us of the South, it has pleased them (the Republican) to put forward as a candidate for the Vice Presidency, a man asserted to be, and thus far without contradiction, a mulatto!

This assertion is made on the authority of Hon. R. B. Rhett, of South Carolina; and the danger of throwing stones by people who live in glass houses is illustrated by the fact, which but for this publication might not have been disclosed, that Mr. Rhett himself has colored blood in his veins, derived from his maternal ancestry.—Salem Gaz.

The Mercury may rest assured that Mr. Hamlin is no mulatto,—though he is a very dark-skinned white man.—But the reason why the northern papers did not contradict the statement was, that it was absurd: and indeed it is ludicrous, to think of his being in Congress and elsewhere in public life so many years, as a distinguished democrat, and yet nobody find out his mulatto character till now!

☞ The Republican Wide Awakes made a grand display in Boston, Tuesday night. The Herald says it was crowned "with all the success that the most sanguine friends of the cause and the occasion could ask for or desire. The day was all that could be asked for to give the out-of-town delegations good courage to venture from their homes and brave the excitement of a campaign in the city, and the evening and night which followed in their turn, could not have been more favorable for the ovation."

At half-past seven o'clock the signal rocket for lighting the torches was sent into the sky, and the great body of the Clubs who until now had stood in darkness, made their positions resplendent with light, and the whole section of this portion of the Common, became alive with vivid lines of of flame. This was the most splendid sight of all the evening, and the idea of this simultaneous illumination was certainly a brilliant idea.

The procession was five miles long; and a count of it, given in the Courier, makes the rank and file about 6500, not including bands, marshals, &c. which must have made up 7000. Twenty bands, drum corps, &c., enlivened the route with their music. There were banners, transparencies, lanterns and torches, too numerous to mention.

☞ A Berlin letter in the N. Y. World gives an account of the sale of Humboldt's effects:—

Among other things, a large emerald with three surfaces, in a casket inlaid with malachite, a present from the Emperor Nicholas, brought 250 thlr; Humboldt's writing table, on which he daily wrote his Cosmos, with his inkstand, paper weights, pens, sealing wax, and other articles of daily use, 150 thlr; a collection of more than 160 diplomas, from academies and learned societies of which he was an active or honorary member, 502 thlr. The proceeds of the auction, exclusive of the large gold and silver medals retained, which are of no inconsiderable worth, and also of the scientific instruments—amount to about 10,000 thlrs. The mass of the medals were bought up by C. Noack, court gilder to the king. Louis Napoleon bought the colossal marble bust for 2000 thalers. It goes to the Louvre. The instruments, death-mask, death-bed, &c., were not sold and may very likely find their way to America, through that is not yet decided. Humboldt particularly desired that the instruments at least should be carried there, as they were those which he used throughout his American travels. So ends the personal career of this wonderful man; and the silent house in Oranienburger Strasse is beaceforth a mile-stone of history.

HOW SLAVERS ARE CLEARED IN NEW YORK.—The correspondent of the New York Times, writes from on board the steamer Niagara on the coast of Africa, that the Storm King, which was taken with 609 slaves on board, sailed from New York last April, and the captain of her—Lockhart by name—made no hesitation in informing the officers of the San Jacinto that he had bribed the Deputy Marshal with $1000 to let him depart from Sandy Hook.

☞ When a recent cattle train reached Concord in the night, one of the car doors was found open and six bovines missing.—The escapade occurred while the train was passing over the trestle work, near Concord; the cattle fell some twenty feet, displacing some of the trestle braces, and besmearing some portions of the frame work with blood. They were all found feeding in the meadow, and the loss of a horn was the most serious injury received by any of them.

FIRE IN CONCORD, N. H.—The splendid dwelling house of O. L. Sanborn, Esq., in Concord, was about ruined by fire and water on Saturday morning. The furniture was all saved in pretty good order. The house was one of the handsomest in the State, and was where Judge Douglas and lady stopped when in Concord in August.

☞ A collection amounting to $800, was taken up in the Catholic Church at Newburyport last Sunday—to pay a debt of the Society.

☞ Mr. Macdonald, the owner of Flora Temple, has lost from his finger a diamond ring with a single brilliant worth six thousand dollars.

IMPORTANT DECISION OF THE COURT OF APPEALS.—Among the decisions just made by the Court of Appeals is one in the case of Mrs. Hartung, which turns upon the construction of the new law in relation to capital punishment.

The Court holds that the statute of 1860, in its appliance to persons under conviction at the time of its passage, is unconstitutional, void, as ex post facto, because it prescribes a different and increased punishment from that in force at the time when the offence was committed. To the punishment of death it superadds one year's imprisonment at hard labor.

The Court also expressed the opinion that the new law, having abolished the only statute defining hanging as the mode of punishment, and itself prescribing no new mode, there is now no known sentence which can be pronounced against a person convicted of murder in the first degree.—Though such persons are to be "executed," yet, whether it is to be by chloroform, or by poisoning, in the jail or by burning at the stake in front of the capitol, or by hanging, rests in the discretion of nobody knows who, perhaps the Governor, perhaps the Sheriff.

The "execution" is to take place whenever ordered by the Governor in office. If the Governor does not order it, it never takes place. The convict remains imprisoned for an indefinite term, liable at any moment to be ordered to instant execution in any way that caprice may dictate.—Albany Journal.

Here the Court stumbles over a straw.—In the State of Maine, they have tried the indefinite imprisonment many years, and it works well. Besides, it is not an increased punishment to spare a man's life for a year. And labor is no punishment at all. The Court quibbles like a tenth-rate pettifogger.

It is added:—

It may be urged that all murderers can, under the new law, be convicted of murder in the second degree, for which the punishment is imprisonment for life. But suppose the criminal, to evade this, pleads guilty of the crime of murder in the first degree, how could any Court sentence him for a less offence than that of which he is, by his own confession on the record, guilty?

Between imprisonment for life, and indefinite imprisonment, the practical men in Maine, find no great difference. And if the New York Judges had their good sense, they would sentence their convicted monsters in the words of the statute, and thus leave them in prison indefinitely.

☞ Wm. Austin of Ludlow was committed to jail in Springfield, Wednesday morning, to await the result of an investigation into an attempt made by him to poison himself and a couple of his friends. He was employed by Isaac Plummer of Ludlow, and had returned home from a week's spree last Saturday, but refused to go to work again. On Tuesday he went to Newburyport and returned home with a bottle of rum, with which he offered to treat a couple of friends. One of them pretended to drink, and the other took a swallow of the liquid and was immediately sickened. Austin then drank about two gills of the liquor, all that remained, and said he would be dead in few hours, and then fell asleep, when a vial half filled with strychnine fell from his hand. A physician was sent for and powerful antidotes administered, which fortunately saved their lives. The strychnine had been in the liquor but a few moments and had not time to dissolve, for if it had the effect must have been fatal.

EARTHQUAKE.—Saco, Me., Oct. 17.—There was a severe shock of an earthquake here this morning, accompanied by a loud report and very perceptible rocking of buildings, ringing of bells, &c.

Manchester, N. H., Oct. 17.—A slight earthquake occurred here at about 6 o'clock this morning, which jarred the buildings.

Montreal, Oct. 17.—There was a slight shock of an earthquake all over Canada to-day.

☞ The mackerel fishery is now pursued quite extensively on the Pacific coast. Among the arrivals at San Francisco, mentioned in the last news from California, we notice that of the schooner General Harney from a four months' fishing cruise off the coast, having taken 400 barrels mackerel.

KIDNAPPING.—Chicago Oct. 25.—Jerry Boyd and wife and daughter were enticed from Galena by kidnappers to a farm in Iowa, during the latter part of September. Jerry Boyd was found murdered near Iowa City on the 8th, probably to enable the kidnappers to obtain possession of the women. The citizens of Galena offer $500 reward for the murderers.

☞ Workmen are enlarging the canal in Great Falls, N. H., by widening it twelve feet a distance of about three hundred and fifty feet. Mill No. 6 is kept in operation by night to answer pressing orders for goods.

MONTPELIER, VT., Oct. 16.—Hon. Jacob Collamer was to-day re-elected to Congress for six years from the 4th of March next. In the Senate the vote stood 27 for Collamer to 1 for Paul Dillingham; in the House 198 to 24.

Douglas, says an exchange, is emphatically not sectional, because there is no section, under the present appearances, from which he will receive a solitary vote.—Boston Post.

☞ Isaac F. Shepard, on trial in Boston, has been convicted of secreting money with intent to embezzle. It will be remembered the funds belonged to a savings bank.

FURTHER ITALIAN NEWS. — Ancona has capitulated. Lamoriciere surrendered to Admiral Persano, who sent his own boat for him and manned the yards of his vessel and gave him his own cabin.

Lamoriciere is to be sent to Turin via Leghorn.

The Sardinian Chambers have resolved that King Victor Emanuel be authorized to annex to Sardinia those provinces of Central and Southern Italy in which the population by direct universal suffrage vote to become an integral part of the Sardinian Constitutional Monarchy.

The Sardinian army has not yet entered the Neapolitan territory, but Garibaldi announces that they soon will. Their head quarters will be at Aquilla. Victor Emanuel will command in person.

The forts of Pescara and Ajusta in Sicily have surrendered. Messina still holds out.

The provinces of Umbria, Viterbo and Marches are lost to the Papal Government. Subraco and Arsoli are in insurrection, and the only provinces left are Civita Vecchia, Frosinone and Valletri.

A better feeling now exists between Victor Emanuel and Garibaldi, the latter having written a letter inviting the King to come to Naples, and permit him to retire to his island home.

A new manifesto of Mazzina declares that no King of Italy should be proclaimed before the kingdom of Italy is organized at Rome.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—A prize fight came off last Sunday, near Bulls Ferry, between Dunkirk and Malloy, two New York bruisers. Dunkirk striking a foul blow, the battle was decided in favor of Malloy, who was punished the most. Thirty-seven rounds were fought.

A match for $1000 between Aaron Jones and George King, is arranged to come off four months hence.

☞ We call the attention of our readers to an article advertised in another column, called BLOOD FOOD. It is an entirely new discovery, and must not be confounded with any of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and what one gains he retains. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity, or deficiency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, take of this BLOOD FOOD and be restored to health.

DENTISTRY.

The subscriber would give notice that he has procured a PLASTIC CEMENT (or artificial) for filling teeth. It is a new article, and has the prospect of being a good one, especially for filling tender or front teeth, but as it is new it will take time for it to obtain confidence. He would also state that he has a standing order with the principal dealers in Dentists' Materials, to give him information of anything useful or important.

o9 2w* SAMUEL BAKER.

Bronchitis.—This sure forerunner of Consumption can be instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron & Sulphur Powders. The Olive Tar allays pain and has soreness an inflammation, and the Iron & Sulphur Powders convert the waste or worn out particles of the blood into cases, which are ejected from the body by the pores instead of being deposited as Phlegm. The testimonials of many prominent and well-known persons are contained in a pamphlet, which will be sent free by mail to any address. See advertisement in this paper.

FOR SORE, WEAK, INFLAMED EYES AND EYELIDS!

A true specific, and invaluable remedy has been at last discovered. Dr. Humphreys argues that these affections invariably result from a constitutional disease, of which the local affection is the only outward manifestation. Hence, DR. HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC OPHTHALMIA PILLS are only taken internally, and yet cure the worst forms of obstinate sore eyes and eyelids, which have resisted all other treatment. All cases of sore and inflamed eyelids, or failing, weak or defective sight, will be promptly benefitted, and the cure of the worst cases is only a question of time.

Price, 50 cents, with directions.

Sent by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price.

Address, DR F. HUMPHREYS & CO., 562 Broadway, New York.

Sold in Portsmouth by THACHER.

See advertisement in another column.

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

This remedy has long been cherished by the community for its remarkable efficacy in relieving, healing and curing the most obstinate, painful and long standing cases of Cough, Cold, Influenza, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Inflammation of the Lungs; while even Consumption itself has yielded to its magic influence when all other means have failed. Its whole history proves that the past has produced no remedy of equal value, as a cure for the numerous and dangerous pulmonary affections which prevail all over the land.

From the Editor of the Portsmouth (N. H.) Journal, Aug. 11, 1860.

WISTAR'S BALSAM.—There are but few medicines of which we can express an opinion from personal knowledge. Among such we place prominently WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which should always be kept on hand. It is an excellent medicine not only for Coughs and Colds, but also for neuralgic affections. We have known suffering from the nerves of the stomach effectually relieved by its soothing influence where other medicine has been ineffectually used.

From a highly respectable Merchant.

PALMOUTH, ME., Aug. 10, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & CO.—

Gents:—For a long time I have suffered more or less with that distressing affliction—Phthisic—in its worst forms, and have resorted to various so called remedies, but to no purpose as affording the desired relief. Deprived of my sleep by reason of the severity of the disease, it was only too evident that I was fast breaking down under it. I resorted to DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY with but little confidence as to its curative properties, but the use of one bottle has entirely rid me of this monster; and to the public I can safely commend it as every worthy their confidence. Most resp'ly, S. I. MERRILL.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

BEFORE JUDGE DOE.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 17.

The case No. 49, Henry Palmer, by Emily Palmer, adm'x, vs. City of Portsmouth, has occupied the jury all day. This action, as before stated, is brought to recover damages alleged to have been sustained by the said Palmer, late of Portsmouth, for injuries occasioned by being tripped up, near the steps of the Middle street Church, by a board running out from a joiner's bench.—The evidence is conflicting. It is not contended that Palmer did not get tripped up, but that he was not sufficiently careful in running by said bench. The defence further maintain that Palmer, at the time aforesaid, was in a pulmonic consumption, of which disease he subsequently died; that the evening was not very dark, and some of the witnesses saw the bench and boards distinctly, and avoided the same. The case is still on trial.

The capital cases, State vs. Richardson and State vs. Mrs. Healey, are assigned for trial on Monday afternoon next.

ORDINATION. — Rev. William L. Gage was ordained Pastor of the North Church and Parish in Portsmouth, on Wednesday Oct. 17.

Rev. Dr. Cleaveland was Moderator of the Council.

The services were: Voluntary, Anthem, Behold, O God, our Shield.

Invocation and Reading of the Scriptures by Rev. Mr. Street of Lowell.

Prayer by Rev. Mr. Tobey of Durham.

Original Hymn and Music.

Sermon by Rev. Mr. Wallace of Manchester, from Acts 11: 24. "He was a good man, full of faith and of the Holy Ghost." The fullness of faith was described as a belief in all the great doctrines of the gospel; and the fullness of the Holy Ghost as a vitalizing of them all; together they proved the Good Man; and the preacher urged the connexion between Goodness and Christian Usefulness.

Anthem; How Holy is this place.

Ordaining Prayer, with laying on of hands, by Rev. Dr. Nehemiah Adams of Boston.

Charge, by Rev. Mr. Lamphear of Exeter.

Right Hand by Rev. Mr. Richardson of Dover.

Hymn, sung by the Congregation, We bid thee welcome.

Address to the people, by Rev. Dr. Cleaveland.

Concluding prayer by Rev. Mr. Allen of South Berwick.

Anthem: Awake, put on thy strength.

Benediction, by the Pastor.

There was a large congregation; the music was good; and the performances appropriate and solemnly interesting.

THE PRINCE.—Messrs. Editors:—I see by your paper of yesterday that H. R. H. the Prince of Wales is to pass through our city over the Eastern Railroad on Saturday next. Why cannot our worthy Mayor make some arrangements, whereby our citizens will be able to know the time when the cars will pass through here, and for the Prince to appear upon the platform, that we may be gratified by a sight of the future sovereign of a nation, with whose interests we are closely connected. E.

☞ A rare opportunity to purchase good horses, cows, and other stock, with carriages, &c., is advertised in the auction column for this afternoon—the sale to take place at the residence of Albert Blaisdell, Esq., in Greenland. The ride thither, either way is beautiful—and you can go by Lafayette Road, turning in at Breakfast Hill; or by Greenland Parade, and take the North Hampton Road, and thence toward the Eastern station in Greenland.

☞ The boys have already begun their tooting of tin horns, in honor of Pope Night—which don't occur till the 5th of November. Before they get done with their blowing, the nervous people will wish the Pope had 'em, or that they were pushed out at the little end of their horns.

☞ Frank Jones, a heavy trader in House Furnishing Goods in this city and vicinity, and whose travelling teams collect lots of stuff in barter—a day or two since, sold six thousand flour barrels to a dealer in barrels in Boston; who is taking them up on the Eastern Railroad.

☞ It is said that a single heavy farmer in one of our neighboring towns, has just concluded a trade with a hay dealer abroad, for three hundred and fifty tons of hay, at $20 per ton—amounting to $7000.

☞ Yes, our list of Births is small—our record by no means complete. There are plenty of babies; but isn't it a pity that their parents should be ashamed of so many of them?

A FINE CHANCE FOR BUSINESS.—It will be seen by an advertisement, that Mr. Charles C. Harvey, who has received an offer to engage in business in a large city, which he feels unwilling to reject,—offers for sale the good will, stock and stand which he now occupies. Mr. Harvey's business, as we judge from personal observation, as a near neighbor and patron, is in a flourishing condition, has been constantly increasing; and a like opportunity to engage in an excellent and well-established business in Portsmouth, seldom presents itself. We are sorry to lose our active business men from our city; and we can only hope that Mr. Harvey's place, if he leaves, will be supplied by an equally reliable and worthy tradesman.

☞ The schooner Peregrin, which went ashore on Whale's Back, Sunday night, was got off and towed into New Castle. Her bottom is badly stove.

☞ At a recent sale of blood sheep, near New York city, there were some ninety sheep sold, all of the best blood, from imported stock. They brought about two thousand dollars. The highest price paid for a buck was one hundred and fifty dollars. This animal went to Maine, bought by Henry Jordan, of Kennebunk. The next brought ninety-five.

Wilkie Collins makes one of his heroines say, "women can resist a man's love, a man's fame, a man's personal appearance, a man's money; but they cannot resist a man's tongue, when he knows how to talk to them."

THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE,

Containing the news of the week, at home and abroad, as published in the six previous issues of the Daily Chronicle,—is printed on Friday morning, and immediately delivered by our carriers to subscribers in the city, or sent by mail to any part of the State or the world.

As the Weekly Chronicle contains most of the matter from our "local" Daily columns, it will be found an attractive paper for natives of Portsmouth living abroad, and all others interested in our city.

Terms of subscription to the Weekly Chronicle, only $1 per year in advance—sent by carrier without extra charge, to any part of the city and vicinity; or by mail, postage free, to any part of Rockingham County. Direct letters, "Chronicle, Portsmouth, N. H."

☞ The Prince of Wales is to be received in Boston to-day, to be sure—in good style, and we are glad of it; but this is not, after all the fuss, of half so much real importance to the public, as the "Princely Opening" of Dry Goods at Geo. W. Warren & Co.'s splendid store, on Washington street, Boston—advertised in another column this morning. This palace for trade is rightly designated as the "Ladies Exchange"—for here the dear creatures put off their summer habiliments, in which they were entirely irresistible, and don their autumnal garments, with adornments of mauve and solferino hues, and present an appearance as gorgeously variegated and beautiful as nature herself can boast.

We never advise our readers to go abroad for retail trade—but if they are to visit Boston, don't fail to call at the Ladies' Exchange for dress goods, &c.

WISTAR'S WILD CHERRY BALSAM.—This Balsamic compound has become a home fixture. Let all who suffer, and have in vain attempted to cure their coughs, colds, bronchial or pulmonary complaints, make use of this unrivalled remedy.

☞ Reader, have you seen Prof. Wood's advertisement in our paper. Read it; it will interest you. tf

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,
FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING, LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER
AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,
FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL
Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Steward Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stew art is on each stove. No other is genuine.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,

FOR MAKING

Bread, Tea Cakes,

All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.

MANUFACTURED BY

EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,

Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works.

NO. 33 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturers submit it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating house keepers, bakers, &c., &c.

Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, natural taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.

It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferment, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.

It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily makes about 250 lbs. gives by this process 270 lbs., thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,

Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with regard to its purity and efficacy of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing but a vegetable salt, which is essentially a desirable food in the bread. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread than can be obtained through the agency of yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much time of the pastry cook.

The experiments made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturerers, and prove this compound worthy of public approval and extended use. Respectfully,

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."

HOW TO USE IT.

We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage for all kinds of cake, also in fruit puddings and other pastry.

BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonfuls of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour,) to each quart of flour; mix thoroughly by passing two or three times through a sieve; rub in a piece of butter of half the size of an egg; and make the dough moderately with milk or water, (milk is preferable,) barely stiff enough to permit rolling out. Much kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.

LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.

GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven to one quart of wheat meal, sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.

BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonful of Leaven in one pint of flour, and one pint of corn meal, all well sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—Flour and milk sufficient to make one quart of batter; add one egg, then three teaspoonfuls of Leaven; beat to a froth, and cook quick.

DUMPLINGS.—Sift together one quart of flour and two teaspoonfuls of Leaven; rub in a piece of butter half as large as an egg; mix with cold milk or water, and boil ten minutes.

CHAMBER STREET CAKE.—Sift together two large cups of flour and two teaspoonfuls of Leaven, put in half a cup of butter and a cup and a half of sugar; mix with cold water or milk to a stiff batter, and spice to suit the taste, and bake immediately.

CINCINNATI SPONGE CAKE.—Two cups of white sugar, beaten with the yolks of six eggs—the whites of six eggs beaten to a froth; then beat all together; add three cups of sifted flour, one cup of water, and three teaspoonfuls of leaven; flavor with two teaspoonful of essence of lemon, and bake in a slow oven.

JUMBLES.—Sift together one quart of flour and three tea spoonfuls of Leaven; rub in one teacupful of butter; add a cup and a half of white sugar, and spice to suit the taste; mix stiff enough to roll out, and bake quick.

ELECTION CAKE.—One quart of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; add a cup of butter, one pound of currants, two cups of white sugar, and one teaspoonful of cinnamon; mix with cold milk to a stiff batter, and bake in a slow oven.

COREN CAKE.—One pint each of flour and Indian meal, and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, well sifted together; add one gill of molasses and two eggs; mix thin with milk and bake in a slow oven.

CUP CAKE.—Five cups of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, sifted together; add one cup of butter, two of sugar, and two eggs, all well beat together; mix with milk; then add a cup of currants, and spice to suit the taste. Bake about half an hour.

LADIES' CAKE.—Three quarters of a pound of flour and four teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; rub one pound of sugar with six ounces of butter beaten to a cream; the white of eight eggs well beaten, and the juice of one lemon; mix with milk.

WEBSTER CAKE.—Five cups of flour, three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, three cups of sugar, one of butter, one of milk, and two eggs; fruit and spice to the taste. Bake about half an hour.

The Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long felt want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A marigold, a stitch diarrhœa, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, as you know at once what to take themselves, so as to cause no repugnance, safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken, and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being true and to the point, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among the thousands of testimonials, uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL,

A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF

INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA, AND LUMBAGO.

Hundreds of testimonials to the good result from the use of this Cordial could be offered—the following will suffice:

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 6, 1860.

I hereby certify that I have used a variety of preparations for the cure of Rheumatism, but have found none of them whose effect was so immediate and lasting as Zollickoffer's Anti-Rheumatic Cordial, and would advise all afflicted with that painful disease to give it a fair trial.

DR. DARIUS HAM'S

AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupify.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all cases of derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.
One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.
One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.
A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.
Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "it cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE

FILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Caution by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the leading Medical authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves the no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innocuous in all instances in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten by their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant clime.

In cases of obstructions of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhausted by chronic changes, and that complication of nervous and disorganic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of Iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old order, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-healing; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, constipated, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In chronic pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, CHRONIC DISEASE, and the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly adapted to it.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must increasingly be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid restoration of strength, with an unusual disposition for activity and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to TREES IN CALIFORNIA.—Nature varies the oak theme in California into a large range of forms, scrub-trees, apple-tree oaks, grand masculine structures that hold out their branches properly at right-angles, and supurb, towering, spreading, arching forms that blend with the natural majesty of their stock the grace of the elm. But none of them have the fiber and muscle of the New England oaks. It is said that there is no timber in the State hard enough to make a good axe-handle out of. The most stalwart looking of the structures I am speaking of, if cut down, would be likely to break under in half a dozen places by the shock of its fall.

But however "brash" they may be, they are glorious to look at, when every downward branch is decked with delicate pendants of green grey moss. This moss is collected, boiled and dried, to be stuffed into cushions and beds. It is very hard to kill and requires long cooking in the hot water, and when cured, it comes out black and resembles hair. I saw many a tree whose jessus would furnish ample stock for a bed. What a couch for a poet!—Starr King.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and others in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

New Photographic Establishment.

Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.

The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.

All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.

Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, Under the act of 1837.
76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents to the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them anywhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of law and mechanical works, contain an accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.
"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, Jan. 1, 1859. R. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1860.

NOTICE—TO NEW SUBSCRIBERS.

All persons who may now pay $4 for the Daily Chronicle, or $1 for the Weekly Chronicle, for the year 1861,—will be furnished with the paper without charge, from this time to Jan. 1.

COMBATIVENESS.—Men and animals are born with a propensity to fight. Is there, in the whole range of the animal creation, one animal that does not fight, if it has sense enough and powers of locomotion? Oysters cannot fight. If their organ of combativeness is not wanting, they have no use for it. Lobsters fight. So do many kinds of fish.

Bees fight savagely, both in swarms and singly. Two bees, having a quarrel, go out armed with their deadly stings, more formidable than ten-inch bowie-knives—go out of the hive and fight a duel. Ants fight with great ferocity. Armies of ants meet other armies in deadly battle, and cover the field with killed and wounded. They also fight duels. This is the case with many other insects. Spiders not only fight, but eat each other up, like human cannibals.

The good Doctor Watts has told us, that "——dogs delight to bark and bite."

and that

"bears and lions growl and fight."

From the elephant to the mouse, the quadrupeds fight; even the gentlest under sufficient provocation. We believe the whole monkey tribe, as it approaches humanity, increases in pugnacity.

As to man—do we not know that his whole history is a history of war. In the savage state, tribes are in continual warfare. In barbarous nations, these fierce contests are prosecuted on a larger scale. How seldom were the tribes of Greece at peace! How seldom closed the doors of the Temple of Janus in ancient Rome! Read the history of modern nations—of France or Great Britain, for example—and how frequent are the wars, how brief are the intervals of peace!

The same spirit that has led men, in all ages, to engage in war, drives them into individual contest. After thousands of years of civilizing influences — of education, preaching, and the arts and advantages of peace—we find men as ready as ever to fight. Whole nations are interested in the contests of two prize fighters.

There are Quakers and men of peace from principle: and there are cowards and men of peace from constitution; but these are exceptional cases. Humanity, like animality, in general, is belligerent. It loves a row. It finds the highest excitement and the keenest pleasure in a combat. An officer once confessed to us, that he had never known an hour of such keen delight as in the heat of a sanguinary battle. It is human nature—its lower side, if you please, but the side that has always been most active, and which is likely to be for ages to come.

A PRUDENT CUSTOM.—Mr. Siddons, in his lecture, said that all visits to the Palace were restricted, by custom, to three days—the first day for arrival, the second for the reception, and the third for the departure. The Prince of Wales has rigidly observed this practice, in his tour through the United States, never stopping more than three days in any place, unless Sunday intervened. Many families would rejoice to have this fashion introduced into New England.

MASSACHUSETTS FUSION.—The Newburyport Herald of the 18th, says:—

At this late day, within less than three weeks of the election, the Democratic parties and the Union men have determined on a fusion. All the candidates for Governor against Mr. Andrew have withdrawn and a new man will be announced this week, we are told. So they have determined on fusion in this and other Congressional districts; in this and other Senatorial districts; and in the elections to the lower branch of the legislature. They will have some present gains by this movement, but in the long run it is better for the Republicans to have her enemies in one body.

☞ A. D. Richardson, the intelligent correspondent of the Boston Journal, says he recently made a trip to the summit of Pike's Peak. Among the party were Mrs. Mark L. Blunt of Boston and Miss Addie M. Smith of Derry, N. H.,—the first and only ladies who have set foot on the summit of this mountain which rises 14,500 feet high in the midst of an unbroken wilderness.

☞ The Independent Democrat records the sudden death of Bradstreet Wiggin, Esq., of Laconia, on Tuesday morning, Oct. 16th. He died of typhoid fever after a short illness. He was in his usual health, on Sunday, the 7th inst., but in the evening of that day, after the funeral of John T. Coffin, he was taken sick with the same disease that had proved so suddenly fatal to his neighbor. He was one of the most enterprising and highly respected citizens of Laconia, and a member of the present Legislature.

☞ Mr. John Carkin's powder mill in Bennington was blown up on Saturday morning last. It contained 60 kegs of powder. One of the workmen had been into the mill, but had just left for breakfast, and had got off about 40 rods, when the explosion occurred. He was not injured.

☞ Mr. Freeman Brown of North Hampton had his hand shockingly mangled by the explosion of his gun, on Friday morning last.

☞ The Drill (as they very modestly called it,) of the Portsmouth Wide Awakes, on Wednesday evening, was a well executed movement, and was pleasantly received. They left their head-quarters promptly at the time appointed, and went over their route without deviation. The blaze of a hundred torches, the cheer of the procession, and the numerous spectators, made a lively scene. Many houses on their route were illuminated, perhaps a hundred or more; and the building occupied in part by Capt. Fuller, was handsomely decorated with the tri color, red, white and blue.

We understand they are to have a grand display here in about two weeks, when Wide Awake bands will be here from other towns in large numbers,—and when we presume the illumination will be somewhat general.

☞ Mr. Nathaniel Willey, whose death is recorded in Wolfborough, N. H., was born in Somersworth in 1765. His father moved to Brookfield when he was a small boy. When in the 21st year of his age he removed to Wakefield and married Miss Dorothy Quimby, she being the first white child born in that town; here they spent several years, after which they removed to Brookfield. When old age began to shorten their step and memory, they removed to Wolfborough to spend the remainder of their days with their son-in-law and oldest daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Cate. After having lived as man and wife 74 years, 5 mos., and 3 days, that grim messenger, Death, came and separated what seemed almost one and inseparable. He leaves five generations to mourn his death.

☞ The Bell and Everett Torch-light Procession in Boston Wednesday evening, was a very grand and beautiful pageant. Their movements were not quite so prompt as those of the Wide Awakes the night before,—and they were not so numerous,—but yet it was a great turn-out. They cheered the Prince heartily, as they passed the Revere House. The Herald says:—

All along the line cheer upon cheer rent the air, and the spectators answered with equal enthusiasm. We were pleased to see the various club-rooms of the Republicans on the route of the procession all illuminated, as were those of the Union party for the Republicans Tuesday evening. The kind feeling is pleasant and agreeable to witness.

☞ In his recent speech before the bolters at Bangor, Hon. Caleb Cushing said:

So, also, a State may confiscate property, or take it for public use without just compensation, because in this respect the Constitution of the United States contains no limitation of the organic power of the several States.

The Bath Times corrects him, remarking:

In the fifth article of the amendments to the Constitution, we read that "no person" shall "be deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use without just compensation."

SOMNAMBULISM.—A passenger on the Lake Shore Railroad, a few nights since, while in a somnambulic trance, rose from his couch in the sleeping car, and with his eyes open started for the door—the conductor, who thought him awake, very kindly making room for him. The passenger did not return, and the conductor went to look for him and found him—missing. He sent back a hand-car and picked him up, not much injured, but frightfully mad.—He had walked off the platform sound asleep; and when he awoke, found himself skipping and twirling head over heels on the gravel road bed.

FIRE.—The barns and other out buildings of James Reed of Derry were consumed Tuesday morning. The fire was first discovered about midnight. In the barn there thirty tons of hay, eight extra cows, a yoke of superior oxen, one horse, five sheep, one hundred bushels of potatoes, one hundred barrels of No. 1 apples, fifteen bushels of barley, eleven bushels of beans, wagons, harnesses, ploughs, &c. &c. —in short, the entire stock and tools on the premises. Loss estimated at $2,500.—No insurance. The house was saved with difficulty. The fire is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

OFFICIAL VOTE OF VERMONT.—The Legislature of Vermont have counted up the votes for Governor at the September election, and announce the following as the result:

Erastus Fairbanks, Rep.	34,188
John G. Saxe, Douglas Dem.	11,796
Robert Harvey, Breck. Dem.	2,115

GRAIN.—The Laconia Democrat says that Mr. James H. Plumer, who lives on the "White Oaks," in Gilford, has raised this season, on 1 1-4 acre, from one bushel and three pecks of seed, forty bushels of wheat. Also, on one acre, from two bushels of seed, about forty bushels of barley. Also, from seven bushels of oats sowed, he got 290 bushels.

☞ The slight earthquake on Wednesday morning, was noticed at Newburyport, Beverly, some points in Boston, &c., but not in Portsmouth, that we hear of—though within twenty miles both east and west.

☞ The Prince of Wales reached Boston according to programme on Wednesday afternoon, and was in season to witness the grand torch-light procession of the Bell and Everett party, which he pronounced very fine. Along the whole way from the line of New York, crowds were at every stopping place to greet him. At Springfield, where two of Gov. Banks' aids met him, were ten thousand people, who cheered as they would if "Old Abe" or any American lion had been on exhibition. It was the same at Worcester and elsewhere; while at Boston the whole city seemed to be out to meet him. His reception was every way splendid.

In the Musical Festival on Thursday afternoon, the grand Choir of scholars from the public schools sung the following ode, written by Dr. O. W. Holmes; to the tune of "God save the Queen."

God bless our Fathers' Land,
Keep her in heart and hand
One with our own!
From all her foes defend,
Be her brave people's friend,
On all her realms descend,
Protect her throne!

Father, in loving care
Guard thou her kingdom's heir,
Guide all his ways:
Thine arm his shelter be
From harm by land and sea,
Bid storm and dangers flee,
Prolong his days!

Lord, let war's tempests cease,
Fold the whole earth in peace
Under thy wings!
Make all thy nations one,
All hearts beneath the sun,
Till thou shalt reign alone,
Great King of Kings!

DEATH OF COMMODORE SKINNER.—Commodore Charles W. Skinner, U. S. Navy, died at Richmond, Va., on Monday last. His remains were guarded in the Capital over night, and escorted to the Norfolk train on Tuesday morning by the First Regiment. Com. Skinner was one of the oldest officers in the service, having joined the navy in 1809. On the reorganization of the navy he was placed on the reserved list.

☞ Ladies on horseback is a marked feature of the New York Central Park on Saturdays. The ladies' riding hats are described as "loves of things," especially the black beaver ones, with dark green feathers, and black and Solferino trimmings. A local paper thinks it is dangerous to look at a pretty face, rosy with exertion, under one of these saucy hats.

☞ The British fleet which is to convey the Prince of Wales home again, is at Portland. The last time that port was visited by a British fleet was on the 16th of October, 1775, when Capt. Mowatt entered the harbor with two ships, two schooners and a bomb sloop, and almost destroyed the town (then called Falmouth,) by bombardment which continued from 9 A. M. to 6 P. M.

☞ An adroit thief visited the jewelry store of Mr. Bennett, in this city, on Wednesday morning, and by ingenious false pretences procured two watches belonging to customers, from a lad who was attending,—and of course has slipped off with the property, worth one hundred dollars or so.

☞ How many are aware of the origin of the word "boo!" used to frighten children? It is a corruption of Bob, the name of a fierce Gothic General, the son of Odin, the mention of whose name spread a panic among his enemies.

☞ A party of ladies were recently huckle-berrying in the Iron Mountains, Virginia, when they were alarmed by unusual numbers of rattlesnakes. They fled, and a number of the rougher sex having gone to the rendezvous of the snakes, killed seventy-four rattle snakes and eight pilot snakes.

☞ Miss Harriet Hosmer reached St. Louis on Saturday last. Her errand is to gather material and data to enable her to execute the statue of Hon. Thomas H. Benton, which the Missouri Legislature commissioned her to undertake.

☞ Five young ladies from the Union Straw Works, in Foxboro' Mass., recently walked six miles to hear Charles Sumner, and after his speech walked back again the same evening.

☞ Excellent Baldwin apples are now selling in Worcester, says the Spy, for seventy-five cents per barrel. The crop is enormous and one farmer alone has raised some 500 barrels.

☞ A Lynx measuring five feet was killed near Concord, Mass., a week or two since. It has been preserved and is a fine specimen of an almost extinct species in these parts.

SNOW.—We learn that snow fell to the depth of an inch in Peterboro,' on Sunday evening 14th inst.

QUARTERLY MEETING.—The Free Will Baptists held their Quarterly Meeting at Candia, three days this week.

AUGUSTA, Ga., 17.—There was a heavy frost this morning, and the thermometer was at freezing point. Thin ice was formed in the neighborhood.

If you respect yourself as much as you do others, you will be as careful to do nothing wrong when alone, as when in company.

For the Rockingham Weekly Chronicle.

THAT LIQUOR DEALER'S FATHER.—He has long been a church member, and some thought him quite a support; but I do not think his support to its real interests was more than to the amount of a single straw, as he has within a year or two shown that he is not for the temperance reform. He never was much interested in temperance, and his son became a liquor seller. The father did not oppose him for his course, but on the whole countenanced him in it, intimating to some that his son must do something for a living. It is even reported that the father has attended and dealt out the distilled poison when the son was absent, thus helping make paupers, and sending woe, quarrellings, misery, death and ruin out into the community.

Wonder if this church member thinks he is consistent with his high profession?—Does he take part in the social meetings? Does he go to the communion table? I should like to know if he prays? If he does any of these, it seems that he might feel that others were saying in their hearts, "he is a hypocrite." For the honor and good influence of the church, and for suffering humanity, I hope soon there will not be found any in the churches on the wrong side of the cause of temperance and reform. J. F.

WHITE MOUNTAIN MINES.—Several of the mines in this section are now worked with success. The old Franconia iron mine, in which the ore was a magnetic oxide, has been re-opened and furnaces have been erected; about four tons of charcoal iron of very superior quality, worth there from $40 to $45 a ton, are turned out daily. At Warren another old mine has been successfully re-opened; the ore there is an argenufeous galena, and is found in large quantities; about 8000 tons have been got out. At first tremolite and copper pyrites were obtained, and below this occurred the lead ore. Over three pounds of silver on the average are obtained from a ton of the ore, worth $20 a pound; beside the greater value of the lead, this ore in Mexico would be considered worth working for silver alone, and would be remunerative even with the rude apparatus of the native miners.

FREAK OF A DRUNKEN MAN.—What promised to be a sad warning item was spoiled at the depot last evening, through the presence of mind and commendable bravery of one of the flagmen. A man with a gun in his hand, and apparently with considerable bad rum in his stomach, undertook to cross the track on Main street, directly opposite a backing freight train; the flagman saw him and warned him of danger, but the fellow would neither hear or move, and it was not until there was scarcely a hair's breadth between the stranger and the approaching train, when the flagman seized him by the nape of the neck and the large part of his breeches, and pitched him into the middle of the street. By this act his immediately threatened death has been indefinitely postponed. —Springfield Republican.

The editor of the Lewisburg Messenger, who hasn't any wife to take care of him, went the other night to a ladies' fair. He says he saw there 'an article' which he 'fain would own, but it was not for sale'. He declares that since that, he is 'wrapturously wretched.' As the 'article' was bound in hoops, the reader is left to infer that it was either a girl or a keg of whiskey. They are both calculated to make a wretch 'wrapturous.'

The Portland Temperance Journal, referring to Rev. Mr. Spurgeon, says, "we have the authority of a member of his congregation, and a son of one of his deacons, for saying that he is not only a wine and beer drinker, but that he publicly justifies and defends this practice from his pulpit, and sneers at and ridicules tee-totalism in the most approved grog-shop style! We have heard the same thing, we are sorry to say, from other sources."

BABIES PROSCRIBED FROM MARKET.—The Council, says the Cleveland Herald, is asked to pass an ordinance to banish baby wagons from the market ground. Thank fortune, that petition did not come from men. One hundred women were the petitioners, and those petitioners, in their crinoline, require an area six hundred feet in length and six feet broad.

PORTLAND, Oct. 18.—A grand ball was given last night by the citizens, to the Commodore and officers of the British royal squadron, at the City Hall. It was the greatest affair of the kind ever witnessed in this city. Six hundred of the elite of our citizens were present. The English officers were in full uniform. The hall was splendidly decorated.

A calf bitten by a mad dog at Chester, several weeks since, having become rabid from the effects of the bite, was killed by its owner last week. It showed no symptoms of hydrophobia until a day or two previous to its being killed.—Mirror.

FIRE AT EPSOM.—The dwelling house, barn and out buildings of Samuel Bachelder, of Epsom, were burned on the morning of the 11th inst. The barns belonging to Morrell Hoyt and Darius Philbrick, adjoining, were also consumed.—Mirror.

At a meeting of the Sullivan Guards at Exeter, on Monday evening, it was voted that the organization of the Company, formed for a temporary purpose, should be made permanent, and the Sullivan Guards may therefore now be regarded as one of our local institutions.—Ballot.

"There are many, I fear very many, in New Orleans, whose secret sympathies are with Lincoln and Hamlin; and who only await the moment when they may safely disclose them."—Hon. John Slidell.

☞ On Thursday morning, at Boston, Mr. Farnham and his friends visited the Prince at the Revere, and were received most cordially. The Prince entered very freely into conversation with the old soldier, who seemed to enjoy the visit very much. He said that he had heard so much in praise of the Prince of Wales that he feared the people were all becoming royal its. The old gentleman conversed with the Duke of Newcastle upon the events of the Revolution, and after a short stay the party returned to the Adams House, where Mr. Farnham is now stopping.

The Prince, with Gov. Banks and their respective suites, reviewed the troops of Massachusetts early in the afternoon.

☞ A Washington correspondent of the N. Y. World of 12th says:—

There is a widely prevalent rumor here, to the effect that successful efforts are being made for the withdrawal of both Douglas and Breckinridge from the field, and the concentration of the liberated democratic vote on Bell, or some other independent candidate. Douglas and Breckinridge have been consulted within the last twenty-four hours.

POLITICAL AMENITIES.—The Bell and Everett procession in Boston was largely swelled in point of numbers by Douglas Democrats, and lanterns belonging to the Republican Wide Awakes of Roxbury, and loaned for the occasion, were borne by Douglas Democrats in the Bell and Everett procession.

The "jupon multiple" is the name of the latest invented Paris petticoat. It does away with hoops and crinoline, "supporting itself by the harmonious and intelligent disposition of the waves of muslin of which it is composed." It can be "modified" or increased at pleasure.

Portsmouth, Oct. 18.

FOR SORE, WEAK, INFLAMED EYES AND EYELIDS!

A true specific, and invaluable remedy has been at last discovered. Dr. Humphreys argues that these affections invariably result from a constitutional disease, of which the local affection is the only outward manifestation. Hence, HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC OPHTHALMIA PILLS are only taken internally, and yet cure the worst forms of obstinate sore eyes and eyelids, which have resisted all other treatment. All cases of sore and inflamed eyelids, or failing, weak or defective sight, will be promptly benefitted, and the cure of the worst cases is only a question of time.

Price, 50 cents, with directions.

Sent by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price.

Address, DR. F. HUMPHREYS & CO., 562 Broadway, New York.

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

This remedy has long been cherished by the community for its remarkable efficacy in relieving, healing and curing the most obstinate, painful and long standing cases of Coughs, Cold, Influenza, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Inflammation of the Lungs; while even Consumption itself has yielded to the magic influence when all other means have failed. Its whole history proves that the past has produced no remedy of equal value, as a cure for the numerous and dangerous pulmonary affections which prevail all over the land.

From the Editor of the Portsmouth (N. H.) Journal, Aug. 11, 1860.

WISTAR'S BALSAM.—There are but few medicines of which we can express an opinion from personal knowledge. Among such we place prominently WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which should always be kept on hand. It is an excellent medicine not only for Coughs and Colds, but also for neuralgic affections. We have known suffering from the nerves of the stomach effectually relieved by its soothing influence where other medicine has been ineffectually used.

From a highly respectable Merchant.

FALMOUTH, ME., Aug. 10, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & CO.,—

Gents:—For a long time I have suffered more or less with that distressing affliction—Phthisic—in its worst forms, and have resorted to various so called remedies, but to no purpose as affording the desired relief. Deprived of my sleep by reason of the severity of the disease, it was only too evident that I was fast breaking down under it. I resorted to DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY with but little confidence as to its curative properties, but the use of one bottle has entirely rid me of this monster; and to the public I can safely commend it as every worthy their confidence. Most resp'ly, S. I. MERRILL.

THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE,

Containing the news of the week, at home and abroad, as published in the six previous issues of the Daily Chronicle,—is printed on Friday morning, and immediately delivered by our carriers to subscribers in the city, or sent by mail to any part of the State or the world.

As the Weekly Chronicle contains most of the matter from our "local" Daily columns, it will be found an attractive paper for natives of Portsmouth living abroad, and all others interested in our city.

Terms of subscription to the Weekly Chronicle, only $1 per year in advance—sent by carrier without extra charge, to any part of the city and vicinity; or by mail, postage free, to any part of Rockingham County. Direct letters, "Chronicle, Portsmouth, N. H."

Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is cleansed of every impurity, and so arranged and combined that all unhealthy and injurious properties are stricken out, while carbonic acid, the only acitve property remaining, is held in check until set free, thus evolving a gas by means of which Bread is raised, and each acid thus destroyed, which makes it suitable for the most delicate or dyspeptic stomach. Try one paper, and you never will have any other. Grocers and druggists keep it.

There is another article in the market put up in similar colored papers. Do not be deceived by it. See that the name of HERRICK ALLEN is on the wrapper, and no mistake can occur. Manufactured by Allen & Taylor, corner of Canal and Centre streets, New York, and sold at wholesale by Israel Nash & Co., Boston. M&F is

Bronchitis.—This sure forerunner of Consumption can be instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron & Sulphur Powders. The Olive Tar allays pain and heals soreness an inflammation, and the Iron & Sulphur Powders convert the waste or worn out particles of the blood into gases, which are ejected from the body by the pores instead of being deposited as Phlegm. The testimonials of many prominent and well-known persons are contained in a pamphlet, which will be sent free by mail to any address. See advertisement in this paper.

Autocrat of the Kitchen.—35,000 in use!

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,

FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING, LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL
Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stew art is on each stove. No other is genuine.

PIANO FORTES AND MELODEONS

TO RENT, BY C. C. HARVEY.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,

FOR MAKING

Bread, Tea Cakes,

All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.

MANUFACTURED BY

EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,

Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works,

NO. 39 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturer submits it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating house-keepers, bakers, &c., &c.

Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, natural taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.

It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not available reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferment, which is always of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.

It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal. In the ordinary process, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily makes about 250 lbs. gives by this process 290 lbs., and, as effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,

Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with regard to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing but a vegetable salt, which is eminently a healthy food in the bread. It raises the dough without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more sweet, palatable bread than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much other trouble in cooking.

The experiments made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturers, and prove this compound worthy of public approval and extended use.

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."

HOW TO USE IT.

We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in fruit puddings and other pastry.

BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonfuls of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour,) to one quart of flour; mix thoroughly by passing two or three times through a sieve; rub in a piece of butter according to the size of an egg, and make the paste the paste with cold milk or water, (milk is preferable,) barely stiff enough to permit rolling out. Cut with a teacup; should be avoided. Cut into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.

LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.

GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven to one quart of wheat meal, sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.

BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonful of Leaven in one pint of flour, and one pint of corn meal; all well sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—Flour and milk sufficient to make one quart of batter; add one egg, then three teaspoonfuls of Leaven; beat to a froth, and cook quick.

DUMPLINGS.—Sift together one quart of flour and two teaspoonfuls of Leaven; rub in a piece of butter half as large as an egg; mix with cold milk or water, and boil ten minutes.

CHAMBER STREET CAKE.—Sift together two large cups of flour and two teaspoonfuls of Leaven; put in half a cup of butter and a cup and a half of sugar; mix with cold water or milk to a stiff batter, and spice to suit the taste, and bake immediately.

CINCINNATI SPONGE CAKE.—Two cups of white sugar, beaten with the yolks of six eggs; the whites of six eggs beaten to a froth; then beat all together; add three cups of sifted flour, one cup of water, and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven; flavor with two teaspoonful of essence of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.

JUMBLES.—Sift together one quart of flour and three tea-spoonfuls of Leaven; rub in a teacupful of butter; add a cup and a half of white sugar, and spice to suit the taste; mix stiff enough to roll out, and bake quick.

ELECTION CAKE.—One quart of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; add a cup of butter, one pound of currants, two cups of white sugar, and one teaspoonful of cinnamon; mix with cold milk to a stiff batter, and bake in a slow oven.

CORN CAKE.—One pint each of flour and Indian meal, and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, well sifted together; add one gill of molasses and two eggs; mix thin with milk and bake in a slow oven.

CUP CAKE.—Five cups of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, sifted together; add one cup of butter, two of sugar, and two eggs, all well beat together; mix with milk; then add a cup of currants, and spice to suit the taste. Bake about half an hour.

LADIES' CAKE.—Three quarters of a pound of flour and four teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; one pound of sugar and six ounces of butter beaten to a cream; the whole of the flour well beaten, and the juice of one lemon; mix with milk.

WEBSTER CAKE.—Five cups of flour, three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, one cup of sugar, one of butter, one of milk, and two eggs; fruit and spice to the taste. Bake about half an hour.

PROF. WOOD'S

RESTORATIVE CORDIAL

AND

BLOOD-RENOVATOR,

Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revitalizes, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe and assist nature, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from ill health; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and that the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Lassitude, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weaknesses and Irregularities, also Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the chronic form of any Chilled Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the digestive system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following a sudden change of climate and water; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and all should take a tablespoonful at least before retiring. As it imparts a healthy condition, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not stomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. The regular use of the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it—this Cordial is all we claim it—Matters, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known, so the time of latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal for we are sure you never failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be used at the time of need.

O. J. WOOD, Proprietor, 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 Market street, St. Louis, Mo., and sold by all good Druggists at $1 per bottle.

ATWOOD'S

QUININE TONIC BITTERS,

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with other tonic and stomachic s, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases, and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhea, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "has it is the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S

AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance, Its Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who from the injudicious use of liquors, have become debilitated, their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, find a happy and lasting relief by the use of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.

One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.

One dose will cure Heartburn.

Three doses will cure Indigestion.

One dose will give you a good appetite.

One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from indulging too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, his trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, or $1.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

Dr. Mott's

CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE

PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Sulphur by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression, or vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable form. Diseases in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz.:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, DEFICIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, PALE RHEUM, MESMENSTRATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease, or the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved unquestionable to an extent which no description nor written attestation would be credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten by their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very hopeless instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, whose recoveries are apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic symptoms to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of Iron and necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over heating; and gentle, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inducing a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Fits, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by deepening the local tendency, which forms them.

IN DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its cases, a single dose of these Chalybeate Pills has frequently sufficed for the most habitual cases, defeating the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, continued, unremitting, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has always been the theme of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of Iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases especially appertaining to them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been found a most efficacious and speedy in alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In AGUE AND INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effect—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes, containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

Morning Chronicle.

As oftentimes, when walking in a wood near sunset, though the sun himself be hid by the height and bushiness of the trees around, yet we know that he is still above the horizon, from seeing his beams in the open glades before us, illumining a thousand leaves, the several brightnesses of which are so many evidences of his presence; thus it is with the Holy Spirit. He works in secret; but his work is manifest in the lives of all true Christians. Lamps so heavenly must have been lit from on high.

Dr. Arnold, when at Laleham, once lost all patience with a dull scholar, when the pupil looked up in his face and said, "Why do you speak angrily, sir? Indeed I am doing the best I can." Years after the doctor used to tell the story to his own children, and say, "I never felt so ashamed of myself in my life. That look and that speech I have never forgotten." Is not this a very suggestive fact for many parents and teachers, and for masters, too, who are oftimes impatient and unreasonable with youths of this class?

A DISTINCTION WITH A DIFFERENCE. The distinction between the genuine and the spurious "man of honor" is simply this: That the former is watchful lest you in some way injure, insult, or defraud him; while the latter is watchful lest he in some way defraud you. Hence, the one has all the sensitiveness and delicacy of a gentleman, while the other has all the coarseness and heartlessness of a bully.

It is stated that two teaspoonful of finely powdered charcoal, drank in half a tumbler of water, will in less than fifteen minutes give relief to the sick headache, when caused, as in most cases it is, by superabundance of acid on the stomach.

The Bangor Times says the worst feature about the New York fusion is that it receives the hearty approval of the administration. That is enough to secure its utter defeat.—Bath Times.

BLOOD FOOD

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, scientific men, and the public generally, is respectfully solicited to the merits of this chemical preparation, containing Iron, Sulphur and Phosphorus, and which is identical in its composition with the Remote Elements, or red blood.—In all diseases accompanied with pale countenance and nervous derangement, analyses of the blood shows a deficiency of the red globules. Ruddy complexion and a rosy tint of the skin, is always indicative of health; while a pale, wax-like skin and countenance,—which evinces a considerable deficiency of the red globules,—accompanies a diseased organism. Preparations of Iron have been given for the purpose of supplying the red globules, but we contend that Iron alone, Sulpur alone, or Phosphorus alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, but that a judicious combination of all these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its normal standard. This point, never before attained, has been reached in the Blood Food, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age. Its effects in

DEBILITY,

are to soften the cough, brace the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood by restoring the lacking red globules, increase the appetite, restore the color, and clothe the skeleton frame with flesh. The Blood Food will be found a specific in all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT or LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the vocal organs. In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Scrofula, Gravel, St. Vitus' Dance, Fever and Ague, &c., its efficacy is marked and instantaneous. In no class of diseases, however, are the beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous as in those harrassing to which the gentler sex are liable, and which tend towards Consumption, such as suppressed or difficult Menstruation, Green Sickness, Whites, &c., especially when these complaints are accompanied with paleness, a dingy hue or pallor of the skin, depression of spirits, debility, and indeed want of appetite, and nervous prostration. We have the utmost confidence in recommending the Blood Food to all who may be conscious of a loss of vitality or energy, and to those whose mental or bodily powers are prostrated through over-work, care or anxiety of the mind or body, and we dean it our duty to say that in all cases of Weakness and Emaciation, and in all diseases of the Kidneys or Bladder, this preparation has a claim upon the attention of sufferers which cannot be over-estimated. A faithful trial will be found the most convincing proof in regard to its efficacy that could be asked for. With the above remarks, and with the numerous testimonials we have in its favor, we offer the Blood Food to the public, and to those of the afflicted, knowing that it will be acknowledged as pre-eminent over all other preparations, patent or official, in point of usefulness. Circulars giving the Theory upon which this remedy is founded, also certificates of remarkable cures, will be sent free when desired. We forward the Blood Food to any part of the United States or Canadas upon receipt of price—$1 per bottle, $5 for six bottles. Be careful in all cases to take none but that having our fac-similie signature upon the wrapper. None other is genuine.

FEMALE COMPLAINTS

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

New Photographic Establishment.
Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.
The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.
All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.
Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1860.

POLITICS as a science may be a great study. No doubt it is, particularly when considered in connection with the art and artfulness of some politicians. Very amusing it is, too, when studied in the Union Democrat. That able paper of the 16th, contains an eidtorial on the recent election in Pennsylvania, in which attempt is made to cyphor that State away from Lincoln in November. The Democrat then says:

The friends of Mr. Breckenridge are primarily responsible for this unfortunate result. They present us a platform which we will not adopt. They must go back to principles of '56 or we must separate; but under existing circumstances, if we could take the State from Lincoln and give it to Breckinridge we would cheerfully do so—and the more cheerfully since it can do him no good!!!

We put on the admiration marks, to show we admire the generosity and cheerfulness of a vote which can do no good to him who receives it; and how much also everybody must admire the prospects of a fusion with such beautiful temper in the fusionists. But we jump along to the close of the Democrat's article, which reads thus:

When the election is over, we will divide, and some of us will try for another four years to organize a party of sufficient strength to kick the nigger out of Congress, and everybody who tries to keep him there.

Well: we thought they were somewhat divided now; but let that pass.

In another article, the same paper says:

Looking merely at the chances of local success, a national defeat is perhaps the quickest, if not the most agreeable, way to reach it.

It really begins to look, says Uncle Toby, as if things were going the "quickest way."

☞ The revolution at Naples has laid the famous castle of St. Elmo open to public inspection. The horrors related of it yield but little in interest to the stories of La Bastille, of which it will soon share the fate. The people of Naples now only await the Dictator's bidding to lay hand to this work. A correspondent says they will find it a tough job. One day he found the impatient citizens already busy pulling back the huge brass guns, each of which was most offensively pointed at some of the most densely crowded quarters of the town, and turning their muzzles inward. What a fortress, and what a protection to the city! It was no bad emblem of the whole sea and land might of the Bourbon—worse than useless against foreign aggression, and wholly directed to crush internal commotion.

☞ If a man's great grandfather was a mulatto, then the man himself would not be a mulatto, not even an octoroon, but a sixteenth, for which we have no word, and would be declared by a Virginia or Louisiana Court to be a white man. So if another man's great grandfather had been born in Cork, he would be the sixteenth of an Irishman, we suppose, but the K. N.'s would not think of shutting him out. The hair splitters stumble over straws.

THE PRINCE IN NEW YORK.—It is stated that the receipts at the Prince's ball at the New York Academy of Music were $40,000; the cost was $32,000; so that the Committee has $8000 unused. On his departure from the Fifth Avenue Hotel, Lord Renfrew presented the sum of $700 to the servants of the house. To Captain Faunce, of the revenue cutter Harriet Lane, he gave a handsome gold chronometer; and made a donation of $300 to the crew of the vessel.

☞ The Prince of Wales, says the New York Times, goes to Trinity Church, and is met with the information furnished him on a printed programme that "the boy (James Little) who takes the solos in the anthem, has a voice of extraordinary power and splendor." "This is one word for the boy who 'takes the solos'; two words for the church which hires the boy—and what for the Almighty in whose name the 'solos' are taken, and the church built up?

☞ A correspondent of the New York Times writes from Albany that the Duke of Newcastle says he can find no words with which to express to the Queen his gratification at the Prince's reception, except that she, as Queen, could not in her own dominions expect to receive greater homage than has been paid to her son in America.

THE APPLE CROP throughout New England is an immense one, and has rarely if ever been exceeded. The fruit, generally, is fair, of good quality, and so cheap in many localities, that it will not pay a profit even to steal the best varieties.

"ALL IS NOT GOLD," &c.—The "Citizen" newspaper, printed away back in Sierra County, California, contains a sheriff's list of about half-a-dozen columns of delinquent tax-payers in that one County.

FARMING

In this country does not seem to be an attractive business. The proportion of farmers was never as large as it should have been, and is relatively growing smaller.—Men flee from the lands where abundance rewards industry, and collect in the cities overrunning with poverty and crime. This is so, not only with our native population, but one-half of all the Irish immigrants and a third of all the Germans do the same. They cannot bear the isolation and monotony of rural life; and they pant for something more stirring and exciting; something that moves the pulse and promises quicker and greater rewards. Everybody makes haste to be rich, and can not stop for the slow accumulations of persevering labor and frugal industry; and therefore the whole farming country of the Eastern States is being abandoned; and as soon as they can skim the surface, it will be the same in the West.

We take New Hampshire for an illustration. So sparsely peopled, in this age of railroads that brings every man's farm to the door of the Boston market house—in this age of manufactures that give employment to every waterfall, and build up so rapidly the Manchesters, Nashuas, Dovers, and other factory towns—New Hampshire should not fall behind the country generally, if farming was a desirable employment: but a State that once had six members of Congress, twenty years ago had fallen to four, and ten years ago to three; and now to two; and to-morrow the State of Starke and Sullivan, of Webster and Cass, of Woodbury and Pierce will have but a solitary member in the popular branch of the national government. The aggregate increase of the whole population in ten years, while the manufacturing towns we have referred to have increased so rapidly, and the foreign born have been flowing in for the factory and the farm, has been but about eight thousand. All the farming districts have decreased; some of them a tenth and some of them perhaps a quarter part. We were in one of the best towns in the State a few days since, and visited what had been a school district, where fifty years ago were fourteen families, in which not a person now resides, nor is one of the farms cultivated; and many such there are in other towns.

New Hampshire is no exception among the States. It is the same with every section of New England; also of New York; and even back as far as Ohio the increase of agriculturists is surprisingly small. The same story is told every where. The young men are deserting the country which God made, for the city that men built; the young women are leaving the virtuous firesides of their parents, for the delusions and follies of the city; agriculture, always honored by the wise, which employed the great men of antiquity, and holds the first place with the wisest men ofour day, which furnishes the lifeblood for the trades and the brains for the professions, is abandoned as undesirable.

We regard this as a bad condition of things. A thousand times better off would be the people of the country, if they should adhere to their paternal acres, and die upon the same farms on which they were born, and around which all the happy and innocent associations of childhood and youth cluster. If they want money even, there they should seek it. There is no place in the world where a farm-bred boy can grow rich as certainly as digging in a manure heap. It may be a slow process, but it is sure.

There is this the farmer always has on his side—he will have enough to eat. It wealth does not come, competence is always within his reach. If there are no millionaires on the farms, there is no such squalid, wretched poverty as in the cities. Strange indeed does it seem, that he who has held the plough should long for the yard-stick; that he who has been master of honest oxen, should be willing to serve in obedience to the laws of trade; that he who has had the firm earth for his support, should put his hopes in prices current, freighting lists, or bank note tables. Would God, for themselves and the world, that the farmers would cling to the soil.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ The following is the state of society that some people want to extend into the Territories. The Pittsburg Dispatch says:

A lady of this city who recently visited Virginia (in the Slave section) informs us that not only was she not permitted to receive a Pittsburg paper, but private letters were found to have been opened by the Postmaster or his clerks for fear that something "incendiary" might be going on. Is this freedom—such freedom as we should desire to extend into the Territories? The meanest tyrant of Europe is not worse than this—that even a woman cannot receive a paper, or be secure against the sneaking and prying into her private letters by "dirty dogs in the Post Office."

☞ It would appear that the violin is a perfect instrument, since, although more than two hundred and fifty years have transpired since its origin in Italy, and countless attempts have been made to improve upon its construction, it not only remains without material change, but connoisseurs esteem the oldest specimens of the greatest value—especially those made by the brothers Amati, and by Stradaurius, at Cremona, about the year 1650.

WIFE MURDER.—We learn, says the Springfield Republican, that a murder occurred at Alford, Mass., Tuesday evening. The wife of Uriah Reed, who was stopping at the residence of her father, John B. Van Duesen, was approached by her husband, and shot dead. She had left him some time before on account of ill treatment, and this fatal act was committed for revenge. Reed has been arrested.

While no class in the community is too sacred to be ridiculed when it deserves to be so treated, no amount of satire can deprive a man or a class of men of the respect to which they are justly entitled.

THE RIGHT SORT OF HORSES.—Many a man keeps and prizes what he calls "a family horse," when in fact the stupid brute is good for nothing but to grind in a mill.—An incident at the late State Fair at Manchester, goes to show one difference between the two sorts of horses.

A young stallion got startled, and ran.—The driver, with good pluck, held to the bit, when the horse knocked him down and dragged him under his feet over twenty rods, where he was forced to let him go.—The colt then took up the track, out again to the inside through the crowd, back across the track, jumping terribly, breaking the fences, carriages and everything in his way; as he came back to the track, Father Robie of Weare, who is well known at Fairs for his display of horses, was passing, the enfuriated colt jumped square into the wagon, knocking Mr. Robie out, and smashing the wagon to pieces. Mr. R. struck upon his head, but escaped most miraculously, without injury, save being stunned for a few moments. The colt tore on in his mad career through the crowd, out at the main entrance into the street, where he was stopped. No great damage was done, but the excitement was terrible—women fainted, men trembled, children screamed, and everybody fled; and why should'nt they, to have a crazy, mad horse tearing through a crowd of thousands? It was enough to cause staunch hearts to quail.

The horse Father Robie was driving was one of the iron greys rode by ladies in the Cavalcade. When the old gentleman was asked if he was hurt, his answer was, "Did you see my horse? that's the kind of horse to own, and I've been trying to make people believe so for ten years; there's blood there." Such an accident would have frightened almost any horse, but Mr. Robie's scarcely noticed it, for when the wagon was torn from him and his driver upset, he only ran across the track, stopped and quietly looked around to see what was the matter. Such horses are worth having.

☞ James S. Read, the well known saddler of Boston, manufactured a superb saddle and bridle for the use of the Prince of Wales at the military review. The saddle is of quilted buckskin, covered with blue velvet and edged with gold. The cloth of blue velvet with heavy gold fringe around the edge and trimmed with gold lace two inches wide, with three gold plumes in the corners. The holsters of blue velvet mounted with gold fringe and tipped with gold. They were ornamented with lace and the crest of His Highness. The breastplate of blue velvet, bound with gold and with a gold crest in the centre. The bridle of patent leather, stitched with silk.—The front and nose piece bound with gold and fringe; the reins were of white webb, the rosettes have crests; the bits, buckles and stirrups were of gold. Altogether it was a most magnificent affair.

☞ The flag ship of the English North American squadron, the "Nile," ninety-one guns, Admiral Sir Alexander Milne, and the "Styx," six guns, arrived in Portland on Wednesday morning last. Our flag was saluted with twenty-one guns from the Nile. The salute was returned from Fort Preble with one of eleven guns in honor of the Admiral.

☞ With five splendid war ships riding at anchor in the harbor of Portland, it now presents a fine appearance. The salutes and the hoisting of the Royal standards, with the manning of the yards on the embarkation of his Royal Highness, will be a splendid sight.

☞ John M. Butler, who holds the certificate of a legally elected member of Congress from the First Philadelphia District, publishes a card giving his reasons for retaining the certificate. He thinks he is really chosen, but will afford every opportunity to the contestant, Mr. Lehman.

☞ The Englishman who insultingly threatened the Prince of Wales in New York, died a few days since with the delirium tremens.

"Did you ever intend to marry?" asked a tall and timid young man of his "intended," to whom he wanted to, but dared not, "pop the question."

"I marry! No, not at all, man!" she replied, blushingly.

Whereupon he took up his hat and left, forlorn and heartsick, for he thought she said, "not a tall man!"

A certain amount of opposition is a great help to a man. Kites rise against, and not with the wind. Even a head wind is better than none. No man ever worked his passage anywhere in a dead calm. Let no man wax pale, therefore, because of opposition. Opposition is what he wants, and must have, to be good for anything.

LUCKS.—Bad luck is simply a man with his hands in his pockets and a pipe in his mouth—looking on to see how it will come out. Good luck is a man of pluck with his sleeves rolled up, and working to make it come right.

"HEROINE" is perhaps as peculiar a word as any in our language; the two first letters of it are male, the three first female, the four first a brave man, and the whole word a brave woman.

EUROPE IN 1871.—The Abbe Galiari wrote years ago a sketch of "Europe as it would be in a hundred years." "There will be two very distict religions—the one that of the higher and lettered classes; the other that of the people. Priests and monks will be numerous, moderately rich, ignored and tranquil. The Pope will be nothing more than an illustrious bishop, and not a sovereign. There will be large regular armies on foot, and but little fighting. The chief sovereign of Europe will be the monarch of our Tartars; that is to say, the prince will possess Poland, Russia, Prussia, and command the Baltic seas, for the nations of the north will always remain less than those of the south. England will separate herself from Europe, as Japan has from China, and will unite herself with America. There will be the despotism of chicanery, cunning and sleight of the courts and lawyers. Happy in those days, the millionaires, who will be our mandarins. They will be everything, for the military will serve only for parade. Manufactures will flourish everywhere, as they now do in India."

The New York merchants, fearful of the disturbance of trade by the election, have determined to raise funds for the election of the fusion ticket. The subscription has now been opened a week, and names appear on the roll with heavy sums set against them. The report is that a million dollars will be forthcoming. Never was a more foolish contribution, or one that would accomplish less practical good. Whatever the amount raised, it will not change the result, and but very little of it will ever be used for that purpose. It is probably a trick of observing politicians, who seeing that their offices and salaries are soon to cease, want a corruption fund to fill their own pockets.—Newburyport Herald.

Possession given immediately. CHAS. C. HARVEY.
Portsmouth, Oct. 18.

☞ We call the attention of our readers to an article advertised in another column, called Blood Food. It is an entirely new discovery, and must not be confounded with any of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and what one gains he retains. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity, or deficiency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, take of this BLOOD FOOD and be restored to health.

Bronchitis.—This sure forerunner of Consumption can be instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron & Sulphur Powders. The Olive Tar allays pain and heals soreness on inflammation, and the Iron & Sulphur Powders convert the waste or worn out particles of the blood into gases, which are ejected from the body by the pores instead of being deposited as Phlegm. The testimonials of many prominent and well-known persons are contained in a pamphlet, which will be sent free by mail to any address. See advertisement in this paper.

Atwood's Quinine Tonic Bitters,—the best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the public.—All the Druggists have it. See advertisement.

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.
This remedy has long been cherished by the community for its remarkable efficacy in relieving, healing and curing the most obstinate, painful and long standing cases of Cough, Cold, Influenza, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Inflammation of the Lungs; while even Consumption itself has yielded to its magic influence when all other means have failed. Its whole history proves that the past has produced no remedy of equal value, as a cure for the numerous and dangerous pulmonary affections which prevail all over the land.

From the Editor of the Portsmouth (N. H.) Journal, Aug. 11, 1860.
WISTAR'S BALSAM.—There are but few medicines of which we can express an opinion from personal knowledge. Among such we place prominently WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which should always be kept on hand. It is an excellent medicine not only for Coughs and Colds, but also for neuralgic affections. We have known suffering from the nerves of the stomach effectually relieved by its soothing influence where other medicine has been ineffectually used.

From a highly respectable Merchant.
FALMOUTH, ME., Aug. 30, 1860.
MESSRS. S. W. FOWLE & CO.,—
Gents:—For a long time I have suffered more or less with that distressing affliction—Phthisis—in its worst forms, and have resorted to various so called remedies, but to no purpose as affording the desired relief. Deprived of my sleep by reason of the severity of the disease, it was only too evident that I was fast breaking down under it. I resorted to Dr. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY with but little confidence as to its curative properties, but the use of one bottle has entirely rid me of this monster; and to the public I can safely commend it as every worthy their confidence. Most resp'ly, S. I. MERRILL.

S. J. COURT — PORTSMOUTH, Friday.

In case No. 49, Palmer v. City of Portsmouth, the jury rendered a verdict for the pliff. for $700, as damages for injuries received by running against a joiner's bench standing in the highway by the roadside.—The evidence in this case was in several instances, very contradictory. Exceptions are taken, and questions raised, in order to transfer the action. Goodall for pliff. Hatch and Hoyt for city.

The next case in order for trial Friday morning, was State vs. Stephen Rowell of Newcastle, for an assault with intent to kill Joshua K. Card. Verdict, guilty, but recommended to clemency of Court.

Following the above case, Daniel Hennessey of Portsmouth, was tried for an aggravated assault upon Henry L. Foote.—Verdict, not guilty.

Benj. Watson of Portsmouth, for larceny of $25 from Richard Hilton, Aug. 18. Arraigned; to be tried Saturday.

The capital trials, State vs. Richard S. Richardson and Sarah Ann Healey, for the murder of Stephen Healey at Auburn, are assigned for Monday afternoon next. Chief Justice Bell will preside with Judge Doe. It is understood Richardson will be defended by W. H. Y. Hackett and Wm. C. Clark; and Mrs. Healey by D. M. Christie and B. P. Cilley.

At a meeting of the Rockingham Bar held on Friday, Messrs. W. H. Y. Hackett, Amos Tuck, and Albert R. Hatch were appointed committee to report Resolutions expressive of the feelings of the Bar upon the death of the late Hon. John S. Wells and William H. Gilman.

NARROW ESCAPE.— On Friday forenoon, as a son of Mr. Wm. Bagley, who lives near the Woodbury mansion, was driving home over the C. & P. Railroad track, at the Creek Bridge, in a wagon—the 11 o'clock train struck the hind wheels of his carriage, shattering the vehicle, and throwing the young man violently to the ground; where, as he held to the reins, he was dragged and considerably bruised. The horse was soon stopped, and did no other damage. The relative situation of the post road and the railroad track, at this point, renders it rather a dangerous place, even with the utmost care on the part of all; and a flagman there at train times, would save much risk. We have heard reports of several narrow escapes before.

THE PRINCE OF WALES will embark at Portland this afternoon, towards evening. The Prince and his suite will leave Boston in a special train over the Eastern Railroad, at 9 1-2 o'clock on Saturday morning. Mr. Prescott, the Superintendent of the road, has fitted up a splendid car, and made every arrangement for the royal party. This special train may be expected to arrive in Portsmouth at three minutes before 12, and tarry here about three minutes; to reach Portland at 45 minutes past 1 o'clock.

There will of course be no opportunity for any "reception;" but we understand that Capt. Pearson, Commandant at the Navy Yard, will fire a royal salute of 21 guns, as the Prince passes through the city.

Quite a concourse of people will probably go to Portland in previous trains, from Boston and elsewhere, to witness his reception and embarkation, to see the fleet, &c.

To accommodate them, the P. S. & P. Railroad will run a special train of cars from Portland at 7 P. M. for Portsmouth, Dover, and Boston.

☞ A special train over the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth R. R., will leave Portland for Boston and intermediate Stations, to-day, at 7 o'clock, P. M., to accommodate those who wish to witness the Ceremonies of the Reception and embarkation of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, at Portland.

THANKSGIVING.—Gov. Goodwin, by and with advice and consent of Council, has appointed the 29th of November as Thanksgiving day in this State.

The same day has been set apart for the same purpose by the Governors of New York, New Jersey, and some other States; and it is not improbable that the same day may be generally observed.

PUNCTUATION.—The following inscription was copied from a beautiful and costly marble tombstone, which stands in the cemetery of Genesee N. Y.:—

"Blessed are they that die in the Lord for they rest from their labors. Eternal rest give to him O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon him from the gates of hell, deliver his soul. O Lord may he rest in peace. O Lord hear my prayer and let my application come unto thee.—Amen."

The inscription is relieved of ambiguity by retrenching the deceased "him" with a period, commencing the word "from" with a capital letter, and removing the comma which is planted against the "gates of hell." The Troy Whig trusts it will be done. So do we. Few men could rest in peace underthe weight of such a "structure."—N. Y. Express.

The elections will show that nearly all of those States that voted to nominate Douglas will go for Lincoln—those who voted against Douglas will vote against Lincoln.—Hartford Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Upwards of 1000 are about to be sent to California and Texas.

Gen. Lane has returned from Kentucky.

The pistol, a valuable relic of the Washington family, taken by Cook from Col. Washington during the Harper's Ferry raid, has been returned to the latter by Thaddeus Hyatt, who received it from an unknown source.

GOVERNMENT SURVEY. — Brownsville, Mo., Oct. 18.—Capt. Gaines and party, engaged on a government survey east of the six principal meridians, has arrived. He reports that the country has a rich soil, and well watered, and that timber is scarce, except on the Little Blue and its tributaries.

A large party of Pike's Peakers had arrived, bound east. They brought a large amount of gold, and report mining news favorable.

FORT SMITH, Oct. 17.—Bob Montgomery and Frank Rivers were hung at San Antonia, Texas, for horse stealing.

It is reported that the Indians had attacked a store of one of the settlers at Fort Defiance, and held possession of the post for six hours in the face of four companies of the U. S. troops.

FROM CALIFORNIA. — San Francisco dates of the 6th.

There have been heavy showers throughout the State, indicating an early approach of the rainy season.

Oregon advices represent matters the same as before reported. There will probably be no Senatorial election this season.

NEBRASKA ELECTION.—Omaha, Oct. 18. Morton, Dem., is positively elected to Congress. The Legislature stands as follows: House—Republicans 22, Democrats 17;—Council each 6, one doubtful.

☞ The Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, this day published, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room: price 3 cents; $1 per year, in advance.

WISTAR'S WILD CHERRY BALSAM.—This Balsamic compound has become a home fixture. Let all who suffer, and have in vain attempted to cure their coughs, colds, bronchial or pulmonary complaints, make use of this unrivalled remedy.

☞ Reader, have you seen Prof. Wood's advertisement in our paper. Read it; it will interest you. tf

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,
FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL
Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.
Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:
DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.
CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.
ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.
VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.
ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.
THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.
BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.
HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.
WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.
Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stew art is on each stove. No other is genuine.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,

FOR MAKING

Bread, Tea Cakes,

All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,

MANUFACTURED BY

EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,

Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works,

NO. 33 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a finer better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturers submit it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating house-keepers, bakers, &c., &c.

Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable natural taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.

It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available in places and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating all difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferment, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.

It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into the acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the dough. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, this loss is avoided, and the object obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, as has been stated, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily makes about 260 lbs. gives by this process 290 lbs., thus effecting the very important saving of 10 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES.

Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with regard to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded, from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing but a vegetable salt, which is essentially a desirable food in the bread, and which, when consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce loaves of equal, palatable bread than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much time in the baking.

The experiments made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturers, and prove this compound worthy of public approval and extended use. Respectfully,

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

18 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."

HOW TO USE IT.

We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in fruit puddings and other pastry.

BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonfuls of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour,) to one quart of flour; mix thoroughly by passing two or three times through a sieve; rub in a piece of butter the size of an egg; and make the paste thin paste with cold milk or water, (milk is preferable,) barely stiff enough to permit rolling out. The kneading should be avoided. Cut into desired form, an place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.

LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.

GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven to one quart of wheat meal, sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.

BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonful of Leaven to one pint of flour, and one pint of corn meal, all well sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—Flour and milk sufficient to make one quart of batter; add one egg, then three teaspoonfuls of Leaven; beat to a froth, and cook quick.

DUMPLINGS.—Sift together one quart of flour and two teaspoonfuls of Leaven; rub in a piece of butter half as large as an egg; mix with cold milk or water, and boil ten minutes.

CHAMBER SYRUP CAKE.—Sift together two large cups of flour and two teaspoonfuls of Leaven; put in half a cup of butter and a cup and a half of sugar; mix with cold water or milk to a stiff batter, and spice to suit the taste, and bake immediately.

CINCINNATI SPONGE CAKE.—Two cups of white sugar, beaten with the yolks of six eggs—the whites of six eggs beaten to a froth; then beat all together; add three cups of sifted flour, one cup of water, and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven; flavor with two teaspoonfuls of essence of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.

JUMBLES.—Sift together one quart of flour and three tea spoonfuls of Leaven; rub in one teacupful of butter; add a cup and a half of white sugar, and spice to suit the taste; mix stiff enough to roll out, and bake quick.

ELECTION CAKE.—One quart of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; add a cup of butter, one pound of currants, two cups of white sugar, and one teaspoonful of cinnamon; mix with cold milk to a stiff batter, and bake in a slow oven.

CORN CAKE.—One pint each of flour and Indian meal, and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, well sifted together; add one gill of molasses and two eggs; mix thin with milk and bake in a slow oven.

CUP CAKE.—Five cups of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, sifted together; add one cup of butter, two of sugar, and two eggs, all well beat together; mix with milk; then add a cup of currants, and spice to suit the taste. Bake about half an hour.

LADIES' CAKE.—Three quarters of a pound of sugar and four teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; one pound of sugar and six ounces of butter beaten to a cream; the whites of twelve eggs well beaten, and the juice of one lemon; mix with milk.

WEBSTER CAKE.—Five cups of flour, three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, three cups of sugar, one cup of butter, one of milk, and two eggs; fruit and spice to the taste. Bake about half an hour.

Hundreds of testimonials to the good result from the use of this Cordial could be offered—the following will suffice:

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 6, 1860.

I hereby certify that I have used a variety of preparations for the cure of Rheumatism, of the benefit of which I can speak in the highest terms, but none of them have proved so effectual and lasting as Zollickoffer's Anti-Rheumatic Cordial, and would advise all afflicted with that painful disease to give it a fair trial.

PROF. WOOD'S

RESTORATIVE CORDIAL

—AND—

BLOOD RENOVATOR,

Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital principle, and renews and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully compounded as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as is not in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe the weakest stomach, and cause no the digestive organs, or stimulate or produce any other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can be given in large doses. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and those who have suffered from debility, for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of disease, of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weaknesses and peculiarities. Also Liver Complaints, Dyspepsia or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidney, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general disorder of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Humans Sick, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following in the wake of these, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the blood, purifying it, and at the same time invigorating, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following in the wake of climates and water; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and all should take a tea-spoonful at least twice a day, as it will prevent excretions, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not accustomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and effectual remedy against those ills which render them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it—this Cordial is all we claim it.—Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known, in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they would be trampled in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal to save your sons, husbands, and brothers, and we will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be used in time of need.

W. F. WOOD, Proprietor, 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 Market street, St Louis, Mo., and sold by all good Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

ATWOOD'S

QUININE TONIC

BITTERS,

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonics and stomachics, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, gradually good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases, and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "but it is the best or promotion of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S

AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Chills Fever, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance, It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—I wine glass full as often as necessary.

One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.

One dose will cure Heartburn.

Three doses will cure Indigestion.

One dose will give you a good appetite.

One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the food receives the benefit of this invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual system, restore the blooom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters, "it cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE

PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innumerable are the maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSUMPTION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continual diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten by their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world and returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims to apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and hypoptic aversion to life and exertion for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron is peculiarly salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over tasking; and gently, yet perfectly, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gentle purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for DYSPEPSIA, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSENTERY, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the latter, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has always had the sanction of friend, physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good result of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been found invaluable, as reported, in relieving pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In MALARIA, or AGUE, it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, safe, and fully restorative effect.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, Under the act of 1837.
76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber: and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
BOSTON, February 8, 1858.
"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice twenty-one applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metal sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

New Photographic Establishment.
Having fitted up and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied to any size desired.
The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, assures almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.
All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.
Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

SHOPS: { No. 22 CONGRESS STREET, and No. 31 STATE STREET.
Orders from neighboring towns and the country promptly attended to.
Having taken the Shop and Bake House, No. 31 STATE STREET, formerly occupied by Mr S. N. Plumer, the subscriber offers to his patrons
ON TUESDAY, MARCH 27th, at that place, and also at the new Shop, corner of Congress and Fleet streets, (next door to Jackson & Co.'s Express Office,) a good assortment of all kinds of Bread, Cake and Pastry, including Ship Bread, Crackers, &c., &c.
The Bake House on State street will be open every Sunday morning, for supplying customers with Bread, Buns, &c., as usual.
Baking for Families carefully attended to.
In addition to our Shops, we shall with our Cart, on Tuesday morning, commence supplying customers at their doors. Our agent, Mr. ENO. F WILDES, will attend to all orders delivered him.
Grateful for past favors, we would respectfully solicit a share of the public patronage.
GEORGE W. PLUMER.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1860.

☞ The Democratic Congressional Convention met in Newburyport on Friday.

Dr. Loring of Salem, moved an adjournment sine die, which was carried by eight majority, to the disgust of the Douglas men, who afterward indulged in excited speeches.

The Breckinridge men will hold a straight convention next week.

Douglas men re-organized and nominated Jefferson Knight of Marblehead for Congress, and George Upton of Salem for Presidential Elector.

The Herald gives a fair report, and then closes thus:—

Thus ended the Democratic convention, and they have done more to strengthen the Republican party than any other meeting which has been held in Newburyport.—While in this city the two factions have united, in other parts of the county still wider breaches have sprung up, which the short time intervening before election will not be long enough to heal. For some time after the adjournment the different parties lingered in the hall, and angry looks and words were freely interchanged. We should no doubt be true to history if we were to assert that on no other occasion since the time when Newburyport was a wilderness has so much profanity been heard, so many bad passions so violently aroused, and so much of the devil shown, as on this.

SNOW IN OCTOBER.—Snow fell to the depth of five inches in North Adams, Sunday night, and a man drove in from Florida with a sleigh, Monday morning.

There was good sleighing in Worthington, Mass., on Monday, from the snow storm of the previous night.

The snow storm at Burlington, Vt., on Monday, covered the ground five inches deep. The appearance of the trees, yet in full foliage, some with green, some with yellow, and some with red leaves, and all heavily laden with snow, was beautiful and singular.

LIFE IN THE SUNNY SOUTH.—Two individuals from Alabama recently fought a bayonet duel in New Orleans. After a few passes one thrust his weapon into the left shoulder of the other and lifted him from the ground as a farmer lifts a fork full of hay. This put an end to the affair.

SUNDAY HUNTING.—Four individuals, residents of Hartford, in disregard of the law, went on a gunning excursion to East Hartford, Sunday before last, and spent the day in shooting squirrels and other small game, to the great annoyance of the quiet, Sabbath-observing citizens of that town. They were ferretted out, arrested, and fined for their Sunday's hunting.

☞ The British Government lately made the Mayor of Kingston, Jamaica, a Knight Companion of the Bath, and more recently, Mr. Samuel Cockburn, another gentleman of color, and a creole of the Island of Granada, has been appointed administrator of the Government of Montserrat.

☞ The Countess La Torre is a lady so devoted to Garibaldi and his cause that she follows the Dictator wherever he goes. At Caserta she wore a sort of Bloomer dress, pantaloons, a man's hat with red feather, and high boots. For arms she carried a revolver and a sabre, both of which she can use with deadly skill.

☞ While Lord Renfrew was at Albany, Philip Mills, an old veteran of Waterloo, one of the guards to whom Wellington said on that eventful day, "Up and at them," was presented to the Prince and his suite, who manifested a deep interest in him, and doubtless left substantial tokens of regard with him. Mills is a shoemaker.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the Charleston Courier writes as follows about the New York election:

The last hope of the anti Republicans rests upon the State of New York. The recent Union demonstration in the city of New York and the final fusion of the anti-Lincoln elements promise something; but, as against a fixed Lincoln majority in the State, fusion can be of no avail. By a greater or less majority, Lincoln will carry the State. That was the conclusion to which I was reluctantly brought by a month's visit recently to different parts of the State.

☞ The New York Herald has made the discovery, to which it devotes four columns of type, that Douglas is the man to be held responsible for the Lecompton Constitution. It publishes twelve letters, being a correspondence between the President and members of the Democratic Association at Leavenworth and others, in which the allegations are authenticated.

☞ John Roakes of Montpelier, who attempted to involve an Irish girl in his attempt to poison one of the family of C. W. Willard, has been sent to the penitentiary for eight years.

☞ The Prince of Wales, being an Oxford scholar, visited Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., on Friday,—also Mount Auburn, Bunker Hill, &c.

A disgraceful occurrence took place in the College grounds. Shortly after the arrival of the royal party, Joseph Sanderson, City Marshal, accompanied by several aids and policemen, were engaged in clearing a way in the crowd (for such it was at this time,) when several gentlemen, said to belong to the Law School, showed themselves obstinate and would not stand back as requested.

As a consequence they were trodden upon by the horses. One young man, Michael Waller Robinson, of Fulton, Mo., was sorely aggravated at being thus trodden upon, and raising his cane struck Marshal Sanderson on the back. Robinson was arrested and taken to the lock-up. The Southern students, sympathizing with their fellow, made a rush for the officers and demanded the release of the prisoner, which was refused.

One young man, Wm. G. Stone, of Versailles, Ky., was also arrested, and taken away. After it was found that the Marshal would not grant the release of the prisoner, the students proceeded to the lockup and rescued Stone. He was carried on the shoulders of the students to Dane Hall, and the anger seemed to subside.

☞ Michael Kelly, a brutal teamster in Boston, went to his home Thursday evening, and finding his wife unwell in bed, and no supper prepared for him, seized the poor woman and dragging her from the bed, beat and kicked her in the most brutal manner, until he broke her back, and literally beat her to death. He had been in the habit of beating her, and of course is a drinker of strong drink. He has been arrested and lodged in jail. They have four children.

☞ The New York Post says that to Senator Seward more than to any one else, probably, does Lord Renfrew owe whatever pleasure he has received from his present visit to this country, for it was mainly at his suggestion, and under his advice as to its general method of prosecution, that the Queen's government was induced to make the experiment.

SCARCITY OF WATER. — The Fall River News says there is a very general complaint of a scarcity of water, both for domestic and manufacturing purposes, in many towns in that section of the Commonwealth. In that city, the want threatens to be a serious one, unless the heavens open and pour down their treasures very soon; some parts of the factories are running on short time in consequence of this fact.

☞ We learn from the Gloucester Telegraph that the ship Castilian, of Newburyport, one of the vessels chartered to convey to Africa the slaves taken into Key West from the slavers captured by our national vessels last spring, has arrived at Cape Mount in 56 days from Key West.—Ninety-two of the negroes died on the passage, from various complaints. She had upward of 400 on board when she left Key West.

☞ The Faculty at Hanover are hunting up the authors of the outrage upon the son of Judge Fowler. Three students have been suspended—one a resident of this State, one of Mississippi, and one of Massachusetts.

☞ Some of the Brattleboro farmers have been badly duped by a gang of peddlers. They were induced to buy a very low grade of German cloths, represented to be worth six to eight dollars a yard, for which they paid three to five dollars, when the cloths would be dear at any price.

☞ A Washington dispatch announces the murder of the Rev. Morris Banguier, Missionary to the Crow Indians, by a band of Sioux.

PENNSYLVANIA. — The Douglas State Committee have withdrawn their State electoral ticket, and pledged their support to the Reading electoral ticket, but endorsed Douglas and Johnson as the nominees of the party. An unsuccessful attempt was made to erase the Breckinridge men from the ticket.

☞ The Vicksburg (Miss.) Whig states that a portion of the great Atlantic telegraph cable, which was brought there to be laid across the Mississippi, proved to be utterly worthless, and therefore could not be used. A new cable was ordered from New York.

☞ John C. Heenan was fined $300 in Buffalo, on the 16th inst., for his participation in the prize fight between Price and Kelley, at Point Albino, about a year ago. He promptly paid the fine.

☞ By the bursting of a camphene lamp in a house in San Francisco, a whole family was burnt to death, and the house and furniture destroyed.

☞ The Norwegians are raising money to build a college in Iowa. Twenty thousand dollars have already been raised for this purpose.

FROM HAYTI.—Adventures of a Bust of Lord Nelson.—News from Hayti to the 22d of September has been received.

Efforts are making by the government to introduce trial by jury. All citizens of the Republic of a proper age, will be liable to jury duty, excepting the preachers of any religion, the government officials and the military in active service.

Subscriptions continue to be taken up for the widow of John Brown. Subscriptions are also received for Lamartine's works.

Among the Aeul mountains there has been found, in an old house, a bust of Lord Nelson. It is of white marble, somewhat stained by time and neglect. Nelson is represented in his costume of admiral and bears on his breast five decorations. One in commemoration of the battle of Aboukir, has the inscription: "Rear Admiral Lord Nelson of the Nile." Another medal bears these words: "Almighty God has blessed his Majesty's glory."

This bust, interesting in its artistic and historical association, was found, on an altar devoted to the fetish worship, where for half a century it has been reverenced as the deity of the mountain streams. The names of the sculptors were "Coale and Lealy, of Lambeth." Thus for fifty years a bust of an English admiral has been worshipped as an heathen idol. The finder of the statue has refused an offer of $500 for it.

☞ The report contradicting the death of the Methodist preacher, Rev. Mr. Bewley, at the hands of a Texas mob, was untrue. The particulars of the execution are given in the Houston papers. He was arrested near Cassville, Mo., by a vigilance committee from Arkansas, and taken to Fort Worth, where he was hung on a tree. He refused to make any disclosures, saying that he knew they were determined to hang him any way.

If Slavery is right, all words, acts, laws, and constitutions against it, are themselves wrong, and should be silenced and swept away. If it is right, we cannot justly object to its nationality—its universality; if it is wrong, they cannot justly insist upon its extension—its enlargement. All they ask, we could readily grant, if we thought Slavery right; all we ask, they could as readily grant, if they thought it wrong. Their thinking it right, and our thinking it wrong, is the precise fact upon which depends the whole controversy. Thinking it right: as they do, they are not to blame for desiring its full recognition, as being right: but thinking it wrong, as we do, can we yield to them? Can we cast our votes with their view, and against our own? In view of our moral, social, and political responsibilities, can we do this?—Abraham Lincoln.

SAD SUICIDE.—The Louisville (S.C.) Herald states that last week a citizen in the upper part of that District, Mr. Isham S. Bolt, committed suicide by blowing out his brains with a shot gun. It seems that he had been much harassed in mind with the fear of an insurrection for some time, and had lain with his arms beside him the night before his death.

☞ An arrangement has been nearly consummated between Mr. John A. Kennedy, Superintendent of Police of New York, and the Duke of Newcastle, for the exchange of detectives employed on the London and New York police. This policy, it is believed, will render this branch of the force more efficient. A New York paper says: "Our patrolmen far exceed the London metropolitans; but it is questionable whether our controversy over the water are not supplied with more skillful and sagacious detectives."

☞ The Irish military companies of New York refused to parade in honor of the Prince. A resolution adopted by them thus states the reason:—

The Crown of England, to which he is heir, is responsible for the wrongs inflicted upon Ireland—for the banishment and proscription of her people, the destruction of homes, and the suppression of her ancient nationalities; and it is no portion of their duty as citizen soldiers to thus exhibit themselves before a scion of a royal house to whom they owe nothing but eternal hostility.

MADE A NIGHT OF IT.—The Prince made a night of it at the ball Thursday evening. He did not retire till 4 A. M., and from the time he entered upon the floor did not miss a single dance. He was heard to express an opinion this morning that the Boston ladies are the most agreeable, chatty, accomplished and best dressed that he has yet met. Finding them so he made a night of it; and as a consequence made a late get-up and breakfast.—Atlas.

The Douglas men in Pennsylvania "saw where they missed it, as soon as the horse started," and since the election met by committee in Reading, and resolved that they would not fuse with the Breckinridge party.

We trust our friends will not go off in a panic on account of the late elections. We have but one political duty worth talking about, and no disaster can change that. Stick to Popular Sovereignty, and let those who think this government can be administered upon any other principle—try it. Union Democrat.

☞ The Mayor of Charlestown is having a fine overcoat made for the venerable Ralph Farnham, and others are performing like kindnesses.

☞ The New York Churchman says:—"We may mention as an interesting fact that the choir of Trinity made its first appearance in surplices on Sunday last."

A seven thousand pound fire-bell has been cast at the foundry of Meneeley Sons, of West Troy, for the city of Buffalo. It is a beauty, bearing on its smooth surface the inscription: "Ignes Farentes Populum conclamo."—"When the fire rages I call the people."

☞ Three young men, named Henry McGill, James Stevens and Charles de Forest, all engaged in mercantile business, have been arrested in New Orleans for forgery to the amount of $3000 or $4000, which they were led to commit in order to meet the demands of a life of dissipation.

☞ One hundred and ninety-eight carloads of cattle passed through Concord toward Massachusetts markets one night during the early part of last week.

☞ A school boy in New York was running away from his teacher, a few days since, when he fell and the teacher upon him, breaking one of the boy's legs.

☞ Five persons were killed by a boiler explosion at Collinsville, Indiana, on the 11th inst.

WISTAR'S WILD CHERRY BALSAM.—This Balsamic compound has become a home fixture. Let all who suffer, and have in vain attempted to cure their coughs, colds, bronchial or pulmonary complaints, make use of this unrivalled remedy.

FOR SORE, WEAK, INFLAMED EYES AND EYELIDS!

A true specific, and invaluable remedy has been at last discovered. Dr. Humphreys argues that these affections invariably result from a constitutional disease, of which the local affection is the only outward manifestation. Hence, HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC OPHTHALMIA PILLS are only taken internally, and yet cure the worst forms of obstinate sore eyes and eyelids, which have resisted all other treatment. All cases of sore and inflamed eyelids, or failing, weak or defective sight, will be promptly benefited, and the cure of the worst cases is only a question of time.

Price, 50 cents, with directions.

Sent by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price.

Address, DR. F. HUMPHREYS & CO., 562 Broadway, New York.

☞ We call the attention of our readers to an article advertised in another column, called BLOOD FOOD. It is an entirely new discovery, and must not be confounded with any of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and what one gains he retains. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity, or deficiency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, take of this BLOOD FOOD and be restored to health.

Bronchitis.—This sure forerunner of Consumption can be instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron & Sulphur Powders. The Olive Tar allays pain and heals soreness in inflammation, and the Iron & Sulphur Powders convert the waste or worn out particles of the blood into gases, which are ejected from the body by the pores instead of being deposited as Phlegm. The testimonials of many prominent and well-known persons are contained in a pamphlet, which will be sent free by mail to any address. See advertisement in this paper.

Atwood's Quinine Tonic Bitters,—the best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the public.—All the Druggists have it. See advertisement.

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

This remedy has long been cherished by the community for its remarkable efficacy in relieving, healing and curing the most obstinate, painful and long standing cases of Cough, Cold, Influenza, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Inflammation of the Lungs; while even Consumption itself has yielded to its magic influence when all other means have failed. Its whole history proves that the past has produced no remedy of equal value, as a cure for the numerous and dangerous pulmonary affections which prevail all over the land.

From the Editor of the Portsmouth (N. H.) Journal, Aug. 11, 1860.

WISTAR'S BALSAM.—There are but few medicines of which we can express an opinion from personal knowledge. Among such we place prominently WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which should find place in every family. It is an excellent medicine not only for Coughs and Colds, but also for neuralgic affections. We have known suffering from the nerves of the stomach effectually relieved by its soothing influence where other medicine has been ineffectually used.

From a highly respectable Merchant.

FALMOUTH, ME., Aug. 10, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & CO.,—Gents:—For a long time I have suffered more or less with that distressing affliction—Pulmonary Complaint, and have resorted to various in its worst forms, and have resorted to various so called remedies, but to no purpose as affording effectually relieved by its soothing influence where the desired relief. Deprived of my sleep by reason of the severity of the disease, it was only to evident that I was fast hastening down under it. I resorted to DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY with but little confidence in its curative properties, but the use of one bottle has entirely rid me of this monster; and to the public I can safely commend it as every worthy their confidence. Most respfly, S. I. MERRILL.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

SATURDAY, Oct. 20.

Stephen Rowell was sentenced this morning to one year in the State Prison.

Benjamin Locke and Nelly Locke of Newton, indicted for stealing several bank bills from John Lloyd, plead "Guilty," and were sentenced to imprisonment in the county jail for one month, pay a fine of $10—also $20 to said Lloyd, and costs of prosecution.

James H. Morcen, of Haverhill, Mass.,—indicted for breaking into the house of Jacob Kelly, at Plaistow, and stealing three bank bills of small denomination, a pair of spectacles, and a silver tea spoon,—plead nol. con., and thereupon was sentenced to the House of Reformation for two years.

The trial of Benjamin Watson—a person too well known hereabouts—indicted with his promising brother John Watson, for the larceny of $25 from Richard Hilton,—occupied most of the forenoon. The defense set up was that the money was obtained by "false pretenses," and no larceny had been proved according to the indictment—therefore the immaculate Benjamin ought to be discharged!

"A quibble of the law,
Or in the bill a flaw,"

often saves many a notorious rogue from a well-deserved reward—imprisonment or the halter! But the very intelligent jury to which this case was submitted, could not discover any "vast difference" betwixt "tweedle-dum and tweedle-dee," and so rendered a verdict of 'Guilty' against Watson,—which must consign him to the State Prison for a term of years.

We understand that only three indictments have been found against liquor dealers; and that the owners or occupants of the several slaughter-houses in this city are indicted for keeping the same as nuisances.

Sixty-four new jurors have been summoned to appear on Monday next. From this large number the panel will be selected that is to pass upon and determine the case, State v. Richardson and Mrs. Healey, for the murder of her husband at Auburn. It may not be generally known that Mrs. H. is the daughter of the late Benjamin Tuttle, formerly and for many years an inn-keeper at Lamprey River (Newmarket.) Into what a depth of infamy has she fallen! It is quite enough, indeed, to see one of our own rougher sex arraigned in the criminal dock of our Court, for the commission of the highest crime known to our laws, but to behold a woman there to respond for a like offence—a delicate woman, too, of a very respectable parentage, whom the milder virtues ought to render a worthy ornament to society, and even elevate into a life of pure and holy innocence—this, alas! is too painful and sad a spectacle! Well, indeed, may the tear tremble in the eye of pity;—the stern voice of Justice even falter in the discharge of duty,—and poor Humanity, now humiliated into the very dust, implore aloud for the kind guardianship and mercy of Heaven.

THE SPECIAL TRAIN, with the Prince of Wales and his suite, arrived in Portsmouth Saturday noon, when the Prince was received and welcomed to New Hampshire by Governor Goodwin, at whose proposal three hearty cheers for the Prince were given by the assembled multitude. The train tarried several minutes, long enough to give all an opportunity to look at the pleasant countenance of the youthful prospective sovereign of England, who repeatedly raised his hat and bowed in response to civilities proffered by the crowd who had assembled. Gov. Goodwin accompanied the Prince to Portland.

The Depot was hung with the British and American flags, and the train was decorated in a similar way.

About fifty carriages and a crowd of nearly 2000 persons (as near as we could estimate) were in waiting to get a view of the distinguished personage. It was with the greatest difficulty that the multitude could be cleared from the track sufficiently to allow the train to pass.

As the train moved on towards Maine, Com. Pearson's royal salute, from the cannon of the Navy Yard, commenced exactly when the train began to cross the bridge, and closed when it touched the other shore.

At Portland, all approaches to the Depot were crowded with people. The Prince reached the city at about two o'clock, and after an hour or two spent in riding about and in partaking of dinner, embarked on board the royal squadron, for his native shores.

THE ROYAL CAR.—The car in which the Prince of Wales passed over the Eastern Railroad is certainly one of the most splendid of its class ever constructed. Its details were arranged under the superintendence of J. Prescott, Esq., the superintendent of the road, who exercised the utmost taste and discrimination in providing truly princely accommodations for H. R. H. The car was filled with elegant sofas covered with silk plush, easy chairs of dainty construction, gorgeous mirrors, centre tables, on one of which was placed superb silver pitchers, goblets, &c., and on the other an elegant bouquet, fruits, &c., and chairs of the most tasteful construction.

The ceiling of the car is of rich blue silk plaited, and powdered with silver stars, which has a charming effect when contrasted with the car draperies, which are of the richest crimson, gold and cinnamon-colored damask. There are also fine lace curtains throughout. The carpet is of crimson ground, with green flowers. A retiring room is provided with a reclining chair and desk and all other suitable conveniences.—At the rear end of the car, inside, is the Prince's plume, and beneath in panels the coat of arms of Massachusetts, Maine and New Hampshire.

Outside is a platform built out and richly carpeted, with velvet trimmings, on which the Prince might view the country or present himself to spectators at stations. Altogether the tout ensemble is splendid, yet beautifully chaste.

For the Chronicle.

CHESNUTS, "twenty cents a quart," and three hundred poisonous horse-chesnut trees in the streets and roads of the city. Why not remove every horse chesnut tree that endangers the lives of children, and by their extremely dense foliage make a house dark and unhealthy, and cause its decay more than any other tree, and in its place plant fruit or other nut trees, the timber of some of which is the best in the world, and the trees the noblest in the forest? The reply is "O the boys." Well let the boys or any one else get what they will, you will stand a chance to get more than you get now without the risk of being poisoned.

But, boys, you have a remedy; plant fruit and nut trees in every available place in the highways of the city, and when they grow, cultivate and protect them; and when you become men you will have as much fruit and as many nuts as you may desire and some to give away.

And if you should have your private garden you exert the most effectual barrier for their preservation, and the most important of all, you might prevent other boys from taking what might be the first steps in a life of crime. B.

☞ At a meeting of the Goodwin Guards on Friday evening, Oct. 19th, the following officers were chosen by ballot:—

Captain, Col. William O. Sides,
1st Lieut., B. B. Swasey,
2d Lieut., Moses H. Tilton,
3d Lieut., John. S. Sides,
4th Lieut., I. F. Jenness.

They also voted to have a new uniform, the color to be red, with buff trimmings, and bear skin caps; to be made forthwith.

☞ A grand Republican demonstration is to come off at Concord on Friday next. The Portsmouth "Wide Awakes" have been invited, and the Club together with Republicans generally will meet at Rechabite Hall this (Monday) evening, at 7 1-2 o'cl'k, to take the matter into consideration.

PATENTS.—Among the issues of last week were the following:—

Andrew A. Henderson of Portsmouth, N. H., for improvement in caloric engines.

Amos Jones of Lebanon, N. H., for improvement in roof brackets.

THE ORIGINAL F. P. STEWART,
FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING, LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER
AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,
FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL
Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.
Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:
DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.
CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.
ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.
VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.
ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.
THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.
BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.
HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.
WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.
Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of F. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

Humphreys' Specific Homeopathic Remedies for the People

The Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, slight ailments. A mere cold, a slight diarrhœa, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time become a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies in families and private practice, as being THE BEST IN USE, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are now daily seen using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their efficacy, simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL,

A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF

INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA, AND LUMBAGO.

Hundreds of testimonials to the good result from the use of this Cordial could be offered—the following will suffice:

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 6, 1860.

I hereby certify that I have used a variety of preparations for the cure of Rheumatism, but have found none of them whose effect was so immediate and lasting as Zollickoffer's Anti-Rheumatic Cordial, and would advise all afflicted with that painful disease to give it a fair trial.

PROF. WOOD'S RESTORATIVE CORDIAL —AND— BLOOD RENOVATOR,

Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and then restores and renovates the system invulnerable to attacks of all ills. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and scientifically combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe the weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the disinterested skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so painfully painful if not fatal to the unfortunate Female Weaknesses and Irregularities. Also Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary Organs of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more ills, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the secretions and excretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all persons should take a bottle with them, and all should take a tablespoonful at least before eating. As it pre-vents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not accustomed to much outdoor exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty, for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it—this Cordial is all we claim it—Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it is too late, also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never-failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.

ATWOOD'S QUININE TONIC BITTERS,

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with the delicious and aromatic roots, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, promoting good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prolonging diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "but it is the best ye question of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Costiveness, Liver Complaint, Fever and Ague, Fever and Ague in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupify.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.
One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

As the proprietor asks, in trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those will are best acquainted in these matters, say, "It cannot bedone."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

Dr. Mott's CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression or vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case: luxuriousness in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION S CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their rooms, have unexpectedly suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated to the mere apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical cases of nervous complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for nervous complaints, one trial of this preparation of this preparation of iron recommends itself by its efficacy, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over heating; and gently, yet regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable are its cases, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate the INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this mild and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory, it has been found to succeed more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with the most unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
Under the act of 1837.
76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or assertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MAGN,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and it made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

New Photographic Establishment.

Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.

The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.

All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.

Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

THE PRINCE'S DEPARTURE.

The progress of the Prince of Wales and his party, from the time of the landing at Nova Scotia, to the re-entering of their ships at Portland—has been like the movements of a returned "conquering hero." And well so, no doubt. At any rate, we shall not attempt to join in the discussion of the morale of the affair—suffice it to say, the party have been received everywhere in the most hospitable and cordial manner; and have comported themselves as gentlemen should, and bestowed princely favors with a generous hand. We don't believe either party will suffer by their good manners—for civility is never at a discount, save among those who don't know enough to appreciate it.

We have already chronicled the chief movements of the Baron and suite; and shall give a few more particulars of his ride to Portland—and then let him go to his mother and his school—hoping he will remain a good boy.

Probably no event of the kind in our history has ever excited so great and general interest, throughout the country, as this visit of England's prospective King. The Prince left Boston Saturday forenoon; and the crowd to see him off was as great and as earnest as on any previous occasion. The royal special train over the Eastern Railroad, was finely decorated, and was an elegant affair; and the party were received at all the stations where they stopped, in good style.

The only stopping places between Boston and Portland, were at Lynn, Salem, Ipswich, Newburyport, Portsmouth and Kennebunk.

At Lynn, the Mayor issued a proclamation dismissing the public schools, and the children were assembled at the depot. The Prince appeared and was welcomed by an immense concourse.

In Salem, an immense crowd, the Register says about ten thousand people, gathered near the station. The depot was handsomely decorated with flags. A large medallion bust of Washington, surrounded by an evergreen wreath, occupying the centre. All the bells in the city rang out a jovial peal, and a royal salute was fired as the train came in sight. The Mayor and Aldermen were assembled to welcome His Royal Highness.

At Ipswich, there was also an immense assemblage, which gave expression to its delight at the brief presence of the Prince by demonstrations of applause, &c.

At Newburyport, the Cushing Guards paraded by order of the Mayor, and guarded the square, front of the depot. The schools were dismissed, and the citizens assembled en masse, the Herald says to the number of ten thousand. Forty policemen, under the City Marshal were on duty. The station house was gaily decorated. The Prince made his appearance, and was greeted with "God save the Queen," and "Hail Columbia," by the Newburyport Band, (which volunteered their services,) hearty cheers from the vast crowd, and the booming of artillery. The City of Newburyport gave a collation to the Guard, the Band, and the Police Department, after the departure of the Prince.

We have already told how the Prince was received at Portsmouth. But we omitted to state the shipping at the North End, with the beautiful yacht Viking, and the ships on the ways, were gaily and tastefully decked with English and American flags. As the train passed Tobey and Littlefield's shipyard, the workmen, who were drawn up in line, gave vent to their feelings in three rousing cheers.

At Kennebunk the Prince and suite and invited guests partook of a most luxurious collation, or a "lunch" as the English term it. This was served in the Prince's car, and was laid with consummate elegance.—The Prince and suite busied themselves in arranging the tables. At the table he seated Gov. Goodwin on his right and Gov. Banks on his left. He was very animated, and cracked jokes with his suite and guests. On passing the wine to Gov. Goodwin, the Bee says "he said 'Do you take Sherry, Madeira, or will you have some Claret?'—and suddenly pausing, he looked roguishly at Govs. Banks and Goodwin, and said, 'are we not in Maine? how about that law?' The Governors assured him that there were some good laws on the statute book that were not always enforced. The inquiry caused considerable merriment."

The train of the Prince reached Portland without the least hindrance or accident on the way. The cars ran into the Grand Trunk Depot, where the Prince was received by Gov. Morrill and Mayor Howard.—A number of officers of the British fleet, in full uniform, entered the carriage with his suite,—though by some blunder there were not carriages enough for all the distinguished guests; and a procession was formed, which passed through crowds of people lining the streets, escorted by the Portland military and Bands.

The procession was escorted to the Victoria wharves, built for the Great Eastern, where the royal barge was in waiting; and when the Prince left the wharf, the yards of the whole fleet were manned, the British squadron fired a royal salute of 21 guns, and a similar honor was rendered from the city and from Fort Preble. The harbor was full of steamers, yachts, barges, &c.; the boats of the squadron, filled with officers, surrounded the royal barge. The vessels were all profusely decorated with flags, and the scene one of rare beauty, never to be forgotten. Portland's spacious harbor was gazed at by thousands, from the noble hills, and everything combined to render the occasion delightful.

When the Prince stepped on board the Hero, the royal standard was unfurled, and another salute fired from all the vessels. At half-past 4 the squadron steamed out of the harbor, the Hero leading, followed by the Nile, the Ariadne, the Flying Fish, and Styx, saluting and saluted by the Fort as they passed. The Nile and Styx leave the squadron off Halifax. And thus the Prince departed from our shores, having happily escaped all the perils of his remarkable journey.

A SURPRISED CONVENTION.—The Democratic Sandard says, in speaking of the late Breckinridge Convention:—

"The true and earnest Democrats who came to the convention to do their work effectively, and not to disgrace themselves, were undoubtedly surprised at more than one circumstance which occurred on that occasion. We have no doubt they were surprised at the efforts of a few individuals in the Convention, to persuade the Convention to stultify itself by doing nothing, and thus disgracing itself in the estimation of men of all parties.

They were, also, surprised to learn, that none of the speakers who were advertised, were present to address them. We know that Mr. Yancey was prevented from coming, by prior engagements which could not be defeated. But, another influence operated upon the Massachusetts speakers on whom we did rely. We know well the influences which kept them back, and in due time, shall boldly and fearlessly expose them to the world.

Those same influences prompted the effort in the Convention, to make it a fizzle and an abortion. After the election shall have passed, we intend to hold the actors, however prominent they may be, up to the scorn and indignation of a party which they attempted to betray, but in which design they most signally failed.

THE CENSUS RETURNS LAGGING.—A few returns from a number of the States are necessary to complete the census thereof, and measures have been taken to procure them from the respective marshals at the earliest practicable period. Complete returns from two small States, and the District of Columbia only have been received. The Secretary of the Interior will, however, in his annual report, be enabled to inform Congress of the approximation to, if not the official statement, of the enumeration of the inhabitants of the United States.

☞ We are glad to learn that the planting of shade trees, so much neglected in former years, is now happily receiving due attention in all parts of the country. Some kinds are safest if transplanted in Autumn—such as the "evergreens." A great many years ago a churlish farmer cut down some beautiful shade trees, simply because his neighbor's children were accustomed to play under them. To punish the man's meanness, a wag wrote these lines on his door:—

"Indulgent Nature on each kind bestows
A secret instinct to avoid its foes:
The goose, that silly bird, avoids the fox;
Lambs fly from wolves, and sailors shun the rocks;
The rogue the gallows at his fate foresees,
And bears a like antipathy to trees!"

☞ At Graham's Town, Cape of Good Hope, where Prince Alfred has been visiting, the young Prince had, as body-guard, seventeen ladies, well mounted, well equipped, and first-rate horsewomen, each wearing blue rosettes, with silver anchors, and the corps was named "Prince Alfred's Own Body Guards." A retired cavalry officer took the command, practiced them in forming threes and wheeling into line, and found them a most willing and obedient escort.

☞ Under the two years' amendment to the Massachusetts State Constitution, no person of foreign birth who has not declared intentions of becoming a citizen of this country previous to the fifth day of November next, can vote for President of the United States in 1864.

☞ The only failure in the arrangements or adornments of the Prince of Wales, was his hat, which was repeatedly commented on, as too high in the crown, and rather seedy; and Young America says, not at all befiting the head which perhaps is one day to wear the British crown.

☞ Ralph Farnham, the old Revolutionary soldier, went from Boston towards his home in Maine, on Monday. As he passed through New Hampshire, he was cheered at most of the stations where his presence was known.

WESTERN WOMEN.

"New York ladies are fearfully and wonderfully made. They have a great many unaccountable crotchets in their pretty little heads. It's the height of the mode to carry a fat, puffing poodle dog about in their arms, or lead him by a gilded chain. But if a lady carries her baby herself, she loses caste immediately."

The above remarks, made by Mrs. George Washington Willys, in Life Illustrated, wake up one of the strong minded and strong-armed women of the West—Mrs. Francis D. Gage—who writes to the Life, sensibly and sarcastically, as follows:

"Nursing poodle dogs, forsooth!" There is no chance for dog nursing out here, I can tell you. Such things are not thought of; women of the West do their own work, and hired servants are so out of all repute that one can't get more than a dollar a week, though they are as scarce as hen teeth. The woman here that don't do her work, sew and wash for six, take care of two babies—one two years and the other three months old, isn't considered much of a woman "no how." Women work, women are healthy, strong, long-lived; they don't love to be pale and headachy; they have duties and cares; can eat pork and beans, and go to meeting without gloves; take care of sick friends, and watch thro' long, weary nights by the pillow of a poor neighbor.

I have known them turn out and sew for unfortunate families, and get up sewing circles to help the widow and the fatherless. They go out to take tea in good calico dresses, and it is not the fashion to keep folks waiting three-quarters of an hour at the door before even a servant girl appears to open it to say "not at home."

Western women go shopping, but they take the beets and turnips, chickens, cheese, blackberries and raspberries, and exchange them for blue check and stogies, that their strong-handed boys may not fear the bite of rattlesnakes, or mad dogs in August.

Trading done, they speed homeward and refresh themselves by getting dinner, and eat corn dodgers, or ham and eggs, without a dream of indigestion. Their children do not half die (guess you wouldn't think so if you could look inside the home at bed-time,) and their husbands don't break up unless they have invested the last drop with some merchant who has been dabbling in stocks, to help some New York lady's husband out of a fix. "New York ladies" and "Western women" are two different species of the human.

We could find you Western ladies that are not the lineal descendants of farmers, and could claim nativity in some of the brown stone fronts, and their parentage from the snobocracy—there are plenty in prairiedom. But we don't set any store by 'em, and could spare New York, or any other city a "dreadful site," if they want 'em; it takes monstrous little of the like to do us out here. But dear life, we're not a woman to spare—no, not one. Each whole souled, loving, true woman—wife, mother or sister—is a treasure in the land.

The level prairies, and beautiful, swelling hills and valleys, with their luxuriant groves and lofty forests have homes for them all. If Mr. Tracy or any other philanthropist can gather up a colony of those "poodle dog" nurses or money-spending "shoppers" and send them out to Egypt to help us gather in the immense crop of blackberries, strawberries, and raspberries that is just tempting us out into the fields and the woods, we will promise to take the pale out of their cheeks, (at least half the twenty-four hours,) and give them exercise without the aid of gymnasiums. We can promise, without any fear of a future, to set every nerve and bone and muscle in motion before October—if only with the shakes.

But bless us, what's the use of talking? New York ladies are no more like Western women than a music box is like a sewing machine, or a theatre like a railroad, or an opera like an agricultural fair. "Them's no account," said old Charlotte, as half a dozen of them flaunted by—"them's trash. Hang 'em with silks and ribbons from the top of their heads to the soles of their feet, and 'twon't help 'em. The lady never strikes in; it always works from the inside, out."

OUTLAWING THE WEED.—The Ohio Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church at its late session at Gallipolis adopted the following:—

"Whereas, The use of tobacco is a great evil, and leads to other evils; therefore,

"Resolved by the Ohio Conference, That after the present session, we will not receive any person into full connection, who persists in the use of tobacco."

EX-PRESIDENT PIERCE.—A writer in the Dover Gazette (Douglas print,) says, that Gen. Pierce has resolved to vote the Douglas ticket in the approaching election.—We believe this is a calumny on Gen. Pierce. But, if it should turn out to be the fact, he will not carry a solitary national Democrat with him. The votes of the sovereign people are not pinned upon the coat-tails of Ex Presidents, as Gen. Pierce will learn, if, unfortunately for himself, he should take the course indicated by the writer in the Dover paper.—Democratic Standard.

RAILROAD ACCIDENTS.—Woonsocket, R. I., Oct. 20.—The Midland Railroad bridge over the street in Blackstone, Mass., gave way this morning while a coal train was backing over it, precipitating the engine some twenty feet, and scalding Mr. Monroe, the engineer, very badly.

Detroit, Oct. 21.—There was a collision on the Detroit and Milwaukie Railroad on Friday last, between the mail and express trains; and the mail agent, express messenger and fireman were killed.

Cleveland, Oct. 21.—The mail train came in collision with a wagon at Plainsville, killing Mrs. Solomon Stone, a boy named Dyke, and injuring three other persons.

"Agriculture is the most healthy, the most useful, the most noble employment of man."—George Washington.

MOBILE, Oct. 18.—There have been five deaths from yellow fever in ten days.

☞ At Waltham, Mass., at a wake or raffle on Saturday night, two men, Edward Johnson and Barney Doherty, fell out upon some matter of etiquette, and high words were used. They separated, however, without coming to blows, and Doherty returned to his home. He was sitting in a chair, when Johnson entered, and without much being said on either side, he drew a large jack-knife, and killed Doherty by repeaten stabs. A young woman in the room, rocking a cradle, saw the act. Both men were Irish, both worthless, and both had been drinking. The murderer is in jail.

☞ The ship Black Hawk, (of Newburyport,) Capt. Thurlow, which sailed from Calcutta April 1 for Boston, and which has been overdue some time, was undoubtedly lost in a heavy gale in Bengal Bay, April 5, and all on board perished. The ship capsized in sight of the ship Geologist; and the same squall shortly after struck the Geologist, completely dismantling her.

The Black Hawk was a good ship of 941 tons, with a valuable cargo.

☞ As Mr. Thomas Green, of Westbrook, was riding home on Saturday evening week, his wagon ran into a rut in the road and Mr. Green was thrown out. He struck upon his head, receiving such severe injuries that he died in a short time.

☞ William Allen, of the firm of William Allen & Son, fruit dealers in Portland, died suddenly on Saturday night week, from apoplexy.

To the unbelieving and perverted mind, God and heaven are a mystery; but faith and love lift the mysterious veil and develop the beauties of a loving Father.

☞ We call the attention of our readers to an article advertised in another column, called BLOOD FOOD. It is an entirely new discovery, and must not be confounded with any of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and what one gains he retains. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity, or deficiency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, take of this BLOOD FOOD and be restored to health.

Bronchitis.—This sure forerunner of Consumption can be instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron & Sulphur Powders. The Olive Tar allays pain and heals soreness an inflammation, and the Iron & Sulphur Powders convert the waste or worn out particles of the blood into gauze, which are ejected from the body by the pores instead of being deposited as Phlegm. The testimonials of many prominent and well-known persons are contained in a pamphlet, which will be sent free by mail to any address. See advertisement in this paper.

Atwood's Quinine Tonic Bitters,—the best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the public.—All the Druggists have it. See advertisement.

SLEEPLESS, CRYING, TEETHING CHILDREN
All know how unpleasant are these accompaniments of babyhood, and most intelligent persons know, also, the sad consequences to health, and often life, from the use of soothing cordials, and similar baby doses used to quiet them. HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMŒOPATHIC BABY'S ILLS, (a pleasant sugar pill,) which you may drop into the mouth at any time, give you everything to be desired from medicine. They calm excitement, allay the irritation of teething, relieve colic and bowel complaints, and procure natural and quiet rest, without the disadvantages of cordials or opiates. They have been used for many years, and are approved by all who use them or advise doing.
Price, 25 cents per box, with directions. Six boxes $1.
Sent by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price.
Address, Dr. F. HUMPHREYS & CO., 562 Broadway, New York.
Sold in Portsmouth by THACHER.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.
Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heart Burn, Water Brash, Sour Stomach, Jaundice, Flatulency, General Debility, &c., find a ready relief and speedy cure in this great remedy.
THE OXYGENATED BITTERS
Are believed by many who have been cured of the above diseases to be the only medicine which the materia medica affords for their infallible cure. It is not an alcoholic preparation, which, while giving a momentary stimulus, reduces the system in the same ratio; but one distinct and different from any medical preparation ever compounded, and one which will, in most cases, extract the disease by the roots and restore the patient to pristine health. In proof of which, testimony of the very highest and unexceptionable character is presented.

A SKETCH.

On Saturday noon, one of those circumstances transpired which here and there dot the bleak plains of life, and swell upward into mountain ranges, never to be forgotten because possessed of a life within themselves which produced them unaided by anything of our own. How often does the influence of a great occasion press upon the soul like a heavy weight—how often do we feel the type pressing upon the life page, and stamping there an impression never to be effaced till the end of memory!

Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, as is well known, has been making a tour of the Canadas and the United States. He visited the President at Washington, went to Mount Vernon, where he planted an English oak by the side of an American elm; was received with tremendous enthusiasm at New York, where a magnificent ball was given in his honor, on the evening of Friday, Oct. 12; passed to Boston, where he listened to the Ode written by Oliver W. Holmes, and sung by the choir of the Boston school children; attended the ball in that city on Thursday night, 18th, and left for Portland, where a fleet awaited to convey him to England. He passed to Portland over the Eastern Railroad.

It was about 12 M.; I stood with the crowd in Portsmouth depot; there was a rush, a scramble, a ringing bell, a view of engineer and fireman dressed in holiday attire, an engine draped in the British ensign and the "stripes and stars," and then the train slid slowly from the depot, exhibiting the brass buttons and dark uniform caps of the Boston police, who stood on the steps of the rear car.

"There he is! there he is!" A deep silence falls upon the crowd. "There's who?" the cars stop like a curtain drawn aside—on the rear platform of the last is a group, the object of many a questioning glance. That short, full-faced gentleman, grey and ruddy, hat in hand, turned to speak, is His Excellency Gov. Goodwin; at his side stands the Mayor; that light, boyish figure, in dark coat and vest, and modest turned-down collar, with oval face, olive complexion, dark brown hair and gleaming eye, who stands leaning back against the car, lifting his hat in courteous salutation—the whole soul of one who, feeling himself of no common mould, can yet be humble and unconceited, shining out from his very presence—who is he?

"Three cheers for the Prince of Wales!" Yes, we have not waited in vain! We have seen him whom the great and mighty of our land have delighted to honor, whom a great nation has followed in his wanderings, with anxiety and pride, till he takes his farewell and is speeding to join the fleet for home! We have seen him whom a mighty people beyond the sea revere and adore as their future ruler and commander, under God; whose word shall one day run through a spreading realm. The hands have pointed to the colors hanging side by side in the depot—England and America—which may one day point some Lord High Admiral in his course, bringing war's desolation to our peaceful shore. The lips have wreathed in smiles at the welcome from the Governor, which may one day speak the opening signal for strife and gloom!—Do you say the soft, modest, courteous glance, the polished manner, all bespeak a nature incapable of such deeds? Yea! even said he of olden time: "Is thy servant a dog, that he should do this thing?" Yet the force of after circumstances brought him to the act abhorred. Thus may it be with him.

The cars are starting off—a light train of blue and grey smoke comes curling down, in republican independence, upon the platform and its royal occupant! a bow, a broken cheer, and the curving road shuts him from view: the weight is removed—the presence is withdrawn—the impression which seemed thrown out steadily and deeply on the mind from that assemblage of material form and its accompanying recollections and thoughts, is lightened, but it cannot wholly be effaced.

Portsmouth, Oct. 22. J. W. D.

S. J. COURT—PORTSMOUTH, Monday.

At a little past two o'clock in the afternoon, Judges Bell and Doe were on the bench, a large company of jurors were in their seats, the bar was well filled with lawyers, and the Court Room with spectators, who came to try and to see the trial of Richardson and Mrs. Healey, for the murder of Mr. Healey by poison. It was suggested by Mr. Solicitor Bell, that Dr. Hayes of Boston, a material witness, was sick; and a letter was read from other physicians in that city, to the purpose that he would probably be unable to come for at least a week. As Doctor Hayes was the chemist who analyzed the contents of the stomach of the deceased man, the court considered that an ample cause of postponement; and the trial was accordingly postponed to Monday the twelfth day of November, at two o'clock in the afternoon.

OUR GOVERNOR.—Dear Chronicle:—In all your notices of the Muster at Nashua, I have looked in vain for a mention of the Governor's personal appearance, as he reviewed the troops. Perhaps the gentlemen, having their attention devoted to things so much more important to themselves—their own personal appearance, the management of their horses, &c., &c., did not think so much of that of others; but the ladies decided that Gov. Goodwin had never looked so well. The chapeau is very becoming to him, and his position in the saddle was firm and graceful.

A day or two since I heard the question asked, if the Governor rode on horseback at the review; and thought it but right that his townsmen, who take so much pleasure in the popularity of our worthy Governor, should know how well he acquitted himself in his military duties—I accordingly make this suggestion to you.

A LADY LOOKER ON.

☞ A few days since, a wood-pile about as large as a one-story house, passed our office, on wheels. The load contained five cords of pine wood—the largest load we ever saw, and was from the farm of N. Wiggin, in Newington, bound to C. W. Marden's wood yard at the South End. It was loaded by and in charge of Messrs. Wiggin and Marden, and drawn by six yokes of cattle

SENTENCE FOR MURDER.—New York, Oct. 21.—Patrick Dowdell and Charles McDermot were yesterday sentenced to twenty years imprisonment for the murder of William Hooper in New Jersey.

Medical men, both Alopathic and Homœopathic, unanimously concur that the strong alkali contained in common Saleratus is detrimental to health, and paves the way for disease. They also concur that Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is the only perfectly harmless article in the market which can be relied upon. Use it with cream tartar instead of soda. Call on the Grocers for it.

There is another article in the market put up in similar colored papers. Do not be deceived by it. See that the name of HERRICK ALLEN is on the wrapper, and no mistake can occur. Manufactured by Allen & Taylor, corner of Canal and Centre streets, New York, and sold at wholesale by Israel Nash & Co., Boston. M&F is

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,

FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING, LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL

Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS
Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis,
Influenza, Hoarseness,
Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c, &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have existed, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS

These Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will ONE DAY remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

Humphreys' Homeopathic Specific Remedies for the People

These Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and responsibility of DR. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of mankind.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, but little more than a mere cold, a slight diarrhœa, a pain in the side, or a headache, or heartburn, at first easily cured and subdued, in time become a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being at hand, simple, in you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and prompt, they are taken, and the cause nipped in the bud.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for more far years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and efficacy, and many one hundred of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL,

A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF

INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA, AND LUMBAGO.

Hundreds of testimonials to the good result from the use of this Cordial could be offered—the following will suffice:

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 6, 1860.

I hereby certify that I have used a variety of preparations for the cure of Rheumatism, but have found none of them whose effect was so immediate and lasting as Zollickoffer's Anti-Rheumatic Cordial, and would advise all suffering with that painful disease to give it a fair trial.

PROF. WOOD'S RESTORATIVE CORDIAL —AND— BLOOD RENOVATOR,

Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, rejuvenates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So cheaply and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, that it does not hurt the stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly unfailing in its effects, and yet never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining medicinal tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility lies at the foundation of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, are the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Spasms, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of ills, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weaknesses and Irregularities. Also Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidney, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the disease at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and it should be a disappointment at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not accustomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find it a genuine, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and while the former, from false delicacy, irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the time, she will be able to go the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it—this Cordial is all we claim it.—Mothers, try it. And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so enlved up with the excitement of business that they rest not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always watchful, and to you we confidently appeal for we are sure your never-failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.

ATWOOD'S
QUININE TONIC BITTERS,

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of administering the well known peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonics and stomachics, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S
AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Costiveness, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaint, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of a Wind or Flatulence, and so much so the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder and Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, and the largest size, which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, or any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to improve our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "it cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a trade, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

Dr. Mott's CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the Medical Authorities of Paris in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz.:

In DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, LIMBS ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease, or the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative will convince all to an extent which no description nor written testimonials would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have arisen from their couches in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant clime. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested to. Many suffering, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous consumption, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic symptoms to all and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of Iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old Iron, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by depending the local tendency, which forms the disease.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, exercising, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and manifest hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, the medicinal iron has had the most decided good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both acute and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy, and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid production of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, Under the act of 1837.
78 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.
After 23 extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but there are no inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
BOSTON, February 8, 1858.
"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on behalf of his clients 104 applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metal lle sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

New Photographic Establishment.
Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with Sun Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.
The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has heretofore attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.
All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.
Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1860.

☞ The New York Herald of Saturday, Oct. 20, contains letters from the special correspondents of that paper in Illinois, speaking most favorably of the good character and conservative views of Abraham Lincoln, and expressing the opinion that his election is as certain as any future event of the kind can be.

On these letters, and on the result of the recent elections in Pennsylvania and Indiana, the editorial declaration of the Herald is made that Lincoln is sure to be President. It declares that there was no cordial cooperation or fusion in the before-mentioned States, and that alone was enough to insure a Republican victory. It then proceeds at some length, and in its remarks we find the following:

Assuming that this is the true explanation, it is perfectly idle to count upon any other result in November than Lincoln's election, and by a clean sweep of the Northern States. * * * In New York State we had supposed there was a genuine spirit of Democratic reunion aroused, and that it might do something decisive against this swelling tide of Northern fanaticism. We now believe that New York, from the causes assigned, is as hopelessly lost as Pennsylvania.

In another part of the same article, the Herald says:

It thus appears that "Old Abe" is a conservative Republican—that he contemplates no war upon the constitutional rights of slavery in the slave States—that his platform is the Chicago platform in good faith.

This will not be news to any Republican,—it ought not to be to any intelligent Democrat; but the position of Mr. Lincoln and his party has been so unceasingly and maliciously misrepresented in this canvass, that it is well to put the confession of the Herald on record.

THE BENEFIT OF CHRIST'S DEATH.—Gould and Lincoln, publishers, Boston, have just made a reprint of a quaint old book, written in the Italian language by Aonio Palario, in 1543, for which book, and other reputed heresies, he was condemned to death by the Inquisition, and put to death in 1570, at Rome. An author who draws his story from the records of the Inquisition, says of the writer of this book:

"When it appeared that this son of Belial was obstinate and refractory, and could by no means be recovered from the darkness of error to the light of truth, he was deservedly delivered to the fire, that after suffering its momentary pains here, he might be found in everlasting flames hereafter."

The modern edition of this book now before us, is reprinted from the fourth English edition, which was translated in London by Arthur Golding, a noted and learned protestant,—and was printed in 1638.

The present edition is a neat volume of one hundred and sixty pages, and has a valuable Introduction, by Rev. John Ayer, M. A., of Hampstead, Eng.

The book has a historic as w ll as a theological value, and is undoubtedly a genuine relic of the piety and learning of a protestant who lived three hundred years ago.

☞ The Portland Argus says:—

The Prince was dressed very plainly. He wore a blue frock coat, light grey pants, a light cravat, and a hat of the pattern of 1854—the latter was pronounced rather "a bad tile." His manners were very prepossessing for a youth of eighteen. There was nothing stiff or formal about him.

He is said to be an inveterate smoker of cigars; and his protruding, heavy-looking, sensual mouth, would indicate it.

☞ Thayer & Eldridge, publishers, Boston, announce the following works in press: "Harrington; a story of true love." "Asphodel; a novel, by Ada Clare." "Half Battle Words from Theodore Parker." "Theodore Parker—In Memoriam." "Incidents in the Life of a Slave Girl; written by herself; edited by Mrs. L. Maria Child." "History of Slave Insurrections; by T. W. Higginson." "A New Volume of Poems, by Walt Whitman."

☞ Frank Leslie's Magazine and Gazette of Fashion, Harper's Magazine, and the Atlantic Monthly, for November,—are promptly on our table, each excellent of its kind. Morse and Locke have all these; and all the other Magazines and papers; and J. F. Shores, jr., is agent for Harper and the Atlantic; John J. Dyer & Co. and A. Williams & Co. wholesale agents in Boston.

☞ Buffalo is waking up on the strength of the heavy crops of the West. In anticipation of a still larger business next year, three new grain elevators are already under contract, with a capacity of 650,000 bushels, and a fourth is talked of. By next spring the storage capacity of the city will be 2,400,000.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22.—Complete official returns make Curtin's majority 32,092.

BEAUTIFUL EXTRACTS.

FROM DEMOCRATIC NEWSPAPERS.

The first is from the Boston Post:

The good of the country requires a reunion of the Democratic party; a closing up of the ranks at the North in a spirit of harmony with the party in the South, that most probably, will carry the votes of seventeen States of the Union. The path to this result is not that of crimination and recrimination, we know; but let the masses mark the suicidal course of such Douglas leaders as put themselves against the setting tide of re-union. Mark such Douglas leaders leaders as have the arrogance and presumption still to claim to be the Democracy and still to insult the glorious phalanx who support Breckinridge and Lane.—Brand such men,—the stamp of the men who have brought the present woes upon the party—as incorrigible disorganizers.

The second is a reply to the above, and is an extract from the Boston Herald.

Who, we would ask, is preventing the union of the party, which the Post is so desirous to bring about? What is this glorious phalanx doing in Massachusetts? Are they supporting the regular nominations of the party? Have they not bolted the party in this State and set up their bogus concern here? Have they not nominated a spurious ticket for Governor, Senators and Representatives, and members of Congress? Have they not done the same in New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine? Have they not done the same in all the free States? Did they not cast their votes in Maine for the Republican candidate for Governor, and did they not do the same in Indiana? Are they not abusing Judge Douglas in every possible way and laboring to defeat him? * * * The masses will mark the men,—the Breckinridge and Lane leaders,—who have outraged decency and have, by their factious course, defeated the Democratic party in the late elections.

The third is a little patch of extracts from articles in the Dover Gazette of Oct.

Our readers will remember that we published an account week before last of a fusion between Douglas men, Bell men and Breckinridge men in New York, by which it was expected to defeat Lincoln. * * * But since the Pennsylvania election, matters have taken a different turn, and the Breckinridge men have abandoned their ticket entirely, as they avow, and withdrawn it from the field, declaring their resolutions to support the regular ticket as originally constituted with 25 Douglas men and 10 Bell men, and the Breckinridge Committee have published an address in which their object is plainly avowed. The publication of this address will probably sink the whole arrangement and send the parties "to grass" altogether, and give the State to Lincoln by a large majority. We predict that if the Breckinridge faction in New York expect to thus sell out the friends of Douglas to aid John C. Breckinridge and Joe Lane, that they are bound to meet with the most disastrous failure recorded in political history * * * With all our strong hopes heretofore that New York might be saved to the true Democracy, this Breckinridge movement will be enough to sink it to ignominious defeat.

The November election is close at hand, and so far as we can learn, there is altogether too much apathy in our ranks for this late day.

We not only have arrayed against us our old foes, but those foes now have an accomplice for our defeat and overthrow. A few disappointed men, claiming to be Democrats, have split off from the regular organization in this State, and have put a new ticket into the field for the very purpose of rendering aid and comfort to the Republicans. They are the followers of Breckinridge and Lane.

The Democratic party has for several years been afflicted with a set of poisonous asps, of the disunion, salamander, and slavery extension school. They have inoculated its hitherto strong and stalwart body with their scorpion virus.

☞ The Department of State has received advices from Mr. Ward, our Minister in China. He had left Shanghae, in company with the Russian ambassador, and would proceed at once to the Peiho, for the purpose of looking after the interests of their respective governments, and also to aid, if possible, in bringing about an adjustment of pending difficulties. Minister Ward indulges in the hope that something may yet be done to avert the fearful disasters in loss of life and property that will necessarily attend the expedition against the Chinese, in case it should be carried out according to the programe laid down by the Allied Powers. The Chinese are confident of their ability to repel and defeat the allied fleet.

☞ The Richmond Enquirer editor declares that not one man in Virginia desires a dissolution of the Union. We presume also that the story about Hon. Roger A. Pryor and the "dagger scene" was not quite correct, for a Washington correspondent says he is now in Washington and that he declares himself against a dissolution of the Union on the mere ground of Lincoln's election.

☞ The New York Times Washington correspondent telegraphs that the Nicaraguan Minister has notified the State Department that a plot exists in the southern States to invade Central America for the purpose of extending slavery, under the auspices of a powerful combination, of which Gen. Walker was simply the agent.

The carriage in which the Prince of Wales rode while in the city of New York, was sold at auction, Saturday, for $630—it cost $1000.

☞ It is said the returns of the Mississippi election show a majority of 20,000 for Breckinridge.

yores til deth, PAUL PARROT.

Gov. Gist, of South Carolina, has issued a proclamation for a meeting of the Legislature, on the 5th of November, to select Presidential electors on the 6th, "and also that they (the Legislature) may, if advisable, take action for the safety of the State."

It is also stated that Gov. Magoffin, of Kentucky, will convene the Legislature of that State; and that the Virginia delegation in Congress will not take their seats if Lincoln is elected.—Eastern Argus.

The effect of which would be, to give a Republican majority in the House, and rid both House and Senate, of some members who are about as certain to vote wrong as to vote at all. But the F. F. V.s will hardly choose to go without their pay,—and therefore they will do no such thing: they will be as quiet as lambs.

The whole paragraph does not affect the stock market one single dollar.

During the week ending Tuesday, Oct. 11, 127 boats cleared the port of Cumberland, Md., carrying 14,491,008 tons of coal.

We give this item as we find it. But the boats must be very large—or the tons very small—or else, what is more probable, the figures lie under a great mistake of some compositor, who put in a figure or two that that don't belong there.

☞ We call the attention of our readers to an article advertised in another column, called BLOOD FOOD. It is an entirely new discovery, and must not be confounded with any of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and what one gains he retains. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity, or deficiency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, take of this BLOOD FOOD and be restored to health.

Bronchitis.—This sure forerunner of Consumption can be instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron & Sulphur Powders. The Olive Tar allays pain and heals soreness as inflammation, and the Iron & Sulphur Powders convert the waste or worn out particles of the blood into gases, which are ejected from the body by the pores instead of being deposited as Phlegm. The testimonials of many prominent and well-known persons are contained in a pamphlet, which will be sent free by mail to any address. See advertisement in this paper.

Atwood's Quinine Tonic Bitters.—the best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the public—All the Druggists have it. See advertisement.

SLEEPLESS, CRYING, TEETHING CHILDREN

All know how unpleasant are these accompaniments of babyhood, and most intelligent persons know, also, the sad consequences to health, and often life, from the use of anodynes, cordials, and similar baby doses used to quiet them. HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC BABYS PILLS, (a pleasant sugar pill,) which you may drop into the mouth at any time, give you everything to be desired from medicine. They calm excitement, allay the irritation of teething, relieve colic and bowel complaints, and procure natural and quiet rest, without the disadvantages of cordials or opiates. They have been used for many years, and are approved by all who use them or ahbor dosing. Price, 25 cents per box, with directions. Six boxes $1.

Sent by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price.

Address, DR. F. HUMPHREYS & CO., 562 Broadway, New York.

Sold in Portsmouth by THACHER.
See advertisement in another column.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heart Burn, Water Brash, Sour Stomach, Jaundice, Flatulency, General Debility, &c., find a ready relief and speedy cure in this great remedy.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS

Are believed by many who have been cured of the above diseases to be the only medicine which the materia medica affords for their infallible cure. It is not an alcoholic preparation, which, while giving a momentery stimulus, reduces the system in the same ratio; but one distinct and different from any medical preparation ever compounded, and one which will, in most cases, extract the disease by the roots and restore the patient to pristine health. In proof of which, testimony of the very highest and unexceptionable character is presented.

Read the following Comments.

From a prominent Druggist of Portsmouth, N.H

Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & CO., Boston,— AUG. 2, 1860.

Gents:—Please send me by express two dozen OXYGENATED BITTERS. With us there is an increasing demand for this excellent specific for Dyspepsia and its attendant evils, and we know of no remedy more fully entitled to the confidence of the public. This much we say, disclaiming any intention of puffing the article, as its own merits are a sufficient guarantee of all that it purports to be. Very respectfully yours,

WM. R. PRESTON.

BATH, Aug. 14.

Messrs. SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston,—

Gents:—Please to send me a new supply of the OXYGENATED BITTERS by the Eastern Express—So far as I can learn, these Bitters give the best satisfaction to the dyspeptic invalid, and afford a relief not hitherto found in the list of the same specifics before the public at the present time.

Very respectfully yours, GEO. D. H. FAY.

NOTICE—TO NEW SUBSCRIBERS.

All persons who may now pay $4 for the Daily Chronicle, or $1 for the Weekly Chronicle, for the year 1861,—will be furnished with the paper without charge, from this time to Jan. 1. tf

S. J. COURT—PORTSMOUTH, Tuesday.

The case on trial is Daniel Porter and wife v. the Town of Auburn; in which the plaintiffs claim $1000 damages, for injury received by the overturn of their carriage, in consequence of an alleged defect in the highway—which they will probably get, judging from the fact that all such suits go against the towns.

The case of the State v. Andrew J. Sides, for assault on George Pearse, postponed to January, on the plea that an important witness for the defence is absent.

☞ Rev. Mr. Gage, who was installed as pastor of the North Church on Wednesday of last week, entered upon his duties on Sunday. He took for his text in the morning the words contained in the last clause of the twentieth verse, second chapter of Paul's epistle to the Ephesians—"Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone." His sermon in the afternoon was addressed particularly to the church and society; the words of his text were from Hebrews, 9-1: "Ordinances of divine service."

Mr. Gage is a most energetic and pleasing speaker, and he enters upon his duties with the prayers and benedictions of his people. R.

☞ We learn that a farmer named M'Kinnon, living near the Fountain, drove his horse off the road into the North Mill Pond, nearly opposite John Swindell's brewery, on Monday evening, and sadly damaged his wagon. It occurred at a place where the road curves,—and where it is partly railed in, and partly open.

☞ The results of the suits against the city of Portsmouth, by three or four individuals, who have suffered injuries from alleged defective or obstructed highways,—especially the late case in which the joiner's bench was the obstruction,—shows the importance of thorough road-making, and of keeping the streets clear of obstructions.—If any person, in the dark or the daylight, should fall over a dry goods box, or heap of bricks in the street,—the city might be called upon to pay $500 damages, besides legal costs, and also a little bill from the lawyer who defends the case for the city, but whose defence, however able must be ineffectual.

The Marshal, who is sometimes blamed for strictness, can hardly be too exact in these matters; the Street Commissioner needs to be watchful for man-traps;—and the city government should be liberal and not stingy in street appropriations.

It is cheaper to keep a good rail, a good street, and a clear sidewalk—than to carry on law suits and pay costs.

REPUBLICAN ETHICS.—One of the leading republican papers has actually adduced, as an argument in favor of the support of Lincoln by those opposed to him, that in case he is not elected by the people, his friends will secure his election in the House by bribery.—Eastern Argus.

Please to name the paper. We have seen no such thing adduced by any paper. If it can be produced, we wish to see it.

The Carmarthan Weekly Register says: "We regret to state that the Inspector of the Board of Trade has been obliged to suspend the certificate of the Great Eastern, and she will not be allowed to proceed on her contemplated voyage to America, or elsewhere. It is reported that the main axle of her screw has sunk; and there are other serious defects, which will require a considerable outlay of money to make good, and there is every probability of the great ship wintering on the gridiron."

☞ It is estimated that there are in New York city about eighty five thousand Germans, of whom about twenty eight thousand are Roman Catholics, seven thousand Jews, eight thousand attendants on Protestant worship, and the remaining forty-two thousand are infidel, or at least indifferent to religion.

☞ During the year ending June, the receipts from the sales of Public Lands were less than two million dollars. Those recently yielded a very small amount, owing to the scarcity of money and other causes; and in many cases no bids at all were received.

☞ The obsequies of Ephraim L. Snow, in New York, at the Green Street Methodist church, was largely attended by various temperance societies. Addresses were made by Rev. Dr. Chapin, Matthew Hale Smith and others.

☞ The public's old friend, Mrs. Partington (known as B. P. Shillaber, for short,) will not seclude herself during the coming Winter, but will smile occasionally upon such lyceums as may make the good old lady respectful advances.

☞ A Boston man who died at the Fourth Police Station, in that city, on Friday, has been identified as Joseph Follett, a painter He was a native of Exeter, N. H., 50 years of age, and leaves a family.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Steamship Ariel, from Aspinwall, arrived this morning with the California mails of the 1st, and upwards of $800,000 in specie.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The bids for the United States loan ranged from par to 45-100 premium. All above par get full amount of their bids, and those at par receive pro rata share after others are served. There were no bidders from south of Washington. The eastern bidders are Julius W. Dewey, of Montpelier, $5000 at par, $28,000 within a range of 7 1-2 hundredths of one per cent. to one per cent. premium; Provident Institution for Savings of Boston, $200,000 at quarter of one per cent. premium; Merchants' Bank of Boston, $100,000 at par, $50,000 at quarter and $50,000 at half of one per cent., $50,000 at seven hundredths, and $50,000 at three hundredths per cent. premium; Peter T. Homer of Boston, $2000 at 31-100, $3000 at 55-100 and $3000 at 81-100 of one per cent., and $2000 at one and five hundredths. The greater parf of the bids were from New York and Washington.

The bids for the loan, (ten millions) exceeded the amount by half a million.—They were 46 in number.

FROM CALIFORNIA.—St. Joseph, Mo., Oct. 22.—The Poney Express, with California dates of the 10th inst., has arrived.

J. W. Nesmith, Douglas Democrat, and E. D. Baker, Republican, have been chosen U. S. Senators by the Oregon Legislature in due legal form. Nesmith for the long and Baker for the short term.

The political campaign in California is progressing vigorously. The contest between Breckinridge and Douglas is very close. The canvass is taking such a shape that the success of Breckinridge would secure the re-election of Senator Gwin.

Telegraphic communication has been opened with Los Angeles. The Placercille and Salt Lake line has been completed thirty miles east of Miller's Station.

The Italians in San Francisco have had a celebration in honor of Garibaldi's entrance into Naples.

Broderick's will, after a long contest to prove it a forgery, has been admitted to probate.

An entire emigrant train, numbering forty-six persons—nineteen men and the rest women and children—had been massacred by the Snake Indians.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The block belonging to the estate of S. P. Townsend, on the Sixth Avenue, was burnt this morning. Loss $20,000.

Commissioner Dwight returned from Havana to-day, with the testimony of Ex-Postmaster Fowler in the case of the United States against his sureties.

NOT A BAD CON.—Why cannot Louis Napoleon's life be insured just now? D'ye give it up? Because nobody can make out his policy.—New Orleans Picayune.

DO YOU SUFFER,—After eating, or from acidity of the stomach, heartburn, water brash, wind, burning sensation, or indigestion? Immediate relief can be obtained by using the Oxygenated Bitters.

☞ Reader, have you seen Prof. Wood's advertisement in our paper. Read it; it will interest you. tf

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,

FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING, LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL

Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

Humphreys' Specific Homeopathic Remedies for the People

The Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, Medicines for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which the human race suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhœa, a pain in the side, or a headache, or heartburn, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being the best in use, the most simple and convenient, the most prompt and reliable.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

PROF. WOOD'S

RESTORATIVE CORDIAL

—AND—

BLOOD RENOVATOR,

Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its stages, specially, and hence restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form, so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as not to perfect acquaintance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe this weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining with the blood and tonic properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge, even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which our humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so painfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weaknesses and Irregularities. Also Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidneys, including our Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the shoulders, predisposition to Sight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate more still, but we leave spaces for them to be filled in, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system it will effectually prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travellers should take a bottle with them, and all should take a spoonful at least before eating. As it pre, vents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers and literary men. And all ladies not untoned to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which flow from their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and the ills of the sex are those which the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, it will leave the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it—this Cordial is all we claim it.—Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal for relief the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.

O. J. WOOD, Proprietor, 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 Market street, Portsmouth, No. 1, sold by all good Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

ATWOOD'S

QUININE TONIC BITTERS,

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonic and stomachic s, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the invalid.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous system after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For fearless, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "he has it to the best for proportion of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

DR. DARIUS HAM'S

Dyspepsia Remedy

AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a few doses, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "it cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

Dr. Mott's

CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE

PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified by Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description or written testimonial would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in distant lands. Some very signal instances of this kind are at hand. Nervous sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sufferers from consumption, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic averdon to air and exercise for which Dr. Mott's Pills have no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the organization of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old, crude, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting or overheating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a salutary and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most indifferent cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remitent bezels, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicinal compound has far more than the good effect of the most cautious and judicious use of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decisively, it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating the pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects—indeed, its effects are so decisive, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition to active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to PRINCE OF WALES.—Quite independent of his fine prospect of a throne, the Prince of Wales, it appears, is a very rich young man—worth seven hundred thousand pound sterling! This vast sum has arisen from the surplus revenues from the estates of the Duchy of Cornwall, to which he became entitled immediately after he was born, and which have been accumulating with interest from that time, and this fund will go on increasing until he, as other subjects of the Queen, attains the age of twenty one, so that by that time, the amount of money he will stand possessed of will be nearly one million pounds in hard cash.—Home Jour.

It has been said that no great work in literature or in science was ever wrought by a man who did not love solitude. We may lay it down as an elementary principle of religion, that no large growth in holiness was ever gained by one who did not take time to be often and alone with God. This kind goeth not out but by prayer and fasting. Not otherwise can the great central idea of God enter into a man's life, and there dwell supreme.

WHERE IS WINDSHIP?—Dr. Windship whose name, by the by, ought to have Windlass from his faculty at lifting weights, has been out-done by a person named Abel Wood, of Barre, who, according to a Vermont paper, has lately "raised fifty bushels of wheat on two hundred rods." Dr. Windship has only succeeded, hitherto, in raising twelve hundred pounds on one stick. —Vanity Fair.

THE PRINCE OF WALES AND HALLET, DAVIS & CO.'S PIANOS.—Mr. Gould, of Seventh and Chestnut streets, has a magnificent Piano, of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s build, in the apartment occupied by the Prince. The instrument is splendid, and the illustrious guest has a convenient opportunity afforded him of forming an opinion of this branch of American manufactures.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN is at home securing his farm crops, getting out fencing stuff for next Spring, and attending to the interests of his clients. If the people desire his attendance at Washington next March, there we shall find him—if not, he will continue to make writs and split rails as usual, having staked neither money or ambition on the event.—Exchange.

THE PRINCE OF WALES according to Puritan notions, is rather a fast young man. Not yet nineteen, he drinks wine moderately, smokes excessively, and dances with the girls all night, refusing to go home till it is broad daylight in the morning.

Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metal lic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

New Photographic Establishment.
Having fitted and furnished in modern style, large, pleasant and commodious rooms, the subscriber is prepared to furnish all who wish with Pictures of every description, from the smallest Miniature to life-size Portraits. Photographs finished in India Ink, Water and Oil Colors, by the best artists in the country. Old Daguerreotypes, &c., copied any size desired.
The subscriber having had many years' experience, from the old Daguerreotype down to the present time, keeping pace with every useful improvement, a success almost unprecedented has attended him; and by strict attention to business, and fair dealing he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.
All work from the establishment warranted to be of the first order, both for finish and durability. Prices as low as in Boston, or any other place where first-class work is performed.
Having a large skylight, pictures can be taken late in the day, and equally as well in cloudy as in fair weather. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens, at 17 Pleasant Street, opposite the New Custom House.

A PAPAL VIEW.

Our readers generally look at the revolution in Italy as a change for the better, politically; and as the revolutionists generally are Roman Catholics, or supposed to be so, the reader may suppose they will adhere to the church, only cherishing more liberal views than they have been allowed to express hitherto.

The Pilot, however, the paper of the Irish Roman church in Boston, considers it sacrilege for any one to lay hands on territory claimed by the Pope, and says:

The ruthless invasion of the small territory of that Awful Being who owns the entire globe, is a perfectly unnatural act of wickedness, which nothing in history can match but the crucifixion of our Saviour. The killing of Christ and the plundering of the little domain of His Church, are nearly equal in guilt.

It was infinitely outside of nature to crucify the dispenser of all blessings. It is not much less so to appropriate the little estate of the Temple of Him who by a single act of His will created the entire earth and is the King of kings. The act is one which wrenches from the Almighty Himself the unpretending but consecrated little spot of ground which He has evidently reserved for His own use out of the time of creation.

History, both mediæval and present, prove that the Pope holds the estate of St. Peter, not for himself, but for the whole Church, and that the right of the whole Church to it is superior to all impeachment. God would not permit His Church—that is, He would not hold Himself a territory for more than ten hundred years unless there were justice in it; and injustice could not exist for that length of time in any single fact. Both justice and injustice prove for the Papacy.

Pope Pius had a most natural right to summon the powers of Europe to his protection. Will they respond? It is doubtful! The infernal gates cannot prevail against the truth of the Church. Nor can bad men long retain its property.

Then, after saying that persecutors all die,—and that the Pope may be killed, Rome confiscated, and St. Peter's may be burned, the Pilot closes thus:

But what then? The Church remains as young as ever; its troubles and their wicked authors shall pass away; and it will have a complete revindication of all its rights. Thus speaks past history, thus present things indicate; thus speaks the infallible Church itself; thus therefore matters will be. So be it.

THE POPE.—The Pope stands in relation to the French Emperor somewhat in the same relation as the elephant to the man who drew him in a lottery. The idea of installing the Pontiff in Jerusalem has been broached by the French press. They say that it is no farther from Jerusalem to Jaffa than from Rome to its sea-port, Civita Vecchia; a railroad would place Jerusalem within an hour of the Mediterranean, and it would be very nearly as convenient for the Catholic world as Rome is now. It would add, also, they think, very much to the advance of Christianity in the East. The French army in Syria can easily take possession of Palestine, if the Sultan should dare to refuse a demand for it; in fact, they say it would be the easiest way to settle the Roman question.

THE EARTHQUAKE AT QUEBEC.—The earthquake in Canada was, according to the accounts given, more severe than in this section. At Quebec, the vibration was so great that the stone walls of the buildings were cracked in many places. In some instances the plaster of the ceilings and walls was shaken down, and the jointings of wooden buildings opened. In the substantially built houses of the upper and lower town, the sensations of the inhabitants were inexplicable. Men, women and children rushed from their dwellings half dressed, with terror depicted in their countenances. The vibratory motion was felt by the shipping in the river.

AN OLD TREE.—The oldest known tree, the exact age of which is historically determined, is the sacred fig tree of Anaradjapoura, in Ceylon. It was planted by King Devinipiatissa in the year 288 B. C., and its history from that date is preserved by a mass of documentary and traditional evidence. It was described by the Chinese traveler, Fa Hiam, in the year 414, and by the earliest Europeans who visited it, in about the same terms. It still flourishes, and is an object of worship to the Buddhists of the island.

LARGE SEIZURE OF LIQUOR.—The store house of the Messrs. Hathaway, in Bangor, was entered by the police of that city on Friday, and about 300 pipes and barrels of various kinds of liquors, of the value of about $6000, were seized. It is the intention of Messrs. Hathaway to contest the legality of the seizure.

☞ The 650 captured Africans, taken from the steamer City of Norfolk, have been carried into Havana.

FASHION.—It is astonishing to observe what a supreme and dictatorial sway Fashion holds over her devotees. This servilitude which is alike manifest in the lady millionaire, the clerk, the apprentice, the husband and wife, too often proves the ruin of many an aspirant for a position in life. "I do this, or I wear that, because it is fashionable," says one; when private interests and oftener private funds are not consulted. Many a young husband has been hopelessly ruined by a fashionable wife; that is, an extravagant wife; for extravagance invariably follows fashion; and this mania rages to such an extent in some of our cities, that it is decidedly refreshing to meet with a thrifty and economical housewife.

The same weakness is often manifest in the husband; and hence we see him attending the opera, or visiting the club-room, purchasing this or that superfluous article of furniture or dress, all because it is fashionable, and "appearances" must be kept up. So with the clerk, and a score of others of different occupations.

We admit that it is very pleasant to be "in style," and it is said "one might as well be out of the world, as out of fashion;" which is very true in every case where the subject fears remark or criticism; but when it is not so convenient to pay the bills as to contract them, then let Fashion and her votaries go one way, and we will go another. When this idol crushes us down under the weight of unpaid bills, it is time to leave her shrine for one before which we can bow with a free and unsullied conscience. G. C.

TEMPERANCE—TOTAL ABSTINENCE.—Messrs. Editors:—Would it not have been quite as well if Govs. Banks and Goodwin had explained to the Prince that the prohibitory temperance laws are directed against selling, not drinking the fashionable poison? And that he, his suite, and their two Excellencies might all be as jovial as they wished, provided they neither bought nor sold?

It does not strike plebeian minds as exactly the best joke in the world, for those who have sworn to keep and maintain the laws, to make a boast or a jest of either breaking or pretending to break them.—Will such jokes, however "much merriment" they may cause, tend to heighten the respect of the Prince or his companions for the law and order of a "model republic?" Or will the report of them increase such respect among ourselves? That these questions must be answered in the negative, is the way it strikes A PLEBEIAN.

We willingly publish the above, even from an unknown correspondent; and will only add that the item referred to, as given, was from a hastily written report for a Boston paper, and may or may not be strictly correct. At any rate, it isn't very likely that the two Governors mentioned, would simultaneously or otherwise make the same response. And no citizen, certainly, can be more punctilious in the observance by word or deed, of every law, civil and social, than His Excellency Governor Goodwin.

BAIL FORFEITED.—In Boston, within a few days, in the case of Thomas Mead for manslaughter, a compromise was effected. He was placed under bonds for manslaughter in the sum of $4000. Much to the surprise of the officials he did not appear for trial, and his bail was declared forfeit. The bondsmen told the Court that they were insolvent and offered to compromise the matter by paying $1700 in money, and giving notes for $800, making $2500 in all. The Court readily accepted the compromise, and so that case was settled.

Mead was one of the worst fast men in Boston, and his bondsmen were his particular friends, such as should never be taken as bail in any case of importance.

☞ The new anti slavery clause passed at the Methodist Conference at Buffalo has created a good deal of feeling among the Methodists of the border slave States. A voluntary meeting of preachers held at Washington, resolved to repudiate the new chapter, and insist that the matter be left with the annual Conferences, within whose bounds slavery may exist. They propose to go up to the next General Conference, asking to be sustained in this position, and if they are refused, they will insist upon a separation, and claim a share of the property.

☞ The Columbus (Ga.) Enquirer has a letter dated at Tuskegee, Oct. 9, giving an account of the burning of a negro alive, for some crime which is not mentioned.—He was arrested in the morning and a large number of the citizens, about one hundred and fifty, met, tried and sentenced him, and before the sun set he was burned to ashes. A horrid death, truly, but his crime was such that mercy was shown. No judge presided, no jury was empaneled.

☞ The New York Herald thinks "it would surprise neither the Douglas engineers, nor the Breckinridge leaders, nor the Bell-Everett managers, if Lincoln's majority in New York should prove the sagacity of Mr. Seward's calculations."

INVENTION FOR CLEANING THE BOTTOMS OF IRON SHIPS.—The expense and inconvenience which attend the taking out of ships on every occasion when the bottom becomes foul, gives value to any contrivance by which the process of cleaning can be done while the vessel is afloat, in harbor or at sea. The apparatus consists of eight rectangular pieces of cork-wood, 18 inches long, 10 inches wide, and 7 inches deep.—Each of these corks is covered with a board, fastened with iron bands, on the top of which are fixed nine knives, which move, six parallel and three at right angles, while the machine is in motion. The boxes are hauled under the ship's keel, and are worked by five or six men. By this means a vessel whose keel is 180 feet can be thoroughly cleaned of barnacles in half a day. The apparatus has been tested in Amsterdam, and works well. By the use of mechanical power, however, it could, no doubt, be rendered more effective than it can be by hand. Mr. E. Schutt, an engineer of Amsterdam, is the inventor. The apparatus complete costs from $40 to $50.

☞ The United States loan of ten millions has been taken at fair rates of premium. The loan is to run for twenty years—five Presidential crises—and yet it is taken up eagerly above par. The Treasurer of the Breckinridge National Democratic Committee, Mr. Riggs of Washington, took over $3,000,000, part of it at a premium of one per cent. The alarmists will take note.

HOW IT LOOKS.—The Saco Democrat of the 23d of October, tells us:—

The day for the election of President and Vice President is close at hand.—It will take place in two weeks from this day. There is now scarcely any ground to hope for the election of the Democratic candidate by the people. Bolters, and bolting candidates, from the Democratic party and its nominations, backed up by the whole power, patronage, and official corps of the Administration, have done their work—so far as to render highly probable either the election of the sectional Republican candidate or the carrying of the election of President into the House of Representatives.

The Manchester Union Democrat of the same date says:—

Never was a campaign like the present known in New Hampshire. Here we are within two weeks of a crisis upon which the prosperity, if not the very existence of the American Union depends, and yet we have done nothing to shape this momentous future. We are forced to confess that we can do nothing.

The Portland Argus of the same date has these items:—

The future does indeed look dark. * * * We have said thus much assuming Lincoln is to be elected. But we do not concede that result. We yet hope it will be averted.

☞ The Baltimore correspondent of the New York World writes:

The roarings of the Southern secession papers and politicians in the Index have reached us, and are received with ridicule and contempt. Everybody hereabouts knows it is all a political trick, to try and frighten off voters from Lincoln at the North. There is no more serious idea of secession, even in South Carolina, than there is of their attempting to fly without wings. As Yancey has let down in the North, such is the real state of feeling, even among the politicians. As to the people, they pay no attention to such buncombe stuff. They are too used to it.

THE COUNSEL OF COOK, THE INSURRECTIONIST.—Among the Democratic members of Congress just elected in Indiana, is the Hon. D. W. Voorhees, whose great speech in behalf of Cook, the follower of John Brown, condemned and executed at Charlestown, Va., gave him a national reputation as one of the most brilliant orators of the present day.

☞ The Richmond Whig insists that only the election of Bell can save the Union. The Richmond Enquirer, on the contrary, declares that if Virginia should go for Bell, and not for Breckinridge, the cotton States will regard this as a casus belli, and secession will be precipitated beyond the power of man to arrest its cause. So then here we shall have another irrepressible conflict, and Virginia will have to secede both ways, from the North and from the South. Oh dear, what will we do at all, at all!

☞ The Concord Patriot of Oct. 24, denounces the Breckinridge Mass Meeting, calls it a bastard convention, says every man who favored the nomination of its State Ticket, "proved himself an enemy to the Democratic party, and a traitor to its principles," and cracks the whip over them in this fashion:—

If the half-dozen worthy and hitherto respected men whose names are associated with it, do not promptly repudiate and reprobate it, they will forfeit the confidence of the Democracy of New Hampshire, and allow their political graves to be dug before their eyes.

☞ The press corps of Liverpool have caught the rifle corps fever. Their uniform consists of scarlet coat and black trousers with a red stripe, and a shako for a head piece. The members will all wear swords in addition to carrying rifles, an old act of Parliament allowing all printers to wear swords.

☞ The apple crop in the town of Salisbury is estimated at over 20,000 barrels. At the point, between the bridges, 1500 barrels of good winter apples have been gathered this year, which is more than double the quantity ever raised there before.

☞ Ada Isaacs Mencken Heenan is out in the New York Tribune, asking for a suspension of opinion until her trial is over. She thinks she will be all right about that time.

☞ The fugitive slave Sims, who created such a furore in Boston some time ago, is now offered for sale by his owner in Georgia for $1500.

REPUBLICANS & WIDE-AWAKES!
ATTENTION!
One more CHARGE upon our Opponents before their going up SALT RIVER!

The State Demonstration will come off at CONCORD,
FRIDAY AFTERNOON & EVENING, OCT. 26,
Consisting of a Mass Meeting in the afternoon, and a grand Torchlight Procession in the evening. In addition to the other speakers announced, (see large bills for particulars,)
HON. ANDREW G. CURTIN,
Governor elect of Pennsylvania, will address the meeting.
Arrangements have been made for a train of cars to start from Portsmouth at 10 minutes before 11 o'clock, and return after the Torchlight Procession is through.
Fare from Portsmouth and New Market Junction, up and back, only ONE DOLLAR.
Great Falls, Dover, Exeter, and other towns, must make arrangements to intersect with this Special Train.
Wide-Awakes and Republicans, one and all, this is the last demonstration before the election of Lincoln and Hamlin. Charge—Charge!

☞ We call the attention of our readers to an article advertised in another column, called BLOOD FOOD. It is an entirely new discovery, and must not be confounded with any of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is food for the blood, already prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in action, and what one gains he retains. Let all those, then, who are suffering from poverty of blood, or deficiency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, take of this BLOOD FOOD and be restored to health.

Bronchitis.—This sure forerunner of Consumption can be instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Dr. J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar and Iron & Sulphur Powders. The Olive Tar allays pain and heals soreness an inflammation, and the Iron & Sulphur Powders convert the waste or worn out particles of the blood into gases, which are ejected from the body by the pores instead of being deposited as Phlegm. The testimonials of many prominent and well-known persons are contained in a pamphlet, which will be sent free by mail to any address. See advertisement in this paper.

Atwood's Quinine Tonic Bitters,—the best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the public.—All the Druggists have it. See advertisement.

SLEEPLESS, CRYING, TEETHING CHILDREN
All know how unpleasant are these accompaniments of baby hood, and most intelligent persons know, also, the sad consequences to health, and often life, from the use of anodynes, cordials, and similar baby drops used to quiet them. HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC BABY'S PILLS, (a pleasant sugar pill,) which you may drop into the mouth at any time, give you everything to be desired from medicine. They cater excitement, allay the irritation of teething, relieve colic and bowel complaints, and procure natural and quiet rest, without the disadvantages of cordials or opiates. They have been used for many years, and are approved by all who use them or advise dosing.
Price, 25 cents per box, with directions. Six boxes $1.
Sent by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price.
Address, DR. F. HUMPHREYS & CO.,
562 Broadway, New York.
Sold in Portsmouth by THACHER.
See advertisement in another column.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.
Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heart Burn, Water Brash, Sour Stomach, Jaundice, Flatulency, General Debility, &c., find a ready relief and speedy cure in this great remedy.
THE OXYGENATED BITTERS
are believed by many who have been cured of the above diseases to be the only medicine which the materia medica affords for their infallible cure. It is not an alcoholic preparation, which, while giving a momentary stimulus, reduces the system in the same ratio; but one of a distinct and different from any medical preparation ever compounded, and one which will, in most cases, extract the disease by the roots and restore the patient to pristine health. In proof of which, testimony of the very highest and unexceptionable character is presented.
Read the following Comments.
From a prominent Druggist of Portsmouth, N.H.
PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 3, 1860.
Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & CO., Boston,—
Gents:—Please send me by express two dozen OXYGENATED BITTERS. With us there is an increasing demand for this excellent specific for Dyspepsia and its attendant evils, and we know of no remedy more fully entitled to the confidence of the public. This much we say, disclaiming any intention of puffing the article, as its own merits are a sufficient guarantee of all that it purports to be. Very respectfully yours,
WM. R. PRESTON.
From a prominent Druggist in Bath, Me.
BATH, Aug. 14.
Messrs. SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston,—
Gents:—Please to send me a new supply of the OXYGENATED BITTERS by the Eastern Express.—So far as I can learn, these Bitters give the best satisfaction to the dyspeptic invalid, and afford a relief not hitherto found in the list of the same specifics before the public at the present time.
Very respectfully yours, GEO. D. H. FAY.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 23.

In the case Porter and wife v. town of Auburn, the jury gave a verdict for the defendant; so the plaintiffs got no $1000, but had to pay the cost of suit.

A man well acquainted with the courts remembers but one other case for many years, in which any town escaped in such a suit.

The remainder of the day was occupied with the civil suit, Charles Hodgdon v. John Shannon, jr.

A VOICE FROM PRISON.—To the Editors of the Portsmouth Chronicle:—Sirs:—In your paper of the 22d, I see you have chosen to comment on my trial and conviction: in so doing you have done not only me but others that are dear to me, great injustice. In the first place, any one that is acquainted with my brother or myself, knows that we are not so depraved and foolish as to set the laws at defiance, as Mr. Richard Hilton has stated. My counsel will endeavor to have that verdict set aside, and should I be allowed one more trial, I feel confident of showing to you and others that I am now in prison and convicted on a charge that I am innocent of. By giving this a place in your columns you will greatly oblige, Very resp't,

B. D. WATSON.

Portsmouth Jail, Oct. 24, 1860.

We should be sorry to do, or allow any of our reporters to do, injury to the reputation of any man; and accordingly, we with pleasure give place to the above. It is bad enough to receive the condemnation of a legal jury, without adding that of the higher Court of public opinion.—Ed. Chron.

REPUBLICAN DEMONSTRATION AT CONCORD.—N. G. Ordway, Chief Marshal of the Concord Wide Awakes, has issued an invitation to all the Republican organizations in the State to meet at Concord on Friday of this week, where speaking is expected in the afternoon from Hons. Anson Burlingame, John P. Hale, Daniel Clark, Mason W. Tappan, Thomas M. Edwards and Gilman Marston, and others. In the evening there will be a grand Torchlight process. It is the intention to make it the largest political demonstration in New Hampshire during the campaign.

An advertisement in our columns this morning, gives the low price of fare up and back at only $1.

☞ The Portsmouth "Wide Awakes" have voted to attend the Republican demonstration at Concord to-morrow, and meet at Rechabite Hall this evening at 7 1-2 to complete arrangements for the excursion. All who wish to visit Concord on this occasion are invited to attend this meeting.—Fare for the round trip $1.00.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE.—The Grand Division of New Hampshire held its Annual Session at Rumford Hall, Concord, on the 17th inst. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year, viz.:—Leonard Chase, Milford, G. W. P.; J. F. Keyes, Holderness, G. W. A.; True Osgood, Concord, G. Scribe; Charles A. Bradeen, Concord, G. Treas.; James D. Page, Concord, G. Chap.; Henry S. Hodgdon, Concord, G. Con.; Milton Holden, Rumney, G. Sen. There are now eighteen Divisions in the State, and something over one thousand members and visitors, being an increase of more than one half during the past year.—Concord Patriot.

SINGULAR EVIDENCE OF GUILT.—Jas. Pierce, who was convicted of robbing several parties in London, and suspected of being concerned in the great diamond robbery in Paris, while confined in the Millbank Penitentiary gave out his shirt to be washed, and on his suddenly manifesting extreme anxiety to get it back again, it was examined, and a diamond worth $500 was found sewed into it.

☞ By a steam boiler explosion at Colinaville, Ind., the 11th inst., five men were killed. A little boy was blown through the end of the building into a field one hundred yards distant. The boiler itself was thrown across the street, carrying a wooden shed with it.

☞ A game cock at Leeds, England, attacked a child a year and seven months old, and inflicted wounds which resulted in the death of the child, and subsequently in the death of the cock, for the jury of inquest thought the bird should be destroyed, and they attended to the matter personally.

☞ Our old friend, and the prisoner's friend, Charles Spear, has sent us a copy of his revived and improved newspaper, called the Prisoner's Friend, for October. It contains a large cut representing Sing Sing Prison, and a variety of interesting matter.

☞ The editor of the New Orleans Delta says that many items that would have been of interest to his readers, were spoiled in his pocket as he was swimming a lake to get to his office, during the late inundation.

FROM EUROPE.—St. Jonns, N. F., Oct. 23.—Steamship City of Washington, from Liverpool 10th and Queenstown 11th, for New York, passed Cape Race, to-day.—Her dates are four days later than those previously received.

The details of the battle of Volturus have been published.

After a bloody struggle, the Neapolitans were driven back in disorder to Capua.—Their losses are estimated at 500 in killed and wounded, besides 5000 prisoners.—Garibaldi lost 1200 in 2000 men. There have been no new movements since by the Garibaldians.

Affairs in the Papal States remain unchanged.

The brigade of Germans was cut off and driven to the mountains. The Garibaldians took 5000 prisoners. It is estimated that the Neapolitans had 3000 men killed and wounded, and the Garibaldians from 1200 to 2000.

The King of Naples and brothers were present at the battle. Some Sardinian troops assisted the Garibaldians.

Garibaldi had called on the King of Sardinia to go to Naples and send him 14,000 men immediately. The Piedmontese troops had entered Neapolitan territory and reported that three of the great powers protested against it.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The Union torchlight procession to-night was very successful, and numbered, at the lowest estimate, 20,000. There were various illuminations along the route. Boston, Philadelphia and other cities were represented.

LOWELL, Oct. 24.—A boiler used for heating the Suffolk Mills exploded this forenoon, killing Walter W. Briggs, temporary fireman, and, it is feared, fatally injuring Charles C. Stearns, an overseer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The candle factory of O. R. Menci, the former partner of at Garibaldi, at Staten Island, was destroyed by fire to-day, with several other buildings. Loss $5000.

THE TURF.—Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 23. At the trot to day, between Flora Temple and Patchen, the former won the two last heats, and the latter the first.

LEE, Mass., Oct. 24.—The boiler in Smith's paper mill exploded this morning, fatally injuring John Dutcher of Kent, Ct. Damage $6000.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 23.—Brinkerhoff's official majority for Congress is 12,900.

DO YOU SUFFER,—After eating, or from acidity of the stomach, heartburn, water brash, wind, burning sensation, or indigestion? Immediate relief can be obtained by using the Oxygenated Bitters.

☞ Reader, have you seen Prof. Wood's advertisement in our paper. Read it; it will interest you. tf

MARRIAGES.

In Barrington, Oct. 8th, by A. K. Waterhouse, Esq., Mr. JAMES BROWN of Barrington to Miss LIZZIE W. CROSBY of Brownfield, Me.

DEATHS.

☞ The funeral of Mrs. ALBERT I. BADGER will be this (Thursday) forenoon, at half past 11 o'clock, from her late residence, No. 11 Vaughan street.

In Fremont, Oct. 23, Mrs. LIZZIE M. TILTON, aged 33 years, 8 months, wife of Timothy Tilton, and daughter of Sandyman B. Marden of this city.

THE ORIGINAL P. P. STEWART,

FUEL-SAVING AND COMFORT-PRODUCING, LARGE OVEN, SUMMER AND WINTER

AIR-TIGHT COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD & ANTHRACITE OR BITUMINOUS COAL

Improved in 1859 with New and Extra Large Flues, and by the addition of the Celebrated Patent Double Sheet Bottom Flue.

Attention is invited to the following Points of Superiority:

DURABILITY.—Lasting, with proper care, at least 20 years. Stoves are now in use that were set up in 1838.

CAPACITY.—Baking, broiling, boiling, roasting and all other culinary operations performed at the same time. A barrel of flour baked into bread with a single fire.

ECONOMY.—Saving the cost of the stove in 2 or 3 years in the item of fuel.

VENTILATION OF OVEN.—In the Stewart Stove alone the front doors open directly into the oven, (protected by letters patent,) securing a direct draft through the top of the oven, by means of perforated holes in the doors and back flues. It will be borne in mind, that, as the heated air always rises, this method of ventilation is the only one of any value whatever.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF HEAT.—The heat generated by the stove, may be held therein and used, or thrown into the room, at pleasure.

THE DOUBLE SHEET BOTTOM FLUE.—By which a compressing and inverting action of heat is obtained, and the oven more evenly and efficiently heated than by any other known invention.

BROILING.—Performed on the top, and without the possibility of smoke entering the room.

HOT WATER RESERVOIR AND WARMING CLOSET.—Both useful and convenient, supplied by the waste heat and without extra fuel.

WATER BACK.—An arrangement for supplying hot water for the bath room equal to any range.

Beware of the numerous worthless imitations now in market. See that the name of P. P. Stewart is on each stove. No other is genuine.

☞ The New York correspondent of the Charleston Mercury says of the attire of the Prince's suite:—

Such a collection of shocking bad hats were never seen except on scare-crows in a cornfield. The Duke's hat was eminently seedy, and no New Yorker with the slightest regard for his reputation, would have been hired to wear it down Broadway. The Earl of St. Germains sported a still shabbier tile, of the bell-top pattern. Lord Lyon's castor had a decided appearance of having been sat on several times and then punched out into a rude semblance of its original shape, which was a very bad one. The younger members of the party exhibited a slightly advanced taste in respect to their hats, but there was not one among the whole collection which an American hatter would have dared to send out of his store as a specimen of his own manufacture.

Lady Blessington once wrote: "I feel I am growing old, for want of somebody to tell me that I am as young as ever. Charming falsehood! There is a vast deal of vital-air in loving words."

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN,
FOR MAKING
Bread, Tea Cakes,
All kinds of Pastry, &c., &c.,
MANUFACTURED BY
EDW. CHAMBERLIN & CO.,
Proprietors of Shawmut Chemical Works,
NO. 33 INDIA STREET, BOSTON.

CONCENTRATED LEAVEN is the result of careful chemical researches. All its ingredients are prepared in the highest state of purity, and compounded with a view to produce bread of a far better quality, and in much less time, than by any other process, and the manufacturer submits it with entire confidence to the judgment of discriminating house-keepers, bakers, &c., &c.

Bread of all kinds, made by using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, is lighter, more digestible and nutritious; has an agreeable, animal taste; is less liable to sour; will retain its moisture longer than by any other process, and the whole preparation for the oven need not exceed ten minutes.

It is valuable because it is not perishable, and may be rendered available for years and at times when yeast is not within reach, as at sea. In all climates, and under all circumstances it may be adopted, thus obviating the difficulty of procuring yeast or other ferment, which is frequently of an inferior quality, rendering the bread more or less unwholesome.

It is also valuable as regards economy, as it has been ascertained that a saving is effected in the flour of not less than 16 per cent. In the common process, much of the saccharine of the flour is lost by being converted into carbonic acid gas, or spirit, and the waste is incurred solely for the purpose of generating gas to raise the bread. By using CONCENTRATED LEAVEN, this waste is avoided, and the gas obtained in a manner equally efficacious. Fermentation, in the bread so made, destroys a part of the flour or meal, and, in consequence, a barrel of flour weighing 196 pounds, which by the common method ordinarily made up into 250 lbs., yields by this process 200 lbs., thus effecting the very important saving of 16 per cent. in the quantity of flour. By conformity to the directions on each package, any person capable of ordinary attention may conduct the process, and the result will invariably be highly satisfactory.

CERTIFICATE FROM DR. HAYES,
Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

"I have analyzed the Concentrated Leaven manufactured by Messrs. Edw. Chamberlin & Co., with regard to its purity and efficiency of action in producing the effect of yeast in distending dough and thereby rendering it fit for making bread. This article is skillfully compounded from perfectly pure materials, which leave nothing but a vegetable salt, which is essentially a desirable food in the bread, and remains in the dough, without consuming the sugar or any other principle in the flour, perfectly; and the same weight of flour will produce more and more palatable bread than can be obtained through the aid of yeast; while for cakes and pastry it is invaluable, as it saves all risk, and much time in preparing dough.

"The experiments made by me confirm the statements of the manufacturers, and prove this compound worthy of public approval and extended use.

Respectfully,
A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston st., Boston, Sept. 25, 1860."

HOW TO USE IT.

We append a few recipes, but it may be used with great advantage in all other kinds of cake, also in fruit puddings and other pastry.

BREAKFAST AND TEA ROLLS.—Two or three teaspoonfuls of Leaven (according to the quality of the flour,) to one quart of flour; mix thoroughly by passing two or three times through a sieve; rub in a piece of butter of half the size of an egg, and make the paste fast with cold milk or water, (milk is preferable,) barely stiff enough to permit rolling out. Much handling should be avoided. Put into desired form, and place immediately into a hot oven, and bake quickly.

LOAF BREAD.—The same proportions of Leaven and flour sifted together as above; omit the butter, and make the paste stiff enough to knead into a loaf, and bake immediately in a slow oven.

GRAHAM BREAD.—Three teaspoonfuls of Leaven to one quart of wheat meal, sifted together; add two eggs and about a pint of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.

BROWN BREAD.—Three teaspoonful of Leaven in one pint of flour, and one pint of corn meal, all well sifted together; add two eggs and about a gill of molasses; make the paste thin with milk, and bake slowly.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES.—Flour and milk sufficient to make one quart of batter; add one egg, then three teaspoonfuls of Leaven; beat to a froth, and cook quick.

DUMPLINGS.—Sift together one quart of flour and two teaspoonfuls of Leaven; rub in a piece of butter fish as large as an egg; mix with cold milk or water, and boil in a cloth.

CHAMBER STREET CAKE.—Sift together two large cups of flour and two teaspoonfuls of Leaven; put in half a cup of butter and a cup and a half of sugar, mix with cold water or milk to a stiff batter, add spice to suit the taste, and bake immediately.

CINCINNATI SPONGE CAKE.—Two cups of white sugar, beaten with the yolks of six eggs—the whites of six eggs beaten to a froth; then beat all together; add three cups of sifted flour, one cup of water, and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven; flavor with two teaspoonful of essence of lemon, and bake in a quick oven.

JUMBLES.—Sift together one quart of flour and three tea spoonfuls of Leaven; rub in one teacupful of butter; add a cup and a half of white sugar, and spice to suit the taste; mix stiff enough to roll out, and bake quick.

ELECTION CAKE.—One quart of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; add a cup of butter, one pound of currants, two cups of white sugar, and one teaspoonful of cinnamon; mix with cold milk to a stiff batter, and bake in a slow oven.

CORN CAKE.—One pint each of flour and Indian meal, and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, well sifted together; add one gill of molasses and two eggs; mix thin with milk, and bake in a slow oven.

CUP CAKE.—Five cups of flour and three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, sifted together; add one cup of butter, two of sugar, and two eggs, all well beat together; mix with milk; then add a cup of currants, and spice to suit the taste. Bake about half an hour.

LADIES' CAKE.—Three quarters of a pound of flour and four teaspoonfuls of Leaven sifted together; one pound of sugar and six ounces of butter beaten to a cream; the white of eight eggs well beaten, and the juice of one lemon; mix with milk.

WEBSTER CAKE.—Five cups of flour, three teaspoonfuls of Leaven, three cups of sugar, one of butter, one of milk, and two eggs; fruit and spice to the taste. Bake about half an hour.

Can the Republicans have the next House? That is a very material question at the present time. In the present House we have 113 members, being six short of a complete majority. In the Congressional elections which have thus far taken place, we have lost two in Pennsylvania and two in Ohio, and gained one (Frank Blair) in Missouri—thus making a net loss of three. We know of no further losses which we have reason to apprehend in the remaining elections—though we can lose, of course by want of proper vigilance and effort, in several districts. On the contary, there is a good chance of making several gains.—Boston Journal.

A spruce young man, dressed in the top of fashion, riding in the cars last Wednesday afternoon, from Brookline to Boston, addressing himself to his friend remarked: "The Bell and Everetts are coming out to-night, and I can tell you one thing—you will not see any niggers in the procession." "My friend," said a reverend clergyman in the seat behind him, "then you will not have the United States represented." Atlas.

Wisdom, in spite of her dignity, has not always had a clean house to live in. She dwelt with Solomon, who was a voluptuary; with Seneca, who was a miser; with Diogenes, who was a slave; with Bacon, who was corrupt; with Julian, who was a traitor. If she were to be judged by the Spanish proverb, and her character estimated by the company she has kept, she is "no better than she should be," and has no reason to treat Folly herself as a weaker sister

Ah! I think I taste that whey now—with a flavor so delicate that one can hardly distinguish it from an odor, and with that soft gliding warmth that fills one's imagination with a still, happy dreaminess. And the light music of the dropping whey is in my ears, mingling with the twittering of a bird outside the wire net-work window—the window overlooking the garden, and shaded by tall gueldre roses.—Adam Bede.
